TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF NAPANEE.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

I am a candidate for election as Reeve for 1924.

Having acted for the past four years as one of your citizens, members of the Council and men who take an active interest in the affairs of our Town and County, I consented to stand for the office of Reeve for the coming year.

I feel that I have had considerable experience in municipal affairs, and four of these years as your representative on the County Council. With this experience to me I feel that I am capable to render intelligent service to the Town and County in the coming year, and if elected will endeavor to conduct the affairs of importance will come before the Town and County Council correctly and to the best advantage, and will use my best judgement in deciding such questions.

Mr. Geo. Paul, who was nominated for Reeve, has decided to ask for re-election as Councillor for the coming year, so that he may acquire more experience before aspiring to the Reeve's chair. Should Mr. Paul be returned to the Council, I can assure him of my own accord, and will be made this decision, that I consented to stand for election as Reeve, and he is entitled to re-election as Councillor.

If I have been a good worker and satisfied with my past record as your representative, then I would respectfully solicit and support me in the election Day Monday next.

I would like to take this opportunity for the support they have given to me, and to wish you all a happy and prosperous New Year.

Yours sincerely,
MARK GRAHAM.

Napanee, 2nd, 1924. 1a

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Your vote and influence is respectfully solicited for the position of Councillor for 1924.

1ap W. H. DUNBAR.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF NAPANEE.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

I am induced by a number of the ratepayers to offer my services to the electors for Reeve for 1924, and respectfully solicit your votes and influence. If elected I promise to attend to the duties of the office in a businesslike manner having in view only the welfare of our town, and all the compliments of the season.

I remain,

Yours faithfully,
1a W. M. J. JEWELL.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF NAPANEE.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

At the solicitation of a large number of ratepayers I have decided to offer my services to the town for 1924, as Councillor. If my record of the Council during the past year is satisfactory with your approval, I solicit you for your vote and influence in the coming year.

Yours faithfully,
1a GEO. J. TUSTIN.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF NAPANEE.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

A vote for M. C. Burgess will receive careful economy and efficiency. Experience is the best teacher, and my experience at the Council board for a year better fits me for service in 1924.

Wishing you the Compliments of the Season,

1a M. C. BURGESS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF NAPANEE.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your vote and influence is respectfully solicited for Councillor for the year 1924.

Wishing you all a Happy New Year.

Skating time is here. Rather a sudden change, too, as only last week Rockwell Parks saw a green frog.—Dear old 1923 passed away on the night of Dec. 31st amid weeping and wailing. 1924, however, began her regime on Tuesday morning with a stern nor'west wind blowing.—Christmas holidays in this vicinity have been an occasion of many reunions. — Mrs. Cecil McBride has returned home from the west, to spend the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Card. — There was an excellent attendance at Sunday School last Sunday for the review.—The community services are proving to be a fine success. The subjects for next Sunday evening will be Jacob and Joseph.

SANITARY WATER WELLS DRILLED AND CASED.

The people are fast being aroused to the importance of pure water, and to progress of procuring it has ever been looked upon with such universal favor as the drilled well, for it has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that water taken from rock is as pure and harmless as it is possible for it to be. The only successful way of getting this supply of pure water at all places if by driving heavy casing down into solid rock, thus shutting off all impurities from the surface then drilling on down until never failing water stratum is reached, when we have a supply of pure, sparkling and refreshing water made pure by filtering through the rocks and sands of the earth.

Water is the best solvent, known, and will hold in solution almost everything soluble. As a natural consequence surface water coming in contact with decaying vegetable matter, decomposing animal matter and the many disagreeable odors around out buildings, etc., must partake in great measure of these impurities.

These facts, together with the one well known, that the dug well, owing to the open work of the wall, cover, etc., often times disappears at once the death bed and burial place of many of the lower animals, ought to convince reasoning people that this is dangerous source from which to draw the water supply.

Further than this, in dry seasons when the supply of water is not sufficient, the dug well fails to furnish a supply; also, in many localities, owing to the above facts, and many others which we might enumerate, the dug wells are fast becoming supplanted by the drilled well. Nature has nearly everywhere provided a bountiful supply of pure water, though the vein is often deep-seated in the rock. The rocks and sands are at once a filter and purifier of it, and a spong-like vessel to hold it in never-failing supply for our every need.

List your work with me. I guarantee my work, and that you will be satisfied when it is completed. Most modern machinery and tools. For full information call on or write,

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF NAPANEE.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have been nominated for Mayor for the year 1924, but as it is customary to give an efficient Mayor a second term, I have decided to stand aside for Mayor MacGregor and allow him to be re-elected by acclamation. I have served the Town for many years on the Council and on the Board of Education, and would appreciate very much if I should get some time yet to enjoy the honor at your hands of being elected as Mayor. I did not, however, wish to oppose Mr. MacGregor this year, but trust that next year my present forbearance will be rewarded, and that should I offer myself as a candidate, you will give me your support.

Yours sincerely,
1a EDWARD MING.

NEWBURGH

We would respectfully remind readers of The Beaver that this is 1924. Please be careful to change the date on your correspondence. Some people are so loathe to change.

Nomination did not draw a very large crowd on Monday, and those who missed it have only themselves to blame for missing a treat. Not only were the transactions of the past year reviewed by the Reeve, but there were some interesting passages-at-arms between the electors. The women were conspicuous by their absence. One wonders why this is so, as our thoughts go back to the days when there was intense feeling and many fluent speeches made in advocacy of franchise for women by members of the sex. Surely they are not going to fall down on their job.

We had three young lawyers from Toronto spending holidays in their parental homes, viz., Messrs. MacGilvery and John Aylesworth, and W. D. M. Shorey.

Mr. MacGilvery Aylesworth married Miss Cecelia Kennedy, a Newburgh girl. This marriage was the result of friendship formed during school days here, while Mr. Shorey fell to the charms of a Toronto lady. Both young wives shared with their husbands the hospitality of Newburgh. But, John—what about John in this connection? Well, please wait until next Christmas.

Other visitors during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Piller, of Toronto, with Mr. and Mrs. Adams; Dr. and Mrs. Longmore, of Campbellford with Mr. and Mrs. Dunwoody.

Mr. Pero, of Lewisville, N.Y., with Mrs. Ferris and her daughter, Mrs. King.

Miss Elsie Moore, who has been in rather delicate health for the past two years, is, we are glad to say, quite well again, and is going back to work teaching. She is engaged in Odessa school the coming year.

It is said that enmity was once established between the woman and the serpent. Now it is between the man and the bucksaw. Where once it was a cherished tool, it is now in the discard. Such is life.

BETHEL

Everything has quieted down, after the rush of the Christmas holidays. — Miss Olive Salisbury, of Stella, and her brother, Carman, who is attending Queen's, spent their holidays under the parental roof. — As milk is getting rather low, our motor truck is only going every other day to the Condensery. —Mrs. Bessie Alkenbrack and daughter, Patsy, of Tweed, spent Christmas at Perry Alkenbrack's.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Jackson took tea at Mr. G. Jeffrey's on Saturday evening. — Miss Eva Steward, Mr. and Mrs. H. Robertson, Miss M. Hawley and Mr. Hinch, of Camden East, also Miss T. Jeffrey and Mr. Ford, spent Sunday evenhg at the home of Perry Alkenbrack. — Mrs. M. McWilliams spent a few days with Mrs. Sarah Connoly, Yarker. —Rev. Mr. Nickle, of Newburgh, took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. G. Jeffrey and Mrs. McWilliams on Friday, and made a few other calls. —Mrs. R. Jackson is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hamilton.—Mr. A. Alkenbrack and family, of Camden East, took Christmas dinner at Mr. L. Salisbury's.

A post card or telephone call will bring exactly what you want by first delivery possible, from Hooper's Drug Store. Work both lines. They are your servants.

MORVEN

The Misses Helen and Jean Milling are spending their holidays at Mr. W. H. Milling's. — Mrs. C. Garrison and little son, Bryce, of Oshawa, spent several days with her sister, Mrs. S. A. Winters. — Mr. and Mrs. J. Ayl. Bell visited at Mr. A. Miller's, Millhaven, recently.—Mr. W. R. Henwood and family, and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Fralick, of Cheboygan, Mich., spent New Year's Day at Mr. John Fralick's.—Mrs. Hugh Milling is visiting friends in Adolphustown.—Miss Hazel Cummings spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cummings.—Owing to the condition of the roads there were not as many people at Violet fowl supper as were expected. — The League will be held in the White Church on Friday evening at 7.30 sharp. Come, and bring along a good resolution. Immediately following the meeting, a practice will be held for the coming Sunday School concert, which is to take place on January 25th.

FOR UTILITIES COMMISSION.

J. E. Robinson—Nominated by E. Ming and Geo. D. Robson.

There being no other nomination, Mr. Robinson was declared elected for the current term of two years.

The Nomination Meeting on Monday night was attended by a large and representative gathering of the electors. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the Town Hall was comfortably filled. The speeches made by a number of the nominees were decidedly interesting and at times evoked applause.

Mr. W. A. Grange acted as Chairman and called upon the gentlemen nominated to address the meeting, taking the members of the old Council first.

Mr. J. E. Robinson, Chairman Utilities Commission, made quite an exhaustive report on the waterworks system. The plant, he said, cost the town $70,000, but it would pay for itself in twenty years and still maintain its present efficient condition. The surplus for the past three years amounted to over $12,000. Mains were laid on Mill and Water Streets this year, thus insuring complete fire protection in these localities.

Mr. Robinson next took up the Farmers' Dairy, and gave a few facts and figures concerning this industry. It pays $1250 a year in taxes, whereas from twelve to fifteen dollars was the most the town received per year from this site as pasture land. The Company paid out $22,821 in wages in 1921, with every year increasing. The Waterworks Department also derived considerable revenue from the dairy. The Town made no mistake in getting this industry to locate here. Mr. Robinson said his time expired this year, but would serve another term if the people so willed it.

Mayor MacGregor was the next speaker. He was pleased to see so many out, considering the rough weather. In giving an account of his stewardship the Mayor said the Council had a big deficit to face at the start, and therefore were up against it, but by strict economy in every department, which was their slogan, they were able to pay off $11,000 in debenture debts this year. The streets, he said, were in good shape, but the 60 per cent. asphalt road oil spread on the streets this summer fell short of what was expected of it. This product, it has been proven, will not stand wet weather, dampness and heavy traffic—it softens and loosens up. He recommended tarvia, grading 90 per cent. asphalt—the preparation the Government uses—as a satisfactory solution of their trouble with the streets. He explained the Council's reason for putting the oiling in the general tax by saying it was intended as a permanent road builder for the good of the people generally—that it could not be classed as street sprinkling, which merely kept down dust. The Mayor interested himself personally in trying to induce industries to locate here, setting forth the facilities Napanee afforded. A reply was received from the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, which the speaker read. Mr.

TURKEYS CAME FROM W. CANADA

Sixty Thousand Brought in for Christmas, Dealer Estimates

Three times as many turkeys were eaten in Montreal over the holidays as ever before at Christmastime. This is the generous estimate of a prominent dealer to-day, who gave it as his opinion that about 60,000 turkeys had been brought in for the holiday market.

It was the turkey from the West which saved the situation, according to reports, otherwise turkey would have cost sixty cents a pound, for the Ontario market was a disappointment this year. High prices in the United States induced breeders in Ontario to ship out their turkeys early for the American Thanksgiving and many fine specimens went out alive. This depleted the Canadian market, and had not Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan been in a position to ship large quantities, high prices here would have resulted, he said.

Five turkeys out of every six which came into the city from outside points this year were Western turkeys, it is stated, whereas until last year, the number shipped here from the Prairie Provinces was practically negligible. Within two or three years it has been proven that the climate, a free range and cheap food make Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba a splendid turkey country, while the provincial authorities are helping to breed and rear, and arrange for proper marketing.—Montreal Daily Star.

RADIUM IN PLENTY IS NOW AVAILABLE

Recently Discovered Belgian Ore Is Rich in Substance.

London, Eng.—Two years ago there was a barren waste of land at Oolen, not far from Antwerp, says the Daily Mail. To-day there stands a large factory, with its smoking chimneys and its little colony of workmen's dwellings. A new industry has arisen—the winning of radium, the rarest thing in the world.

A rich find of pitchblende ore in the Belgian Congo has turned the radium world upside down. There had for freshets. Moreover, to save expense, as well as to secure a most effective cattle guard, no floor was laid. The automobile that traverses this bridge practically runs on the track. The track is constructed in the form of two shallow, narrow troughs, so that the tires fit in, with no danger of the machine meeting disaster. Tire drivers cross the bridge at full speed, with no more concern than if the bridge were of the usual sort. Nervous people do not enjoy this feature of the ride, however. In length the bridge is sixty-four feet and has proved most satisfactory.

Peanut Oil.

Peanut oil is one of the prime necessities of the Chinese in South China, and means as much to them as olive oil to the Spaniard and as lard to the American. It is the cooking oil and foodstuff of the race. Consul LeRoy Webber reports from Hong Kong that both imports and exports of the oil at Hong Kong are steadily increasing. During the first quarter of 1922 imports reached the high total of $728,796, and exports $571,929. Large stocks of peanut oil are always maintained in Hong Kong. Most of the local oil is crushed from nuts grown in the colony, in South China and in North China. Exports are shipped chiefly to nearby markets in South China, the Straits Settlements, the United States, Indo-China, Siam, the Philippines and Canada.

Voting With Caps.

The long-haired unsightly Cossacks are a peculiar people living their own lives in their own primitive manner, and adhering tenaciously to their horse breeding and trading and their ancient customs. The word Beigian is a title given to the commander-in-chief of the Cossacks, annually chosen from among the ablest colonels. The process of selection offers a contrast to the accidental custom of figuratively throwing one's hat in the ring as a sign of willingness to accept the nomination to office. Among the Cossacks it was the custom while in assembly to throw their fur caps at the candidates for whom they voted, and the one receiving the greatest number was declared elected.

The Grande Chartreuse.

The Grande Chartreuse was the original monastery of the Carthusians, founded in the year 1084 among the mountains in the French department of Isere, about fourteen miles northeast of Grenoble, and is famous for an aromatic cordial made by the monks, the secret of which they have long possessed. The monastery was despoiled during the French revolution, and the inmates exiled from 1796 to 1816. They returned after the restoration of Louis XVIII (1814), but never recovered their former wealth and influence.

Sheep and Civilization.

Man discovered in the earliest days that "of all cattle, the sheep is the most profitable," as a book on farming published just four centuries ago puts it. Man saw in the sheep a seven-in-one store of food and clothing. Why bother to hunt when you could capture a few wild sheep and turn them into tame ones? And keep them man tamed the dog and made him his ally.

Frenchman—Ah, madame, your singing was zee most wonderful thing!

Hostess (modestly)—No, no, Count; the credit should go to my accompanist.

Frenchman—Quite so, madame, but zee Frenchman is always zee gentleman.

THE LANGO TRIBE.

Marriage by Capture Still Rules in Uganda District.

Among the most interesting but least-known of the natives of Africa are the Lango, a tribe which flourishes in the Uganda district.

Unlike many of their neighbors, the Lango do not practise any direct forms of witchcraft, say who are foolish enough to indulge in the black arts are neatly clubbed to death. The tribe has a large number of superstitions and customs, however, one of the most important of ones being the driving away of diseases being the driving away of diseases, which takes place in June.

The first part of this ceremony is the dislodging of disease from his hiding-place by the beating of hides and the waving of torches in every house. When the evil has been driven out into the street "the whole village escorts it, raising the cry of victory, and beating the hides, till it is driven into a river or swamp, from which it cannot return," writes Mr. J. H. Driberg in his interesting book, "The Lango."

There are many customs, too, governing the conduct of women. In one clan, for instance, they are forbidden the flesh and skin of leopards, while the fig-tree must not be touched by them. "No woman may possess property," continues the author, "except her ornaments and tail," the latter being a decoration attached to the girdle.

Another custom which survives in this tribe is that of marriage by capture, but, as a matter of fact, the "capture" is always arranged beforehand.

The friends of the bridegroom repair to the lady's house and entreat graciously invite her to accompany them. This, by custom-bound, she refuses to do, and insults them roundly, "until they finally seize her, struggling, biting, kicking, and screaming," which continues until they thrust her into her lover's house. This in no way indicates reluctance on the girl's part.

The Lango have an elaborate style of hair-dressing, which consists in the main of the threading of beads on to the hair in such a manner that the head appears to covered with a white skull-cap. The fee received by the hair-dresser for carrying out this operation consists of one pot of beer and one chicken.

Floorless Bridge.

New Mexico boasts of a unique automobile bridge, believed to be the first of its kind in the world. The bridge was constructed by a mail and passenger stage line to span the Macho, a creek on the route. The beams were thrown across the chasm, with no other support than the banks. Hence no concerns had to be laid. The automobile that traverses this bridge practically runs on the track. The track is constructed in the form of two shallow, narrow troughs, so that the tires fit in, with no danger of the machine meeting disaster. Tire drivers cross the bridge at full speed, with no more concern than if the bridge were of the usual sort. Nervous people do not enjoy this feature of the ride, however. In length the bridge is sixty-four feet and has proved most satisfactory.

BAVARIA.

Was Known In History As Early As 600 B.C.

A name that has been in the news columns very often during the past few weeks is Bavaria, the name of a German country, part of the late German Empire and now the federal German republic. Bavaria has had somewhat strained relations with the sister German state, Saxony, to the northeast.

Bavarian history takes one back to ancient times, for it is known that as early as 600 B.C., this country part of Southern Germany was inhabited by a Celtic people and, therefore, related to the Celtic Gauls in what is now France, and the Celtic Britons of what are now the British Isles.

Late in the first century of the Christian era Bavaria was conquered by Rome, but on the fall of the Western Roman Empire the country was occupied by tribes known as Boiarii. It formed part of Charlemagne's empire, and when that empire was dissolved Bavaria passed under the rule of local leaders, who became known as dukes.

During part of the Napoleonic wars Bavaria was an ally of France, and became a kingdom in 1805. In the Franco-Prussian war of 1870, Bavaria supported Prussia. Out of that war came the German Empire—a great federal, imperial state of which Bavaria was one of the leading members. That empire passed away during the closing days of the Great War, and in its place arose a federal republic, composed of all the former German states, each of which became a republic with local self-government, much as the Canadian provinces possess local self-government under the federal government of Canada.

Bavaria is not a large country compared with national boundaries. Its area is 29,316 square miles, which is only a little greater than the combined areas of our two provinces of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. But Bavaria has a population of almost seven millions, which is equal to the combined populations of our three Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario, and Manitoba—that is, all the people between the Atlantic ocean and the eastern boundary of Saskatchewan.

The borders of Bavaria are hilly and mean parts mountains, but more than one-half of the total area is cultivated. The soil is fertile, and agriculture is the leading industry. About third of the area is in timber, chiefly oak, beech and pine. The minerals include salt, coal, iron and graphite. It was the last named mineral and its products that drew to Bavaria to the attention of boys and girls who are the men and women of to-day. There are some on their lead pencils. The leading manufactures of Bavaria is beer, but the list includes sugar, linens and woollens, glass, porcelain and Christmas cards as well as pencils.

Bicycles.

Is the bicycle such a villain? True, he sucks eggs and eats weddings, but biological research and agricultures has just written a pamphlet trying to prove that this handsome fellow is but a mild criminal. In 92 bluejay stomachs he found bird remains in two only and wee shells in three.

But most people will say the jays that he examined must have been the expert. The evil habits of the bluejays are too well attested by competent witnesses to be made light of. John Burroughs, for one, speaks again and again of this bird's rascality, having caught him in the act of nest robbing. He is a confirmed corner, with the craft of a pickpocket and the taste of a cannibal.

The bluejay belongs to the crow family, a disreputable tribe for the greater part, but with some redeeming traits.

Finds in Roman Tombs.

The archaeological discoveries near Belluno, Venetia, of two ancient tombs by workmen engaged in building a new road proved to be an archeological discovery of first-rate importance, as the objects found, besides being of great intrinsic value, afford proof that Belluno was a Roman town.

The find includes skeletons, earthenware, vases of various shapes, swords, bracelets, necklaces and other jewelry, and several coins.

The workmen who uncovered the tombs, had kept silent, evidently intending to sell the antiquities, but luckily some cultured person got the case to the local inspector of monuments, who rushed to the spot, and found that several more tombs exist, so that further finds are expected.

Made Maps in Ancient Days.

Map-making goes back to the earliest known days. It was a branch of the early picture-writing practiced by savages. In Tahiti, for instance, natives were able to make fairly good maps for the guidance of explorers. Maps with raised lines were in use in Peru before the conquest. The oldest-known map is that of the Euphrates and Tigris rivers, dating from the time of Sethos I, the father of Rameses the Great. It is a chart of Aristagoras and his bronze tablet, on which were inscribed the circuit of the earth, the sea and the seas and rivers then known.

The Modern Thought.

With some misgivings a scientist belonging to the Lunar party consented to lecture for the benefit of a detachment of tourists. Looking at them to the top of a dune he announced: "This is the vast and solemn Sahara desert. 1,000 miles long and 1,000 miles deep." He expected them to be awed. But the only response was this from a cheerful spectator:

"What a jolly lot of parking space."

China's Population.

About six-sevenths of China's population is concentrated on one-third of its area, having averages of 1,000 to 4,000,000 square miles, comparatively sparsely populated.

ODORLESS SKUNKS.

Fur-Farming Has Spread to British Isles.

Fur-farming has spread to England—the skunk being the animal that is being raised. The popular idea of this animal is that it is one whose chief characteristic is smell. The man in the street would put it much more bluntly. So that an excellent place for the animal is Dartmoor, where there are strong breezes.

On Dartmoor the skunk has found a home with the picturesque name of Wild Pine Fur Ranches, Teigncombe, near Chagford, England, a place where there are whole families of skunks, and all free from that ill-favored smell. The ranch is run by Capt. D. Plent and Mr. C. Johnstone for the raising of skunks that will produce fine furs free from odor.

Such a thing is not impossible, for a little surgery when the skunk is a baby and the thing is done. The animal has two scent glands from which it ejects a secretion, the smell of which is so persistent that no amount of washing will remove it from clothes impregnated with it. The ranchers at Teigncombe are not risking anything of that kind, so the glands are removed when the skunks are too tiny to object.

It is asserted that the nauseous secretion has therapeutical virtues and consequently is of commercial value. "Whether it has or no we are not dealing in it," says the rancher. "We want furs for which there is a real market."

Thus the little bit of surgery explains why there is no obnoxious smell on the Wild Pine Fur Ranch, which consists of 25 acres of rough moor and pine woods with wire netting runs and pens and a wooden shack in which Mr. Johnstone resides.

Operations were begun a year ago with 46 skunks. Thirty from America were added and the population since increased to 150, including 100 females. There is no question of financial results yet, as the enterprise is only in its infancy, and the ranchers aim at a stock of 2,000 females. Then will be the time for the furs. The average price of skunk furs is from 30s. to £2—and no doubt women will as soon buy the English as the American article.

It is said that the experts have never succeeded in breeding skunks at the Zoo, but the animals are flourishing on Dartmoor, and it is claimed that the furs being produced are as good as any raised in Canada.

History of a Phrase.

"The Thin Red Line" is so well established as a description of British forces in battle array that it is difficult to realize that it is comparatively modern. It has been generally credited to William Howard Russell, the famous war correspondent, in his account of Balaclava, in the London Times, in 1854. This is not quite correct, as is pointed out by J. H. Aikins, in a letter to the Times.

When I wrote the life of Sir William Russell I was interested to find that there had been a good deal of discussion about this phrase "thin red line." The facts are these: Russell in describing the charge of the Highland cavalry against the 93rd Highlanders, in his letter dated October 25, 1854, says: "The ground flew beneath their horses' feet; galloping sped at every stride, they dash on toward that thin red streak tipped with a line of steel." In the Times the "tipped" was printed "topped," but still reveal his Crimean letters several times for various editions. In one of these revisions the original phrase became "thin red line tipped with steel." So I find it in the edition of 1877. In that edition the words are printed in Italics—a fact which surprised Russell when it was pointed out to him. Perhaps the printer, recognizing that some touch-up had been spent on the phrase, thought that Russell would like the emphasis! Russell was not a careful proofreader.

Watering a Desert.

Watering a desert with the largest dam in the world will make a garden of Sind, India. The project was inaugurated by Sir George Lloyd, retiring Governor of Bombay, who described it as the greatest of its kind the world had ever seen. It diverts Indus waters to provide irrigation for, and render possible, the cultivation of an area equal to that of any of the larger English counties. Three canals carrying off the waters of the Indus are wider than the Suez Canal. There is also a supply channel more than double the width of the Manchester Ship Canal. The great Indus or dam barrage brings 8,000,000 acres of barren land under cultivation. Its cost is £3,500,000. The barrage will carry two mighty bridges across the Indus, each five times larger than London Bridge.

Birds' Sense of Smell.

The great majority of birds go by sight alone. Students of bird life tell us that only three of the common birds use the sense of smell in any part of their instincts. These are the turtle dove, the turkey buzzard and the Canada jay, commonly called "whisky jacks." The buzzards gather freely wherever carrion is displayed, and are notorious scavengers. There are plenty of evidences that these birds actually do rely upon their sense of smell. Northern trappers hate the buzzard which they often find clutched in a trap they had set for a mink or other fur-bearing animal. If a whisky-jack, or Canada jay finds such a trap, he is pretty likely to rob and spring it.

Dominions.

The term Dominions is applied generally to the self-governing British possessions beyond the seas, although the word does not in all cases form part of their names. In the case of Canada the word is part of the name, but such is not the case, for instance, of the Union of South Africa, or the Commonwealth of Australia, nor is it the case of the Irish Free State, and yet they may all be referred to as Dominions.

"No, Herbert, I am sorry; but I am sure we should not be happy together. You know I always want my own way in everything."

"But, my dear girl, you could go on standing it after we were married."

JAVA'S BATIK WORKERS

NATIVES HAVE BEEN BATIKERS FOR CENTURIES.

With Them It Is a Science, an Art, an Industry, a Religion, a Mystery, an Inheritance and a Treasure—Long Process, But When Completed Garment Will Last for Years for Festive Occasions.

The lovely batik work that finds uses in our blouses, hats, cushions, curtains and various house draperies, has become a craft among skilled workers in Canada. It is interesting to learn from Miss Minnie Frost, writing in "Asia," that natives of Java have been doing this lovely decorative work for centuries on centuries.

Japan and China like to embroider colors on materials; Sumatra dyes the threads and weaves them in; India stamps the material, and the South Sea Islands paint it. But with Japanese batik is a science, an art, an industry, a religion, a mystery, an inheritance and a treasure peculiar to that tropical island. Batik makers draw their designs in hot wax on white cotton cloth and then color the uncovered parts of the pattern by dipping the waxed cloth again and again into vats of vegetable dye.

The Java batiker draws by letting the hot wax flow from the miniature spout of a small copper cup, or tjanting, which is fastened securely to one end of a short bamboo handle.

The Javanese batiker of modern time, no matter what her social station, insists on having only the very finest weave of English cotton. She wants a closely woven material on which she can write as if on paper, and on which the wax will form a superficial layer instead of penetrating between the threads. Having bought the goods, she tears them and hems the edges with a fine hem. She needs neither pattern nor scissors; then having hemmed the piece, she is ready to make it matang, or ripe.

The ripening process, which prepares the goods for absorbing the dyes, consists in soaking and drying it from five to ten times a day usually for a period of from six to twelve days. The dip used is a mixture of peanut oil or castor oil and lye made from the ashes of rice stubble. The treatment, which in one part of Java lasts as long as forty days, gives the pussy-willow, velvety feeling of Java batiks and changes the original fabric, so that it no longer resembles calico but suggests the texture of silk, cotton and velvet combined. Now the batiker starches the cloth with sago, cassava or rice flour. Then she irons it and begins to lay out the design, using horizontal, vertical and diagonal guide-lines applied with a stick, or merely folding and creasing the goods on the pattern requires. If the design to be applied is one that she has not yet learned by heart, she borrows the new material on the old batik and by means of the light that shines through the two pieces of cloth, patiently hangs over her bamboo rack traces in wax the outline of the pattern. Having smeared the wax-free goods with a solution of tarry intricate design. Of course, she waxes the pattern and boils out the wax and re-waxes the pattern for every additional dye color.

In middle Java, where the most typical batiks are made, the dyeing process consists of three steps; the indigo bath, the soga bath for the warm-red-brown colors and the cream tinting of the wax-free goods. The task of dyeing is as tedious a task as preparing the goods. It may take weeks. The result, however, is color that is everlasting.

Batik is a long process, but when it is finished the Javanese has a garment that color five years of constant wear will still be beautiful and, if donned only on festive days, will retain its magnificence for a lifetime. It is not unusual to see a fine batik girl in Java wearing a batik that, though it appears to be in its newborn glory, was worn by her mother and her grandmother before her.

On Lipton's Houseboat.

The houseboat Killarney, which was used by Sir Thomas Lipton to house sailors and guard of the cup challenger, Shamrock, now is known as the "Killarney Apartments," says the New York Sun. At Jacob's famous yacht yard, City Island, it has done its bit to relieve the housing shortage, which has even extended to the private section of the city. Two families have been living on board the Killarney and have been enjoying spacious quarters. The Killarney is about 75 feet long and 40 feet wide. Her upper deck is open except where the forward deckhouse stands, and forms an excellent playground for children.

A Gold-Plated Carriage.

Historians allow that the most valuable carriage in the world is one found in the palace of the Trianon at Versailles, that was built for Charles X of France, and under instructions to spare no pains or cost in making it fit for the regal and rather bizarre tastes that prevailed in those days. From the tip of the pole to the hind wheels the carriage is plated with heavy gold decorations, the cost of construction then being in excess of £200,000. To-day it would be many times that sum.

Talk Sometimes Expensive.

Talk is the most expensive thing that is, in many cases, so long as there are excellent laws against slander.

The middle-aged man had just broken the world record for a 50-yard dash.

"How on earth did you develop such wonderful speed?" they asked.

"Crossing streets in the downtown district," he modestly replied.

The New Ford Touring Car

For the motorist who requires a good-looking car of unusual serviceability, the new Ford Touring Car is a splendid investment.

To the sturdiness and endurance for which the Ford is universally famous have been added new features which materially enhance the appearance of the car and add to the comfort of the passengers.

The new radiator is higher, giving greater cooling efficiency—the hood and cowl are larger affording increased leg-room, and the steering-post is braced for easier driving.

With roomy accommodations for five passengers, the new Ford Touring Car is undoubtedly the most practical general utility car on the market.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Another fine thing about being rich is, that you can wear jewelry from the ten-cent store and get away with it. You don't need to be rich to have a jar of Williams' Camphorated Mustard Cream. 35c. buys it from your dealer, and its a mighty good investment for your kiddies croup troubles, or your own stubborn chest cold, or neuralgia. No mess or blister.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOUR EYES?

STOP STRAINING THEM. THEY ARE PRICELESS.

H. E. SMITH, the Optometrist will give your eyes a thorough examination. If they need glasses you can depend on being properly fitted. If your eyes need other treatment, you will be advised the course to pursue.

BEFORE MY BABY CAME

I Was Greatly Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydenham, Ont.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born, and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I had started to take it. I soon felt as though I was tired out all the time and would have weak, faint spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, night or day. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to recommend this good medicine. I will send that little book you sent me to any one that asks. You can write with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will help others take it."—Mrs. HARVEY MILLIGAN, Sydenham, Ont.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many women are poorly at such times and get into a weakened, run-down condition, when it is essential to the mother, as well as the child, that her strength be kept up.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It may be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

DEATHS.

MILLER—At Kingston, on Friday, Dec. 28th, 1923, Harold A. Miller, aged 21 years and 10 months.

WALES—At Napanee, on Tuesday, January 1st, 1924, Robert John Wales, aged 76 years and 9 months.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad and loving memory of our brother, Bert Haines, who was in the world war, Jan. 5th, 1917.

The month of January again is here,
To us the saddest of the year;
Because seven years ago to-day,
It took our dear brother away.
Sad and sudden was the call,
To one so dearly loved by all;
But his memory is as dear to-day,
As it was the day he passed away.
Inserted
—Mrs. Henry W. Burton.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Leonard Barton McCabe, who departed this life on January 8th, 1923.

One lonely year has passed
Since you left us for good,
But in our aching hearts
We know that still is well.
Sleep on, dear one,
In the silent tomb,
But those are sadly missed
Where we called "home".
In
—Wife and Son.

OBITUARY

Mr. R. J. Wales.

One of Napanee's oldest citizens, in the person of Mr. R. J. Wales, passed away peacefully on New Years Day. Mr. Wales was born in Napanee on March 25th, 1847, and had lived here all his life. He started a blacksmith shop in 1862, and on disposing of his business in 1902, he opened up a grocery and hardware store at the east end of the town. He was a charter member of Argyle Lodge, No. 212, I. O. O. F., and a member of Union Lodge No. 9, A. F. and A. M. He was an honored citizen, and will be missed by a wide circle of friends. His wife predeceased him several years ago. He leaves to mourn his loss one son, Stanley, and two daughters, Misses Ida and Mattie, all residing in Napanee. The funeral took place from his late residence, Bridge St. East, on Thursday afternoon, thence to the Riverside cemetery, the Lodges attending in a body. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved ones.

Mary H. Fox.

A shadow of gloom was cast over the town on Christmas Eve when it was learned that Mary H. Fox, eldest daughter of Mrs. Fox and the late Thomas Fox, so many years a trusted employee of The Rolland Paper Co., had gone to her eternal home, in her nineteenth year, after a short illness of Bright's disease. Mary was a bright, lovable girl, and will be sadly missed by her many girl companions. She was a graduate of the last Commercial class of the Collegiate Institute, and had taken a position with Messrs. Herrington, Warner & Grange, but owing to illness only remained there a few weeks. The funeral took place from her late residence to the R. C. Church, where a solemn requiem was sung for the repose of her soul. Sympathy of the whole community goes out to the sorrowing mother, two sisters and a brother, who are left to mourn their loss. The pallbearers were Thomas McGraw, Andrew Cavanaugh, Thos. Barrett, Ambrose Killorin, Anthony Walsh and Wilfred McAlister.

MOSCOW

The Women's Institute held an open evening of a literary and social nature on New Years Eve at the home of Mrs. Geo. Lampkin. Despite the inclement weather, forty members and friends enjoyed the excellent programme prepared by the executive and programme committees of the Institute. Mrs. J. G. Amey, president, presided in a capable manner. Mrs. Amos Huffman, secretary, gave an excellent report of work being carried on throughout Ontario by Sister Institutes. The creed was read, followed by a paper on "Rural Education," read by Mrs. M. Huffman. Miss Doris Asselstine gave a very appropriate reading, which brought sustained applause. Miss Ruth Lampkin gave an outline of the development of the Women's Institute during the past twenty-five years in Canada, Scotland, England and Wales. Community songs followed in rapid succession, and musical selections were rendered by Mrs. W. Shangraw, of Colebrook. After refreshments were served the merry party enjoyed games and stunts until the old year faded and the new years blew in to greet, all with a fresh supply of good will, happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Huffman spent New Years at Mr. J. Patterson.—Miss C. Darling returned to Caro, Ont., after spending her vacation at her home here. — Miss Mary Lochhead and Mr. Harold Gee, Kingston, spent the holidays here. —Mr. and Mrs. O. Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bell spent Saturday in Kingston. — Mrs. H. Nicholson, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morley Huffman. — Miss Helen Amey returned to Peterboro' Normal School. — Miss Marjory Grant, Sydenham, and Miss Louise VanLuven, Napanee, spent a few days ameng relatives during the Christmas holidays.

STRATHCONA

The storm on Monday night made the roads almost unsafe for traffic, and many of the citizens of Strathcona began the New Year by not standing on their own feet. On New Year's night some young people took advantage of the ice and had a merry time sleigh riding.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wartman spent Thursday of last week at H. Hoare's.—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Finlay entertained a number of young people at tea on Thursday evening of last week. — Mr. Clarence Card and family, of Hamilton, have been visiting at the home of Wm. Fox recently.—Miss Muriel Wilson and Miss Marguerite McGuire, who have been home for the holidays, returned to Toronto on Thursday morning.—A number from here attended the pageant and concert in Selby on New Year's night, and pronounced the programme good. —Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and family spent New Years at D. B. Wilson's, Napanee.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Finlay gave a party on Saturday evening last, and a very enjoyable time was experienced by those present. — Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman, of Wesley, took tea at Geo. Finlay's on Thursday of last week. — Mr. and Mrs. B. Finlay, also Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Finlay and family, spent New Years at W. J. Patterson's, Moscow. —Miss K. McGuire is on the sick list at present. — The Misses Lillie and Helen Blue, of Madoc, are visiting at Fred McDonald's. — Mr. and Mrs. O. Sutton and family took tea at Walt. Uens' on New Year's night. —Mr. and Mrs. William Ballance were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Ramsay on Tuesday evening.—The public school opened on Wednesday morning, to begin another term of toil.—Mr. and Mrs. next Sunday at 2 p.m. Begin this year right and come.—The monthly meeting of the Mission Circle will be held at the home of Mr. James Wilson this (Friday) evening at 7.30. Every member is urged to be present, if possible.

Boyes' Custom Made

SUITS

as you know, are Genuine Tailor-made Suits in every way. Our Cutter drafts a pattern for your individual requirements. A try-on is then given to make sure it is right in every particular. It is then sent up-stairs to be really tailored by expert hands into properly shaped and "stayed-to-stay-for-years" garments.

In lines, in the qualities or fabrics, and in that hard-to-describe "made-for-the-man" look, these Suits reflect the taste of particular dressers; yet our prices are within the reach of every man who appreciates sound value, measured by length of service.

We have recently stocked a large number of fine English Worsted Suitings to avoid increased prices in the spring.

It's a good time to buy, as you will have the choice of a large stock and at prices that can not be lowered. Let us show you.

NOMINATION MEETING

MacGregor here changed his line of talk from the industrial to the moral welfare of the town, and made a bitter attack on the traffic in lemon and vanilla extracts of an alcoholic nature. It reached a stage now, he said, where it was becoming a curse to the community, and the people must take immediate action to stamp it out. He would be a prime mover in the crusade whether elected or not.

Dr. Ming, nominee for Mayor, said he had decided last year not to become a candidate for municipal office. A number of citizens tried to induce him to change his mind. He said he was subject to change, but would not commit himself.

Reeve Hambly thought the Council had done all that was expected of them the past year. The members are agreeable bunch to work with—it was not a one-man Council by any means. As a member of the County Council he had got everything that was coming to the town from the County, which had a debt of $30,000 to face. Mr. Hambly said he would have all he could attend to for the next four years in the Legislature, and it would be to his pleasure to do all in his power for the people of the town and county.

Coun. Perry, Chairman of Finance, gave a resume of his department. The receipts this year from taxes and other sources amounted to $82,000. The largest item of expenditure was for schools. The debt was heavy, the Council needed to economize, and they certainly did. With reference to a community spirit between town and county, Mr. Perry said he was President of the Rural Telephone Co., which intended extending its lines to every part of the county, and this would bring the people in pretty close touch with one another. He thanked the electors for returning him at the head of the poll for Councillor, and the coming year he would be a candidate for the Reeveship.

Coun. Tustin, Chairman of Streets, said his Committee was the largest spender of any of the Committees, but under his supervision the people got 100 cents for every dollar spent. Nearly all the streets were oiled this year, and three streets were rebuilt. They got 50 loads of stone free of cost in lieu of rental from the Government. He intended to be a candidate for Reeve, and would be in a position to devote all necessary time to the office, his business taking up his time only at night. If the electors wanted a man on the job who was not tied down to his business, Mr. Tustin was ready and willing to render efficient service for the honor conferred on him if elected.

Coun. Burgess, Chairman of Printing and By-laws, was the next speaker. His work along that line in the Council had been light. He had endeavored to have the minutes of the Council printed in book form this year, but his co-workers thought it would not be in the interests of economy to do so. He declared himself emphatically opposed to the sale of alcoholic dope labelled "extract", and would support the Mayor in his crusade against it if elected Councillor for 1924.

Coun. Hartman said he would have to decline the nomination for Councillor with thanks, as his present business takes him out of town six days in the week.

Couns. Huffman and Paul made short addresses, outlining the work in their departments the past year. They both intended to become candidates as Councillors.

Mark P. Graham, Utilities Commissioner, wished to congratulate the Mayor and Council on their good work. He did not intend to oppose Mr. MacGregor for Mayor, and thought that gentleman was entitled to a second term, to complete the work started by him during his first year in office. Mr. Graham was also nominated for Reeve, but could not make up his mind just then whether he would be in the field or not.

J. M. Simpson, nominee for Councillor, said this was his first appearance on the platform at a nomination meeting, and at his second appearance on January 7th he hoped to thank the electors for their support. It was his duty, he remarked, to help administer the affairs of the town if the electors so willed. Every citizen who could spare the time had the same duty to perform and should not shirk it.

"When a man refuses to take a tip you say he lacks vision."

"Yes."

"And if he takes it and loses?"

"Then we say he lacked 'foresight'."

Social Evening at Wilton.

On dit, King Solomon said, "There is a time and place for all things", and the time was Friday evening, Dec. 28th, during the joyous noel season, and the place—again Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Simmons illuminated their home with an incandescent blaze of brilliancy and informally welcomed the members of the Wilton Girls' Soft Ball Team and their friends. Social games and radio concerts were enjoyed, and then—all inclined in that healthful art of refreshing recreation, viz., the most natural expression of festivity allied to music. Midnight was the hour for relaxation and refreshments, and here also it was in keeping with the Yuletide. Tables were spread for forty-two, and a delectable turkey supper, with the delicacies, was served. Afterwards dancing was continued until leave taking, when all expressed gratitude to their host and hostess, and all conceded that Mr. and Mrs. Simmons did "tout bien ou rien".

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF RICHMOND.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In offering myself as a candidate for the office of Reeve for the Township of Richmond for the year 1924, I do so after careful consideration, believing it time that we get away from camoflage in municipal government such as we have had in the past year, and get down to a true economical basis of municipal government.

I submit the following facts which I trust you will carefully consider before marking your ballot on Election Day. I served you at Reeve during 1920-1921.

Results, 1920, Richmond Township—

Total Taxes collected in 1920	$32727.74
Total expenditure on Township Roads, 1920	$ 8425 16
Special Ontario Gov. grant, 1920	$ 2000 00
Results for 1921:—
Total Township taxes collected	$34728 10
Total expenditure, Township Roads	$ 10157 45
Ont. Gov. grant, 1921	$ 2145 00
Result for 1923:—
Total taxes collected	$ 32367 21
Total Township Roads as per Gov. returns	$ 3464 20
Estimated Gov. grant, '23	$ 739 74

You have been told your taxes have been lowered. Does this seem in keeping with the above facts, which figures are taken from Financial Statements, Auditors' Reports and Government returns. It is not difficult to see that our results in so far as Township Road expenditures are concerned, are very little more than one-third in 1923 what they were in 1921. Compare the Government grants for these three years. "Actual results should count".

I have been branded as being extravagant; do these facts go to prove this? I have also been called a grafter. Kindly compare the following facts before you mark your ballot.

During 1921 I was paid from the Township of Richmond as my salary as Reeve and Chairman of Board of Health, $88.10; yet I supervised the matters of Township, also the Road expenditure of $10,157.45.

During 1921 I was paid the following monies from County, for the following:

Committee services, Toronto	$ 25 00
Com. services, Finance	18.45
Com. services, Roads and Bridges	49 30
Sessional Indemnity	102 00
Total	$194 75

Total received from County and Township	$282 85

During 1923 the Reeve of Richmond was paid the following:—

As salary for Reeve and Chairman Board of Health, $119.00.

Total supervision of Township matters and Road expenditure $3464.20 on Roads.

During 1922 the Reeve of Richmond was paid from the County of Lennox and Addington, the following moneys:—

Com. services, Ottawa	$ 30 00
Com. services, Toronto	35 00
Com. services, Finance	26 50
Com. services, R. and B.	117 60
Sessional Indemnity	102 00
Total	$311 10

Total salary, 1923, Township and County	$430 10

There is no grafter in this proof that I have been either extravagant or a grafter.

When I was elected to office, January, 1920, the total Provincial Highway expenditure across the Township of Richmond was chargeable to the Township. During my term of office this was changed and is now chargeable to the County of Lennox and Addington. This means a very great saving to you. I claim a certain part of the credit for affecting this saving.

I feel, after you have carefully gone over these facts, that you cannot come to any other decision than to vote for Tummon as Reeve of Richmond Township for 1924.

Thanking you in anticipation.

Extending to you all the season's greetings,

Sincerely yours,
A. C. TUMMON.

1a

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF RICHMOND.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

I have been requested by a large number of ratepayers to offer myself for Township for the year 1924, and will say considering my last year's services and past services, I feel I am entitled to your support. I have worked faithfully and honestly for the interest of County and Township and in so doing reduced taxes in the Township nearly $6,000, and still have a surplus. In addition to expenses of other years, we had two elections for Members, Vrooman and Hambly, to pay for, and we have on hand:—Cash and bills receivable $5302.86, besides $17500.00 Victory Bonds. Re the County, we reduced 3½ mills. It has been commonly reported I borrowed $28000.00. It was to pay part of Provincial Road expenditure of 1921 and 1922, which was $35,103.00, and we paid balance $7500.00 besides $10226.95 bonds which was mostly borrowed in 1923, and still have a surplus over last year from $6000 to $8000. Thousands of dollars have been voted recklessly away in past years, but with help of many good men in the County and Township, we have made a start to stop extravagance.

Thanking you all, a Happy New Year, I am,

Yours truly,
R. W. PAUL.

Troubled Year Throughout World Predicted by French Astrologer

Life Will be Comfortable Only in Holland—India Will Revel—Knowledge and the Pope Receive Warnings.

Paris, Dec. 26th.—The French astrologist, Heme, the Toleme, has read the heavens for 1924 and finds Mars, Saturn and Uranus in positions of malevolence.

"Their influence is maleficent," she says, "and it will be a troubled year throughout the world, especially during the Spring and Autumn."

In the United States, she says, people will be irritable and disconcerted. There will be many fires and catastrophes. The State Department will have trouble with its foreign policy and be involved in a violent dispute with another nation, which is not named.

Presidents and rulers throughout the world will suffer either in health or prestige. President Coolidge is warned to be careful, although "nothing very unfavorable will happen to him."

Everywhere there will be danger of war between nations and classes. Religion will breed furious hates and criticisms. The Pope is warned against politics.

France will break with one ally and will make a new alliance with Winter. England will suffer internally and India will revolt. There will be revolts likewise in Spain, Turkey, Morocco and Tunis. Sweden will suffer internally and the Scandinavian countries will fall ill suddenly. In Germany there is not much chance for the former Crown Prince and, as for the ex-Kaiser, he will never re-ascend the throne, but will come to a sad end.

However, Russia will have occasional periods of calm and in one small nation on earth life will be comfortable, in Holland.

WINTER ECZEMA
CHAPS & COLD-SORES

KEEN wintry weather brings a host of skin troubles. Cold-sores, chapped hands, unsightly face-sores and blotches, become a source of discomfort and annoyance. To end the trouble and make your skin clear, healthy and flexible, give the face, arms and hands a nightly dressing with pure herbal Zam-Buk.

Zam-Buk instantly soothes the smarting irritation, it kills disease germs, and quickly heals all soreness, roughness and chafing which, neglected, often develops into eczema or other chronic skin disease. Use also Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap and enjoy real skin health.

This was an obstinate case.

Mrs. Henry Amey, 42, Lyall Avenue, Toronto, says:—"My daughter's face and neck were a mass of eczema. Her doctor prescribed treatment for over two months, but to little avail. I was about to call in a skin specialist when I heard of Zam-Buk treatment rescuing other sufferers from this dread disease. So I got a box of Zam-Buk and a tablet of Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap. In a few days there was brought a decided improvement. Day by day the sores gradually healed, and within a month my daughter's skin was thoroughly cleared of the terrible disease."

FREE SAMPLE BOXES of this great skin remedy: Send 1c. stamp (for return postage), give name and date of paper, and address Zam-Buk Co., Dept. St., Toronto. 50c. box, all dealers.

There's a Reason

For the sure results you get from using THE BEAVER'S Classified Advertisements?

It's Just This:

Over 3,600 subscribers get THE BEAVER every week. Take it as an average that five people read each copy issued and THE BEAVER has over 18,000 readers. The paper is widely circulated over the County and adjoining Townships.

A Large Field to Draw From.

DESMOND

The mild weather was much appreciated by the many Christmas visitors, but once more Christmas has passed into history, with its merry spirit, and none of the kind, thoughtful Desmondites who did their share to make Christmas a merry one for the boys who were not so fortunate as themselves, seemed to enjoy the Christmas festivities all the more for casting their bread upon the waters. They are very grateful for the assistance given by Wesley S. S. Young Men's Class.—Desmond men talk election, it seems to us the few dark horses waiting for nomination day. Perhaps some of our County Councillors would be able to tell us why they sent Mr. Haycock, Labor M.P. a cablegram when he was elected in the recent British Election? Do they think that they expressed the sentiments of the people of Lennox and Addington to spend their money sending a cablegram to one whose political leader, Ramsay McDonald, has wrote and spoke in favour of socialism? Such are the questions that soon must be answered.—Christmas visitors are :—Miss Katheleen Galbraith, of the O. A. C., at Mr. H. F. Bell's; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Switzer and Mr. Coleman Switzer at Mrs. J. W. Bell's; Master Gerald Quinn, of Brockville, at his uncle's, Mr. Richard Quinn.—Mr. Richard Quinn, Sr., at Brockville; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Milsap and Freda at Moscow; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Quinn at Simon Shane's; Mr. and Mrs. George MacFarland at Mr. John Milsap's.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drew and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Drew and Nobie, of Violet; Mr. Boyce Drew and Miss Chas. Lankford, of Belleville, spent Xmas at Mr. G. A. Drew's.—Mr. and Mrs. Hannah, and Mrs. Lockridge and daughter, Tamworth, spent Wednesday afternoon with Mr. John Milsap.—Mr. H. F. Bell called on Mr. Milsap, recently.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Switzer and Mr. Coleman Switzer spent Xmas with Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Snider, Napanee.—Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bell and Mrs. and Mrs. F. T. Bell gave a charming party in honor of Miss Galbraith, on Friday evening, Dec. 21st., there being about twenty-four young people present. The evening was spent in contests, music, games, and listening in on the radio. The gathering dispersed at the wee small hours, after thanking the hostesses for the splendid time given them.—A number of Desmond's dairy maids claim that the Napanee grocery stores are a slim lot, when they have to call on no less than four stores to sell ten pounds of fresh butter and one dozen of strictly fresh eggs. So is it any wonder they would rather do their shopping at the country stores?

BATH

Mr. Arnold Babcock, of Point Anne spent Christmas with his mother, Mrs. C. Babcock.—Miss Margaret Forester is spending the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Forester.—Mrs. Will McGuin, who suffered painful injuries by falling down stairs, several days ago, is not much improved.—Messrs. Fred McGuin, of Napanee, and Clarence McGuin, of Kingston, spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGuin.—The many friends of Mr. Wm. Thorpe will sympathize with him in the loss of his mother, Mrs. John Demorse Amherst Island, who passed away on Monday, after a lingering illness.—Mr. Clare Mott, of Belleville, made a short visit with his uncle, Robert Mott, this week.—Mrs. Wm. Calver has been spending a few days at Robert Calver's.—Mr. and Mrs. Max Calver spent Xmas with friends at Odessa. — Miss Hilda Armstrong, of Toronto, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong.—Misses Clarinde Young, of Renfrew, and Ernest Young, of Peterboro', are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Young. — Mrs. Wemp, of Toronto, spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wemp.—Mr. and Mrs. John Bain, and Mrs. Bain's Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mellow and baby, of Napanee, spent Christmas at George Davy's.—Messrs. Alan and Hoppy Swayne spent Christmas with their parents, Rev. and Mrs. Swayne, at St. John's Rectory.—Miss Edith Calver, of Napanee, spent Xmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Calver.—Nicholas Holt and the Misses Dorothy Holt and Wilkinson, of Toronto, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cuppage. — Mrs. Agnes Sharpe is visiting friends at Ottawa. —Charles Lake is spending his Xmas vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calver. — Ronald Stevenson and family, of Napanee, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calver.

SELBY WEST.

The snow storm of last night makes it look a little more like winter, but hope we get a little more to make good sleighing.—Mr. Wm. Smith is on the sick list. We hope for a speedy recovery.—Mrs. L. Carscallen is spending a few days with Miss M. Sexsmith.—Mrs. H. Stone has been spending a few days with her parents, Mr. H. Hainer.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller have returned from their honeymoon trip, after spending a few weeks in Toronto, Buffalo and Warsaw, and there was a reception held for them on the evening of the return, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. H. Hainer, at which there were about twenty friends and relatives present. The couple received a number of useful and pretty presents, which shows the high esteem in which they are held.

THE THUGS OF INDIA

WERE IN EXISTENCE SINCE MEDIAEVAL TIMES.

Organization Was Remarkable One, For In Caste-ridden India It Was Only Society Where Men of Different Religions and Castes Met on Terms of Equality—Only Name Survives.

Thug, a word of universal acceptance wherever English is spoken, came into the language from India in Victorian days, as is noted by W. G. Tinkom-Fernandez, in the New York Times. It was derived from the Hindu word, "thag," meaning a cheat, but came to have a more sinister significance from the practices of Hindus and Mohammedans who were proud to bear the name and who adopted as their goddess the bloodthirsty Kali, whose shrine at Kalighat gave its name to Calcutta. The Thugs were in existence since mediaeval times and the various princes seemed powerless to suppress them. It was not until Lord William Bentick, the Viceroy, appointed Col. Sleeman to devote himself to their extermination almost a century ago, that they were successfully grappled with. The success of Sleeman is one of the most noteworthy in police and military annals. The Thugs numbered perhaps hundreds of thousands when he went to work, and before he had finished thousands had been hanged or deported to the Andaman Islands and the others had retired from business. Those are criminals in India to-day, men who hold life cheap, but the old Religious order of Thugs has completely disappeared.

The organization was a remarkable one, for in caste-ridden India it was the only society where men of different religions and castes met on terms of equality. It was a real brotherhood. Its members probably thought that by offering human sacrifices to the goddess Kali they were establishing a credit account in Paradise, but their murders were not committed for this purpose. They were committed for material gain. There were no murders without robbery. Thugs could not be hired to commit murder, nor did they commit murders without religious ceremonies. Murder and robbery were not their sole occupations. When they were not engaged in these practices they were model citizens, tilling the land, honoring all laws and setting an example to their neighbors.

The craft of Thugs was hereditary, and had its secret ritual as well as a sort of slang which made it possible for Thugs speaking different languages to communicate with each other on matters deemed for the good of the order. There were seven degrees in the organization. Once initiated the young Thug became a scout bringing news of likely victims. After that he became a grave digger, for the Thugs always buried their victims, after mutilating them so that their identity might be concealed. The third grade was that of the shamsia, or men whose business it was to hold the hands and feet of the victims while they were being done to death. The graduate was the burkha, or strangler. Thugs had a particular way of killing their victims. They were forbidden the shedding of blood, in a literal sense, therefore there were no clubbings or stabbings. They operated with a noose. It was often a rope with iron balls at each end. This could be hurled at the victim, and the balls would wrap it round his throat so that he would be strangled in a minute. Oftener the murder would be consulted by a short lariat, or by a thin strip of loin cloth.

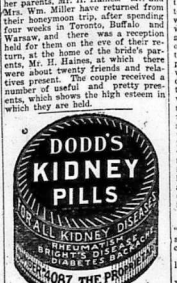
But Europeans were never attacked, because they were pistols, carried little money on journeys, and what is significant, their disappearance would arouse the Government. But the British became interested when Indian officers and soldiers on leave from their regiments failed to return. In 1831 a gang was caught red-handed, and proved the existence of Thugee. The viceroy began a campaign for their extermination, inviting the native states to co-operate. Many willingly responded, but their traditional attitude was illustrated, in 1834, when the Rajah of Jodhpore maintained his right to give them asylum. The viceroy explained the danger of providing Thugee with a base of operations against British territory, and soon barred his consent. In October, 1835, Thugs up to 1,562 were committed for trial, 382 hanged and 986 transported for life to the Andaman Islands. But it took many years to obliterate so large and hereditary a religious cult.

The old saying that there is honor among thieves might well have been suggested by the Thugs of India. In their dealings with each other they were scrupulously exact. The loot was shared evenly among all members of the gang, and even if a member had not been present at a murder his share would be set aside for him. It was not often that they murdered children. If any fell into their hands as the result of the extermination of a caravan, the boys would be adopted into the order while the girls would be sold as slaves in the large cities. Certain occupations were also immune from their attack. Religious beggars, priests, musicians, dancers, washerwomen, oil vendors, blacksmiths and others might roam at will, certain that they would not be attacked but were more likely to be rewarded if they came across Thugs. Carriers of water from the sacred Ganges were safe so long as they had the seals with them. If they were returning for a supply they would be strangled without compunction. It is on record that on one occasion a caravan of 500 people was put to death by a band of 1,000 Thugs. The extermination of this order constitutes one of the noblest British achievements in India.

"Susie," said the girl's mistress, "go and see if the cake's done. Stick a knife in it. It's done if the knife comes out clean."

Susie departed. Some minutes later she returned beaming.

"The knife come out as clean as a whistle," she said, "so I stuck the rest of the knives in it, and the forks and spoons, too."



MALAYA.

British System Aim at Self-Government—Ruled by Natives.

Malaya has governments framed to suit the different conditions of the different parts of the peninsula. The British system in such countries aims at developing self-government by the natives, with the assistance of and under the supervision of experienced British officials. The system works well, and those distant parts of the Empire, with population composed of many races, enjoy order and liberty such as was wholly unknown there a few generations ago.

The constitution of the Straits Settlements is at its head, a crown-appointed governor, who is assisted by an executive council or cabinet. There is also a Legislative Council, several of whose members represent boards of trade and other local bodies. The common law is that of England, modified by the colony's own legislation. The courts are administered by a bench of specially trained judges.

The Federated Malay States have their own government administered under the advice of a chief secretary, with resident representatives in each state, the whole subject to the instructions of the high commissioner, who is also Governor of the Straits Settlements.

The Non-Federated Malay States have native rulers, who rule subject to the instructions of a British official known as the general adviser.

In all these states the trade is almost entirely carried on with the Straits Settlement.

The climate of all Malaya may be generally described as uniform—hot and moist. In the Straits Settlements and Federated Malay States, before the annual rainfall amounts to about 95 inches.

In the Federated States there is no well-marked dry season, and in the low country the rainfall is about 95 inches.

There are heavy rainfalls compared with those recorded in Canada. Yarmouth, N.S., is considered to have a heavy rainfall, which is almost 42 inches; only about one-half that of the Non-Federated States. In Montreal the rainfall is 40.32 inches; in Toronto, 33.46 inches; in Winnipeg, 20.24 inches; and in Edmonton; 17.67.

Tin.

The importance of tin, even in the household, is apparent to anyone familiar with a kitchen, and the evidences of this importance were more numerous a few years ago, before utensils of enamel were common. The tin saucepan gave way to that of enamel—steel-plate covered with a hard enamel, a comparatively permanent stone-like coating.

However, the use of tin in the making of household utensils will never go out entirely, and for many other purposes tin will always be in great demand. For instance, it will always be in demand as a basis with other metals, to make bronze.

In fact tin was so used thousands of years before the dawn of history. The "tin" of the Bible is said to have been a copper alloy known as early as the year 1600 B.C. in Egypt. Our Mother Land soon comes into the history of this metal. It was well known that soon after the invasion of Britain by Julius Caesar, in 55 B.C. tin mined in Cornwall, England, was carried to Italy. Some state that the trade was being carried on before Cesar's time, and that negotiations before tin had been carried from the mines of Cornwall to countries on the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea.

The Latin writer and naturalist, Pliny, makes it appear that the Romans did not distinguish between lead and tin, each of which is a metallic chemical element. Tin they called "plumbum album," white lead, to distinguish it from "plumbum nigrum," black lead or lead proper. And, curious enough, one word for tin in the French language to-day is "fer-blanc," white iron.

Jill-of-All-Trades.

Peckham has a rival—a woman—by the man-of-all-trades, who is prepared to do anything about the house for a shilling an hour.

This Jill-of-all-trades has acted as Secretary to a society, socialist, commercial traveller, commercial artist, saleswoman, business manageress.

She's cowmaker, milliner, housekeeper, amateur gardener, sick nurse, upholsteress, cook.

Fancy cockwear maker, packer, whitewasher, paperhanger, painter.

Rough carpenter, wooden bucket maker, painting solderer, wall stencileer, gas engine regulator and cleaner, etc.

At present she owns and manages a manufacturing confectionery business.

A Very Good Reason.

I can't imagine why people will persist in prefixing the adjective "gloomy" to Dean Inge's name, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly.

At the close of a recent Sunday School talk the teacher asked the pupils if they had any question to ask, and immediately a small hand shot skyward.

"Please, sir," the little one wanted to know, "why was Adam never a baby?"

Teacher coughed, in doubt as to what answer to make to this unexpected query, but a little girl, the eldest of several brothers and sisters, came to his aid.

"Please, sir," she answered, "there was nobody to nurse him."

Too High.

A Scotchman entered a hotel and inquired what the rates were. He was told that the charge was $5 a day for rooms on the first floor, $4 for rooms on the second, $3 on the third, $2 on the top floor. The Scot, after a moment's reflection, started for the door, when the clerk asked him if he considered the charges too high. "No," replied Sandy, "it's the building that's too high enough."

If one be troubled with corns, he will find in Holloway's Corn Remover an application that will entirely relieve suffering.

They Had No Banks

IN pioneer days the general merchant often kept the money of his customers for them—there were no banks. Buying and selling were largely by barter only.

The coming of the branch bank filled an important need in every community, and to-day the wise farmer, business man or private individual keeps his money in the bank and makes full use of the many services it has to offer.

Things Are Pretty Quiet Has Nothing to Lament Over

He was an assistant chemist in a big laboratory—clever, and ambitious beyond measure. He wanted his help, there was a younger sister to be put through school and there were ambitions of his own linked up with whatever else he learned to love while at college.

Too long hours without proper rest; indifferent nourishment and especially the dust, the fumes and the fine particles of the mental matter, which settled in his lungs, gradually broke down his health. An attack of the 'flu did it. Finally he got so easily tired out and developed a little cough that some serious trouble was suspected.

Well, he returned out to be T.B., and now he is taking the cure at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. The doctors say he will get better but he cannot go back to his former duties. He smiles pluckily, and says he has no mental matter, but now plans will have to be made, but the hospital is giving him back his health, and that is the big thing.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon W. A. Charlton, 323 College Street Toronto.

A Fool Question.

The Napanee Express, in its last issue, tells of a wonderful egg brought into its office on Saturday last, which measured 9 inches by 6¾ inches, and weighed over four ounces. Our contemporary concludes with the question: "Who can beat it?" The answer is obvious. Why, any old woman could beat it if she had an egg-beater or even an old fork.

Motor 'Bus Upsets.

The slippery roads on New Year's Day played havoc with motor vehicle travel, several cars sliding off into the ditch on the highways adjacent to the town. While on a regular trip to Deseronto in the morning, Anderson's motor 'bus slid off the highway on the Deseronto road, near Mr. Enos Pringle's residence, and turned over on its side. Mr. Wm. Buchanan, the chauffeur, suffered a cracked rib or two and some bruises.

Installation of Officers.

Farm Labour.

Farmers requiring help for the Spring Season or year 1924, are requested to apply at once to H. A. Macdonell, Director of Colonization and Immigration, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario, or to the Agricultural Representative of the County in which they reside. Applicants should state whether they require experienced, partly experienced or inexperienced single men, or experienced married men with or without families, length of time services will be required and rate of wages. Applications will be filled as far as possible in the order in which they are received, preference given yearly engagements. By authority of The Honourable John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture. 1b

Enjoyable Entertainment.

An enjoyable time was spent on Friday evening, Dec. 21st, 1923, at Lapum's School No. 23, Ernestown, where a first-class programme was given by the pupils and young people of the section. The numbers included songs, duets, solos, dialogues, recitations, etc., which were much appreciated by a full house of attentive listeners. The worthy chairman, Mr. C. Davey, gave a short speech in which he referred to expos the correct training the pupils had received by their teacher, Miss Keiths M. Babcock, and the audience responded by a hearty hand clap, which shows the high esteem in which the teacher is held, and also the good feeling existing between pupils and teacher. After the treat by Santa, the teacher thanked the scholars and others for their beautiful gifts, which was a handsome piece of French ivory. The programme concluded with the National Anthem.

MARK GRAHAM FOR REEVE

To the Editor of The Beaver:

It has been the good fortune of the Electors of Napanee to have Ex-Mayor Graham offer his services to the town for the coming year as Reeve, and to say that we are fortunate in having one of our best municipal legislators come back to us at this critical period is putting it very mildly.

There will be questions come before the County Council this year that are of the utmost importance to the town and it will be of great value to us to have a man on that body who has proven his capability and foresight, such as Ex-Mayor Graham has. The electors will be doing themselves a good turn to rally around him and give him a decisive majority next Monday. He is thoroughly versed in municipal law and is gifted with that foresight and intelligence that is an asset to any board upon which he may be called to sit.

It is to be hoped that his majority will be such as will leave no doubt in his mind but that the electors want him at this particular time.

AN ECHO OF THE MAYOR'S SUPPER.

The following letter, which speaks for itself, was received by Mayor MacGregor from the Hamilton Advertisers' Agency, Limited:

Hamilton, Canada,
December 26th, 1923.

Mayor MacGregor,
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Sir:—

The writer was interested in going over the December 21st issue of The Napanee Beaver to read an account of the supper which you had recently given.

Part of the report in connection with this function reads as follows: "One of which was of vital interest to the business men of Napanee was the diverting of trade to larger centres through the advent of the automobile. To offset this, industries must be induced to locate here and a community spirit built up, the spirit of spending your money in your own town and not helping to build up some other place."

For some time I have been working on a plan whereby we could get the Government at Toronto to make a survey of the Province of Ontario, say all of the towns under ten thousand, and they would have here all the data which might be of interest to new industries, and then they would have an industrial commissioner for the towns the same as the cities have. It would be his duty to bring to the attention of prospective industries the favorable points of the smaller towns.

There is no doubt that we would be building for a better Canada if we were building up more small towns and small cities rather than building up larger cities. In addition to the benefit to the smaller places, we would be benefitting the farmer, because he would then be able to sell his produce more direct to the consumer. As it is now his produce has to go through the hands of three or four people, and sometimes more, before it reaches the ultimate consumer.

We would be glad to have your ideas in this connection.

Yours very truly,
RUSSELL T. KELLEY.

CHRISTMAS TREE AT DESERONTO.

The annual Christmas tree and entertainment for the Sunday School, in the basement of St. Mark's Church, Deseronto, was very successful. The programme began with the singing of that grand old hymn, "O Come All Ye Faithful", and a carol, "Carol Sweetly Carol", by the whole Sunday School, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Watson, on the piano. Then the Infant Class, lovingly and skilfully directed by Mrs. Harland, did excellent work in a drill, song and chorus. Mrs. Dale trained, in her usual efficient manner, three classes of the younger girls, who put on a very pretty "Star Drill", which was well received by the large audience. A good piano solo was given by Gladys Brown, and two good recitations by Blanche Smith and Olga Hall were much appreciated. The boys' Dumb Bell drill lead by Francis Harvey, was well executed and applauded. Mrs. Harold Watson accompanied the boys on the piano. Llewellyn Patsy Smith appeared on and disappeared from the platform amidst applause.

A dialogue, "Xmas Shopping", by five characters, was excellent and mirth producing. The "Piece de resistance" of the evening was a very good costume drill given by twelve girls, trained by Miss Flossie Hall, and accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Dale. They were roundly applauded and for an encore sang a song with a swinging chorus, Madge Dale taking the solo part. The audience thoroughly enjoyed this drill. The costumes were very artistic. Mrs. V. G. Pearce accompanied as part of this drill. Miss Flossie Hall and Mr. Gordon Hall gave some good numbers.

Mr. Harold Young, of the Standard Bank, captured the house with his interesting impersonations in three parts of an up-to-date Fashionable Young Lady at morning, noon and night, which brought the house down. During the evening Mrs. V. G. Pearce, not only accompanied but also gave a splendid piano selection of great merit most pleasing to the audience; and Mrs. Harold Watson, in her usually kind hearted and genial manner, which always makes her a favorite with her audience, played with her usual ability for the hymns and carols, and also rendered some very attractive instrumental pieces.

The Rector, the Rev. E. Radcliffe, tendered the heartiest thanks of all to the teachers, Mrs. Dale, Mrs. Harland, Miss Flossie Hall, and Mrs. Gaylord, and to all helping to make the evening the success it was. Then the programme was closed by the singing of "Holy Night" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" by the entire Sunday School. Mrs. Radcliffe arranged the bags of candy and oranges for all the children and a book was given to each child the following Sunday at Sunday School.

Thus passed off most pleasantly St. Mark's Xmas Tree, and every child had a most happy time.

WEDDING BELLS

Long—Thompson.

Princess Street Methodist Parsonage, Kingston, was the scene of a pretty event on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 22nd, when Charlotte (Lottie) Luella Thompson, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson, Odessa, became the bride of John Harvey Long, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Long, Albert St., Oshawa. Rev. John Curtis officiating. The pretty young bride looked charming in a navy blue tricotine suit with beaver collar, and navy blue plush hat with grey ostrich tip, grey suede shoes, stockings and gloves to match. Her only ornament was the gift of the groom, a gold lavaliere set with pearls. The bride's gift to the groom was a pair if gold cuff links, monogramed. The happy couple were attended by the bride's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Simmons, Wilton. The gifts received showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held, there being two substantial cheques among many other beautiful presents. After an extended honeymoon with friends and relatives, and the participation of a Christmas feast at the home of Archie Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Long left for their new home on Park Road South, Oshawa, where they will be pleased to see any of the bride's numerous friends after January 15th. Their friends and relatives wish them bon voyage through life.

ARDEN

Who said Arden was dead? She is not even froze up. The weather is very cold and stormy at time of writing. The roads are in an excellent condition for sleighing. — On Thursday evening, Jan. 3rd, a variety shower in honour of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shoultice, was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Greene. The evening was well spent in playing cards and dancing. They received many costly and useful presents. They intend residing in Deseronto, Mich., where the groom has secured a home in Peterson's. After spending some time the guests left Mrs. Adam Akey.—Mr. and Mrs. Claire Hayes were on Monday in Tichbourne.—Mr. F. E. Johnston has returned to Napanee to position as U. P. I. agent, after spending his holidays in Cleveland, Ohio, and Western points.—Mr. George Rubin, who is in the General Hospital, Kingston, after undergoing an operation for appendicitis, is doing as well as can be expected. We hope he will soon be able to return to his home here.

BETHEL

The high wind of Saturday piled the snow in banks, and the roads had to be shovelled and broken through. —Mr. and Mrs. Will Jackson attended the "Women's Institute meeting, which was held at G. Lamplin's, Moscow, on New Years Eve. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hamilton went to Harrowsmith on Monday evening to attend the Oddfellows' banquet.—Mrs. Bell, of Tamworth, is spending a few days with Mrs. J. W. Galbraith. — Patsy Alkenbrack, of Tweed, spent Saturday with her cousin, Laura Alkenbrack.—Mr. Percy Alkenbrack and family spent a few days with Mr. R. Orser and family, on Friday evening.—Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hamilton and family with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Simmons, one evening last week.—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis spent New Years with her parents, at Colebrook.—Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hamilton attended a concert at Centreville on New Years night. — Mr. G. Jackson left for Desoronto for a few days.—Mrs. Percy Alkenbrack and daughter spent the week end at Tweed, the guests of Miss Bessie Alkenbrack.—Miss H. Martin, is spending her holidays at home, has returned to her duties as teacher again.

MORVEN SOUTH.

Pressing and drawing hay has been the order of the day.—Xmas passed off very quietly, with not enough snow for sleighing.—We were all sorry to hear of Mr. Fred Burley's illness, and hope for a speedy recovery.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Storey and son and Mrs. Amos Storey and Marion motored up and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. John Jaynes. — Mr. and Mrs. John R. Purdy have returned, after spending the Christmas with the latter's parents.—Mr. Elwood Finnegan has moved from our midst.—Mr. and Mrs. Ross Simmon and Amos Storey, our local nimrods, have tried unsuccessfully to capture a fox but so far have been unsuccessful.—The scholars have had an extended holiday, owing to our teacher's illness.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walsh took tea at Mr. John Jemmison's, New Years eve.—Mrs. Joe Withers called on Mrs. Robinson one day this week.—Mr. Russell Craig took dinner at Peter Storey's, one day this week.—Election passed off very quietly.—Mr. and Mrs. Amos Storey at Mr. Earl Walmsley's, Sunday afternoon.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walsh with the latter's parents, at South Napanee, on Sunday.—Quite a number are suffering from severe colds, as the result of the changeable weather.

HOCKEY

Schedule of Games in Bay of Quinte Hockey League.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League was held in Napanee on Friday evening, those present being Dr. R. P. Millan, Kingston; R. F. Haskett, Point Anne; W. H. Roe, Napanee; Albert B. Root, Secretary-Treasurer. Belleville was unrepresented, but submitted open dates for their home games.

Earn, club filed with the Secretary their list of registered players and also deposited the entry fee.

The following schedule was then drafted for the first half of the series:—

Jan. 11—Napanee at Belleville.
12—Point Anne at Kingston.
15—Belleville at Point Anne.
18—Point Anne at Napanee.
18—Kingston at Belleville.
22—Point Anne at Belleville.
25—Napanee at Point Anne.
29—Belleville at Kingston.
30—Kingston at Point Anne.
30—Belleville at Napanee.
Feb. 1—Kingston at Napanee.
Otsers —Napanee at Kingston.

A meeting of the Executive will be held at Napanee, on Monday evening, Feb. 4th, immediately after the game between Kingston and Napanee, at which the second half of the schedule will be drafted. The schedule will be revised, that is Belleville will play their first game at Napanee, etc.

Kingston 6, Napanee 6.

The local hockey season was opened at the Arena on Tuesday evening, with an exhibition game between Granites, champions of Kingston City League, and the local team. A large crowd turned out to see the Napanee boys in action, as much speculation has been going the rounds as to how Manager Roe's outfit would combine themselves, due to the fact that Napanee has lost several of last year's players. The local sextette are mostly all home-brews, and considerable credit is due them for the steady performance, turned in on Tuesday evening. Finn and Babcock, alternating in goal, were up to expectations. Notwithstanding the fact that Kingston ran in three goals in succession on Babcock in the second period, this stellar goal-tender turned in a remarkable game, clearing several shots that looked good for counters. L. Spencer and Bentley, on the defence, worked well together, although this former's error in leaving Bentley alone in the third period was probably responsible for one of the Kingston goals. Bentley was in unusual form for a youngster, and will improve as the season progresses. Hoffman and Ivan Spencer, two of last year's team, showed their old-time opportunity and are getting into all the time. Staphin, a new man, while not fast, is a good stick-handler and put up a good game. L. Dunphy, H. Johnson and Martin were used as substitutes, and were always in the game. The locals were not in as good condition as the visitors, but due to accountable for by the fact that the late season prevented Mr. Blaite from getting a sheet of ice on which to train until last Friday night, and the boys have only had a couple of practices.

For the visitors, Smith and Bellringer were the outstanding figures, and Holman in goal put up a good game.

The game was well worth watching and the spectators went away well satisfied with the evening's performance.

The Kingston boys were anxious to return home on the 10.20 train, and for that reason the tie was not played off.

Mr. Geo. T. Walters referred the game in his usual satisfactory manner.

Following is the line-up :—

Kingston—Goal, Holman; defence, G. Smith, Dunlop; left wing, Mc-Laughlin; centre, Purdy; right wing, Bellringer; subs, Amodeo, Montgomery, Lawlor and Bruse.

Napanee at Belleville.

The opening game of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League will take place at Belleville this (Friday) evening, between 34th Battery, of Belleville, and Napanee. Manager Roe has his team in fine fettle and expects to get the big end of the score. Ray Gilmore, of Point Anne, will referee the game.

The second game of the series will take place at Kingston to-morrow night, when Point Anne meets the Young Irishmen. Geo. T. Walters, of Napanee, will handle this game.

Games Scheduled.

Tuesday, Jan. 15th.—Belleville at Point Anne.

Friday, Jan. 18th.—Point Anne at Napanee.

Friday, Jan. 18th.—Kingston at Belleville.

BATH

Mrs. Harry Mott, who has been ill is able to be out again.—School has re-opened with the same staff of teachers as before the holidays.—The concert put on by an Indian entertainer, in the Town Hall, on New Years night, under the auspices of the Methodist Sunday School, was not very well attended, owing to the bad roads.—The municipal elections were held on Monday, with the following results:—Reeve, M. H. Mellow; Councillors, J. A. Tompkins, Fred Hagerman, Fred Lloyd and Fred Thorigal; School Trustees, Dr. Northmore, Max Robinson and F. G. Young, all elected by acclamation.—Mrs. George Davy is spending a few days in Napanee with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Mellow.

NEWBURGH

For some unaccountable reason the report of municipal nomination day proceedings was not completed in last week's correspondence from Newburgh. Though perhaps a little late we will now supply the information lacking. Next year's Council all went in by acclamation. Two of the old Councillors withdrew, Messrs. Shorts and Shane, and their places were supplied by two new men, Messrs. Gerow and Walroth, and the Council for 1924 stands as follows:—Reeve, McNevly; Deputy Reeve, Milligan, Geo. B. Paul, Frank Gerow and John Walroth, Councillors. It is no exercise to occupy the place of Reeve and Councillors of a municipality, and we bespeak the sympathetic support of the citizens, reserving to ourselves the right to point out any delinquencies that become too apparent. The municipality starts the year in a much better condition than usually than last year.

We wish to draw the attention of the citizens of Newburgh to some facts with regard to the Public Library. The Library is useful and necessary if we wish to maintain our status as an intelligent community, but it does not exist on air. While the municipality gives it a small grant, this amount is but a percentage of what is required to run it; the balance has to come out of the pockets of those who benefit by it. There should be every man and woman who wants to do the best for themselves or their families. To refer ourselves or our families in the matter of good reading is poor economy. Those who do take out books should be willing to pay the necessary small fee, and return them promptly.

Miss Jean Ramsay goes this week to take a business course in Kingston.

Miss McGowen, of the Public School staff, who has been somewhat indisposed, has gone to her home in Toronto to recruit.

Teck Wilde, a student in the High School, son of Mr. William Wilde, near Selby, was taken to Kingston Hospital on Sunday to undergo an operation for appendicitis. We understand that he passed the operation successfully, and is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farley and children, of Kingston, spent the New Year with Mr. Farley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Farley.

Miss Annie May Sutton is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sutton.

Mr. David Lawson, an employee at the Lennox Paper Mill, who lives in Newburgh, was suddenly called to Cornwall to attend the funeral of his brother's wife, who was the victim in a drowning accident.

MORVEN

Mr. Silas Clark spent Sunday at Mr. Henwood's.—Mr. Fred Burley, who has been very ill with pneumonia is somewhat better at time of writing.—Miss Crozier and Miss Madeline Mills, after a brief illness, were able to resume their respective duties on Monday.—Mr. Morley Hartwell is taking a course in Napanee. We wish him every success.—Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Merrick and Miss Mary visited at Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Jackson's, recently.—The Misses Hoffman, of Wellington, spent a few days with her friend, Mrs. Burley.—Mrs. Reilo Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson visited Mr. and Mrs. Chad Knight, Napanee, on Sunday.—The League will be held in the Brick Church on Friday evening, in charge of Mrs. Sanders.—A practise for the concert will be held after the League meeting.

CAMDEN EAST

Sunday morning registered the coldest of the season, 12 below zero. We had a heavy fall of snow on Saturday night, followed by wind. Santa Claus Joe Amey started to go away on New Years day, but at Bickwell's Corners the hobble broke, and the horse took away, throwing them both out and breaking the cutter. Mrs. Amey was hurt quite badly, but is improving at time of writing.—Mrs. Henderson, who has been quite ill for several weeks, was no better at time of writing.—The Camden East paper mills shut down on Saturday for a few days, but opened again on Monday.—The G. N. R. has put an electric light at the station, which makes it very convenient for the travelling public.—Mr. Will Peters had the misfortune to cut his head quite badly while at work at the Lennox paper mills.—Mr. and Mrs. T. Lambert and little child, of Petworth, spent a day last week with his brother, Mr. John Lambert, and family.—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Saunderscook have returned to Collins Bay, after spending the Xmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Youmans.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Peters and nephew, Lorne, spent Sunday last with his parents, south of the village.—Mr. and Mrs. John Border and Mr. and Mrs. John Tipson spent Tuesday last in Napanee.

BETHANY

Winter has come at last, and for the last week it has made itself felt.—Monday was a busy day, it being Collin Bay.—Mr. and Mrs. Johnston have returned home from his visit at Picton.—The Ladies' Aid are holding a social evening at Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller's, on January 16th. Ladies are requested to bring either cake or sandwiches. Don't forget the date.—Mr. Walter Hicks has gone to Oshawa to spend the winter months.—Mrs. Joseph Clarke are visiting at their son's, Frank Clarke.—Miss Marion Miller is spending a week in Oshawa, visiting her uncle, Mr. Harry Miller.

THE ELECTION RETURNS

The municipal election on Monday brought out a larger vote than a year ago. The day was fine and clear, but the storm of Sunday put the roads in a bad condition and it was difficult for cars to get around.

Mark Graham polled a major vote for Reeve and defeated Fred. A. Perry by 160 votes. The new candidates for seats at the Council Board were all elected, with the exception of Mr. Cowling. Of the 1923 Council, Thos. Huffman polled the largest vote. The defeat of Councillor Tustin is to be regretted, as he was one of the hardest and most conscientious workers in the Council.

In Richmond, Paul defeated Tunmon by a small majority; North Fredericksburgh returned W. H. Milling, while South Fredericksburgh did the same for Jonas L. Smith; in Bath a very close election was won by M. H. Mellow, and in Ernesttown, W. C. T. Loyst came back by defeating Eugene Smith for Reeve, and Ross Peters was re-elected as Deputy Reeve.

Following are the returns :—

NAPANEE.

	West Ward No. 1	West Ward No. 2	Centre Ward No. 1	Centre Ward No. 2	East Ward	Total
For Reeve,—
Mark Graham	83	101	95	108	76	463
Fred. A. Perry	48	71	48	65	71	303
Majority for Graham						160
For Councillors,—
J. M. Shapson	65	96	116	111	90	478
W. J. Jewell	74	94	88	101	85	440
Thos. H. Huffman	56	80	71	93	86	386
H. H. Dunbar	39	74	70	93	76	352
George Paul	56	70	59	87	70	342
M. O. Burgess	39	66	63	92	62	322
Geo. A. Tustin	61	59	61	73	51	305
Victor Cowling	82	67	45	52	34	280

The first four Councillors are elected.

While the returns were being tabulated Mayor MacGregor briefly thanked the electorate for the honor conferred upon him by returning him by acclamation to the Mayor's chair for a second term.

Reeve-elect Graham was very grateful to all those who worked so faithfully for his election, and he would do his very best during the coming year to look after the interests of the town and county.

Mr. Perry was disappointed that Reeve-elect Graham had not announced his candidature earlier. He said they switched horses on him in the middle of the stream and he lost his footing. However, he was glad that Mr. Graham was elected, as he is a very capable man and would make a splendid representative.

Councillor Simpson said this was the proudest moment of his life, as he was tickled to death to have headed the poll. He would do his best to further the interests of the town during the coming year.

Councillor Jewell thanked the electors for the honor conferred upon him and promised to use his best judgment in dealing with the town's affairs during the coming year.

Councillor Huffman was very pleased at the large vote given him and would endeavour to serve the best interests of the town during 1924 as he had last year.

Councillor Dunbar said this was a new experience for him and hoped he would merit the confidence reposed in him. He thanked the electors for their support.

Councillor Paul was glad he was re-elected. We should have our minutes printed in book form and then the electors could take a copy home and read it over and thus see what each member of the Council has accomplished during the year. He appreciated the vote given him and would endeavour to serve the town to the best of his ability.

Councillor Burgess was very pleased to have been re-elected, and thanked all for their support. What made his election all the more pleasing to himself was the fact that he was practically a newcomer in Napanee and he could not personally be known in all parts of the town. He was in favor of having the minutes of the Council printed in book form.

Mr. Tustin was not surprised that he was defeated, but wished to thank all who voted for him and those who assisted him during the election.

NEW TRAFFIC LAW EFFECTIVE WITH NEW YEAR

Motorists Should Know Requirements of New Act.

On December 31st, 1923, the new Highway Traffic Act came into force throughout Ontario. For some years the traffic laws of the Province have been covered by three separate Acts. The Motor Vehicles Act dealt with the view of public safety vehicles in general; the Load of Vehicles Act contained provisions governing the weight, speed, size of loads in all vehicles, including motor trucks; and the Highway Travel Act set forth the rules of the road as effecting both motor and horse-drawn vehicles. These Acts have been amended frequently since their inception, with the result that they were difficult to understand and were, owing to the rapid advance in the use of motor vehicles, not as up to date as they might be.

During the summer and autumn of 1922, a special committee of the legislature held public sittings at various points in the Province and received the opinions of motorists, truck owners, manufacturers and police officials. As a result of the information secured, and the ideas received, it was decided to consolidate all traffic laws in one Act to be known as the Highway Traffic Act. This was presented to the legislature and passed during the 1923 session of the legislature and it would appear from a perusal of its requirements that it leaves little to be desired. It is extremely easy to understand. Separate sections deal with the various divisions of traffic laws such as speed, equipment, garage licenses, chauffeurs' licenses, weight and load, rules of the road; responsibility for accidents, traction engines, etc. Another important feature is the stating of the penalties for violations of the requirements of the Act, immediately following the description of these requirements.

A few of the more important points are briefly summarized as follows:—

The speed limits are the same as before viz., 25 miles an hour in the built-up country and 20 miles in cities, towns, and villages, with limits of 10 and 12½ miles an hour in corporations and in the country respectively, past schools where the view is obscured.

Notwithstanding the speed limits stated above, anyone who drives a motor vehicle recklessly or negligently or in a manner dangerous to the public is liable to a maximum penalty of $200, shall be liable to imprisonment up to 60 days, and may have the permit for the car cancelled for a period not greater than six months. Where a speed greater than 40 miles an hour is made the offender is subject to the same penalties and magistrates have no option other than to treat it as reckless driving.

Tail lamps shall be of at least four candle power and are required to properly illuminate the number plates.

When cars are standing on the road, one light carried on the left side will be allowed if it is clearly visible for a distance of two hundred feet from the front and rear and shows white in front and red to the rear.

Brakes are subject to inspection by police officials, and if not in good order the police may order the driver to have them properly adjusted.

No dangerous glass are allowed on wheels, which may in any way injure the road.

Cars must not be bought, sold or wrecked if the manufacturers' serial number is defaced or removed.

No vehicles which with their loads weigh more than ten tons can use the roads without special permits, and such permits may be granted by the authorities having control of the roads such as villages, towns, cities, townships, counties and the Department of Highways.

Up to December 31st, 1925, motor trucks which with their loads exceed ten tons in weight, and which were previously registered in Ontario may receive special permits to carry a maximum load of five tons.

After January 1st, 1926, motor trucks with their loads must not weigh more than eight tons.

All vehicles with tires less then 6 inches in width must not have a greater load on any wheel than will exert a pressure of 500 pounds for each inch in width. Thus 3-inch tires may carry a total weight greater than 2,000 pounds. For tires over 6 inches in width the maximum weight per inch in width is 600 pounds, consequently an 8-inch tire may carry 4,800 pounds.

Broken or defaced tires will not be permitted and all solid tires must have 1½ inches of rubber between the tire and the road.

During the months of March and April, motor trucks rated at more than one ton must not carry more than half the rated load outside of cities and towns separated from the counties for municipal purposes. During the same period all other vehicles are restricted to a wheel load of 250 pounds for each inch of tire width, without special permit.

Motor trucks must not carry a load greater than that for which they are registered.

All vehicles while carrying loads, extending over the rear for more than five feet, must carry a red flag by day and a red light at night attached to the rear of the load.

Bicycles are required to carry red lamps or reflectors at the rear.

Spotlights will be permitted, provided they are stationary and are attached to the Vincent Turcotte, James Mack, Daly Baldwin.

Probably the most outstanding change in the Act is that providing for the recording of convictions on the permit issued for motor vehicles and for the cancellation of the permits on three convictions for certain offenses. Permit cards will have space provided on them for the recording of convictions and motorists who are summonsed will be required to present these in court in order that the magistrates may endorse them. The amount of the fines, and the cancellation of permits in many cases, depend on the number of convictions and the above procedure is necessary in order the magistrates may know how many previous convictions have been made. At the same time magistrates report all convictions to the Minister of Highways who may at any time for misconduct or for violations of the provisions of the Act or any regulations thereunder suspend or cancel any permit or license.

A new provision in the Act that motorists will appreciate is the limit of ten days required for the serving of summonses. In the past unnecessary time has elapsed between the offence and the serving of the summonses. The limit of ten days may however be extended by magistrates in cases where it is evident that offenders could not be served or were intentionally avoiding service of summonses.

A limitation has also been placed on the time during which civil action for recovery of damages occasioned by motor vehicles may be taken. In the past action could be brought at any time, long after details of the alleged injury were forgotten and long after witnesses could be retained. The new Act provides that no action shall be brought after six months following the damage.

All garages must obtain licenses from the Department of Highways, and must keep a record, and must report to the Department all motor vehicles bought, sold, or wrecked by them, within six days. They are also required to report all cars or trucks which remain on their premises for more than two weeks without good reason.

While the above is a brief outline of the general features of the Act, it is the duty of owners or drivers of vehicles to study the requirements of the Act and become familiar with them.

All licenses and permits are issued by the Department of Public Highways, in which the administration of the Act is vested. Permits and markers can be obtained direct from the Department at Toronto or from the local agents of the Department of which there is at least one in each County of the Province. Chauffeurs' licenses and garage licenses can be secured only from the Department at Toronto.

The new Act has been published in a convenient booklet form and will be available on application to the Ontario Department of Public Highways, Motor Vehicles Branch, Highway Administration Building. University Avenue, Toronto.

OBITUARY

John W. Maines.

John W.Maines was born in Tweed, Ontario, Canada, on February 20th, 1837, and died at the home of his daughter in Kirkland, Wash., December 5th, 1923, aged 86 years, 9 months and 15 days. He was married to Esther Rose on January 13th, 1863, and survived her just three months, she having passed away Sept. 4th.

They enjoyed over sixty years of wedded life, and five children were born to them, only two of whom survive: E. L. Maines, of Grandview, and Mrs. M. T. Barbin, of Kirkland.

He was one of a family of eleven children, and was the last surviving member of his family. Most of his life was spent in Napanee, Ont., and Wellington, until in 1905 he came to Sunnyside, and they lived there until two years ago, when failing health of the both of them made it necessary that they give up their own home, and they went to live with their daughter, paying an annual visit to their son, where Mrs. Maines died during the last visit.

Mr. Maines had just returned to Kirkland, and was there only two days when he was stricken and died three days later.

The funeral was held in Sunnyside, and he was laid to rest in the cemetery there beside his wife. He was a member of the Methodist Church for many years.—The Grandview Herald, Grandview, Wash.

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many suffer from them. Spare them suffering by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, an excellent remedy.

ORIGINAL "UNCLE TOM."

Colored People Escaped to Western Ontario.

Probably few remember that the original "Uncle Tom" in Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" lived in this Province, in Western Ontario, near Chatham. The same general locality played a great part in the history of that important, through the presence in Chatham for a time of John Brown, who there hatched the plot for Harper's Ferry on October 16, 1859, and, being afterwards executed was the subject of the well-known song "Well Hang John Brown on a Sour Apple Tree." The movement of colored people to the western peninsula to escape from slavery was heavy for some years, and descendants of many of them still form no small part of the population in some settlements.

The case of Uncle Tom is recalled by H. F. Gardiner, in the Halifax Herald, where he says:

Reading over what I had written last week about the colored people brought to my mind a very pleasant interview I had with Rev. Josiah Henson, who called to see me at the Times office, about forty years ago, when I was visiting in Hamilton. He was the original of Uncle Tom, in Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous novel. In the old days of slavery and the underground railway, Mr. Henson found his way to Kent county, in Upper Canada, and settled near Dresden. There he was visited by Mrs. Stowe, who openly announced that Mr. Henson was the hero of her story, and that Rev. William King, of the Buxton settlement, was the original of Clayton in "Dred." Rev. Mr. Henson twice visited England and was received by the Earl of Shaftesbury and other distinguished philanthropists as the hero of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and was presented by them with a beautiful gold watch. He was presented to Queen Victoria, who gave him her autographed photograph. Hon. Archibald McKellar, who was in his later years sheriff of Wentworth county, was a particular friend of Mr. Henson when they both lived in Kent. Mr. Henson had charge of an educational institution established by the Government of Canada for the training of the colored man. Mr. Scoble, who represented West Elgin in Parliament before Confederation, had been a co-worker with Wilberforce and Buxton in the emancipation movement in England, and Mr. Henson's guest introduced to Mr. Henson's work in Canada.

Ontario's Production of Gold.

Ontario gold production is breaking all records. The mines are turning out yellow metal at the rate of more than two millions dollars a month.

The Government report furnishes the first real opportunity presented in over a year to correctly gauge the activities of the various mines. Previous reports were so badly broken up by power shortages that they afforded no chance to arrive at conclusions as to what capacities the various mines are capable of attaining.

The latest report, when the returns for the first six months are deducted from it, shows the following:

McIntyre Tek now shipshaped Dome as the highest grade mine in Porcupine, it having recovered $14.24 per ton from the treatment of 44,000 tons monthly.

Hollinger in the third quarter produced a million dollars a month from 43,07-ore.

Dome treated 1,550-1,600 tons daily of almost $11 rock.

Teck-Hughes continued its high average recovery.

The average content of Ontario's gold ore was $9.55, against $9.17 throughout last year.

British Columbia.

The total area of British Columbia is 352,500 square miles, of which 144,500 is absolute forest land. 29,700 square miles agricultural land, and 168,000 square miles of unproductive areas. It has been estimated that the total stand of timber in British Columbia is 250 billion feet, two-thirds of which is periodically contained on the main land coast and Vancouver Island.

The full importance of the lumber industry in British Columbia can hardly be over-emphasized, but one particular point will naturally appeal to all who pay taxes, directly and indirectly:—the direct revenue from the forest to the Government of British Columbia last year was $3,526,865. The value of the forest products during the twelve months ending Dec. 21, 1922, was $50,000,000, which total includes the value of the lumber, logs, poles, piles, shingles, boxes, piles, poles, cord wood, fence posts, railway and mine ties, etc. For those who speak very fully for themselves, and the value of such an industry to any province must be of primary importance.

Manitoba's New Cabinet Minister.

The Hon. Albert Prefontaine, who has been appointed Provincial Secretary in the Manitoba Cabinet, in succession to the Hon. D. G. Mcleod, is another French-Canadian, from the Province of Quebec, who emigrated to west and "made good."

He was born at Upton, Que., on October 11, 1861, the son of Ferman Prefontaine and Mathilde Desautels, his wife, and received his education at Greenfield, Mass. He was married, on February 12, 1888, to Albina L'Heureux, but she died on August 24, 1908, leaving eight children.

Mr. Prefontaine went to Manitoba some years ago and became a farmer and contractor. Later he became president of the St. Boniface Trading Company, which operated a general store. He was mayor of the Municipality of De Salaberry for four years, from 1904 to 1909.

Entering politics, he was first returned to the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba for Carillon at the general election in 1912.

"You think Crimson Gulch has a great future?"

"Yep," answered Cactus Joe. "All the boys want to get rid of the feminine element. It's takin' time, tho', and some rough work, owin' to the differences of opinion as to who he is."

GEN. BURGOYNE'S QUALITIES.

A Man of Deserved Reputation and Engaging Personality.

Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga has always been a saddening incident in history for British readers. It was a turning-point in the American Revolution, and left an impression of bad management or stupidity. The interpretation of Burgoyne as presented in Shaw's play, "The Devil's Disciple," revived interest in that figure, and to most people doubtless led to a reconsideration of the personality of the man. Bernard Shaw makes him a bright, witty, magnetic soldier, with a turn for poetry quip which keeps him ever the centre of interest when he is on stage.

This picture of Burgoyne is largely confirmed by reference to history, as for instance, the description by A. G. Bradley in his Life of Lord Dorchester in the "Makers of Canada" series. Burgoyne was a man of good birth. His father, the second son of Sir John Burgoyne, was a dashing army captain, but after going through his own and his wife's money, died in the King's Bench. Young Burgoyne went from Westminster School into the cavalry regiment, and by versatile talents, aided by good looks and winning manner, he rose rapidly but in military and social life. He took part in the brilliant capture of Gibraltar and was elected to the House of Commons in 1761, receiving the thanks of the House for his services as a runaway love match with a daughter of the house of Lord Derby (Lucy Stanley). Though with some weakness or bombast, he was an able speaker and a formidable opponent of Mr. Henson twice visited England and was received by the Earl of Shaftesbury and other distinguished philanthropists as the hero of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and was presented by them with a beautiful gold watch. He was presented to Queen Victoria, who gave him her autographed photograph. Hon. Archibald McKellar, who was in his later years sheriff of Wentworth county, was a particular friend of Mr. Henson when they both lived in Kent. NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

"RED" RYAN IS LODGED IN TORONTO JAIL

Young Desperado Brought Back in Shackles From Minneapolis.

Norman "Red" Ryan, bank robber and jail-breaker, arrived in Toronto from Minneapolis at 8.20 Sunday morning, in charge of Dominion Inspector Duncan, Warden Tucker, of Kingston Penitentiary, and Detectives Meehan and Marran, of the Minneapolis Police Department. Ryan, who shackled hand and foot, and manacled to the two detectives. After he had been questioned by Inspector of Detectives Guthrie at detective headquarters, Ryan was driven to the City Jail, and there placed in the care of Governor Basher until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when he appeared in the City Police Court, on a charge of committing robbery under arms, namely, the holding up and robbing of the Oakwood branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Ryan will be under the supervision of special guards.

Ryan and his guards left Minneapolis last Friday night, and came by C. P. R. by way of the Soo. Inspector of Detectives Guthrie and headquarters men boarded the train at West Toronto Station, and accompanied Duncan and his aides to the city. From the Union Station Ryan was hustled in a police car to headquarters. According to Inspector Guthrie, Ryan refused to respond to questioning, and would neither deny nor admit his participation in the Oakwood robbery.

The staff of the bank which was robbed will testify against Ryan when he is arraigned. The police already have the testimony of these witnesses on file, the evidence having been taken when extradition proceedings were commenced recently. Detective Meehan, one of the men to whom Ryan was chained, was the officer who shot Ryan in the shoulder at the time of the desperado's arrest outside the Postoffice in Minneapolis last December.

THE DANCE CURE

The number of dancing classes opened in Great Britain this year is much larger than a year ago. Hundreds of thousands of children are going in for dancing. They are as keen about it as their elders.

Parents are beginning to recognize that dancing—the right sort of dancing—is better than doctors' medicine. In fact doctors are prescribing it.

Good for Their Health.

Numbers of dancing teachers have what might be described as a "patients' list"—their pupils including children suffering from weak ankles, flat feet, anaemia, round shoulders, weak chest, etc., who have been sent to them by doctors.

A mother who followed the doctor's instructions in this respect has already found her little girl's ankles are getting stronger, while the child herself appreciates the company of other children, and loves her dancing lessons better than anything in the world."

Taught correctly to exercise the right muscles, a child gains grace and a correct carriage from her lessons, and incidentally benefits in health.

"Moreover, dancing is becoming more and more a recognized educational subject. Morris dancing is now taught in most elementary schools. Also practically every high school has on the staff a fully-qualified dancing mistress, and the girls learn technical as well as ballroom dancing.

The Standard to be Raised.

An interesting scheme to put dancing on the same educational level as music and singing is expected to come into operation in the spring. It is to provide examination centres where teachers can enter their pupils for examination in various grades of dancing. Thus the amateur child dancer will be able to gain certificates as well as the child who is taking up dancing as a profession. The scheme which has been formulated by leading teachers of dancing, together with the Operatic Association of Great Britain, is intended to raise the standard of dancing generally, and to make it more uniform.—Daily News, London, England.

MILDEST DECEMBER IN THIRTY-TWO YEARS

December, 1923, was the mildest in 32 years, equalling the mildest December on record in the annals of McGill University Observatory. The last month of 1923 ran 10.3 degrees above normal and with June, September, October and November, completed the "warm" months of the year.

The seven other months were colder than the average, according to the record, and those who recall last summer will readily appreciate the fact. Variations below normal in these cases were as follows: January, 1.6; February, 5.1; March, 6.3; April, 2.5; May, 1.8; July, 2.5; August, 1.6. The latter year was below normal throughout, the average mean reading for the twelve months being 41.79 as compared with an average of 41.23 extending over the past 49 years.

STELLA

The Christmas holidays have been enjoyed by old and young—among the many teachers who are spending a vacation at their homes here, are:—Misses Annie, Rose and Edna Glenn, Edna Fleming, Marjorie McGinness, R. McCormac and A. McDonald.—Miss N. Burleigh, A. Neilson and A. Scott, of Queen's; Misses G. Wemp and M. McCormac, of Kingston Business College, and Miss Ruth Marshall, R.N., spent the holidays here. Miss Arline Miller is much improved since her operation in K. G. H.—Mrs. Farwell is under the care of Dr. Northmore.—Miss Ada Pringle, of Toronto, and her brother, Archie, of Kingston, are home for the holidays.—Misses S. Instant, N. McDonald, E. Scott and Clarence Hopkinson are home from Peterboro', where they attend Normal School.—The annual C. O. F. tea on New Years Eve was the usual success it always has been.

"I thought the modern styles in women's clothes were ridiculous."

"But you've changed your opinion?"

"Yes, I've just been looking over some photographs of fashion queens taken fifty years ago."

SMILING COURTESY.

Something of Which There Is by No Means Enough In the World.

After war is abolished the great reform next in order will be that of instituting that of universal courtesy. This reform may be said to be on its feet, even at the present time, but it is wobbly legged and needs a great deal of encouragement.

We have some very courteous individuals in our midst, most of whom were born that way and who insist on staying that way despite all temptations to the contrary, but we have some who are almost hopeless.

Courtesy is just another name for unselfishness. The greedy, self-centered individual is never courteous, no matter what kind of manners he displays in public. Courtesy does not reveal itself for effect. It is not calculating. It acts out of the promptings of consideration for the just claims and rights of others, and in smaller matters at least it is even willing to make sacrifices. It is the sense of service revealed in action.

When you give your neighbor a smile instead of a frown you do him a real service, for you cause him to smile and be happy. It is courteous, therefore, to smile.

When you smother the needless word of criticism you save some one a pang. It is courteous, therefore, to control your tongue.

It doesn't matter very much at just what angle you tip your hat to a lady, although it is commendable to regard such points. The important thing is to look as though you were glad of the opportunity to tip it. That is the real courtesy.

If the world would start out to-day to follow two rules—smile and avoid mean gossip—it would be almost civilized at the end of a year.

The First Laugh Was the Last.

A personable young man with little baggage but a winning smile engaged two rooms and bath at one of the finest hotels in a western city. He spun a twenty dollar gold piece across the desk and said, "I'll stay that much anyhow, and when that's used up let me know." The room clerk smiled and turned the gold over to the cashier to be credited to the man's account. He fared sumptuously every day.

A bill for $98 was presented to the young man a week later. He frowned and handed it to the room clerk. "This is all wrong," he said. "You remember I paid you $20 in advance and said I'd take that much of your hospitality?"

"Yes, but that was only a joke," the clerk protested.

"I wasn't joking, and you can't get another cent out of me," said the personable young man. They sent for the proprietor, Colonel Sarbett. He listened to the facts, glowered awhile, then broke into a genial grin and exclaimed, "I'll give you your money back and a receipt in full if you'll come over and play this trick on the —— House."

"Sorry, colonel," answered the young man, "but Mr. Blank of the —— House gave me a week's board to come over and play it here."

German Lance Heavy.

"Among the most interesting of the war trophies that have found their way over here," says the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian, "are some specimens of the German lance. It is not a wooden pole, but an eleven or twelve-foot steel tube. It is very heavy, and at first seems quite unmanageable to a man of ordinary strength. But two-thirds of the way down from the head towards the butt is a wrapping of thick wire to give a grip. And if you hold it there, and there only, you find that it is an evenly poised thing, as one admiring observer remarked, you could write your name with it.

"There have been some descriptions of cases where these tubular lances have crumpled up in battle like an overburdened steel toast on a racing yacht. Perhaps that may be accounted for by the peculiar shape of the head. There is no point or spear of any kind. Instead, there is a solid piece of iron shaped exactly like the end of a giant poker, square and quite blunt."

Her Memory All Right.

Mrs. Geddes had a new maid, and she found it necessary to repeat her instructions several times before Nora obeyed them. The mistress had told her repeatedly about the finger bowls, and one day when there were guests they were again forgotten.

"Now, Nora," said Mrs. Geddes, extremely exercised over the omission, "this is the sixth time I've had to tell you about the finger bowls. Didn't the woman you last worked for have them on the table?"

"No, mum," replied Nora; "her friends always washed their hands before they cum."

Mean.

Mr. Scribe is a great rusher after compliments. Having given by request a reading from his own works to some ladies, he said afterward to one of them:

"I was very cruel of you, I think, to make me stand up there and read my own stuff."

"Ah," replied the young woman, "but you had your revenge, Mr. Scribe. You must have seen that we were compelled to listen."

Baked Apple Sauce.

Pare, core and quarter tart apples. Place in layers in a gallon stone jar, sprinkling each layer with sugar, using about two cups of sugar in all. Cover and bake in a very slow oven for several hours. It will be better if baked all day. When thoroughly cooked it will be rich red in color. This may be canned while hot.

Try Another Note.

Shop forewoman (to great musician, practising on the French horn) —"The factory managers over the way send their compliments, and will you switch off on to another note, 'cos a lot of the hands have finished it for the dinner hour."

Employer—Aren't you the boy who applied for this position a fortnight ago?

Boy—Yes, sir.

Employer—And didn't I say I wanted an older boy?

Boy—Yes, sir; that's why I'm here now.

For good bread—use a good flour

To get uniformly good bread, you must use uniformly good flour. To get the best bread always, you must use Quaker Flour.

Good results are assured every time with Quaker Flour. It is milled only from the finest Manitoba Hard Wheat. It is rigidly tested once every hour during the milling process. Samples of each day's product are baked by our own expert bakers at the mill to ensure that every sack measures up to the Quaker standard.

Use a sack of Quaker Flour. If it does not prove absolutely satisfactory to you for every baking purpose, your dealer will refund your money without question.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers

Hemford, N. S.—"I am the mother of four children and I was so weak after my last baby came that I could not do my work and suffered for months until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Since taking the Vegetable Compound my weakness has left me and the pain in my back has gone. I tell all my friends who are troubled with female weakness to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I think it is the best medicine ever sold. You may advertise my letter."—Mrs. GEORGE A. CROUSE, Hemford, N. S.

My First Child

Glen Allen, Alabama.—"I have been greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bearing-down feelings and pains. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet. A neighbor recommended the Compound from reports to me and I had taken doctor's medicines without much benefit. It has relieved my pains and given me strength. I recommend it and give you permission to use my testimonial letter."—Mrs. IDA BYRD, Glen Allen, Alabama.

HE WAS A MacINTOSH

A Scot whose name was MacIntosh, and who was proud of the fact that he was directly descended from the chief of the clan, was having a dispute over the fare he owed a taxi driver.

The man with the metre talked loud and harshly, and it angered the Highlander.

"Do you know who I am?" he demanded, proudly drawing himself up to his full height. "I'm a MacIntosh."

The taxi driver snorted.

"I don't care if you're an umbrella," he said, "I'll have my rights."

ONE ON HIM

The steamer was only a few feet from the quay when there was a sudden commotion and a man came running madly from the dock gates, shouting to the officials to wait a moment. Without pausing in his stride, he flung his bag on to the boat, took a desperate leap and landed on the deck with a crash. "Good!" he gasped, as he was assisted to his feet. "Just did it. A few seconds later and I should have missed it."

"Missed it!" exclaimed one of the passengers. "This boat is just coming in."

Distressed Father—Of what does this footing debt you speak of consist?

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Harvey Bradshaw, who died January 9th, 1919.

Surrounded by friends, I am lonesome
In the midst of my joys, I am blue;
A smile on my face, but a heartache,
Longing, dear mother, for you.
And when you would sit down and teach me,
To be honest, truthful and fair,
But down in my heart, dear mother,
Your memory and words shall bind
So that I shall never forget you,
Dear, sweet mother of mine.

We hope to see all the members out, and visitors are welcome.

Address and Presentation

The members of the Helping Hand Bible Class, Grace Methodist Church, met in the Church Parlors, Thursday night and presented one of their teachers, Mrs. Robt. Denison, who is soon to move away, with a beautiful linen tablecloth. The presentation was made by Mrs. J. G. Olmsted and the following address was read by Mr. E. J. VanAlstyne:

Napanee, Dec. 27th, 1923.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Denison,

Dear Classmates,—Having learned with regret of your departure from our midst, which will necessarily remove you from the meetings of those pleasant fellowships and associations of our Bible Class, and from the Helping Hand Bible Class, we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing to you our deep regret over the circumstances that will sever those relations. We will deeply miss you because of your activities in the class. Those activities have gone a long way in making the class the success it is to-day. Any task which has been given you has always been performed with a cheerfulness of manner which has been an object lesson to us all. We have nothing but good wishes to extend to you and hope that health, happiness and prosperity may follow you to your new place of residence.

Kindly accept this little token in the spirit in which it is given, and may it always be a pleasant remembrance of the different members of this class who present it to you.

Signed on behalf of the Class,

CAMPBELL SILLS, Pres.
E. J. VANALSTYNE, Secy.

After the reading of the address, light refreshments were served.

ENTERPRISE

We are having very fine winter weather. The blizzard last Sunday put the cars out of commission, but the snow is gone on the East and West roads, but the North and South roads are badly filled up.—On Wednesday, January 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jackson celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedding. Big Winter Sale

OF CERTAIN LINES OF

Men's and Boys' Overcoats

Mackinaws, Suits, Sweater Coats, Underwear, Hosiery

The reductions made in the following lines are not given because the merchandise is inferior in any way. It's all up to standard. It's simply a case of reducing stock and selling out discontinued lines or single garments. Many of these Suits and Overcoats will "fit" you, but they "don't fit" our stock. Hence the big reductions.

Miller's Worm Powders prove their value. They do not cause any violent disturbances in the stomach, any pain or griping, but do their work quietly and painlessly, so that the destruction of the worms is imperceptible. Yet they are thorough, and from the first dose there is improvement in the condition of the sufferer and a cessation of manifestations of internal trouble.

YARKER

The ice, which made traffic so dangerous last week, is now covered with about a foot of snow, and the citizens are moving about with safety.—We are sorry to report the serious illness of our kind friend and neighbour, Mr. W. J. Warner, who is suffering with weakness of the heart.—Our kind-hearted and popular friend, Mr. A. Brown, is also confined to the house with a similar trouble.—We are pleased to report a marked improvement in the state of Mrs. N. V. Lake's health.—Mr. Brock Leonard has returned from Brockville, where he spent the week end with old friends.—Mrs. H. Bongard has also returned from Port Hope, where she spent the holidays with her parents.—We also notice the smiling faces of our popular school teachers, who have resumed their duties for the new year.—Mr. G. Warner has gone to North Bay, where he has been appointed yard master on the C. N. R. Mrs. Warner will follow him shortly and settle in their new home. We wish them all kinds of success.—Rev. J. W. Down went to Pickering recently, and brought their daughter, Miss Florence, home, on account of a serious accident which resulted in a broken arm. She will be off duty as teller in the Standard Bank of Canada, for at least six weeks.—Mr. and Mrs. Ferrier, of The Bank of Montreal, have returned from their holidays.—Miss Pansy Curl had a narrow escape the other day, when her father's pony, Clear Grit, which she was driving, took fright and upset the rig, throwing her out on the hard pavement.—We notice the absence of Mrs. Dunn, who is in the hospital at Kingston, on account of nervous breakdown.—The new high power Colman lamp at the bank corner is a big improvement to the streets on a dark night. Why not hang out a few more?—Sunday night was the big storm of the season, and kept most people from church.—We hear on the street that the members of the I. C. O. F. are going to hold a big banquet soon. Hope they will bid your scribe.

Mother Had to be Parted From Baby Boy

Little Jack is in a distant city. His mother is many miles away, and true to the old saying "Distance makes the heart grow fonder," Jackie's mother longs and longs for the return of her little one. Now if it were only a case of miles and dollars she might somehow or other come home occasionally, but it's more than that. She has consumption.

When she thinks of the once happy triangle—mother, father and child—it is mighty hard to keep from tears. She won't let Daddy bring Jack down to see her, despite the tug at the heart strings. "No," she says, "Jackie must not come, he might get consumption, too." Jack lives with his grandmother. Daddy works in a machine shop, and neither is fully observing doctor and nurses' orders at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. She hopes to be home for Christmas—healthy and happy.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 222 College Street, Toronto.

YOUNG SOLDIER BEATS THE STOCK EXCHANGE

To make $800,000 in the course of a few months' dealings on the Stock Exchange may be unusual if by no means unprecedented, but the case of Lieut. Osborne Cooper Wood, son of Gen. Leonard Wood, Governor General of the Philippine Islands, is unique. He made the money in New York operating by cable from Manila, and not in any business concerned with the Philippines of which he might be presumed to have superior knowledge. The successful young soldier is also rather a new figure. Lieut. Wood's position something like a scandal has been created and some newspapers are demanding that an investigation shall be held. It is understood that the War Department objects to Lieut. Wood's adventures and that his father would be him dessist. The list of successful speculators in Wall Street is plentiful dotted with names of young men. They may not have the wisdom of their elders, but often they have the nerve, and if luck is added to them they can succeed in defiance of experience which seems to teach that the odds are greatly against any given speculative operation.

They Fear Livermore.

Just about the time the papers were conspicuously displaying the reports of Wood's speculations they were in rather more modest type reporting some testimony of Jesse L. Livermore before a Senate committee at Washington. Livermore is a much more famous speculator than Lieut. Wood is ever likely to be. At Washington, Mr. Livermore opposed that for his work in operating a market for certain oil flotations. Mr. Harry F. Sinclair, who is not quite so well known as his horse racing, was paid less than $10,000, though the operations involved $10,000,000. This, of course, was rather changing for Livermore, who is one of the biggest of professional gamblers. He began with a stake of $3 when he was office boy for a Boston stock broker, and ran it to $10,000. In 1907 he broke the bank again on $15 that he had borrowed from a friend. It is said that in the course of his career he has had dollar seven times. In these ten years he made a dozen fortunes, only to see one after another vanish when he made one deal too many. Ten years ago he made an attack on the corner cotton which cost him $5,000,000, and forced him into bankruptcy, from which he emerged with the firm conviction that nobody could corner cotton.

John W. Gates.

He made a notable coup in 1916, when he got advance news of President Wilson's peace note which aimed to end the war and had an immediate effect upon the stock market. But Mr. Livermore's career may be said to abound more in losses than in gains, and in 1920 he was down to his last

Presentations for Week of Jan. 11 to 17

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

In making "GRUMPY" for Paramount Mr. de Mille brought to the screen one of the best character pictures ever photographed. The story has mystery, romance, thrills, and some of the fairest comedy ever injected into a screen play. Also a good Comedy.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

Marvellous, "THE ISLES OF LOST SHIPS", in the grip of the Sargasso Sea, a floating island, where a woman has 24 hours to choose a mate. Also a special Comedy.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY.

C. C. Burr presents Johnny Hines' latest, "LUCK", with an all-star cast. Adapted from the story, "Luck", by Jackson Gregory. Everybody likes Comedies. See this one; it is full of fun. Also two other one-reel Comedies.

Narrow Escape.

What might have been a fatality occurred at the residence of Mr. Herb. Snider at Storms Corners, on Sunday night. While in the hay loft the lantern upset, setting fire to the hay. Mr. Snider, who was alone, having nothing at hand to fight the fire, tried to stamp it out, but it kept on gaining on him and at last he had to make his escape by way of a small hole cut in the floor of the mow. In his haste he slipped at the edge of the hole and fell to the floor below, where he lay for some time as he was hurt so badly he was unable to move. At last he was able to crawl from the building and in a short time afterward all that was left of it was a heap of smouldering ruins. Mr. Snider is now recovering from his injuries.

PRESENTED PRIZE BOOK

During the Christmas holidays, a prize book was presented by the "U. E. Loyalist" Chapter, I. O. D. E., to Master Wm. Carr, for having obtained the highest marks in history at the Entrance examinations.

The giving of prizes for such attainments by pupils of the Public Schools is one part of the multitude of work undertaken by the Daughters of the Empire. It is a policy which the "U. E. Loyalist" Chapter will continue to pursue in regard to examinations for history in the Public Schools.

Protect the child from the ravages of worms by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It is a standard remedy, and years of use have enhanced its reputation.

HONORS MRS. LEONARD.

Mrs. A. D. Leonard, leader of the Missionary Department of the Parker S. S., which is held the first Sunday of each month, and during the programme at an opportune time the children formed in a band and read the following address, also presenting their leader with a brass jardiniere.

Yarker, Ont., Jan. 6th, 1924.

Dear Mrs. Leonard,—We, the Juvenile Mission Band of Yarker Methodist Sunday School, wish to express to you our appreciation of your services in training us in Mission work. We trust that all through life the lessons taught us will remain green in our memory.

The patience and interest you have taken in us and the throwing open the doors of your home for practise we must mention in this short address for your hospitality has been very generous, showing that you, like Mary, hath chosen the better part.

We trust that your interest shown will extend and bear fruit in the life of others in the coming of the Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour.

We ask you to please accept of this small token to express our thanks to you.

Signed in behalf of the Mission Band.

MARY WALLACE.
VIVIAN WOODHOUSE.

Mrs. Leonard gave a very suitable reply in a few well chosen words.

OBITUARY

John Timmins.

John Timmins, a farmer of Frontenac County, passed away at his home at Bell Rock, on Monday, Dec. 24th, 1923. Deceased, who was in his sixty-seventh year, was a son of the late Peter Timmins, and was well and favorably known throughout the community. His death was the occasion for deep regret and sympathy with the bereaved family. He is survived by his wife, three sons, two daughters, two brothers and two sisters. The funeral, held on Dec. 26th, to the Church of the Annunciation, Chippewa, was largely attended, and the remains were laid at rest in the R. C. cemetery.

H. S. PAUL REEVE R. M. ROZILEE

The election of H. S. Paul for another term as Reeve of the R. M. Rozilee, took place Monday last when the votes cast in the nine polling places resulted in a win for Paul for ninety votes. The votes cast were Paul 356 and Dodge 266. — Shellbrook Chronicle, Shellbrook, Saskatchewan, Dec. 14th, 1923.

Harvey S. Paul is a son of W. J. Paul, ex-M.P. for Lennox and Addington. He went West about fifteen years ago. This is the third time he has been elected for Reeve.

LETTER OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Napanee, Ont., Jan. 3rd, 1924.

To the President, Secretary and Members of the "Maple Leaf Holstein".

I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of one drinking fount and one door mat, which was so kindly donated by your Society.

Please accept the sincere thanks of the teacher, fairgrounds and trustees, for the same, which we are sure will be a blessing to our school.

Signed on behalf of School Section No. 13, North Frederickaburgh.

Over a Million People trade with us each week

MOST of them are women—thrifty housewives who "set a good table" but buy where they get the most for their money.

They trade at Dominion Stores.

Here in these stores, each a part of the greatest retail grocery organization in Canada, they shop—and save. Many are wives of poor men. Others are well-to-do. Yet, one and all, they are guided by a sturdy sense of thrift.

If you, too, would save on your grocery bill, shop at a Dominion Store, as these women do. The same high standard quality, the same goods, the same nationally known brands as elsewhere, but the price tag tells the story of Dominion Stores' economies and savings.

Three Hundred Stores! "There's One Near You!"

And whichever one you shop at—you'll save money.

ODESSA

The municipal election was held on Monday of last week, and the following were elected:—Reeve, W. C. Logel; Deputy Reeve, Ross Peters; Councillors, Robt. J. Brethen, Andrew C. Miller and Delbert Sexsmith. — On Monday, Mabee, Providence, Iowa, was a recent guest of his uncle, Dr. J. E. Mabee, and Mrs. Mabee.—Fred Dunlap, Montreal, is spending his vacation with Harvey Shaw and Miss Bessie Shaw.—Gladwin Clark left last Saturday to visit his brother, Reginald Clark, Chicago.—The pictures purchased from the proceeds of the Odessa Public School concert last November have been placed on exhibition in the Public Library. A few books have also been bought and these are shown along with a full list of receipts and expenditures. The Public school staff, Miss Wilke, Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Hurgard, whose efforts were responsible for the addition of these beautiful pictures for the three school rooms, would be pleased to have the parents of the pupils and others interested in the school work, take advantage of the opportunity of seeing them as they are removed. A great deal of care has been shown in the selection of the twelve reproductions of the world's most famous artists, and all appeal strongly to the children throughout the school and will be instrumental in reaching the aim of the selection and the appreciation of the beautiful in life. The following is a list of the pictures explained:—The Angelus and The Gleaners, Corot, The Lake; Holmes, Can't you Speak, Rolf in Silver; Madonna of the Chair, Raphael; Shepherdess; Ruysdael, The Mill; Renouf, A Helping Hand; Vallejo, Baby Stuart; Rosa Bonheur, The Horse Fair; Sichael, Madonna and Child and Stratford on Avon, the home of William Shakespeare.

COLLINS BAY

What might have been a serious accident happened on the farm of Mrs. Marsh, Collins Bay, on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. J. OBITUARY

Richard Elewell.

There passed away on Sunday, December 16th, at his residence in Antrim, in the person of Richard Ilewell, one of the best known citizens of Carleton County and a man noted for his rugged honesty and lofty principles, and beloved by those who knew him for His many fine qualities. Deceased, who was born in Cornwall, England, in 1838, came to Canada with his parents when he was eight years old and settled in Napanee. Later in life he moved to Aylmer, Que., and there married Miss Margaret Watt, of Torbolton. Forty-five years ago they moved to Woodlawn, and during 25 of these years deceased was a well known resident of Antrim, and resided there until his demise on Sunday. He is survived by his widow and twelve children: Mrs. Ilewett, Antrim; William, in Washington; Mrs. Cathcart, Stittsville; Richard, of Brampton; Mrs. Low, of Phillips, Wis.; Mrs. Dick, Kenhitz, Arnprior; John L., of Pakenham; George, of Fitzroy; Mrs. W. H. Tripp, Woodlawn; Robert, of Arnprior; Mrs. Strong, Woodlawn; and James, of Antrim. There were also forty-nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren. The funeral was held on Wednesday morning to St. Thomas' Church and cemetery, Woodlawn, Rev. Grant Jones, Galetta; Rev. Charles Saddington, Arnprior, and Rev. Richards, of Fitzroy Harbor, conducting the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Jacob Graham, R. T. Nesbitt, Justin Davis, Isaac Davis, Peter and James Barr.

You have heard the same remark, "She served a splendid lunch but she simply can't make a good cup of tea", and it is usually the fault of the tea. Serve "Daly's Good Tea" for every social event. For sale at Wallace's.

OUR DEBT TO UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS

St. John's Day marks another mile post in the progress of Masonry and invites Masons to review the efforts of our early Brethern to plant the Craft in the native forests of Upper Canada.

Free Masonry in this country owes a debt to the United Empire Loyalists. Many of those hardy pioneers were members of the Masonic Fraternity before their arrival in the territory which now forms Ontario.

On the 8th of September, 1783, seven ships, laden with Loyalists, set sail from New York City for the Bay of Quinte District, where they arrived on the 16th of June, 1784.

Gradually after their arrival, here and there a few faithful brethren assembled and formed Lodges.

In those days the Lodges were few and far apart. The noble efforts of those pioneer members to establish and keep alive the Craft may be judged from the fact that many of them had to paddle from where Belleville is now situated, to Cataraqui, now Kingston, a distance of sixty miles, and sometimes had to walk, to attend Lodge. Others travelled long lonely forest trails to York. When they arrived there were no ornate comfortable Lodge rooms. The meetings were usually held in a room in a little hotel or private house. The fundamental principles and tenets of the Order were appreciated by the few who went to the trouble, endured those hardships and spent the time to attend these gatherings. Their fidelity and zeal should be commemorated by the Masons of to-day who enjoy the privilege of taking part in the proceedings of lodge meetings, at convenient locations, in beautiful and comfortable Temples.

In 1792 William Jarvis, a U. E. Loyalist, was appointed the first Provincial Grand Master of Upper Canada by the Athol Grand Lodge of England, with his Grand East at Niagara, which in 1797 was moved to York. Up to 1804 he had issued twenty warrants for lodges in various parts of the province.

On the death of Provincial Grand Master Jarvis, 1817, a Masonic Convention assembled at Kingston which met from time to time till 1822, when Right Wor. Bro. Simon McGillivray reorganized the Craft under the authority of the Grand Lodge of England, which re-organization has been governed by a Grand Lodge and has continued to grow till there are now 100,000 Masons in Ontario.

Next June the United Empire Loyalists will celebrate the 140th anniversary of the settlement of the province. The City of Belleville in the Old Bay of Quinte District has been selected as the place for the celebration. This will afford the Masonic Fraternity an opportunity to express their appreciation of the strenuous efforts put forth by those early Free & Massonic Brethern to plant Masonry in this Jurisdiction. Plans are being made to hold the largest Masonic parade ever held in the Province, at this celebration.

A TREASURED POSSESSION

One of the treasured possessions in the family of John P. Baker, of the Queen's Hotel, Tamworth, formerly of Wellington, is an acrostic copy of which we print below) by Mrs. Baker's grandfather, the late John C. Clark, of Ernestown, father of the late P. M. Clark.

The acrostic is printed and is a fine piece of workmanship, done in three colors, with an artistic flowered scroll running down both sides of the sheet. The excellence of the workmanship makes this acrostic the most treasured possession in the family, and its value is enhanced by the consideration that this is the work of an old gentleman in his 73rd year.

ACROSTIC

Most swift pass the seasons, and so do the years,
And now eighteen hundred and sixty appears;
Dread winter is here, and of snow storms the king,
And yet bell get feeble when birds sweetly sing;
Midst music hell die in the green lap of spring.

Each season has some little pleasures in store,
Like shadows they flee and we see them no more;
Enjoy all the blessings the seasons impart,
Adoring the giver with love in your heart.
Or pain and affliction your comfort destroy;
Restrain discontent and some patience employ.

Joyful seven children your table surround,
And none are deformed, but all healthy and sound;
Now great are your cares, but much greater your love,
Endeavor to train them for mansions above.

Contented and happy may you ever be,
Let piety guide you through life's troubled sea;
And when earthly trials and troubles shall end,
Religion, dear daughter, will still be your friend,
Keep all God's commands and with saints you'll ascend.

JOHN C. CLARK.
In my 73rd year.

NEWBURGH

Slippery, no matter whether applied to things or men, gives one an uncertain feeling. It does not give a sense of security or stability. But, like most things, it has its place. Slippery, when applied to a skating rink, seems quite all right, but when applied to a sidewalk it shows up in all its nastiness. It certainly took a good deal of agility, and sometimes recklessness, to negotiate the sidewalks of Newburgh for a few days, and all who attempted it did not come out scathless. Mrs. Fred. Lockwood had the misfortune, during the slippery time, to fall and fracture her arm, and, in her case as in many others, it is the active and useful people that are laid aside.

Mr. W. W. Adams has installed a radio apparatus. This is the third radio plant in the village, which brings those who are permitted to use them into contact with the greatest preachers and musicians on the continent. Truly this is a marvellous age. We have often heard it said that you cannot make christians by legislation what about making them by radio. Anyway, it will give us the right to be more critical.

Mrs. Geo. Paul and her mother Mrs. Scriver, who have been spending a few weeks with Mrs. Scriver's daughter, Mrs. Paul, at the home of Mrs. Paul little girl, Cecelia, have gone home to Toronto.

The School Board met in regular session on Monday night to wrestl with the great question of education. Unfortunately there are some details of the work that prevent the minds of the members from soaring above the common things of life; for instance, where all the money is coming from that will keep our thing-a-ma-bobs and give the young idea a proper chance to develop.

We understand that the L. O. L. has changed its regular meeting from the second Friday to the second Monday of each month.

We have a skating rink. It is in charge of Mr. Vanderwater. There is a comfortable house in which to change footwear, etc., and everything possible will be done for the comfort and pleasure of the patrons.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Fifty years soon slipped by especially in the lives of two persons who have joined their plans of life together and have lived happy and contented with their family and have been an ornament to the community in which they live. This is not a too strong expression to use in speaking of Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt, who on the 14th day of January, 1874, were married in the Township of Ernestown and resided there ever since.

When the Golden Anniversary of their wedding arrived on the 14th day of January, 1924, a jolly assembly of descendants of this fine old couple gathered at the homestead, where now resides their son, Robert, and his christian character, owing to the careful training of the parents. As a surprise to the old couple when the family arrived at Pratt's Hill, the old homestead, the two sons, Thomas and Robert Arnold Pratt, being joined with them William Harrington, Roger Archer, near relatives of the family, presented the old couple with a beautiful Grandfather clock, which we hope they will enjoy for many years to come. After this little family reunion, Robert, in the brightest manner was called upon to make his maiden speech, and like all in his presence, he did it well, and thanked and expressed his thanks and happiness of being met by his family and being so beautifully remembered in the presentation.

The party then spent the balance of the day and the evening very enjoyably. Many were the points remembered by the now adult children of their young days, where they met with accidents and experiences, and rewards never to be forgotten. Every gate, building, tree, fence, field and lot on the old farm had its family historical connection.

About midnight the family having outgrown the limit of the old homestead, it was necessary to break up the jolly party, which was done by heartily singing in honour of the grandfather and grandmother "He Is a Jolly Good Fellow", and also heartily expressing the well known loyalty of the family with "God Save the King".

A young sport who answers an advertisement offering to send him wise tips on the horses, received for his dollar a card with this advice on it:

Horses to follow—Hearse horses.
Horses to back—Hobby horses.
Horses to put something on—Saw horses.
Horses to let alone—Race horses.

A victim of chronic bronchitis called on a doctor to be cured. The doctor, after careful questioning, assured the patient that the ailment would respond readily to treatment.

"I suppose you must have had a great deal of experience with this disease?" said the sufferer.

The doctor smiled wisely, and replied: "Why, my dear sir, I've had bronchitis myself for over fifteen years."

HOCKEY

Kingston 2, Point Anne 0.

The first game of the series in the Bay of Quinte Hockey League was played at the Arena, Kingston, on Saturday night, January 12th, between Point Anne and Kingston, resulting in a win for Kingston, the score being 2-0.

The ice was in very poor condition, which made the playing very difficult. The teams were very evenly matched, each playing very good combination work. Only a few penalties were given, as the game was particularly clean.

Geo. T. Walters, of Napanee, refereed the game in his usual satisfactory manner.

Following is the line-up :—

Point Anne—Goal, D. Boland; defence, R. Tompkins, E. Allore; right wing, F. Goyer; centre, J. Marcelle; left wing, R. Brant; subs., M. Green, H. Genereaux, G. Gaulin.

Kingston—Goal, J. W. McCarthy; defence, M. Bennett, P. Smith; right wing, N. Millan; centre, A. Lanoe; left wing, T. Argrove; subs., C. Logue, A. Purdy, E. Watts.

Belleville 5, Point Anne 2.

A very clean game of hockey was played in the Bay of Quinte Hockey League at Point Anne on Tuesday, January 15th, between Belleville and Point Anne, Belleville winning by a score of 5-2. Only two players were penalized for minor offences.

The score by periods was as follows:—1st period, Belleville 1, Point Anne 1; 2nd period, Belleville 5, Point Anne 1; 3rd period, Belleville 2, Point Anne 0.

Following is the line-up :—

Belleville—Goal, K. Scott; defence, N. Goyer, W. Canning; right wing, S. Symons; centre, E. Whalen; left wing, A. Armstrong; subs., F. Hibbard, J. Williams, G. Hay.

Point Anne—Goal, F. Boland; defence, R. Tompkins, F. Goyer; right wing, W. Green; centre, J. Marcelle; left wing, R. Brant; subs., E. Allore, H. Genereaux.

Referee—Geo. T. Walters, Napanee.

Point Anne at Napanee.

This (Friday) evening at the Napanee Arena the local team will cross sticks with the Point Anne team and a fast game is assured. The Point Anne boys have been running in hard luck, and are determined to break their losing streak by taking a fall out of Napanee. The locals are in good shape and ready to go the limit. Harry Lindsay, Kingston, of Rugby fame, will referee the game and a record attendance will be on hand to witness this important game. The Napanee line-up will be chosen from the following:—Goal, I. Spencer, A. Spencer, Naphin, Johnston, Huffman, Bradley, McNeill, Babcock, Murphy, MacNicol, Finn, Vanalstine, Douglas.

Games Scheduled.

Friday, Jan. 18th.—Point Anne at Napanee.
Friday, Jan. 18th.—Kingston at Napanee.
Wednesday, Jan. 23rd. — Point Anne at Belleville.
Friday, Jan. 25th.—Napanee at Point Anne.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church was held in the school room on Wednesday evening, and in spite of the exceedingly stormy weather, was well attended. Written reports were received from every organization, from the Cradle Roll up to the Kirk Session. The latter and every report showed the affairs of the Church to be in a healthy and prosperous condition. The Sabbath School constitutes the backbone of the future church showed much progress and reported a school well attended and carefully graded along the lines of the most recent results in religious education.

Financially, St. Andrew's maintains its high and enviable record. The report of the Managers showed the Church out of debt, the mortgage removed, and a balance in the bank after all expenses had been met, of over two hundred dollars. The total received and disbursed during the year amounted to over $6,000.

It is interesting to note that during the present pastorate, though the membership has never at any time exceeded a hundred and fifty members, St. Andrew's Church has met all current expenses, cleared away over six thousand dollars debt on the building, paid four thousand dollars to the Forward Movement, and kept up its missionary and philanthropic activities in an undiminished manner. In all during that time over forty-five thousand dollars have been contributed and disbursed. This has been due in no small measure to the efficiency and devotion of the women who throughout the years, have labored unceasingly, and by their efforts year after year have added greatly to the revenue of the Church.

At the annual meeting, matters arising out of the reports were thoroughly discussed, and plans for the present and future of the church considered, after which the meeting broke up by singing Old Hundred.

LADIES' MUSICAL AND LITERARY CLUB

The third meeting of the above Society was held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, the entertainment having been arranged by Mrs. Jewell, Mrs. Milsap, Mrs. Gibbard and Mrs. Switzer. A very interesting programme of old-time British songs and folk-dances was successfully given by the performers, and the audience throughout the evening was most sincere.

The stage was set as an attractive old-fashioned living room, and standing in front of the open fire-place, with lights dimmed, Miss Georgia Robinson sang "Just a Song at Twilight", in a sweet, full soprano. She was encored, and responded with an old English Ballad. There followed a minuet, danced very prettily to music, by Miss Dorothy Johnson and Master Charlie Walters. Mr. LeBlanc sang that lovely old ballad, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" which completed the English part of the programme.

The Irish numbers were given by Miss Frances Dwyer, who gave a beautiful rendition of "Aileen Alanah"; and little Miss Mary Galbraith and Master Billy Powell, who danced a lively Irish reel in costume.

Miss Olive Cooper, a finished pianiste of Belleville, delighted her audience with four splendid piano solos, two of Chopin, a Valse and a Mazurka—played with exceptionally fine technique and expression.

A British evening without Scotch music would not be complete, and Mr. Churchill gave a most satisfactory response to this need with his interpretation of "Loch Lomand". Although Miss Hilda Daly was unable to be present, Miss Mary Galbraith, that charming and versatile little person, filled in with a very clever presentation of the Highland Fling.

Let us just a word of praise for the accompanists, Mrs. Burk, Miss Scott, Miss Hawley and Mrs. Caldwell, whose duties were so efficiently performed.

The next meeting of the Musical Club will be in February, to which, after so pleasant an evening as Tuesday, every member will look forward with keen anticipation.

TOWN COUNCIL

The first meeting of the Council for 1924 was held in the Council Chamber, on Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

The purpose of this meeting is to swear in the members of the Council and strike the standing committees for the year.

W. A. Grange, Town Clerk, administered the oath of office, and verified to the election of the members of the Council as follows:—

Mayor—A. MacGregor.
Reeve—Mark P. Graham.
Councillors—M. C. Burgess, T. H. Huffman, W. J. Jewell, W. G. Paul, W. H. Dunbar, J. M. Simpson.

Before the Council proceeded to business, the Mayor introduced Rev. A. J. Wilson, who read a passage from Scripture, having special reference to administrative bodies, after which he recited a short prayer.

The Council then went into Committee of the Whole and confirmed the appointment of the Standing Committees, as follows:—

Finance—M. C. Burgess, Chairman; J. M. Simpson, M. P. Graham.

Streets—M. P. Graham, Chairman; T. H. Huffman, W. J. Jewell.

Fire, Water and Light—W. G. Paul, Chairman; M. P. Graham, M. C. Burgess.

Printing and By-laws—J. M. Simpson, Chairman; M. C. Burgess, W. G. Paul.

Town Property—W. J. Jewell, Chairman; W. H. Dunbar, J. M. Simpson.

Market and Police—T. H. Huffman, Chairman; W. G. Paul, W. H. Dunbar.

Poor and Sanitary—W. H. Dunbar, Chairman; W. J. Jewell, T. H. Huffman.

Council adjourned until 7.30 p.m.

The Council met at 7.30 in the evening.

The full Board was present, with Mayor MacGregor presiding.

The Mayor opened the proceedings by reading his inaugural address, which dealt with proposed municipal legislation for the coming year. This interesting and instructive document which must have taken some time and labor of mind to prepare, will be found in another column.

A communication was received from A. E. Paul, applying for the position of Auditor. Laid on table to be taken up later.

From Walter Metcalf, with the request of a raise in salary for the firemen. Referred to Fire, Water and Light to consider and report.

From Sam Smith, applying for the position of overseer of the disposal works and caretaker of the Town Hall, at a salary of $75.00 per year. Referred to Town Property Committee.

The Mayor requested the Chairman of each Standing Committee to make a few remarks relative to the proposed work in connection with his committee. The responses were short and to the point, conveying consistent with efficient work in each department.

BY-LAWS.

The following by-laws were read, on motion passed, and finally became law.

By-law appointing Couns. Burgess, Simpson, Jewell and Reeve Graham members of the Court of Revision.

By-law appointing J. M. Thomson a member of the School Board for the current term of three years.

By-law appointing Dr. R. A. Lount a member of the Board of Health.

By-law appointing Messrs. D. J. Hilker and Wm. M. Laughlin Auditors, at a salary of $80.00 each. The auditing will include the books of the Town Treasurer, Utilities Commission and School Board.

By-law appointing W. S. Herrington Town Solicitor at a salary of $100.00.

By-law appointing Night Constable Cook Sanitary Inspector, at a salary of $400.00.

A By-law was passed in respect to interim appropriations, as follows: Streets $5000; Fire, Water and Light $5000; Town Property $500; Printing and By-laws $300; Poor and Sanitary $500; Market and Police $1200; contingent $1000.

Coun. Burgess brought up the question of the sale of lemon and vanilla extracts of an alcoholic nature.

Coun. Simpson expounded the law as laid down in the Ontario Temperance Act. This act, he said, left a loophole for the indiscriminate sale of this product. Nothing could be done by the Council except to petition the government to amend the law so as to prohibit its sale except under certain conditions.

Coun. Simpson moved, seconded by Coun. Burgess, that the Finance Committee draft a resolution in respect to the sale of extracts, and submit the same to the Council at its next meeting. Carried.

Reeve Graham accused last year's Council of partizanship in withdrawing the Town's account from the Bank of Montreal and placing it with the Standard Bank.

The Reeve moved, seconded by Coun. Simpson, that this account be transferred back to the Bank of Montreal.

The yeas and nays were called for, resulting in a tie, consequently the motion did not carry.

The following accounts were ordered paid:—

An account of the Hydro Electric and Bell Telephone account, were referred.

The curate of a fashionable church was endeavoring to teach the significance of white to a Sunday School class.

"Why," said he, "does a bride invariably desire to be clothed in white at her marriage?"

As no one answered, he explained, "White," said he, "stands for joy, and the wedding day is the most joyous occasion of a woman's life."

A small boy queried: "Why do the men all wear black?"

61,109 ACCIDENTS.

Last year stands out in the history of compensation in this Province as the year in which there were more accidents reported to the Compensation Board than ever before. In 1923 there were 61,109 accidents reported by industry to the Board, of which 379 were fatal. These figures, on the basis of accident frequency, contrast unfavourably with the 1922 figures, when 50,411 accidents were reported, of which 418 were fatal. The only consolation in the report is the fact that the increase is in accidents of a more minor nature. Up to 1923, the largest number of accidents reported was in 1920 when there were 54,851.

In 1923 benefits awarded amounted to $6,173,761.74; in 1922 to $5,692,896.61, and in 1921 to $6,189,263.49. No one will quarrel with the principle of compensation but the whole community may reasonably stand aghast at the thought that accidents in industry in one Province of Canada are costing six million dollars a year plus lost production and lost wages which may easily double that figure. Most accidents are preventable. A little care, a little forethought, a little common-sence, will prevent thousands of accidents and reduce both human suffering and money losses.

An average of 204 accidents reported every day in 1922 to the Workmen's Compensation Board calls for direct action by management and men to assist in reducing these figures materially for the present year.

CONSERVATION.

A young woman who was reared in an eastern Kansas town read in a poultry journal that poultry-keeping was remunerative, so she decided to try it. She purchased a hen and set her on thirteen eggs. She wrote to a poultry journal that poultry-raising was much to her liking and wondered how long the hen should remain on the eggs. The paper wrote back: "Three weeks for chickens and four weeks for ducks." Later she wrote to the poultry journal as follows: "Many thanks for your advice about the setting hen. She remained on the nest three weeks and at the end of that time there were no chickens hatched. As I did not care for ducks, I took her off the nest and sold the eggs."

Mayor MacGregor's Inaugural Address to the Council

Napanee, Jan. 14th, 1924.

Gentlemen:—

It has been customary for several years for the Mayor, upon meeting the incoming Council, to make some reference to the Council's activities during the year preceding, and also to make some reference to the new matters that should, or are likely to, engage the Council during the current term. It seems to have been a good plan to thus endeavor to link up the old with the new. It seldom happens that a new Council does not contain some new faces to freshen up the old and keep the old from falling into ruts.

The basis of the whole municipal machinery is the question of finance. The Corporation is like any business and must have money to run it, and practically the only source of municipal revenue is by taxation. The only collections the town makes, except through the collector of taxes, are from licenses, rent of Town Hall, fines and fees from the Magistrate, market tolls and the County grant for roads. The question of finance therefore itself into the problem of keeping down the rate of taxation to as low a point as is possible, consistent with efficiency. The tax rate last year was 40 mills, of which 14 mills were for schools.

The expenditures are mostly fixed and therefore uncontrollable. We pay practically the same amount each year for lighting the streets and public buildings and for water for fire protection. The debenture, principal and interest as they mature, must be met and this year will not be reduced materially for five or six years, when the last of the old railway debentures will be retired.

The largest apparent item of controllable expenditure is for streets, but modern traffic and modern standards require that the roads shall be hard and smooth and free from dust. It necessarily follows that much money must be expended. The public would not tolerate the muddy and unsanitary streets that were formerly good enough.

All the Committees have more or less controllable expenditure and they should early survey their requirements so that when the estimates are up for discussion, we may fairly and accurately measure our requirements.

If the Board of Education would give us its requisition early and the County would strike its County rate not later than the March session, we could make our Municipal levy at least three weeks earlier and save considerable bank interest.

Our total debenture debt is $315,000 but we have created the Water Works debentures and the Dundas paving debentures, our debenture debt little over $100,000 which would appear to leave us in a good sound financial position, considering our reasonable assessment and the permanent improvements we have.

On December 15th, 1923, we had an overdraft of $12256.72, and uncollected taxes amounting to $5068.32, leaving our net floating debt $7218.25. This debt would have been very much reduced last year but it was then necessary to spend a much larger amount on the streets than provided for in the estimates. This extra expenditure was incurred by reason of extra silling and from the necessity of rebuilding some highways broken up by the construction of water main extensions. We should endeavor this year to eliminate all extras for the purpose of liquidating this overdraft.

The sewerage disposal plant was thoroughly overhauled last fall, but considerable expense, but the Town Property Committee must take periodic inspections in order that it may be kept at all times in thorough working order. We pride ourselves on the healthful condition of our Town and we must watch that it is kept so.

The care of the poor and helpless through outside institutions is not satisfactory and we should urge the County to immediately make a start towards the erection of a County House of Industry. Considerable money has already been provided for that purpose.

We should bring some pressure upon The Canadian Canners, Ltd., to have them re-open the canning factory plant or lease or sell it to some company that will do so. It is a great disadvantage to the farmers in our district that they have not a factory where they may dispose of their fruit products.

It is very difficult to get industries of the right sort to locate and we should be very watchful of our opportunities for new industries and should urge the Napanee Board of Commerce to give assistance. The Board has not had any open meetings during the past year, but we think that it should have at least two meetings per year at which the members of the County Council should attend, if for no other purpose than to create a real community spirit.

The future approach to the town has been beautified and something further can be done by further improvement in the parking grounds at the falls. Every citizen should take an interest in his municipality, and the more one does any constructive work for the town he lives in, the more he will become attached to it. Service should be the motto of all citizens whether in the Council or citizens.

In respect to the several Committees, do not let them be one man jobs. Consult those on your Committee and when you come to Council with your plans, your recommendations will have added weight.

I desire further to direct your attention to a subject of a somewhat different character. You will remember that at the Nomination meeting, I made reference to the growing menace to the youth of the town through the indiscriminate sale of flavoring extracts. I had no axe to grind in taking the stand I then did, as I had already been assured of the Mayoralty for the ensuing year. But out of honesty to myself and to the constituency I represent, I could not do otherwise, and now that we are met as a Council for the first time this year, I desire to reiterate the sentiments of that address and to make it clear that I intend to pursue vigorously my opposition to the conditions there referred to and to you in whom the citizens of the Town have placed confidence and to whom they have entrusted the keeping of the public interests, I look for support in the effort to stamp out that nefarious business. The hotel men of Napanee suffered most financially by the passing of the O. T. A. have sought to live up both to the letter and the spirit of that law, while others under the cover of a loop-hole in the act, are making the profit which formerly, and legally, belonged to them.

Gentlemen, the boys of to-day will be the men of to-morrow. Councils changing the affairs of the town long before we cumbsider ourselves old and long after our names are but a memory. We have a solemn responsibility, not only to the men and women who elected us, but as well for the generations to follow, and nothing must be left undone that will secure them against those who for mercenary considerations would weaken both mentally and physically the youth of the town. The government already been approached, and must be approached again, for in their hands alone lies the power to remedy the law.

But after all, gentlemen, you must approve with me, that, even though we do secure legislation to cover the case of minors, it will depend on the good will and public interest of the citizens generally. Our duty as a Council is clear, but the final responsibility must rest, as it always rests, with the citizens themselves, and, in this case, particularly on the business men and business women of the town.

In conclusion, I know we have a good Council, and if we work faithfully and in harmony, we will get results.

Yours sincerely,

A. MacGREGOR,

Mayor.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

1789 B. Ocean Ave.

Santa Monica,

California.

January 7th, 1924.

The Napanee Beaver,

Napanee, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—We are now living in Santa Monica, only a block from the Pacific Ocean. We are having summer weather here now.

Yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, we saw a $4,000,000 fire, when the three Amusement Piers were burned at Ocean Park, Pickering Amusement Pier, Fraser Pier, Licks Dome Pier. The fire destroyed buildings and landmarks, including the Dome Theatre, valued at $300,000; the Rosemary Theatre $250,000; Bon-Ton Ballroom $200,000; the giant Dipper concession, recently erected, $100,000; Pickerings Amusement Pier, $1,000,000; Lick's Dome Pier, $750,000; Fraser Pier, $250,000; shooting stores, soda fountains, fish markets, "hot dog" stands, and other concessions destroyed were estimated to have been worth $1,000,000.

A southwesterly wind kept the fire within its own area of the four blocks, after the piers burned down, holding the firemen in their battle to save the buildings on the east of the promenade. Thirty firemen were hurt and 100,000 persons from various Los Angeles, Sawtelle, Beverly Hills and Culver City were called to aid the Santa Monica Bay district fire department, when it was reported it was beyond control of the beach firemen. It burned all day yesterday. We are only a mile from there. The conflagration was believed to have started in a small fish market at the end of Fraser Pier. It spread with rapidity from Kenney Street, Ocean Park, through four blocks of amusements to Navy St. on the ocean side of the promenade.

We are sorry to bother you again about sending our Beaver. Would you please send it to the above address and oblige. We shall look forward every week for The Beaver. Enjoy it very much.

Yours sincerely,

CLARENCE W. CARÉ

The prosecuting attorney was examining a negro witness.

"Now, Mose," he said, "tell us what you know about this fight?"

"Well, boss," beran Mose. "I think as—"

"I don't want to know what you think. Tell us what you know."

"I think——"

"I told you not to tell us what you think."

"But, boss," said Mose, apologetically, "I ain't no lawyer. I can't talk without thinking."

Dreco Has No Equal

Mr. Hugh Ross Says That From His Own Personal Experience With the Famous Health Builder That Quickly Restored His Run Down System to Vigorous and Glowing Health.

"For two years I have suffered from stomach trouble," says Mr. Hugh Ross, of Napanee, Ontario. "Everything I ate would ferment and form a gas that made me miserable. There were times when I would even have to lay off work. My appetite was poor and I couldn't sleep at nights and my kidneys were all out of order causing such pains in the small of my back that I could hardly stoop over.

"My joints would get stiff with rheumatism and I was continually taking laxatives. During the past few months I was so weak that I had literally to force myself to go to work and although I spent nearly all my earnings on medicines, nothing did me any good until I started taking Dreco.

"I have only taken two bottles, but am feeling like a new man. I can sleep soundly every night and eat anything I want, something I haven't been able to do for a long time. My kidneys are in fine shape and the rheumatism has left my joints Dreco, in my opinion, has no equal and it gets my praise wherever I go."

Many a hard working man suffers as did Mr. Ross, finding his energy powers impaired and life a misery, and it is all due to a run-down system. Dreco speedily corrects and regulates to normal, healthy action. Try this grand herbal remedy today. Its pure herb, root, bark and leaf juices will benefit all the organs of digestion and purify the blood. It contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Napanee by Wallace & Co., and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

Milo, King of Athletes.

Milo was an ancient Greek athlete, of whom it is related that he once carried a heifer of four years on his shoulders his shoulders, killed it with a blow of his fist, and afterwards, it is added, ate the whole of it in one day. His death is characteristically related, says the Detroit News. When crowded to it by the attempt to rend open the trunk of a tree partially split by wood cutters, and two wedges closing on his hands, held him fast, and he was attacked and devoured by wolves. Milo bore off five prize six times in the Olympic games and on an equal number of occasions the Pythian. He was appointed to command an army against the Sybarites, and of one battle of the Griffin, 511 B.C., his great strength is said to have contributed to the victory to the Crotoniates.

"Sis you want to borrow a little money, eh?"

"I certainly do, Mr. Grabcoin," said the impecunious citizen.

"Well, well! Why, I can remember the time when I didn't have a dollar to my name."

"That's really a reminiscence for you, Mr. Grabcoin, but in my case it's current history."

Wife—Your Honor, he broke every dish in the house over my head, and treated me cruelly.

Judge—Did your husband apologize or express regret for his actions?

Wife—No, your Honor; the ambulance driver took him away before he could speak to me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

"Port Mann, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and run down. I had headaches and no appetite and wastro, failed for two years with nervousness. I tried many medicines but nothing did me any good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a neighbor to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. C. GREAVES, Port Mann, B. C.

Some of the results obtained by users of Carnol are almost beyond belief. Carnol, if taken according to directions, will relieve almost any so marvellous that as the end of six months I weighed 130 pounds—the most I ever weighed in my life. I can safely recommend Carnol to anyone in a weakened and run down condition as being the best as well as the most palatable tonic on the market today. My little girl aged eight years took a cold in the head and chest. She was so bad she could scarcely breathe. I gave her Carnol in hot water and the next morning she was able to get out of bed for the first time in several days."—Mrs. Mary A. DesRoche, Summerside, P. E. I.

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

Definite Policy of Immigration for Canadian National Railways

Dr. W. J. Black

Dr. Black is a man who is thoroughly respected, both for his opinions and his achievements, throughout Canada. He carries a lasting and genuine enthusiasm into his work, and as a quiet but eloquent and convincing speaker he is well fitted to broadcast the message of his important mission.

WHEN, a little more than a year ago, Sir Henry Thornton, K.B.E., was chosen to head the Canadian National Railways, one of his first acts was to put into motion machinery for assisting in the colonization and development of the country, particularly along the lines of the National System. He realized that one of the crying needs of Canada was for more population, and he has since been quoted, on several occasions, as saying that if Canada had a population of twenty-five million people, Canada would have no railway problems.

The organization of a department to look after colonization and development was entrusted by Sir Henry to Mr. W. D. Robb, Vice-President, and Mr. Robb at once proceeded to build up the necessary organization to look after this most important national work. Planning gradually brought into being an effective department, the first of the year culminating in the engagement of Dr. W. J. Black, Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization in the Federal Government, as Manager of the Colonization and Development Department of the Canadian National Railways, with headquarters in London, England. That was early in the fall of 1923. Dr. Black proceeded for a month to Great Britain, where he spent some weeks carrying out a series of interviews. These completed, he returned to Canada, and a general conference of all officers of the department was called and a definite plan of colonization and development was drawn up and announced. This was the first definite announcement on immigration policy ever issued in Canada.

The Policy.

There are seven points to the program which has received the approval of Sir Henry W. Thornton, and the principles of policy will be put into effect immediately. Dr. Black sailed for England again on January 3th, and on his arrival in London his department commenced to function actively. The thorough character of the plan can be judged from a recapitulation of the seven principles, which are as follows:

1—To influence the immigration and satisfactory settlement in Canada of the largest possible number of people of productive capacity that the country can absorb and assimilate.

2—To contribute to the dissemination of information concerning the vast and extensive natural resources of the Dominion and the widespread opportunities for industrial development, so that capital may be attracted from other countries and invested where enterprises will be legitimately rewarded.

3—To promote the fullest settlement of new Canadians under conditions that will ensure the maximum possibility of success in their farming operations, and enable them to enjoy such social and religious institutions as are necessary to individual happiness and contentment.

4—To encourage immigrant in agriculture, that more diversified methods may be employed in farming, and that crops, livestock, and dairy production may be increased in accordance with market demands and prospects.

5—To assist by organized effort in the immigration of young people of desirable type and character, especially from Great Britain, and in their placement in respectable rural homes where they may become qualified to participate in constructive activities and acquire citizenship of distinct value to Canada.

6—To aid in the development of new opportunities for service and to facilitate every effective means of securing immigrants physically fit and amenable to work.

7—To co-operate with the Federal and Provincial Governments and business organizations throughout the Dominion in promoting all measures calculated to contribute toward an increase of immigrants of adaptable people and in their settlement under the most favorable conditions possible.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Clarence Elsion, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Blakely, who died December 23rd, 1923.

The fairest of lilies are the first to fall,
The sweetest first to fade;
The fondest, dearest, best of all,
Within the grave is laid.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Sisters and Brothers. 3ap

IN MEMORIAM.

In fond and loving memory of Wm. T. Brown, Enterprise, who departed this life on January 19th, 1921.

How sweet it will be in that beautiful land,
So free from sorrow and pain;
With songs on our lips and with harps in our hands,
To meet one another again.

THE TABLE KNIFE.

Origin and Development Since the Stone Age.

The knife with which you cut your meat to-day is the result of a slow development from the most remote ages. The human race cannot long have existed before necessity prompted the use of a rude cutting instrument with which game might be killed and divided.

The knife was chipped out of flint or stone. Sometimes it was made from shell or the bones of animals or sharpened pieces of tough wood.

For ages the same implement served indiscriminately on the field of battle, in the chase and at meals. Finally it took different shapes according to the use to which it was to be put.

When history opens, men are already using knives of copper. Some what later tin was added to the copper, and bronze instruments resulted. Bronze continued in favor until the time of Cæsar, but iron had come into use a thousand years before. The steel of Damascus gradually took their places.

At the beginning of the Christian era table knives were still without favor. That they were used to a limited extent is indicated by the fact that ivory-handled knives were found in the Roman tombs, beside dishes of food. There are certain monuments depicting banquet scenes at which the guests were provided with knives, but ordinarily the food was cut before being placed upon the table. We learn from Clement of Alexandria that by the second half of the second century the use of knives at table had become common in the Roman empire.

But certain it is that until the fifth century the table knife does not appear in a class by itself. Up to that time the guests attending a dinner party provided their own knives at which the guests were provided with knives, but ordinarily the food was cut before being placed upon the table. We learn from Clement of Alexandria that by the second half of the second century the use of knives at table had become common in the Roman empire.

But certain it is that until the fifth century the table knife does not appear in a class by itself. Up to that time the guests attending a dinner party provided their own knives or used their fingers. Within another century, however, the table knife became so popular that three distinct kinds of knives were manufactured.

During the first half of the 17th century Cardinal Richelieu, the minister of the French king, became offended by the rude manner in which pointed knives were used and thereafter caused his knives to be rounded. Before long the fashion was generally adopted, and the pointed blade, which, in lieu of a fork, had been useful in picking up pieces of meat, was abandoned. Since the 17th century the form of table knife has remained substantially as we know it.

Nice and Polite and Modest.

A minister was recounting some of his amusing experiences in marrying people. "There's an old custom," said he, "that the bridegroom shall kiss the bride immediately after the marriage ceremony is over. It's a good, practical custom, for it serves more kindly than anything else that I know of to dissipate the awkward pause that almost always follows a simple, informal ceremony. For this reason I keep the custom alive.

"One day a man whom I shall call Blank came to the parsonage to be married. Mr. Blank was a pompous, consequential little man. The prospective Mrs. Blank was a fine, winsome girl. After the ceremony Mr. Blank in spite of his pomposity, did not seem to know just what was the next thing to do, so, as in all such cases of emergencies, I said, 'My dear sir, it is your privilege to salute the bride.' He turned around, and, extending his hand formally said, 'Mrs. Blank, I congratulate you.'"

The Legionaries.

No other regiment in any existing army undergoes such Spartan training as the French Foreign Legion, of which a detachment is now in the fighting line. When at their headquarters, Sidi-bel-Abbes, the legionaries are marched off for occasional training trips of 300 miles or more, in continuous daily stages of 24 miles, with only five minutes' halt every six miles. Gen. De Negrier, who commanded them in Madagascar, said: "Some soldiers can fight, the legionaries can die." Their record shows how they fall in action. In the Crimea, in Mexico fighting for Maximilian, and in Spain, their losses were enormously heavy. Of 4,000 legionaries sent to aid Queen Christina in 1836 against the Carlist, only 500 returned to Algeria.

Household Hints.

Roll biscuits thin and use two cuts for each biscuit, laying one on top of the other. They are dainty and break evenly.

When frying cornmeal mush dip each slice in cracker dust. This makes a brown, crisp crust and also prevents the lard from splashing over the range.

Before using tea spread it on a sheet of paper and place it in a warm —not hot—oven for a quarter of an hour. This improves the flavor and strengthens it, making the tea last longer.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. Delia Dawson, who died on January 12th, 1922.

The one we loved is now at rest.
Her true fond heart is still,
The hands that would have helped us best,
Now lie in death's cold chill.

In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly, sender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear Delia,
That we do not think of you.

Sadly missed by Mother and Sister. 3ap

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Lester Wagar, who died Jan. 15th, 1923.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever wake to weep,
A calm and undisturbed repose,
Where powerless is the last of foes.

Asleep in Jesus; oh, how sweet
To be for such a slumber meet,
With holy confidence to sing
That death has lost its venomed sting.

Asleep in Jesus, peaceful rest,
Whence waking we're supremely blest;
No fear, no woe shall dim that hour
That manifests the Saviour's power.

Sadly missed by her Sons and Daughters. 3a

—Delicious Lunch, Spearit Candies, fresh every Friday morning, at Wallace's. Orders for special mixtures taken on Wednesday evening.

—Little Louise Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Black, Mill St., had the misfortune to fall on the slippery sidewalk and break her arm, last Friday afternoon.

—Rev. Mr. Kingston, occupied the pulpit of Trinity Church on Sunday morning and gave two splendid addresses, one from the standpoint of a layman.

—Mrs. Jas. Hanna, of Napanee, on Wednesday, underwent a couple of her indefatigable friends to tea on Tuesday evening last.—Mrs. Jas. Hanna is no better at time of writing.—Mr. Will Hinch, of Bethel Street, left on Tuesday morning last for Kingston Hospital, with a very bad attack of blood poison in his right hand. His many friends hope for his recovery.—We had a heavy fall of snow on Wednesday morning and a heavy wind which filled the roads with drifts of snow.

—Grace Church has arranged with New York Concert Co. for Good Friday night, April 18th, the celebrated reel movie pictures of the Betrothal of Joseph and Mary to Jesus in the temple among the Doctors and the Passion of our Lord, the latter the greatest reel ever produced. This film is not known to have been shown in Canada before, and is brought in at a considerable expense for the one night only.

—A distressing accident happened to Elmer Burley, 18 years old, son of Mr. Sydney Burley, Dundas Street, Deseronto, on Saturday afternoon last. The youth was engaged with his father in sawing and splitting wood for Mr. Hugh Perry, and in the act of splitting a log the axe slipped on the ice and badly injured his right foot. He was rushed home after first aid had been applied and Dr. Walbridge was called in. The Doctor dressed the wound and the young man is confined to his home.

—A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Grange had a very narrow escape from a serious accident on Friday night at Deseronto. The child and her mother had come from Napanee on the 5.15 p.m. train and the nurse was called in. As the train moved out the conductor noticed they were still in the car. He stopped the train and backed into the station again. The child was on the car platform ready to alight and just before the train stopped she slipped off and fell between the station platform and the car. The conductor luckily was nearby and with great presence of mind he seized the child and was able to hold her off the ballast. The girl was slightly bruised, but on examination by Dr. Vandervoort, was found uninjured.

—The many friends of Mr. J. W. Robinson, well known Napanee merchant, will learn with pleasure that his condition at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where he recently underwent an operation, is reported to be greatly improved.

—A Radio Concert will be given in the Methodist Church, Enterprise, on Friday, January 18th. Come one, come all, and enjoy an evening well spent. Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. Admission, 25c., children 10c. Rev. Mr. Merriam, Pastor; Mrs. Norman, President. 2b

CAMDEN EAST

We are enjoying fine winter weather and good sleighing, but the autos are still running.—Mr. George Guy, of Orillia, visited his mother, Mrs. Guy, for a few days last week.—Mr. and Mrs. Lyall Milsap, of Moscow, and her mother, Mrs. S. Connolly, of Yarker, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hartman, on Sunday last.—Mr. and Mrs. Well Stewart entertained a number of their friends on Friday evening last. A jolly pleasant time was spent together until the wee sma' hours of the morning.—Mrs. Susan Robinson's children gave their mother a surprise on January 4th, coming with their well laden baskets and several quarts of oysters to enjoy a social evening at her home. She enjoyed the surprise very much.—Mrs. Reddon entertained a couple of her indefatigable friends to tea on Tuesday evening last.—Mrs. Jas. Hanna is no better at time of writing.—Mr. Will Hinch, of Bethel Street, left on Tuesday morning last for Kingston Hospital, with a very bad attack of blood poison in his right hand. His many friends hope for his recovery.—We had a heavy fall of snow on Wednesday morning and a heavy wind which filled the roads with drifts of snow.

Little Known Island.

Very few people have ever heard of the little French island of Saint Pierre de Miquelon. It is almost lost in fogs and icebergs off the coast of Newfoundland, and yet it has a most interesting history. It is a French possession and the first authentic visit of a Frenchman to Newfoundland was that of Jehan Denys in 1506; and in 1536, Jacques Cartier reports that he had hailed several ships from France and England near the islands of Saint Pierre de Miquelon." In this first half of the sixteenth century, Normans, Bretons and Basques congregated in during every spring for France's fishery. From January to March, 1544, at least two ships a day left Harve, Honfleur or Dieppe for Newfoundland and Saint Pierre de Miquelon. Many adventurers returned to his port of embarkation, where he passed the winter, and Saint Pierre was only a fishing station.

Wedgewood Ware.

Wedgewood ware derives its name from Josiah Wedgewood, of Staffordshire, England, who produced a fine specimen of pottery and porcelain in 1762.

YARKER

Since the cars have been stalled for the winter the real fast horses in this burg have gone on the ramp age. It started with Geo. Curl's pony, Clear Grit, when he spilt Miss Snowy over the road. Then came Mrs. (Dr.) Oldham with their noted stand by driver, Clipper. When Mrs. Oldham was driving up Main street so nicely the other day, Clipper took a notion when he reached the village square, at the east end of the bridge, to back into the east end of the river instead of going over the bridge Mrs. Oldham might have been spilt into the cold water. Shortly after this, while the Methodist minister was in the act of hitching his fast roadster, Firefly, to the cutter, she decided to return to Mr. A. Martin's, where she had spent the summer eating grass. It was funny to see the parson standing, lantern in hand, watching his detached driver breaking the speed limit on the way to her summer home. Just the other day, while Pastor Winter was calling, he left his speedy charger, Slim Jim, on the street outside of one of the homes, when he took it into his head to warm up a bit and made a classic sprint up a couple of streets, turning into Mr. W. Babcock's yard and just knocking a part of the dwelling house down in the act. Some time the same day the owner came up and found his property in the midst of a bunch of fence wire, just on the very edge of "Smith's Gulch". The excitement was hardly over when Wellie Benn and Jim Hoffman came down from Moscow with their thoroughbred racers, kind a lookin' for Manny Foster to take the road for a tryout with his great prize winner, but he was out of town. — Who said that Yarker had signed up with Rip Van Winkle last November? We just protest right now that the old burg is not asleep all the time.—We are sorry to report Mr. James Freeman and Mrs. H. Cambridge on the sick list.—The Standard Church people are holding meetings this week.—The Rebekahs held their annual installation of officers on Tuesday night, and report a good time. — The I. O. O. F. will hold a similar meeting on the 23rd inst. — Our enterprising coal dealer, Mr. W. D. Wilson, has been delivering a lot of A1 coal this week. — George Richardson and F. Stewart are home for holidays. — We have to report the death of our old friend and neighbor, Mr. Samuel Gouey. —Luther Furrs is seriously ill with some acute disease of the spine.

A TRAGIC FIGURE.

Masterlinck Dreamed of a Day When War Would Cease.

One of the most tragic figures of the day, alongside even those grey ones in the ranks of widows and orphans, is Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian dreamer, who saw "an awakening of the soul" in these times, and who predicted in a wonderfully poetic optimism a day, not far distant, when the whole facts of human existence, not only war but poverty; not only hatred but disease, would be thrown off as an old, worn-out garment. With what emotions must Maeterlinck view his little dreamland of Belgium to-day!

In his volume of essays, "Life and Flowers," there is one entitled "The Gods of War," in which he visualizes all the powers of war. This is one passage:

"What monstrous form, what gigantic shadow shall we attribute to take one instance alone, to the power of explosives, those recent and supreme gods, which have just dethroned in the temples of war all the gods of the past? With what family of terrors, what unforeseen group of mysteries shall we connect them? Melinite, dynamite, panclastite, cordite, and roburite, lyddite and ballistite, oh ye indescribable specters, by whose side the old black powder that struck terror into our fathers, and even the mighty thunderbolt, once held the most awful symbol of divine anger, become mere gossipy, good-natured old women, a little ready to strike, perhaps, but almost inoffensive, almost maternal, of your countless secrets not even the most superficial has been laid bare; and the chemist who compasses your slumber, even as the engineer or artillery-man who awakens you, is in total ignorance of your nature, your origin, your soul, the springs of your incredible bound, and the eternal laws which you so suddenly obey! Are you the result of things imprisoned since the beginning of time; are you the gleaming transfiguration of death; are you eruption of hatred or excess of joy? Are you a new form of life and so arcen: that you consume in a second the patience of twenty centuries? Are you a flame from the origins of the worlds that has found a fissure in the walls of silence that enclose it? Are you an audacious loan from the reserve of energy that supports our earth in space? Do you, for that unequaled bound of yours towards a new destiny gather up, in the twinkling of an eye, all that has been stored, all that has been gathered and prepared in the secret of ages and ages and accumulations? Are you soul or matter or a third state still unknown to life?"

And so on! How would Maeterlinck idealize those explosives to-day? Not in the terms used above. Indeed, it will be for voices such as Maeterlinck's that we will listen so stilly for, when the din of battle subsides.

Appalled by "Machine War."

The London Daily Mail in a Paris despatch quotes a wounded officer thus:

"This is not a war of men; it is a war of machines. There is an appalling soullessness about it that is entirely inhuman. Men turn bandles and death flies out in large bhndles. That is not the battle that has been. It is all really one battle on the Marne and the Aisne.

"No one can ever conceive what the battle has been who has not seen the battlefield after the receipt of the orders given by heaps and hecatombs. They would sicken at such wholesale slaughter. They would cry: 'We are not soldiers, not butchers. A battlefield should not be an abattoir. Only machines of industry constructed to destroy men as locusts have to be destroyed when they appear over fertile land, only automatic death dealers without heart, pity or remorse could garner the earth with the dead in this frightful way.'"

Thought He Recognized Them.

A lunatic was being escorted to an asylum some distance away and consequently journeyed to it by train. It was raining hard, and as they passed a large field they saw a herd of fat, well nourished men grouped together. Some of them had umbrellas raised over their heads, and these were looking at two men "putting." Turning to the attendant by his side, the "soft" one asked, "What are the people doin'?"

"Playing golf," answered his burly guardian.

"Then," said the other, after a pause, "hadn't we better stop for them?"

Wine Jelly.

Put the white of an egg, a big tablespoonful of powdered gelatine a cupful of water, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, three or teepn juice and a little stick cinnamon in a saucepan and let stand half a lemon. Beat with an egg beater until the mixture is well mixed, and then set on the side of the stove, cover and leave for ten minutes. Strain through cheesecloth, add a third of a cupful of sherry and pour into two long-stemmed glasses or small molds to harden.

Family of Soldiers.

George Carter, of 26 Earlscourt avenue, Toronto, has fourteen relatives fighting for the King in France. Before the battle of Marne there were seventeen, but one nephew with the Pusiliers was killed in that engagement, and two others have been wounded recently.

Mother-of-Pearl.

From the waters of the northwest coast of western Australia a total of 400 tons of the weight of mother-of-pearl shell was fished, at an average selling price last year of $1,250 a ton.

Tempering the Wind.

Fallen (who has bought a small farm)—Tell me the truth, Mr. Carney, is the soil rich here?

Expert Gardener—Well, sor, I should say it wor wanst rich, but it's now in raydooced circumstances.

"I wish to get a cocoanut."
"Yes, ma'am. Here's one that's full of milk."
"But is it sterilized?"

She—Shall we make mud pies?
He—No, mud pies gets ye all dirty. At first thing ye know somebody springs a bath on ye.

WILD ANIMALS IN WAR.

Antwerp's Zoo Has Been a Heavy Sufferer Because of Siege.

One of the tragedies of the siege of Antwerp was the necessity for destroying the zoo animals in the zoo lest they should escape.

According to one of the best-known collectors of zoological examples five million dollars may easily be spent in fitting up a thoroughly representative zoo, everything depending on the extent to which the rarest specimens are represented.

The principal occupants of a zoo and those to which the public are most accustomed are not necessarily the most valuable. For instance, there is little-known animal called the fossa, found in Madagascar, which is both twice as much as a leopard. It is a small animal, very savage and most uncommon, looking not unlike a small puma. Most people would hardly stop to notice it and yet a fine fossa is worth to-day, when the wild animal market has been totally upset by the war.

The giraffe is another of Mr. Albert Jamrach, the famous London animal dealer, is as valuable as any wild animal. Its price being from $1,500 to $2,000. Lions greatly differ in price. A full-grown African lion sells for $750 and the cubs for $50 each, while the female may be purchased for little or $250. The Indian lion, which is not so imposing a beast, is worth $250.

The really expensive lion to buy was the old Cape lion with its magnificent mane with which nature had specially endowed him to ward off the cold. If such was obtainable to-day specimens would bring $2,000, but unfortunately there is none to be had.

The Bengal tiger brings $500 and its mate about the same price. A full-grown elephant standing four or five feet makes $1,000; the full-grown elephants are rarely exported, their use for haulage purposes in the Burma plantations rendering them valuable. Also the Indian rajahs buy any that are available for use in their armies and for tiger-hunting.

The Indian rhinoceros is valued at $2,000 or $2,500, and the African rhinoceros at about $1,000. The Indian specimens have got to be very scarce, and their value is on the upward grade for this reason.

Forty pounds will buy a white bear, and $50 a brown bear. The latter is cheap because no one is particularly anxious to have him, as he is such a dangerous customer. The small Malayan bear, known as the sunbear, is worth $60. Thirty pounds will buy an Indian leopard and $200 a Persian leopard.

Hyenas are a drug in the wild animal market. They may be had for from $20 to $30, according to quality. The jackal is very low in the scale of values, his worth being estimated at $10 to $15.

The European wild cat, found in Hungary, is very scarce, and one fetches $40 would be bought cheaply. Mr. Jamrach makes the interesting statement that wild cats are still found in Scotland, and are caught by means of steel traps. A lynx are sold fresh, and there is consequently no guarantee that they will live in captivity. They only bring two or three pounds. They look like a grey tabby cat and are extremely savage, starting with rage at the one looker.

The hippopotamus, found in the Nile and lakes of the desert, is worth from $1,000 to $2,000. (The mother is usually killed and the young one taken away, being fed with milk on its journey to the nearest seaport for the shipment to Europe. Jaguars bring $250 each and pumas $100.

Worms in children work havoc. They make a nuisance of the lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the long variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

HIS AUNT THE SPUR.

Relative In Ontario Urged on the New Minister.

When Hon. E. J. McMurray, the new solicitor-general of Canada, was being sworn in at Winnipeg recently, he held in his hand a telegram which read as follows: "Do justice, love mercy and walk humbly. Keep your head level, and your feet on the straight path."

It was from his Aunt Susan down in Ontario, a maiden lady who had taken an interest in him when he was a tall, rose-boned youth. As his friends gathered around him with their congratulations, the new solicitor-general proudly exhibited the telegram, and pledged himself to act on her advice.

In his youth he worked as a hired man for a Scotch farmer, was kept him going from four in the morning until ten at night; but even as a farm laborer Ed. McMurray had a resolve to complete his public school course, and eventually become a lawyer. And it was this proud Aunt Sue who induced him finally to go to high school at St. Mary's, Ontario.

Through with high school, he was unable to take a course at Osgoode Hall, so "Mac" went west. Settling in Saskatchewan, he broke in broncbos, stooked, rustled cows, anything for a living. Acquiring a little money, he went to Normal School at Regina, qualified as a teacher, and spent several years teaching in Scottish settlements. In this way he made sufficient money to go to Winnipeg and study law.

Eventually he was called to the bar. He has been a successful lawyer. He specialized in criminal law. Of twenty-six alleged murderers defended by him, not one was to be hanged. But the case which brought him most fame was the defense of the Winnipeg strike leaders.

Mr. McMurray was the most federal minister to take the oath of office in Winnipeg. It was found less expensive to send an officer from Ottawa than to have the new solicitor-general go east.—Toronto Star Weekly.

How Mackenzie Escaped.

A racy incident in connection with the escape of William Lyon Mackenzie from Toronto to the frontier after his defeat in 1837 was related recently by Mrs. Colin H. Campbell of Winnipeg, wife of the former Attorney-General of Manitoba, and a daughter of a pioneer of Halton county. The story came in the course of an address to the members of the Council of Trafalgar township when portraits of some of the early Reeves of the township were presented at a ceremony at Trafalgar. Mrs. Campbell's father, the late Dr. Anson Buck, was a member of the Council of Trafalgar for no less than 400 years, and the whole of that part of Halton county has interesting connections with early transportation in Upper Canada and with the escape of Mackenzie.

Mrs. Campbell, in speaking of the Philip Triller homestead, near Trafalgar, said she remembered as a large colonial frame-house, painted yellow. "It has historical interest," she said, "in that in 1837 when there was a ransom for the 'rebel' leader, William Lyon Mackenzie, he was safely housed for three days and nights under this hospitable and friendly roof. When the officers of the Government were searching for Mackenzie they were so charmingly entertained by the seven beautiful daughters of the household that the great Mackenzie aided by Mr. Triller, made his escape, not before, however, he was directed whether to go and was provided with rations as he made his way to George Ghent's, at Freeman, and Gilebrt Davis', near Burlington station, from which place he made his escape, disguised as a woman, in Miss Rachael Davis' gown and bonnet. She afterward became the wife of Reeve John Buck.—Toronto Globe.

"Why do you never put on the small inner stalks of the celery, Delia?" asked her mistress.

"Do you like 'em, mum?"

"Yes, indeed."

"So do Ol."

SUFFERINGS OF U. E. L. PIONEERS PORTRAYED

W. S. Herrington, K.C., Addresses Women's Canadian Club—Speaker Urges Co-operation to Make Celebration Next Year a Success.

"We are British by conquest, not by settlement and for the most part Britishers were the first settlers in the country south of us," was the opening sentence uttered by Mr. W. S. Herrington, K.C., of Napanee, when last night he addressed the members of the Women's Canadian Club in this city. The subject of his address was "United Empire Loyalists" and it was handled in a most interesting manner. The leaving of the United States by a band of Loyalists who came to Canada, the privations they endured were vividly portrayed by the speaker who is well versed in the subject. In 1774 there was a rebellion in the States caused chiefly by taxes being levied without representations. There were two camps, one camp was that of the rebels who were the favor of armed force, the other camp were the Loyalists who did not desire to be estranged from Great Britain.

Suffer Greatly.

The Loyalists suffered great persecution and indignities were heaped upon their families. New York, the headquarters of the Loyalists had to be evacuated and as a result they left for various parts, some to Canada and some to Bermuda and twenty-six thousands went to Nova Scotia. A party of Loyalists were despatched to the head of Lake Ontario and on the shores of the Bay of Quinte they settled. This was in 1784, and it took nineteen days to make the trip from Sorel, Que., where they had wintered. At Adolphustown a number of Loyalists landed. It is hard to picture what this country looked like 140 years ago. It has changed its environments to a great extent. The Bay of Quinte, the speaker said, owed its name to the Kente band of Indians. The landing of scores of boats laden with Loyalists at Adolphustown was graphically described by Mr. Herrington. The leaders were addressed in military style and when the mill was called for the names were in evidence. The task of allotting townships to the various groups of Loyalists was by no means easy. The only weapon they had was a pen and with this they started out to hew their homes from the forest. Log houses were built and for doors a blanket was used until later saw mills were erected and doors put in. The speaker graphically described how Mr. Herrington. Settle in Hastings.

Some Loyalists settled in Hastings County and they enjoyed great benefits often suffering from hunger. The Loyalists brought scanty furniture with them and they entered into it ingeniously was furniture made. In order to secure flour it was necessary to hollow out a large stump and pound the wheat into flour by aid of a stone. Bread was baked in a tin reflector and Mrs. Kingsford toasted upon a split with a pan beneath to catch the dripping fat from the goose was first obtained from pine knots and later tallow dips which were flexible and had to be moulded by a stick in a stick. Homemade clothing was the order of the day. They grew their own flax and by a device would spin it and make a rough cloth. They tanned their own leather for the making of boots.

In concluding his address Mr. Herrington spoke of the elections were conducted for a week by the open vote. According to him there is a minute book of records of Sidney Township bearing the date of 1791, but it was possibly a later date as paper was not made in this country then.

The approaching U. E. L. celebration in Belleville this year was spoken of and co-operation of all was desired to make it a success. The Mayor-elect of this city was enthusiastic in this regard and should be counted on in his efforts.

Mrs. (Judge) J. F. Wills, who presided, on behalf of all present, tendered a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Herrington for his capable and interesting address.

The singing of the National Anthem closed the gathering.—Belleville Daily Intelligencer, Belleville, January 19th, 1924.

Then Quebec Man Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. E. D. Tremblay is Delighted With the Results Obtained.

Pointe Aux Outardes, Que., Jan. 14th, (Special).—The sterling value of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a kidney remedy is shown by the following statement of Mr. E. D. Tremblay of this town.

"I have suffered for nearly six years from rheumatism and had kidneys and was not able to stand up straight. I took 2 boxes of your Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now completely relieved of my trouble."

What Mr. Tremblay states is all that his ever friends can say of Dodd's Kidney Pills—that they are good for his kidneys.

It is astounding how some people will go on suffering day after day with backache and pain, rheumatism and backache. They suffer because they are not aware of the fact that they can get relief. Strengthen the kidneys, which are the source of the trouble and these pains vanish. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They heal and strengthen them so that they do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood.

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA.

There is interesting reading for every Canadian in the February issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, including as it does stories and articles dealing with deer and moose hunting, fishing and canoeing, photographing wild life, animal stories, guns and ammunition, talks on outdoor life, articles on trapping, and an interesting kennel department.

"A Diary of the Limberlost Hunting Club" by Harold Turbyn is a good account of this flourishing club and is written in an original style. Bonnycastle Dale the well known Canadian naturalist of Nova Scotia continues his article on "Camera Hunting before the Season opens in Nova Scotia" which is written with the author's usual ease and ability which makes his contributions outstanding. "An Indian Enoch Arden" by Martin Hunter is a tragic story of a trapper, while "Touring the Wilderness" by Roy Brayley is an article dealing with the outfit necessary for a trip into the wilds which will be of interest to all those who are planning trips. F. W. Winson has his first article "Bird and Man" which opens a series on Canadian birds, which will be written by the author's ease and ability which makes his contributions outstanding. "An Indian Enoch Arden" by Martin Hunter is a tragic story of a trapper, while "Touring the Wilderness" by Roy Brayley is an article dealing with the outfit necessary for a trip into the wilds which will be of interest to all those who are planning trips. F. W. Winson has his first article "Bird and Man" which opens a series on Canadian birds, which will be written by the author of "Kenneth"; Guns and Ammunition is particularly large this month with first class articles by E. T. D. Francis, Ashley A. Haines, Fred J. Stiff, and a large number of queries and answers.

CEDAR DALE

Who said Cedar Dale was dead or buried? I would like to know who said we were not to have any snow this winter—Drawing hay and wood ready to be the order of the day.—The trustees of School Section No. 14 must have a lot of business to attend to, as they have had two meetings already, and the school meeting called on the 19th—third one to take place Wednesday, and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Osterkirk and family have moved in and intend spending the winter months with Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron.—Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter motored through this vicinity and spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Fifth Lake.—Miss Myrtle Simmons and Miss Florence King spent Saturday evening and Sunday with friends in Tamworth.—Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and Mr. Fitzpatrick spent a Sunday recently at Mr. James Pierce's.—Mrs. Doris Wagar and Miss Vera Snider have gone to Watertown.—Some of the farmers in this vicinity were very much disappointed over there being no election.—Mr. and Mrs. Cameron and Mr. Irvine Osterkirk have returned home, after spending some time in Watertown.—Messrs. George Kelly and Arch Black made a business trip to Mr. James Cameron's, one evening last week.

THE VALUE OF THE MALE BIRD.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

A bred-to-lay male bird should have four things, namely, vigor, equal constitution because the lack of any of them will adversely affect the offspring, the bred-to-lay character, breed type, bred-to-lay breeding, constitution and vigour.

The male bird should be fairly typical of the breed he represents. If he does not possess breed type he is generally one of the flock will not be uniform and the sale of his progeny, especially the male progeny, will be very limited. No good poultry breeder purchases male birds simply because they are male birds. Breed type in the male either sets or scatters type in the progeny flock.

That the male should be of the right breeding is of the greatest importance to the poultry breeder who has the desired object. There is no surer way to failure than to introduce a male bird of a poor producing line. The degree of success met with in the poultry business largely depends upon the male. It depends almost entirely on the amount of high producing blood he has in him. Certainly a male should have produced 200 eggs or over in her pullet year, and if his grandmother has laid 200 eggs or over in her pullet year, so much the better. His sire should be the son of a high producing hen, and the more high producing females the male side of his pedigree carries, the greater are his chances of transmitting on that desirable character to his progeny. So important is this male character that good bred-to-lay strain can be ruined in one season by an inferior male.

Constitution is very necessary if the success of a male breeding flock is to be maintained. To improve the laying ability of a flock is wasted energy unless the flock is given a constitution to withstand the strain of high production. A male of poor constitution seldom if ever passes on rugged constitutions to his offspring. The right kind of a male bird is one well grown for his age, and that stands straight on his legs. He should have a good full breast, good depth of body, and above all, a good masculine head.

Vigor is also very important for without vigor the hatchings from the male mating would necessarily be poor. Vigor in the male bird will give good fertile eggs that will hatch strong chicks, the kind that can kick the shell to the other side of the incubator, dry off rapidly, become fluffy, and get well along in the way to maturity with a low death rate and the least trouble and greatest profit to their owner.

Foot Saved in 4 Days!

"Nothing but Zam-Buk could have done it," says Mrs. A. Berryman, 106, John Street, North, Hamilton,—in describing how her right foot, kicked by a waggon wheel, was healed. "The thick skin became bruised, blackened and inflamed, and I fainted away with pain. When it was quite impossible for me to move about, my husband's mother got me to try Zam-Buk. It was surprising! Within TWO DAYS all swelling and discoloration had disappeared and pain was banished. In FOUR DAYS, through this timely use of Zam-Buk, I could get about as usual; the injured foot was thoroughly healed."

Zam-Buk is the powerful antiseptic healer which quickly frees the skin of corruption and disease and grows new healthy tissue. No common ointment or salve can possibly compare with Zam-Buk. Get a box to-day! 50c. all dealers or FREE SAMPLE for 1c. postage from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Remover will remove them.

Soap-box orator—The time is comin', my friends, when every man will do what he likes, an' if he don't he'll be made to.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, be certain in its action, while fully effective, is mild.

Inquiring Willie—Father, what do they mean by a mathematical genius?

His Discouraged Dad—That the income never will equal the outgo in a family like mine.

The Oil of the People.—Many oils have come and gone, but Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil continues to maintain its popularity and increase its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and keep it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Those who have benefited by it and would use no other preparation.

"What are the things that count most in this life?" asked the Sunday School teacher.

"Adding machines and bookkeepers," replied the small boy, who had been in his father's office.

Sores Flee Before It.—There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

"What are they quiet during the first part of the dinner, and every one forgot that he was there. As dessert was being served, however, the host said a story.

When he had finished and the laughing had ceased, his little son calmly remarked delightfully:

"Now, father, tell the other one."

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, bo-ing these worms are of the most variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

"What's the matter, old boy?" asked Jimmie's friend. "I've never seen you looking so sorry."

"I've got to go aboard at once," remarked Jimmie, gloomily.

"Nonsense! Your doctors mustn't frighten you out of your life like that."

"It wasn't a doctor. It was a lawyer."

Like a Grip at the Throat.—For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is none more likely to cause more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful remedial agent. It immediately relieves and in restricted air passages thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

A man who had lived several years on a tropical South Sea island came on board a steamer. He sought out a cool dealer and asked him the price of a glass of lemonade. The dealer replied:

"What's the matter?" whispered the former South Sea man. "Have you been drinking?"

"Nonsense!" replied the dealer. "I'm not drunk. He was probably created by the heat. It was probably created by a retired sea captain who felt like a fish out of water and he had been on the island himself the same environment to which he had been used during his many years at sea. One can imagine the old gentleman taking his evening walk to and fro along the beach, and scanning the surrounding scenery with a sailor's eye and half inclined now and then to give the order "more speed" or to send an order down the tube to the steersman.

Too Late For That.

Complainant (making a charge against his wife)—The hussy bit a piece out of my ear, your honor.

Judge—I will bind her over to keep the peace.

Complainant—You can't; she's thrown the piece away.

"I'm so sorry your wife couldn't come to our party. We'll miss her terribly."

"So will I. I'll have nobody to remind me on the way home of the bad breaks I made."

WHEN TIMES ARE HARD

HOW PEOPLE HAVE MADE ENDS MEET IN DAYS GONE BY.

Some of the Schemes Employed to Put to Rout the Wolf at the Door Have Served to Tide Over the Period of Strain, While Some Have Led to Fortune In After Years.

Many ways of making a living when times are hard have been adopted by live men who refuse to admit by their actions that they are sit idle when the factory gates are closed against them. Of the many these schemes take over the head of the household, many are the ways in which the family has been helped to tide over the period of future fortune. Some of these methods are fairly common, while others are of native talent and "dark-ability."

Oyster and clam shells collected from fish stores and baked in ovens and crushed fine for poultry feed, or used as a part of the mixture for a whole blacksmith, during a spell of slack trade.

Making and selling gravy salt secured a competence for a tailor. His boiled away enormous quantities of salt, pepper and burnt sugar until the whole were a thick sugar until the whole were a thick gravy, then, cut into small pieces and wrapped in wax paper he sold them from door to door.

With her last few dollars a woman purchased materials for a grist. She made up a set of swadding clothes and sold them, and continued the process. To-day that woman does an international trade.

An upholsterer asked a lady if she had any old chairs in the shed. Upon finding that such was the case and that a plush curtain had also been discarded, he persuaded the lady to allow him to remove the chairs with the old plush. Two hours later the man surprised the lady with the effects of his handiwork. She gave him a dollar. The same man on another occasion made a waste-paper basket cover for a parlor chair out of an old sheet. This man is earning a good livelihood this way.

A widow made and sold covers for brooms, made from cloth left over from garments the housewife to complete the dusting of the ceiling without changing the Curtin.

Old blankets made of sawdust and resin started one man on the way to fortune. He sells them for coal-dust like and coal oil, another.

Bed bug exterminators are here named and cheap flour is a lucrative means of starting business without much capital.

A pair of cycle wheels and a small grand stone were the means of starting a thriving line for a knife grinder.

Wire has been used in various forms for a go in this line, and it can be admitted to many uses was successfully tried by a Toronto man. Wire baskets for a quarter. Flower baskets, coathangers and tie clips have been made and sold by this ingenious person. Speaking of flower and fern baskets reminds us of the country.

Gathering ferns and trapping small fur-bearing animals, such as muskrats, squirrels, etc., may be done on the outskirts of most cities. The returns from this industry are small.

Selling discarded clocks, mending broken dishes and china with a solution made from celluloid, raw linseed oil, repairing bird cages, locks and making keys have been tried and found useful means of helping to tide over the lean years. Cleaning cellars, beating rugs, cutting and rolling grass plots and selling kindling wood, repairing fences, mending lawns, moulding concrete blocks have been among the means employed when work was scarce and funds low.

Key tags are made with the aid of a small set of letter dies and blanks that can be purchased at the hardware store. A Montreal man has accumulated property by this means. That poison ejected into the runs of the rodents procures a living for another man in Montreal.

Soliciting business for lawyers and shop repairers, collecting money owing for dockers and storekeepers, repolishing furniture, scraping old floors, laying linoleum, fitting window, wiring wooden chairs that have become loose in their joints, have brought grist to the mill.

Bobbies have been turned into cabmen, and elbow, who loved cats, became capable of tending to their needs when they were sick, that the Cats' Protection as a specialist, and doctors and poultry specialists are among interior fanciers who have profited by experience.

Show cards with movable letters for store windows can be made at home and bring in a profit.

Assisting foreigners in becoming naturalized citizens, selling home-made water filters, making dolls and soft toys, patching leaky pots and kettles with the aid of a solder-ing iron and colder have been means of helping together large, fat, body and soul, when the lack of steady employment has brought the spirit of poverty to the man.

Hundreds of men with the "gift of gab" have tried street selling or "touting." Sometimes these stunts have been genuine and profitable.

The gyroscope top became famous after a Montreal man had demonstrated its amazing qualities on the streets.

The virtues of some cellar butters were unknown until men sold them at the street corners; but the lack of novelties causes folks to find other means.

"Silver plating done" made from electricity and nitric acid is generous and useless, but has sometimes proved money for the fakir. "Horses Bays," made from the pill boxes and a fakir.

YELLOW PINE.

British Columbia Threatened With Early Depletion of This Tree.

British Columbia is threatened with early depletion of its yellow pine forests.

There is probably thirty-five years supply of yellow pine of all grades and only ten to fifteen years' supply of merchantable timber of the quality being cut at the present time.

These facts are revealed in a report just made public by the Forest Branch of the Provincial Department of Lands. The Southern States, for years the world's principal source of yellow pine timber, are reported to be gradually nearing exhaustion of that species and now British Columbia's resources, with normal cutting, have only a few more years before then unless prompt measures are taken to ensure reproduction.

Since our virgin stands of yellow pine contain mainly of mature timber and advance reproduction, will be faced in the near future with large areas of young growth and very little saw material," states the report. "The Yellow pine timber contains the main reserve, one mill cutting about half of the total output of the province. There is still considerable waste, mainly due to cutting standard-grade logs and the use of sound pine for logging improvements where inferior material is available."

Owing to the relatively high commercial importance of yellow pine and the rapidly diminishing supply, the Forest Branch undertook an investigation last year into the characteristics shown by the species throughout its range, the rate of growth, the effect of fire, logging, and insects on the crop prospects of the future. The Branch reached these conclusions. That all young growth should be guarded in logging operations; that seed trees should be left wherever possible; that fir should be removed and the pine left in fir-pine stands; that trees to be cut should be blazed below stump height and distinctively branded, and that all slash should be piled on the stumps and tops away from young growth and burned at a time when least damage will be done to advanced reproduction.

Canada and Australasia.

During the last two years the business done by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine between Canada and Australasia has more than doubled in value. Steadily since the first ship of the Canadian Government lines carried the first cargo across the Pacific to the sister nations : the British Commonwealth trade has developed with a steady momentum that has given a stimulus also forward in commerce within the Empire.

Such, briefly, is the encouraging message brought to Canadians by George E. Hunting, Australian manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, and general traffic agent for the Canadian National Railways in Australia and New Zealand. For some years past Mr. Hunting has represented these Canadian interests in the two Dominions of the Southern Pacific and is thoroughly familiar with industrial and economic conditions in both countries. With headquarters at Auckland, he has travelled extensive in Australasia, and has done much toward the building up of trade with Canada.

"Industrial conditions throughout Australia and New Zealand, in general, are very satisfactory," he says. "In both countries crops in addition are very satisfactory. The figures declining with exports and imports to their own stock. Canada we get automobiles and manufactured articles of all varieties, and Canada in some wool, hides, skins, hemp and other natural products. There is still much that can be done, however, if manufacturers in both countries would be more active in investigating markets and sources of supply. There are a number of Australian products which would find a ready market here, while the same conditions obtain as to Canadian products."

Trade of Dominion.

An increase of over three hundred million dollars in the total of Canadian trade in the twelve months ended October 31, last, as compared with the previous twelve-month period, is shown in the monthly summary issued recently by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

For the twelve months which ended October 31 last, the total of Canadian exports and imports was $1,920,721,554, while in the period ended October 31, 1922, they amounted to $1,569,401,350. The increase therefore amounted to $351,320,204. Total imports during the period just ended were $912,-452,278, of which goods to the value of $604,897,491 paid duty and $310,-561,817 entered Canada free. In the previous twelve-month period the total imports amounted to $740,-261,774 divided into $497,716,093 dutiable and $242,545,662 free.

Exports of Canadian commodities during the twelve months ended October 31 last amounted to $994,426,-069. In addition to this foreign goods to the value of $13,826,207 were exported from Canada, making a grand total of $1,008,252,276. The total value of exports in the period ended October 31, 1922, was $829,-139,579, of which $815,520,510 was Canadian and $13,619,069 foreign.

Yields in Canada.

The average yield of wheat in Canada this year is 20.34 bushels an acre, according to a second estimate compiled by the Bureau of Statistics. The wheat yield is approximately three bushels an acre higher than in 1922. The total estimated crop for the year, in comparison with the 1922 crop follows: Wheat, 69,761,-000, against 399,786,400; oats, 351,-075,000, against 21,842,300; rye, 20,326,000 against 32,272,400; mixed grains, 29,080,000, against 27,-767,769; flax, 6,342,000, against 5,508,599.

"I'm afraid father-in-law doesn't care much about me," said the young man. "He finds fault with most everything I do."
"Nonsense," replied his wife. "You don't know his ways. He is treating you just like one of the family."

INFANT PRODIGY ONCE ; NOW $23-A-WEEK CLERK

William J. Sidis, son of the late Dr. Boris Sidis, internationally known authority on psycho-pathology, has become a mere cog in the works—though a somewhat obscure one. At twenty-six, the boy prodigy of 1909 is working for $23 a week as a clerk in the statistical division of an uptown office. In 1909 young Sidis, a rosy-cheeked eleven-year-old boy in short trousers, delivered a lecture on the fourth dimension before Harvard professors and instructors of mathematics. His subject was not a mere parlor trick that he had acquired by rote. He proved this by answering freely all the questions the astonished professors could ask.

Could Read and Write at 2.

At the age of two William James Sidis could read and write; at seven he passed the Harvard Medical School examinations in anatomy, at that time having mastered elementary mathematics; at eight, when he could speak French, Russian, English and German, and possessed a knowledge of Latin and Greek, he passed the entrance examinations of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; at ten he entered Tufts, and at eleven—about the time he lectured before the professors of mathematics—he entered Harvard. The boy received his bachelor of arts degree in 1914, at the age of sixteen. After two years in the school of arts and sciences and in the law school he became an instructor in mathematics in Rice Institute at Houston, Tex. That was in 1918. On May 1, 1919, he was arrested with eleven others in a Socialistic demonstration in Boston. The charge against him was assaulting an officer. He was found guilty of rioting and was sentenced to eighteen months in the House of Correction. He appealed and defaulted, two warrants being issued for his arrest. Then he dropped from sight.

Gets Adding Machine.

About six months ago persons in New York who were interested in young Sidis tried to find a job for him. They finally succeeded in placing him with the concern for which he is now working, but not without difficulty, for he insisted upon being given work that did not require too much thinking. To-day there is an adding machine beside the desk of the quiet personality that at eleven years of age was puzzling Harvard professors with original theorems concerning the fourth dimension. The true proportions of the tragedy that young Sidis represents may not be measured at a glance. There was the death at Portsmouth, N.H., last October of his father. The person who conveyed the sad news over the telephone to young Sidis was berated for troubling him about something in which he was not interested. He did not go to the funeral and he has shut himself off from contact with his mother. In a treatise published the year in which he entered Harvard Dr. Sidis fairly bombarded the modern system of education with epigrams. His brochure was entitled, "Philistine and Genius".

Flayed Education.

Here are some exerpts from it :
"We regard the child's mind as a tabula rasa, a vacant lot, and empty it in our rubbish and refuse."
"Our educators are owl wise; our teachers are pedants and all their ambition is the turning out of smooth, well-polished philistines. It is a sad case of blind leading the blind."
"What can be expected of a nation that inflicts the fate of its young to the care or carelessness of college girls, to the pet of old maids and to scttifogging officials, with their educational red tape, discipline and routine."
"The time is at hand when we shall be justified in writing over our school shops 'Mediocrity made here'."
"The savage compresses the skull of the infant, while we flatten the brain and cramp the mind of the young generation."
As one of the tide of humanity that ebbs and flows at 9 and 5 each week day in New York, young Sidis is distinguished, only by being less careful of his appearance than the average New York clerk. Chided recently for a seeming lack of ambition, he said :—

Values His Privacy.

"All I want is a little greater margin than I have, so I may put something aside for a rainy day."
"But don't you care about books, the theatre, girls, automobiles, all the things that are denied you on $23 a week?"
Sidis merely shrugged his shoulders.
When interviewed the other day by the New York Tribune, young Sidis was wearing a cheap brown suit, much too tight for his lean frame. He had not been shaved; his reddish moustache was a ragged fringe that appeared to have been whacked off with a pair of manicure scissors. His mop of mouse-colored hair was in need of trimming. His necktie was in a hard knot that did not come within inches of his collar. He insists that he is not going to have his privacy invaded, and says that if people pester him he will move on to some other place. It is certain, however, that he will not go to the country.

Stumps was shaving himself, when he made a slight cut on the end of his nose. He called to his wife for sticking plaster, and was told to look in her sewing basket. At the office everyone who entered his sanctum smiled. Considerably annoyed, he asked his partner if there was anything wrong with his appearance.
"I should say there is," was the reply. "What's on your nose?"
"Sticking plaster."
"No! It is the label from a spool of cotton, and it says, 'Warranted 200 yards'."
"My life," said the egotost in a sober mood, "is not a path of roses."
"That's strange," remarked his critical friend, "you are always throwing bouquets at yourself."

Clerk—Did the umbrella you are looking for have a hooked handle?
Owner—The entire umbrella was hooked.

GLENVALE

The worst snow storm of the season came on Saturday and Sunday last, making the roads impassable for the election on Monday, until the roads were dragged out.—Who says the "glen" is dead? Well, when it comes to election it is quite alive. Seven or eight teams were drawing voters, and we were successful in having two of our neighbors elected, W. Cordukes for Deputy Reeve and Byron Gordon for Councillor for the coming year.—Mrs. G. Jeffrey spent Sunday last at Mrs. J. B. Aikenbrack's, Bethel.—Margaret Eldredge who has been in town since Christmas, has returned home.—Miss Isabelle Jeffrey and Mr. J. E. Ford visited at Mr. and Mrs. Perry Aikenbrack's, last week.— Miss Mildred Orser is in Kingston.—Harvey Clark has returned to Dexter, N.Y., after spending the holidays under the parental roof.—There were no services in either church last Sunday owing to the bad roads.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jeffrey took tea at Mr. T. Purdy's, Cataract, last Sunday.—Mrs. Garnet Ellerbeck is all smiles; a nice girlie struck her way.—Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Jeffrey and baby, Lucien, and Doc. Aitcheson visited at Mr. George Jeffrey's, on Wednesday evening.

WEST PLAIN

The farmers in this vicinity are showing their appreciation of the recent snow by hauling wood to Napanee.

The West Plain Sunday School accepted the cordial invitation to the home of Mr. John Bolton, and spent a very enjoyable evening there, on Friday, January 4th. During the evening a Reference Bible and gold pencil was presented to Mrs. W. G. Pringle by her Sunday School class. The presentation was made by the Misses Tressa Denison and Velma Davis, and the following address was read by Miss Violet Pringle :

Dear Mrs. Pringle,—We, the members of your class, are gathered here to-night to give you this Bible and pencil. We wish you to accept them as a loving token of your faithful interest in our class. We realize that it has oftentimes been a heavy task and yet always a sweet one, since it is in your Master's service, but you have always been willing and cheerful. May you be long spared to encourage and direct us to become true children of the Heavenly Kingdom.

Signed on behalf of the class,
MR. BELTON, Supt.
TRESSA DENISON,
VELMA DAVIS.

HAWLEY

The old year passed away rather stormy. We hope the last day will rule the new year.—Owing to the storm, the concert held here on New Years Eve, was not very well attended. A number of those present had considerable trouble getting home as the roads were in a dangerous condition. The programme given by Mr. Cook, the great Indian entertainer, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Sexsmith, of Bath, was first-class and enjoyed by all. A musical dialogue given by little Miss Mildred Wales and Master Clarence Hicks, and an address by the chairman, Mr. E. J. Sexsmith, was also much appreciated. Only fifty percent can realize what others missed.—The regular meeting of the W. M. S., which was held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Smith, on Wednesday, was well attended.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Parks and daughter, Florence, of Anderson, and Mr. W. W. Davis, of Napanee, spent Sunday of last week at Gordon Parks'.—Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Creighton at J. C. Creighton's, on Wednesday.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wansley and son, Harold, at J. C. Creighton's, on Friday.—We are glad to hear that Mrs. Clayton Parks, who has been on the sick list, is improving.

HARLOWE

The weather is still quite springlike, and with the roads beautiful everyone is improving the time, some sawing wood and others logwood.—John Deline is sawing wood for different ones with his wood saw.—The dance at Wesley Goode's, on Friday night was much enjoyed by the young people.—Mr. Harold Clancy and Mr. Andrew Clancy spent Sunday at Mrs. C. N. Bott's.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bott spent the evening with Arden on Thursday.—Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Thompson called on Mrs. Estella Bott one evening this week.— Miss Gladys Thompson spent Friday evening with her friend, Dorothy Bleaky.—Mr. Wm. Marshall returned home on Friday evening from Hurmon; also Paul Baker, who has been employed as cook.—Mr. Oral Miller at Thos. Whiteman's, on Sunday.—Claude Parks at Jacob Miller's.—W. Black at J. Grey's.—Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Thompson and family at Thos. Thompson's, on Sunday.—The Perry and Vogan lumber men are busy hauling their timber to sawing places.

Kingston Curlers Won.

The Kingston Curlers were the winners in the Ontario Tankard games against rinks from Napanee, Belleville and Rockwood, played at the local rink Tuesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon Napanee and Rockwood played two keenly-contested games, one being a tie, 14-14, and the other a 21-12 victory for Napanee. Kingston and Belleville also met in two games in the afternoon, the latter winning out in each game and by the total score of 28 to 26 for the two games. In the evening Kingston played Napanee and won out by the score of 25 to 26 for the two games, one being won by each team, but Kingston piling up a large score in the second game. The local players will now go to Toronto for further play in the Ontario Tankard series.—Kingston Standard.

Secty.-Treas.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

To Mrs. John Copeland and family.
We, the officers and members of L. O. L. No. 159, wish to convey to you our deep sympathy on the death of your dear husband and father. To us he was a brother whom we shall greatly miss. Long before many of us who are now members, had entered the mystic portals of Orangeism, he had become a member, and for more than sixty years, he took active interest in all the work and welfare of the Society. As we mark his genial kindly presence, we realize that your loss is greater than ours, and we pray that the memory of his long and kindly life, may be your consolation, and may the Divine Father of us all make the sympathy which we, and others have expressed, a comfort to you in the sadness of your bereavement.
Signed on behalf of the Lodge,
H. A. CLOSE, W.M.
W. H. CLARKE, Chaplain.

OBITUARY

Sarah Jane Thompson.

When the late Sarah Jane Thompson, aged 87 years, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Walter Pyrner, 2nd Concession of Ameliasburg Township, Mountain View, on Sunday morning, January 6th, the break in the lines of generations of that family occurred, because, who was the widow of the late Charles Thompson, was born on February 22nd, 1834, in Adolphustown, and was of United Empire Loyalist stock. She lived in Prince Edward County almost the whole of her life. Two daughters and one son survive. They are Mrs. James Spencer, of Bloomfield, and Mrs. George W. Pyrner, at whose home she died, and one son, Emerson, of Seattle. She was an aunt of Mrs. Archie Howie, Mount Pleasant, Napanee.

OBITUARY

Mrs. E. P. Windover.

It was with the deepest regret that the many friends learned of the death of (Nyeta) beloved wife of E. P. Windover, of Sarnia.

Less than a year and a half ago she left Napanee with the best wishes of a host of friends. By her kind and cheerful disposition she had endeared herself to all with whom she was in any way associated. Her life was full of active work, of service to God, and kindly thoughts and deeds to others. She was a member of Trinity Church and Ready Helpers Class, Napanee, and the Albert Bible Class of Divine Street Methodist Church, Sarnia.

She leaves to mourn the loss of herself and baby girl, whose new form rests upon the mother's arm in the casket, a devoted husband, a loving mother and an only sister.

The remains were brought to Napanee on Sunday, accompanied by her mother and husband, and on Monday at 2.30 p.m. the funeral proceeded from the home of W. S. Exley to Trinity Church, where the service was conducted by Rev. W. R. Tanton, Pastor of Trinity Church, and Rev. R. J. P. Anderson, a friend of the deceased. The beautiful floral tributes expressed the esteem in which the deceased was held.—Napanee Sarnia and Napanee friends. — (Sarnia papers please copy).

Mrs. R. J. Dickinson.

Annie E. Schryver, beloved wife of Mr. R. J. Dickinson, passed away with startling suddenness on Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. Dickinson had been around the house all day attending to her usual work and had retired when she was taken with a smothering sensation and called Miss Allen, who had been staying with her, for help. Miss Allen immediately came to her assistance, but nothing could be done to relieve her and she passed away in a short time. Deceased was one who was ever ready to give of her time and talents to the furtherance of every laudable or charitable cause, and her years of work as teacher in the primary class of Trinity Sunday School, and her efforts among the young people, endeared her to a wide circle of friends. The funeral took place from her late residence to Trinity Church on Sunday afternoon, and despite the unfavorable weather the church was filled with friends who wished to pay their last tribute to a warm friend. Besides her sorrowing husband and son, Mr. Grant Dickinson, she leaves one sister, Mrs. Toby and Mr. Caroline, Picton, and one brother, Mr. G. L. Schryver, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Lawrence Way.

A shadow has been cast over the Village of Tamworth, and indeed over the whole township, by the passing of one of our oldest residents and most esteemed friends, Mr. Lawrence Way, whose death took place on January 19th.

The late Mr. Way has been known and respected among us for many years, having carried on a successful insurance business in this district for twenty-five years. Last October he was taken ill, weather the effects of which was owing to ill health. His sufferings were borne with such patience and cheerfulness that we did not realize the end was so near, and his passing was a shock to many.

The host of friends who visited the house of mourning to pay their respects to the dead, and to offer sympathy to the bereaved family, was a token of the esteem in which he was held in the community, as Larry Way (as he was affectionately known), was a friend to all, regardless of politics or religion. The floral and spiritual offerings were numerous.

In spite of the intense cold on Monday morning, a large procession followed the remains to the Church of the Assumption at Erinsville, where a solemn requiem mass was sung for the eternal repose of his soul, by Rev. Father J. J. O'Reilly. The altar boys assisting were Patrick Way and James Way, grandnephews of the deceased. The pall bearers were Messrs. P. J. Hopkins, J. B. Carscallen, L. P. Wells, Isaac Harrison, Wm. O'Keefe of Tweed, and P. J. Whalen. Mrs. Way leaves to mourn his loss a widow, formerly Miss Hannah Goodwin, of Picton; two daughters, Miss Margaret Way, nurse at Toronto; Mrs. Dr. O'Connor, of Tamworth, and three sons, Mr. Afrian Way, Mrs. Cotworth; Mr. George Way, of Port Mc-Nichol, Ont., and Mr. Allan Way of Kamloops, B.C.

The community shares the loss of the sorrowing family and extends heartfelt sympathy to them in their bereavement.

ANDERSON

The social evening held at the home of Mr. J. R. Ackerman was a decided success. There were about fifty present. Miss Florence Parks and brother, Rockwell, started the day afternoon in progressive crokinole, and Miss Grace Bowen and Mr. Ross Card were the lucky ones in the guessing contest. — Mr. and Mrs. A. Parks and family took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. Card on Wednesday. — Mrs. W. Baird entertained the Ladies' Aid Tuesday afternoon. —Messrs. Sam Baird and Dempster Parks have returned home from Toronto.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Parks and family spent Sunday at G. Parks', Lonsdale. — The community services are still being held on the circuit. On Sunday evening Mr. Rockwell Parks gave a very instructive talk on "Jacob", and Mr. Floyd Bowen on "Joseph", both of which were very much appreciated by the congregation.—Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Howell and baby spent Sunday at A. Hambly's.

NEWBURGH

Life is full of troubles"; any deal in you to-day? How often we hear the two expressions. They do not seem to mate, or run well together, and yet they are more related to each other than we think.

How much of life's troubles would be averted if the majority of deals were out of it. Life, after all, is a simple thing if we did not load it down with our own plans and purposes. Deals do not always mean fair exchange, and it is the possibility of unfairness that brings anxiety to those engaged in them.

Men will often run the risk of losing their reputation in order to make a sharp deal, leaving only a narrow margin between sharpness and rascality; and it is working on this close margin that brings a lot of life's troubles. How much better it would be if all could live up to the motto:

"A peaceful spirit, a mind at ease.
And simple pleasures that always please."

This can only be attained by denying out in our lives the principle of the golden rule, "Do unto others as we would that they should do to us."

To follow this rule is to have acquired the true philosophy of life, and troubles and deals will be faced bravely and honestly.

Miss McEwen, of the Public School staff, is still sick, and her place is being supplied by Mrs. McNicol, of the village, who is a qualified teacher.

Mrs. Lockwood, relict of the late Robert Lockwood, passed away on Thursday last. Mrs. Lockwood was 82 years old and a lifelong resident of Newburgh. Her maiden name was Files. She was a member of a family of eight children, all of whom predeceased her except one sister, Mrs. Lakie, of Chicago. One brother, Chester, was at one time prominent in municipal politics in Newburgh, being Reeve of the village for a time.'

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Files have made a contribution to the population of Newburgh, and a bright young life, full of possibilities, to their own home.

Mrs. J. A. Youmans, South River Road, Fredericksburgh, spent the week-end here visiting friends.

Miss Simpkins, of Wilton, is visiting her niece, Mrs. Vanderwater.

Miss Brown, an old lady of 90 years, received quite a bad fall on Monday while attending to some household duties.

Mr. Stewart Gandier has taken a position in the Standard Bank here.

At a meeting of the Canadian Girls-in-Training the following question was debated: "Resolved, that a horse and buggy is more satisfactory than an automobile." The affirmative had the best of the argument.

WEDDING BELLS.

Brewer—Pierson.

At the Church of the Epiphany, with Rev. Canon Dixon officiating, was solemnized the marriage of Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cory Pierson, to Mr. Bertram Brewer, of Toronto, only son of Mrs. H. H. Galt, Stillville. The church was very beautifully decorated with baskets of roses and carnations and daffodils, with tall standards of roses and fern on the altar. The bride was given away by her father, and she wore a lovely gown of silver cloth veiled in embossed net, with tight fitting bodice and very full hooped skirt. Her tulle veil was arranged in coronet effect with orange blossoms and she was a train of the silver cloth. She carried a shower of orchids, sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Flossie Stephenson was her bridesmaid, and she wore a pretty French gown of aquamarine blue crepe, with Russian bandeau of silver, brilliants, and pearls. She carried an armful of premier roses. The best man was Mr. Charles Webster and the ushers were Mr. John McKee and Mr. M. J. Short. After the ceremony, a reception was held at 2 Wilton avenue, the home of the bride's parents, where the rooms were bright with spring flowers of many shades. The bride's table, in the centre of which was the cake, was done in roses and iris and daffodils. Mrs. Pierson, mother of the bride, wore a becoming gown of sapphire blue cut velvet with trappings of grey georgette, a small black hat, and corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Galt, mother of the groom, was in black charmeuse, with black hat. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer left for a honeymoon in New York, the bride traveling in a dress of dark blue corded silk, with smart black fur and veil wrap; and on their return they will live in Toronto.

HOCKEY

Point Anne 3, Napanee 1.

The opening game in Napanee of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League took place on Friday evening, when the old rivals, Point Anne and Napanee, were the contestants, the former winning by a score of 3-1. It was a real game of hockey, fast and flashy in spots, and kept the large crowd of spectators on their toes all the time. Goyer, of Belleville, was the best man on the ice, followed closely by L. Spencer, who stick-handled his way through the entire Point Anne team at fit time after time, only to be stopped by Boland, in goal. Napanee's only counter was realized one of Spencer's spectacular rushes. The game was fairly clean, as hockey goes, very few penalties being handed out, the teams sharing about equally. All the Napanee boys played well, but are a little light in weight. They had more shots on goal than the visitors, but were unlucky in placing them where Boland could not stock them. Point Anne scored one goal in each period, Napanee scoring in the second. The playing of the local team would be more effective if they would indulge in more combination work instead of so much individual work. There is a time in the game for both, but Napanee plays altogether too much solo.

Following is the line-up:

Point Anne—Goal, Boland; defence, R. Tompkins, J. Maracle; right wing, M. Green; centre, F. Goyer; left wing, B. Brant; subs., G. Gaulin, H. Genereaux.

Napanee—Goal, H. Finn; defence, L. Spencer, F. Bentley; right wing, I. Spencer; centre, F. Huffman; left wing, J. Naphin; subs., H. Babcock (goal), H. Johnson, C. Vanalstine.

Referee—J. A. Casterton, Kingston.

Belleville 4, Kingston 2.

The Young Irishmen, of Kingston, visited Belleville on Friday evening and were defeated 4-2 after a well played game. Belleville scored two goals in the first period and two in the third, while Kingston got their pair in the second.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, R. McCarthy; defence, T. Angrove, C. Millan; right wing, C. Devlin; centre, B. Kane; left wing, E. Watts; subs., A. Angrove, G. Logue (goal).

Belleville—Goal, K. Scott; defence, N. Goyer, W. Canning; right wing, Symons; centre, Whelan; left wing, Armstrong; subs., Hibbard (goal), Williams, Hay.

Referee—R. Gilmour, Point Anne.

Kingston 11, Napanee 6.

Despite the inclement weather Tuesday evening a large crowd gathered at the Arena to see the game between the Young Irish and Napanee. This was Kingston's hoo hoo evening, as they were unable to secure the rink they asked that a game be played here. The Kingston boys are a fast team and while the visited Napanee so far this season and won out by a score of 11-6, they played a much faster game the second period, when they scored 5 Kingston's 3. With the score 7-6 in favor of Napanee, after a very creditable defence, was ruled off for the remainder of the game, whereupon the ice the boys from the east had scored three more goals and were on easy street. The downfall of the Napanee team can be partially credited to their failure to pass the puck. When they did pass it on Tuesday night they invariably scored.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, B. McCarthy; defence, T. Angrove, M. Bennett; right wing, C. Millen; centre, B. Lane; left wing, E. Watts; subs., C. Devlin, A. Angrove.

Napanee—Goal, H. Finn; defence, L. Spencer, F. Bentley; right wing, I. Spencer; centre, J. McNeil; left wing, F. Huffman; subs., H. Babcock (goal), H. Johnston, J. Naphin.

Referee—Stan. Nurse, Belleville.

Belleville 3, Point Anne 2.

Belleville kept up their winning streak by defeating Point Anne in Belleville, on Wednesday evening, by 3-2. Point Anne Belleville scored one goal in each period, while Point Anne netted two in the second.

Following is the line-up:

Point Anne—Goal, P. Boland; defence, R. Tompkins, J. Maracle; right wing, M. Green; centre, F. Goyer; left wing, B. Brant; subs., H. Genereaux, F. Boland.

Belleville—Goal, K. W. Scott; defence, W. Canning, N. Goyer; right wing, Armstrong; centre, Whelan; left wing, A. Armstrong; subs., F. Hibbard (goal), J. Williams, G. Arnott.

Referee—G. T. Walters, Napanee.

Games Scheduled.

Friday, Jan. 25th—Napanee at Kingston.

Saturday, Jan. 26th—Belleville at Kingston.

Wednesday, Jan. 30th.—Kingston at Point Anne.

Wednesday, Jan. 30th—Belleville at Napanee.

Belleville at Napanee.

On Wednesday evening next the Belleville team will visit Napanee and a fast and interesting game is assured. The Belleville boys are out for the silver mug and it remains for Napanee to set them back a notch. The locals are playing good hockey and deserve the support of all lovers of the game. The puck will be faced at 8 p.m. sharp, and the game will be handled by an efficient referee from Kingston.

COUNTY COUNCIL

W. H. MILLING, REEVE OF NORTH FREDERICKSBURGH, ELECTED WARDEN.

Council met in the Council Chamber at the Court House on Tuesday afternoon.

Reeve Hugh Milling, of North Fredericksburgh, was unanimously elected Warden for 1924.

His Honor Judge Madden administered the oath of office, after the newly elected Warden took his seat.

Rev. Mr. Tanton opened the session with a short service.

Warden-elect Milling briefly expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him in electing him to the highest office in the gift of the Council, and hoped the members of the County Council would be attentive to business, do their best to expedite the business coming before the Council, and use all due economy in the expenditure of the County funds.

Ex-Warden J. S. Johnson, R. W. Paul and J. Hannah briefly addressed the Council and congratulated the Warden on his accession to the chair.

The new members, Messrs. Council, Loyst, Graham and Mellow, also congratulated the new Warden, and briefly made their maiden speeches. Other members of the Council added their congratulations to those already expressed.

Mr. E. J. Corkill also briefly addressed the Council.

Rev. W. R. Tanton also congratulated the Warden on his elevation to the Warden's chair, and his pleasure in being present to open the session.

On motion of Messrs. McNeely and Loyst, the following were named a committee to strike the Standing Committees: Messrs. W. C. T. Loyst, J. L. Smith, R. W. Paul, R. J. Campbell, M. J. Graham, J. Hannah.

An amendment was moved by Mr. Paul, seconded by Mr. Young, and carried with the addition of Messrs. Johnson and Young.

Mr. Graham presented the report of the Committee to strike the Standing Committees for the year, as follows:—

Finance Committee—Messrs. Loyst, Graham, Mellow, Smith and Coates.

MOST EXTRAORDINARY HOUSE IN AMERICA

One of the most extraordinary houses in the world is that built in San Jose, Cal., by the late Sarah L. Winchester, widow of the son of the founder of the Winchester firearms concern. It took thirty-eight years to build and is yet unfinished, and is supposed to have absorbed some $5,000,000 of the eccentric woman's wealth. "Eccentric" is perhaps too mild a word. She was obviously insane, and apparently under the influence of unscrupulous spiritists, for she believed that as long as the house remained unfinished she would live. Therefore, she ordered that building operations should go on continuously. When she finished one part of the house she would begin with another that had no relation to it, but was attached by means of a stair or a passage or a door. The consequence is that when one looks at the house, which rambles over several acres, it presents the aspect of a huddled village with scores or hundreds of separate roofs. In this extraordinary building Mrs. Winchester spent the best years of her life brooding on spiritism.

A Crude Spiritist.

Forty years ago Mrs. Winchester's husband died, and shortly afterward her only child. She was a spiritist of such crude intellect that she thought thunder and lightning to be the work of spirits and she was terrified every time the phenomena occurred. She had inherited an immense fortune in addition to royalties, which are said to have been about $1,000 a day. She had no ties, nothing in the world to do but to please herself, and her pleasure consisted mainly in appeasing the terrors that assailed her and communicating with the unseen world. She left New Haven, Conn., after establishing the Winchester Sanitarium for tubercular patients and generously endowing it. For a time she travelled, and in the course of her wanderings reached San Jose. Here there was neither lightning nor thunder, and the prospect was otherwise inviting. The town was small and somnolent. Here it appeared to Mrs. Winchester that she might enjoy the repose she craved. Near the town was a house of seventeen rooms just being completed by Dr. S. Caldwell. Mrs. Winchester took a fancy to it and purchased it with the 70 acres that surrounded it. She announced that the carpenters and other workers should remain, as she would finish the house after a design of her own.

The Mad Architect.

She proceeded to give the architect directions of such an extraordinary nature that he refused to execute them, fearing that he would become a laughing stock in his own profession. Other men were ordered to tear down work that they had taken pride in building up, and they resigned. So she discharged them and got a new gang. Mrs. Winchester explained that the men she employed had life jobs so long as they carried out her instructions to the letter and asked no questions, and many of them have been toiling for more than a generation on labor no more satisfying than that of wheeling a load of bricks to one side of the yard, unloading it, then reloading and wheeling it back. The widow repulsed all efforts of the neighbors to make her acquaintance. Once she returned the card of a ladies' or local society with the message that she wished people would mind their own business. When President Roosevelt was visiting California the San Jose Chamber of Commerce besought her to do the President the honor of inspecting her house, but this she refused also.

Admired Mother Eddy.

She saw few people but the actual workmen, and these usually were conferred in some way with the architectural building. They were admitted by a side door to a plain room in which she transacted her business. Only one person was permitted to enter the place by the front door and explore it thoroughly. That was Mary Baker Eddy for whom Mrs. Winchester had an appropriate admiration. The noble front door opened but twice while Mrs. Winchester lived, to permit Mrs. Eddy to enter and to leave. It opened the third time when the body of the owner was carried out by the pallbearers. There were two parlors, one to which neither servants nor workmen ever penetrated after they had been completed. One is entirely lined with white satin, and in it were kept many gorgeous gowns of various colors. In these Mrs. Winchester was wont to array herself while awaiting the visit of the spirits with which she used to commune. There was also a blue room which was supposed to be frequented by another shift of spirits. Mrs. Winchester believed that she had frequent consultations with her husband.

The "Spook" House.

The interior of the house is a labyrinth, and since it has been bought by a syndicate for sight-seeing purposes, it has been found necessary to post directions every few feet or else a person might become lost and wander for hours. It contains 144 rooms, 2,000 doors and 10,000 windows, many of the doors and windows opening into blank walls. Not a dozen of the rooms are on the same levels, as the steps are necessary everywhere, the result being long staircases of very slight rise, turning back and forward upon themselves like mountain paths. Some of the staircases are eighteen inches wide, and some of the ball-rooms are two feet. The corridors are miles long. The fittings are very valuable, most of them being of gold or silver plate. Bathrooms are scattered everywhere, there being twenty also allowed, even upon the stairs. There is a magnificent ball-room, never used. There are burglar-proof vaults and burglar-proof safes, and a noble pipe organ that nobody ever played. But the spirit guide, or contractor or whoever it was that told Mrs. Winchester that she would live as long as her house remained unconpleted, was mistaken after all.

Farmer's Wife—I wish, Abner, you would kill a chicken for dinner today.

Abner—Oh, wait a while. Maybe one of them automobiles will come along.

CHARLES EDWARD DAVIES

Formerly Assistant General Manager whose appointment as Acting General Manager of the Canadian National Telegraphs has been announced, following the sudden death of Mr. George C. Jones, late General Manager, December 31st, 1923.

Mr. Davies received his first telegraph experience with the Western Union Company at Helena, Montana. On January 1, 1906, he commenced his career with the Great North Western Telegraph Company, starting at Ottawa as Chief Operator. On September 20, 1909, he was made Manager at Ottawa, and two years later was given charge of the electrical equipment in addition to his other duties as Manager at the Capital city.

On January 1 of this year he was made Assistant General Manager, in charge of electrical engineering, plant work and railway service. Owing to the sudden death of Mr. Jones, however, he only held this position for one day, when he was made Acting General Manager.

Mr. Davies is a Fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and a member of the Committee of Direction of the American Railway Association. He is also an active member of the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

STIMULANT EFFECT OF ELECTRIC LIGHT ON PLANT GROWTH PROVEN

Electric light will stimulate the growth of a variety of plants, according to the results of a six-week test conducted by the Westinghouse Lamp Company, in co-operation with Peter Henderson & Company, seedsmen, at the Henderson proving grounds near New York. Many of the specimens subjected to electric light grew during the test more than twice the size of similar plants receiving daylight only, and were considered by experts to be from fourteen to twenty-seven days in advance of normal growth.

The tests indicate that electric light will be useful to florists and gardeners in bringing flowers to an early maturity for display and also in reducing the time required for seedlings to grow large enough to permit transplanting. "What this development means to the agricultural is hard to predict," stated Samuel G. Hibben, National Secretary of the Illuminating Engineering Society and Manager of the Illustration Bureau of the Westinghouse Lamp Company, under whose direction these investigations have been conducted. "It seems, however," he continued, "to promise a means of doubling or even more the development of many species, and bids fair to enable the horticulturist to bring his flowers into bloom at the time when their market is at its best. This has all been possible by the perfection of flexible and cheap sources of light."

The tests were carried on the first of September of last year, when twelve varieties of vegetables and twelve of flowers were sown in shallow boxes. The soil used was an ordinary light, sandy soil such as is generally used for starting seedlings. Two sets of boxes were sown, one for growing under the electric light and one for growing with only daylight. The vegetable seeds selected for the experiment were: Snowball Cauliflower, Easy Blanching Celery, Tender Green Bean, Bush Lima Bean, French Dwarfing Curled, Davies Perfect Cucumber, Buttercut Lettuce, Scarlet Globe Radish, Egyptian Beet, Rocky Ford Musk Melon, Bonny Best Tomato—and Golden Heart Endive. The flower seeds selected were: Transvaal Daisy, Orange Calendula, Blue Lace Flower, Baby's Breath, Snap Dragon, Lavender African Daisy, Impatiens, Mignonette, Wallflower, Cinerari, Begonia, and Aster.

The tests were grown on opposite benches under identical conditions of heat and moisture with the exception that one group received no light other than that provided by nature. When the electric light was turned on a oilcloth curtain divided the one group from the other. The light was switched on every night from eight o'clock until one, when it was automatically shut off.

According to J. A. Feisler, of Peter Henderson and Company, there was a marked difference noted in the germination of the seedlings under the electric light almost from the outset. Germination was hastened in some cases to the extent of four to twelve days, which advantage was maintained in every case throughout the six weeks of the experiment.

But the important fact was established that all plants presenting a large leaf surface are greatly stimulated by the additional electric light, as in the case of such leaf crops as lettuce and endive. Tests parallelary to these by the Westinghouse Lamp Company at Columbia University showed favorable results with such plants as Boston fern, Calla Illies and rose geraniums.

Power for the experiments was generated by two Westinghouse 110 volt, 2 hp. farm lighting plants, in order to bring these tests within the reach of communities where central station power is not available.

DIRIGIBLE WINS PRAISE.

There is jubilation in the United States Bureau of Aeronautics over the performance of the giant dirigible Shenandoah after being torn from its mooring mast at Lakehurst, N.J., by a gale of wind. The huge cigar-shaped craft remained safely secured to the mast-head until the storm attained a velocity of sixty-eight miles an hour. Then the steel rivets which fastened the mooring ring and nose cap to its bow were shorn through and the airship was at the mercy of the gale. With its engines operating satisfactorily, the dirigible ran before the wind, and when the wind subsided was able to return safely to its base and hangar.

It is recalled that the British R-33 once weathered a gale of fifty-five miles an hour at her mooring mast. But many people in the United States, when the Shenandoah began its unprecedentated flight, must have recalled the recent loss of the French dirigible, the Dixmude, in a storm over the Mediterranean Sea. That tragedy has not yet been fully explained, but it has been suggested that it may have been caused by lightning or by an explosion on the airship. The Shenandoah has withstood a test which United States air officers say was the severest to which any lighter than air craft had ever been subjected. The condition of the airship after the test is to be carefully investigated. In the meantime, it is stated that some of the gas cells within the envelope were found to have become deflated, the large section of the outer cover to have been torn from the starboard bow, many holes to have been made in the outer cover and the upper stabilizing fin to have collapsed. The airship's performance excites especial interest at the present time because it has been proposed that the Shenandoah be used in the projected flight by United States aircraft across the north polar regions. Officers high in the United States air service have been confident that the dirigible would be sufficiently staunch for the flight. Some individuals have been inclined to question whether the gas cells within the envelope were not the outer fabric and the metal framework containing the gas cells would be able to resist the fury of an Arctic gale. Others have wondered whether or not snow and ice might not accumulate upon the top of the envelope and cause it to collapse. Certain Congressmen, too, have intimated their intention to ask for air officials' belief in the fitness of the Shenandoah for use in the expedition.

The airmen say that one class of doubters of the Shenandoah's airworthiness has been answered by the recent flight. The only danger was that the envelope might have been so seriously torn, when the dirigible was twisted from its moorings, as to have been split open by the force of the wind. That danger, the airmen say, can be avoided in future by slipping the vessel's mooring when the wind attains a velocity of sixty-five miles an hour. So bulky a structure as a dirigible is not, of course, make headway against a gale. But the showing of the Shenandoah will furnish a strong argument for those who prefer lighter-than-air flying machines to heavier-than-air types of aircraft.

Ontario Lady Satisfied With Results Received From Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Lachapelle Tells How Dodd's Kidney Pills Helped Her.

Dill Siding, Ont., Jan. 21st, (Special) —"Dodd's Kidney Pills have made me feel like a new person, since I have been taking them. I suffered a lot from backache, and could hardly do my housework, but now I feel quite well." This statement is made by Mrs. A. E. Lachapelle, who lives in this place.

Backache, bearing-down pains, dizzincas, headaches and depression are early symptoms of kidney weakness, too often misunderstood.

Weak kidneys go from bad to worse through wrong treatment or neglect. There is always danger of rheumatism, sciatica, dropsy, and stone in the kidneys or bladder.

The moment you suspect your kidneys use Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen and restore them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have built up their reputation as a Kidney Specific by the relief they give. Insist upon having Dodd's, the kidney pills your neighbors use.

Saves Three in Burning Home On His Last Day as Fire Chief

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 21st.—Chief Waugh signalized his last day as chief of the fire department to-day by saving the lives of a woman and two children from a burning house on Fifth Avenue.

An alarm was sent in for a fire at the home of Clifford MacDonald, Fifth Avenue, and by the time the truck reached the scene of the blaze the dwelling was full of dense smoke and the interior was blazing. While the men took off the hose, Chief Waugh went onto the verandah and heard a woman's screams.

Plunging through the smoke-filled interior he was able to find Mrs. MacDonald, who had a baby in her arms, and lead them to safety. Once outside, Mrs. MacDonald said there was another baby in the house. Once again Chief Waugh went into the house, which by this time was filled with fire, and found another baby wrapped in a blanket on the dining room table. It was taken out and moved to a house under construction nearby, where there was a fire. Mrs. MacDonald said the babies were taken into a neighbor's house.

The firemen had a difficult task extinguishing the fire, which had spread up the partitions to the attic, and the flames were fighting out flames. The temperature, ten below zero, was also a handicap, as the water froze as it fell. The fire was caused by an overheated furnace and the loss will amount to around $1,000. Mrs. MacDonald and the children will recover.

Vessel is Equipped With 10 Torpedo Launchers, Two 21-centimetre and Four 8-centimeter Guns — Speed of 22 to 23 Knots on Surface Possible.

Berlin, Jan. 16th.—A submarine cruiser of more than 7,000 tons is the latest German invention. A big commercial craft exists.

The inventor, Prof. Oswald Flamm, a German submersion specialist, has made it now in the Augsburg, Nuernburger Machinfabrik, a plant belonging to the Siemens Schuckert Company.

The submersion principle developed by Prof. Flamm, who occupies the chair of Theory and Construction of Ships in Charlottenburg Technische Hochschule, has also served for the construction of a submarine mine layer capable of laying 1,000 mines, whereby it could block any port.

The submarine cruiser as planned is 7,007 tons displacement and is equipped with ten torpedo launchers with fifty torpedoes, two twenty-one centimeter guns with 1,000 rounds, and four eight-centimeter guns with nearly 5,000 rounds. It would develop a speed of twenty-two to twenty-three knots on the surface, with a 20,000 mile cruising radius. It submerges in a half minute to a minute. The secret lies in its stability. There is no stabilizing machine nor ballast, but stability in the construction and distribution of the submersion pressure.

Prof. Flamm appears sufficiently sure of the technical secret to explain in what the secret lies without revealing the construction itself. He said:

"During the war I studied our submarine in a villa a Nicolasee, near Potsdam, and found the greatest difficulty towards developing the submarine into practical cruiser lies in its stability. Since the war, I have concentrated on stability and have a form which requires neither ballast nor stabilizing machinery, but can submerge or travel under water without fear of the lack of stability.

"Long raids are possible from port — 20,000 miles or more if a speed of thirteen knots is maintained. Twenty-three knots is top speed.

"A mine laying submarine of the same type could enter the Mediterranean with 1,000 mines and cut off the ports of Gibraltar, Marseilles, Toulon, Pola or Saxe."

WEDDING BELLS

Wagar—Alexander.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alexander, of McGee, Sask., was the scene of a pretty house wedding, on Thursday, January 3rd, 1924, when their eldest daughter, Margaret Alexander, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold R. Wagar, also of McGee. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Alexander, of Saskatchewan University, Saskatoon, and Mr. Edward Wagar was best man. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. E. G. Sanders, of Rosetown, in the presence of the immediate friends of the family. Both the young people are well known in the vicinity of Napanee, where Miss Alexander and her sister both attended the Collegiate.

Lighting a Wet Match.

If your only wax match falls into a puddle just as you are preparing to light your soup fire you need not despair of striking it, even though it may have been in the water for quite a minute.

Take and dry it roughly on your handkerchief or coat and then stick it in your hair. Leave it there for a minute and it will come out perfectly dry again.

Winter Flowers.

Before the frost nips them break off some branches of nasturtiums and put them in water for a week or two until they begin to form. Then plant them in pots and keep them in the shade for a few days. Then put them in south windows and they will grow and bloom all winter.

A Memorial.

"Won't you give me a kiss to remember you by?"

"You'll remember longer the kiss you didn't get," said the wise girl.

PROHIBITION FEDERATION.

Chancellor Whiddon of McMaster, Toronto, is the First President.

At the outcome of a meeting held in the Central Y.M.C.A. Hall, Toronto, all the prohibitionist forces of Canada were united in one great federation. Delegates were present from fifteen organizations. They came from as far as Nova Scotia in the east and British Columbia in the west. They united to form the Prohibition Federation of Canada. Chancellor Whiddon of McMaster University was elected as the first president of the Federation. It was felt that the chancellor's experience in the Western Provinces, together with his knowledge of Parliamentary life acquired in the War Parliament, would be important assets in the Federation's councils. Two vice-presidents have been elected, whose acceptance is understood. They are G. A. Warburton and Mrs. Gordon Wright. No salaried secretary is being appointed at present because the new organization is to be a federal body, the work of which will be largely carried on through existing units and existing offices. The recording secretary is Dr. E. E. Hart, of Montreal, while three associate secretaries in Toronto will serve to maintain close correspondence and effort between the larger groups. Rev. N. N. MacLachlan of the Presbyterian Church, Dr. W. T. Gunn of the Congregational Church, and Dr. Ernest Thomas of the Methodist Board. In addition, George Lees, of Hamilton will act as treasurer.

The Federation will include: (a) Nation-wide church organizations; (b) Nation-wide organizations opposed to liquor; (c) such provincial organizations as shall be recognized by the Federation as representing the united prohibition force of the province. The two former groups will be represented by five delegates each, while latter will each elect two delegates. The churches will also elect one additional delegate for every fifty thousand members over the first fifty thousand.

The Federation will aim at the securing of prohibition, both in the Provincial and in the Federal spheres. Considerable attention was given also to the political outlook in each province. On every side the strongest expressions of confidence in the existing Ontario Government were made. There was general recognition that under the Hon. W. F. Nickle the law is being enforced as vigorously as under the previous regime.

The Red River of the North.

The Red River, or the Red River of the North (as it is called to distinguish it from the Red River of Louisiana), has a length of about 700 miles. Rising in the lake region of the west-central portion of Minnesota,—not far from where the Mississippi has its source,—the Red River flows in a northerly direction and forms the boundary between North Dakota and Minnesota. Entering the Province of Manitoba, it continues northward, and empties into Lake Winnipeg. The Valley of the Red River is one of the greatest wheat-growing regions in the world, because of the fertile soil which was deposited long ago both by ice-sheets of the glacial period and by a large prehistoric lake known as Lake Agassiz. In many places along its course this river (as well as its tributaries) has cut channels from 50 to 150 feet deep through the rich clayey soil. Water power has been developed to a considerable extent on its tributaries. From Emerson, Man., to the international boundary line,—a distance of a little over 295 miles,—the channel of the Red River has been improved by the United States Government; and this river sometimes rises high enough to allow small steamers to go up the south-west branch to the Otter Tail Traverse, and from there to go down to the Minnesota River to the Mississippi.

Sale of Annuities Makes New Record.

Canadian Government annuities to the value of $75,000 were sold during the first week of November by the Annuities Branch of the Department of Labor. This is the largest amount so far taken out in one week.

Annuities providing for a pension payable to two parties (father and mother, husband and wife, brother and sister, or others, during their joint lives) are proving popular. Annuitants may make immediate payment of monthly or quarterly premiums, as has been the case providing for the pension to come into effect when the annuitant reaches age 65 years, are also being secured in larger numbers.

Under the Federal Income Tax Act the annuities are free from income tax. The Annuities Branch thinks that to this is largely due their increasing popularity, as well as to the fact that Canadians abroad are coming to realize that the annuities are purchasable by Canadians who have left the country, but who have not renounced their allegiance in view of their definite intention to return to Canada to live at some future time.

P.E.I. Record.

At Bunbury Farm, owned by Walter Jones, Charlottetown, P.E.I., a registered Holstein heifer is taking a notable record for the Maritime Provinces. Upon 8. O. P. test she has produced 16,945 lbs. of milk and 780 lbs. of butter in 10 months and is expected to make approximately 20,000 lbs. of milk and 900 lbs. of butter at the completion of her yearly test. The heifer is out of a daughter of Prince Colantha Abbekerk and a sister of Lady Isobel 30lbs. A cow with a record of 1,458.75 lbs. of butter in 357 days. The Bunbury herd is fully accredited and by systematic testing and selection an unusually fine lot of cows has been developed.

Things Have Changed.

Mrs. Brown—Things cost a lot more now than they did before the war.

Mrs. Jones—Surely, yes. A short cry used to get me a new gown then, now I have to go into hysterics.

You have heard the same remark, "She served a splendid lunch but she simply can't make a good cup of tea", and it is usually the fault of the tea. Serve "Daly's Good Tea" for every social event. For sale at Wallace's.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS ADOPT RADIO

The announcement by Mr. W. D. Robb, Vice-President, that the Canadian National Railways will equip all their hotels and transcontinental trains with radio receiving sets and broadcast to them messages, news and programs of entertainment, marks a distinct forward step in radio development. It is the first time that radio has been adopted as a part of the regular service of a rail transportation system. Mr. Robb, who is in charge of the radio department of the National System, is completing plans for the linking-up across Canada of a number of powerful broadcasting stations to be used by the railway in the regular distribution of its radio service. The photograph shows Mr. Robb in Montreal, delivering into the microphone, the instrument which broadcasts the voice by radio waves, a message to Canadian National Railways' employees and the general public. This message was heard as far south as Carolina, as far west as Chicago and as far east as Halifax.

MRS. DAVIS NERVOUS WRECK

Tells Women How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"I cannot speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck and I just had to force myself to do my work. Even the sound of my own children playing made me feel as if I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. The doctor said he could do nothing for me. My husband's mother advised me to take the Vegetable Compound and I started it at once. I was able to do my work, once more and it was a pleasure, not a burden. Now I have a fine bouncing baby and am able to nurse her and enjoy doing my work. I cannot help recommending such a medicine, and any one seeing me before I took it, and seeing me now, can see what it does for me. I am only too pleased for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. EMILY DAVIS, 721 McGee Street, Winnipeg, Man.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ont. This book contains valuable information.

YARKER

There was a slight mistake in last week's issue in relation to the classic sprint made by Slim Jim, when he ran away the other day. The clause should have read, "he turned into Mr. W. Babcock's yard and just missed knocking down a part of the dwelling house in doing so". The word "missed" was left out of the report.—We notice that Mr. Wesley VanAlstine has installed a new pipeless furnace in "Sunnyside Cottage". Someone remarked that it would be a great stroke of economy if we could instal a smokeless, pipeless, quidless man in every home in the country. How much would we save in one generation?—The members of the Ladies' Aid and their friends spent a very pleasant time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin one night last week. — A number from here attended the annual L. O. L. oyster supper and "at home" held in the lodge room at Colebrook last Friday night. It was an up-to-date affair, so the guests report.—Mr. and Mrs. Riddell, of Colebrook, have their married daughter, Mrs. Kimmerly, from the west, spending the winter with them.—Mr. A. Brown sold his classy driver, "Dixie", to Dr. Walsh, of Kingston, a few days ago. — We hear, through the doctor, that Miss Florence Down's broken arm is progressing nicely, and she will be able to return to her work at Pickering in a couple of weeks. — The special meetings, which were being held in the Standard Church, closed on Sunday night. They were not very successful, partly on account of the bad weather. — Mr. A. Silver is making the rounds once more with his high-class wood cutting outfit. We notice another similar outfit at work in the village, Mr. S. E. Smith, of Colebrook, being busy off and on with his one-man machine. —Mr. Percy Robertson, of Trenton, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Holland, of Enterprise, spent the week-end at the parsonage. — The I. O. O. F. annual "at home" and public installation, which was held on Wednesday night, was well attended and much enjoyed.—Some seventy-five of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Warner's friends gave them a miscellaneous shower the other evening. They were just loaded down with useful and valuable gifts. They left for their new home at North Bay on Monday evening, carrying with them the well wishes of a host of friends.—Mr. G. Carl Howe Mr. E. Smith, of Napanee, over to Enterprise last Friday night, where he gave a very successful radio concert in the Methodist Church.—It goes a number of the sons of rest a few hours' exercise on Wednesday clearing away the snow after the big storm. — We are pleased to hear that all the sick are on the mend. —Mrs. W. Dunn is home from the hospital and is slowly regaining her health.—Mrs. Bongard returned from Port-Hope, where she has been detained since the holidays on account of the serious illness of their little son, Jack. — Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker have also returned from Toronto and other points west, where they have been visiting friends during the holidays. A number of their friends gave them a nice reception and tea.

WEDDING BELLS.

Curl—Walker.

A very quiet and popular event took place at the McAdoidis' Parsonage, in the Village of Yarker, on Wednesday evening, the 23rd inst., when Miss George Wellington Curl, of Camden Township, was united in marriage to Miss Elma Walker, of the Village of Colebrook. The ceremony was performed by the Pastor of the Methodist Church, the Rev. J. W. Down. The happy couple were beside on the groom's farm, "Fairview", one mile east of Colebrook, and will be pleased to meet and greet their friends and neighbors at any time. The whole country side joins in wishing them every good thing.

BICKNELL'S CORNERS.

Well I guess stormy weather and bad roads is the main subject for this week. The men are busy ploughing the roads, trying to get them in good condition for travelling again. — Quite a number from around here attended the congregational tea last week at Newburgh, and report a nice time.—Mr. and Mrs. George Scott entertained a number of friends to an oyster supper on Saturday night.—Mr. and Mrs. Simmons and Mr. F. Jann took a load to the hockey match at Napanee on Friday night.—The game was played between Napanee and Point Anne, the latter being the winner.—Mr. J. Brown, of Napanee, spent Sunday evening the guest of Miss Marion Simmons.—Don't forget the old fashioned dance, which is to be held in Camden East hall on Monday night, Jan. 28th. 50c. per couple.

WEDDING BELLS

Campbell—Cairns.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, 418 Tenth Street, this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, when Miss Clara M. Cairns, second daughter of the late Jas. Cairns and Mrs. Cairns, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Murray Campbell of Saskatoon, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Campbell, of Ayr, Scotland. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were present. Rev. C. W. Bercovitch, Pastor of Grace Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. Charles Escott, officiated.

The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her brother, Mr. J. F. Cairns. She was wearing a beautiful gown of powder blue cut velvet brocade gracefully draped over knife pleated georgette of the same shade and caught into an elaborate rhinestone buckle, the long bodice closing over a fold of silver cloth. She carried a sheaf of exquisite pink roses. She was preceded into the drawing-room by her little niece, Miss Aileen Cairns-Smith, as flower-girl, carrying a graceful basket of roses and freesias and daintily dressed in primrose taffeta and lace. Master Lynwood Smith, in a white satin suit was ring-bearer, and carried the ring in a beautiful white chrysanthemum.

The bride's sister, Mrs. F. W. Cairns-Smith, of Weyburn, played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and the accompaniment for Mrs. K. E. Moore's solo, "O Fair, O Sweet, O Holy," during the signing of the register. She also played Schubert's Serenade softly during the ceremony. Mrs. Smith wore a becoming tunic dress of jade georgette heavily embroidered with crystal beads. Mrs. Moore was in blue georgette elaborated with French flowers and her small hat was of harmonizing velvet and silver cloth.

Mrs. Cairns was in a handsome gown of navy Canton in straight lines and trimmed with knife pleating and cord ornaments. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids. Mrs. J. F. Cairns wore a becoming dress of white georgette and lace beaded in black, and black velvet hat smartly touched with white.

The general decorative scheme was carried into effect in the dining-room where the lace-covered table was adorned with silver vases of freesias and pink roses which also surmounting the wedding-cake. Mrs. C. E. Smith presided over the table and Mrs. J. M. McKay cut the cake. Assisting Mrs. J. F. Cairns in the dining-room were Mrs. L. G. Calder, Miss Olive Bartlett, Miss Marion Baynton and Miss Clara Holmes. Master Ernest Smith admitted the guests. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. F. W. Cairns-Smith, of Weyburn, and Mr. Larry Wright, of Vonda.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on the early evening train for Toronto and eastern American cities, the bride travelling in a smart coat dress of Rochnara crepe with sand reveres and gloves and shoes to match. Her hat was of cloth of gold embroidered in oriental colors and trimmed with navy, plume shading into sand, and her handbag of blue iridescent beads. Her wrap was of sable-trimmed seal.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will be at home at 418 Tenth Street, Napanee, after Toronto Daily Star, January 8th, 1924.

BICKNELL'S CORNERS

The heavy snow storm has put the roads in a heavy condition. From appearance the rough weather is just starting.

We are glad to hear that Mr. R. Blakely's little girl Maybelle is improving from a sprained ankle she received at school one day last week.

Mr. Jas. O'Mara spent one day at Bethel with his sister, Mrs. W. Hinch.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Emberley and Miss Thora Emberley attended an oyster supper at Mr. G. Hawley's, Yarker, on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boulton, of Camden East, spent Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Simmons.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. J. Henderson, of Camden East, is improving somewhat.

Mr. Long, Centreville, is staying a short time with Mr. J. Fairburn, helping him with his work.

The skating has been good, and several of the young people have been enjoying it.

CAMDEN EAST

On Monday last, early in the morning, the thermometer went down to 28 below zero, the coldest of the season.—Mr. Jesse Card has returned home from Newmarket, where he was visiting his mother, who has been seriously ill.—Mr. Frank Holland, of Camden, Sask., arrived on Friday last to visit his sister, Mrs. John Bellamy, who he has not seen for sixteen years. Also on Sunday Mrs. Hill and daughter, Helen Lambert, Mrs. Lambert, mother and sister of Mr. John Lambert; his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lambert and little son, Cecil, of Wilton, and Mr. Edgar Lakins, of Colebrook.—Mrs. Greenway spent a few days with Mrs. Geo. Riley and family, on Friday afternoon last. —Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, of Victor, spent Sunday afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Amey, and her brother, Kenneth, and wife. —Mrs. Bert Amey was very unfortunate in falling down cellar on Monday evening last and breaking her leg above the ankle, which will lay her up for long time, as it is a bad break.—Mrs. Jas. Henderson is better at time of writing.—Mr. Will Hinch, who has been confined to the house with blood poison in his hand, is getting better at time of writing.

BAY VIEW

The Ladies' Aid held a quilt patch shower at Mrs. John Baker's, on Thursday last, and the quilt top was sold to Mrs. McMillan, of Toronto.—The friends of Miss Vera Miller, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in Kingston General Hospital, on Monday last, are glad to hear she is gaining, though slowly.—Little Miss Geraldine Frink is able to be about again, after an attack of scarlet fever.—Miss Velma Frink has returned home, after visiting friends in Wilton and vicinity. — Mrs. Ivan VanWinckle is visiting friends in Mesopotamia.—Mr. Ray Amey, of Millhaven, is visiting at her father's, Mr. Schuyler Smith.—Mr. and Mrs. Neil McMillan, of Toronto, are visiting at Robert Frink's.—Miss Mary McCall is visiting in Sunbury.—Mrs. Amelia Smith has returned home, after spending some time with her son in Welland.—Overton Galloway has purchased a grinder and is grinding grain once a week for his neighbors.

Worms sap the strength and undermine the vitality of children. Strengthen them by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to drive out the parasites.

YARKER

The recent thaw almost made the roads fit for autos to run on. Several tried their cars out for short trips, but had to give it up, with the exception of one car, which made Napanee on January 17th, after being shoveled out several times. — We notice nearly everybody's woodyard is adorned by a large pile of wood, and it certainly is a good thing to have it, for the price of coal creeping towards the $20.00 mark.—We are glad to report all those on the sick list are improving. — Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richardson at Tamworth for a day or so with their son, Clinton.—Mr. Kenneth Freeman's horse became frightened at the train on Monday, upsetting the cutter, and ran down town, where it was captured, little the worse for its adventure. — The Institute Annual meeting held at three days' convention last week, which was well attended. — Rumor says the government is going to tax us for the gas we use this year. It won't be long before we will have to get an order from the doctor in order to give Lizzie a drink of gasoline. — Our village hasn't got the radio fever yet, as we have only one set to brag about, but we have an up-to-date fox farm, which made its owners some nice money. — Miss Vivian Brown is spending the winter months with her cousin in Toronto.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin, of Kingston, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin. —Mrs. Oliver, of Enterprise, spent a day with Mrs. Ferrier.—Mr. Hoogard spent the week-end at Port Hope. — Miss Hazel Hart has returned, after spending a few days in Napanee with friends.—Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Walker met with an agreeable surprise on Monday evening on their return from Detroit, when they found a bright light, a nice warm fire and a table laden with good things to eat. A number of their kind neighbors met at the house through the day and had everything arranged, and gave them a happy welcome home, and by the smiles on their faces they certainly appreciated it. Home, home, sweet home; there's no place like home.

BELL ROCK

Rev. Dr. Lawson, Verona, preaches in the church at Bell Rock every Sunday morning, notwithstanding the bad roads and the severely cold weather.—Wood cutting seems to be the main business of the season.— A shade of gloom was cast over this vicinity recently, when the death of John Timmins was announced. The late Mr. Timmins was highly respected by all who knew him, and he will be greatly missed by all. He was ever ready to reach out a helping hand to friends, neighbors or the needy.—Miss Stella Timmins has returned to Toronto. — Miss Libbie Pomeroy is visiting friends in Kingston.—John Pomeroy spent a few days in Kingston recently.—Warren Percy, Brandon, Man., is visiting at his old home here.

A PIONEER STEAMER

Built In Britain to Run the Federal Blockade of Southern Ports.

A recent reference in an upper lake newspaper to the steamer Chicora calls to a veteran of the same phases and incidents of her interesting career. She was one of two sister steamers built in Britain for 'running' the Federal blockade of the Southern ports during the last year of the American Civil War. Naturally, she was built for speed, with long, sharp lines and low-set, powerful engines, with paddle-wheels of short diameter and capable of great rapidity of revolution, and without any accommodation for passengers. The somewhat freakish career of the twins were 'Let Her B' and 'Let Her R,' the capital letters standing for 'Be' and 'Rip,' respectively. The latter of the two had a short career, and a tragic end, but the former was eventually, after the war, brought up the St. Lawrence to carry passengers and freight between Collingwood and the head of Lake Superior. In order to get her through the canals, she had to be cut in two, and the parts, made watertight, were towed up.

"One of her early captains, if not her first, was Murray McGregor of Fort Brady, in the county of the same name. McGregor was an old commander of skill and repute, and in those early days there was abundant room for the exercise of both qualities. An old Highland Scotsman, who had been engineer of the Chicora, he sold his engines while he served under McGregor he always, in spots he knew to be dangerous, had the steamer slowing up before he got the signal. The same McGregor was afterwards a wreck-appraiser for an insurance company, and when the latter was called on to pay for a steamer that had been stranded on the shore of the Lower St. Lawrence McGregor was sent down to view the wreck. To the surprise of the company, he rigged her off, patched 'boats,' had her pulled off the shore, and sailed her up to Quebec, where she was disposed of, thus saving the company heavily. When wooden vessels, better adapted than the Chicora for the upper lake service of 40 years ago, were put on the route, she was again cut in two and kept many years on the Niagara route, to be supplemented by the Cibola, and replaced by the Chippewa, the Cayuga and the Corona."—Toronto Globa.

Mother Had to Be Parted From Baby Boy

Little Jack is in a distant city. His mother is many miles away, true to the old saying about distance making the heart grow fonder. Jackie's mother longs and longs for a sight of her little man. But if it were only a case of miles and dollars she might somehow or other come home occasionally, but it's more than that. She has consumption.

When she thinks of the once happy triangle—mother, father and baby—it's mighty hard to keep from tears. She won't let Daddy bring Jack down to see her, despite the tug at the heart-strings. No," she says, "Jackie must not suffer. He might get consumption, too." So Jackie is left with his grandmother, Daddy works in a machine shop, and mother is in a fairly sobering doctor's and nurse's orders at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. She longs to be home for Christmas—healthy and happy.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 224 College Street, Toronto.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

THE BEAVER takes pleasure in announcing a new service to our customers. We are now prepared to make our own newspaper-cuts of which the above is a sample. You are requested to make full use of this service. It is absolutely free.

WHAT THE ADVERTISER GETS.

1. AN ATTRACTIVE ADVERTISEMENT. The best artists in the country are engaged in producing the original drawings.

2. AN UP-TO-DATE SERVICE. The drawings are revised each month. Seasonable changes are noted, fashions are the very latest, and special events taken into consideration.

3. A WIDE SELECTION. For February there are 104 cuts to choose from. Besides 7000 specials always available; covering every known subject.

WHAT THE PUBLIC GETS.

1. AN ATTRACTIVE PAPER. The advertisements are made more interest-compelling, and will be easily read and well illustrated.

2. THE LATEST STYLES in every branch will be found in the advertising section month by month.

3. ECONOMY. At a glance one will see the thing wanted and where to buy it; time and money are thereby saved.

WHAT THE BEAVER GETS.

THE BEAVER gets the satisfaction which comes from giving service. No extra charge is made for this, though THE BEAVER has invested a goodly sum in new equipment for this purpose.

REMEMBER, this Service is FREE. Ask our advice when placing your next advertisement.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"My husband gave up fishing when he joined the church."

"But surely that isn't sinful."

"No, but lying is."

Hard and soft corns both yield to Holloway's Corn Remover, which is entirely safe to use, and certain and satisfactory in its action.

"Kate, the hash was very much like sawdust this morning."

"I know it, sir. The missus said to use all that was left of the planked steak."

Worms sap the strength and undermine the vitality of children. Strengthen them by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to drive out the parasites.

"Tell me," said the lady to the old soldier, "were you cool in battle?"

"Cool?" said the truthful veteran, "why, I fairly shivered."

It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, the cause is worms. These parasites range the stomach and intestines, causing serious disorders of the digestion and preventing the infant from deriving sustenance from food. Miller's Worm Powders, by destroying worms, correct these faults of the digestion and serve to restore the organs to healthy action.

"Asthma is Torture.—No one who hasn't gasped for breath in the power of asthma knows what such suffering is. Thousands do know, however, from experience, how immeasurable is the relief provided by that marvelous preparation, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. For years it has been relieving the most severe cases. If you are a sufferer do not delay a day in securing this remedy from your druggist.

Old Sam was the only Baptist in his neighborhood, but he was a staunch defender of his creed and overwhelmed many a dark-skinned opponent in heated religious debates. He would argue thus:

"You kin read, can't you, called passon?"

"Yes."

"Well, I'spose you is read de Bible, hain't you?"

"Yes, course I has."

"You is read 'bout John de Baptis', hain't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, you never read 'bout no John de Mefodis', did you!"

Rub It In For Lame Back. — A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out, and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

"Do you think airships will ever come into popular use?"

"Most assuredly. If they keep on flooding the land with automobiles, a lot of us will have to take to the air."

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat. —At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

A negro woman was telling a friend that she had been to a wedding. She described the bride's white satin gown, the veil, the slippers, the flowers and everything.

"And what did the bridegroom wear?" asked the friend.

"Well, do you know, that good-for-nothing cuss never showed up at all!" was the astonishing reply.

Microscopic Writing.

Different people have different hobbies. Some people don't think much of a man or woman unless a hobby. A man named Rispin, who makes his home in Derbyshire, England, has made a hobby of minute writing and seeing how much he can write in the smallest space. He uses ordinary ink and a writing pen, and some of his cleverest efforts is compressed writing including the Lord's Prayer eight times in our language on the space occupied by an English penny; the Lord's Prayer on a piece of paper 4½ inches long that can be passed through the eye of an ordinary sewing needle; the first chapter of Genesis (more than 800 words) on a piece of paper the size of a postage stamp; and a report of the Charlesworth conspiracy case (about 9,000 words) on a postcard. Mr. Rispin regards the writing of the 9,000 words of the Charlesworth case report as his masterpiece. It took him thirty-two hours.

"Made In Ireland."

Deants in Eirin is not understood by United States customs authorities. Therefore these authorities have pointed out to the Free State Government that the United States Tariff Act requires imports to be marked in English. The Free State Government have in consequence notified Irish exporters to cease stamping goods "Deanta in Eirin" and substitute the English equivalent, "Made in Ireland."

Collector Needs Thick Skin In the Wilds of Wales To Make Taffy Pay Rates

Rate-collecting anywhere is never a job much to be desired, for nobody expresses enthusiasm on seeing you call! Nor do you ever go a whole day without somebody telling you plainly what he thinks about yourself, the council, and officials in general.

But sometimes I think that collecting the rates from Welshmen in the wilds round Snowdon, Cader Idris, and Plynlimmon must surely be the limit of such performances in our land. The dolours and remarks of "Taffy" thereabouts are enough to send the average collector crazy.

There was one quite well-to-do farmer who refused absolutely to pay any rates till he was made to do so. This happened twice and again, till at last even my patience was exhausted.

So I told him if he didn't pay next time when the rate was due, or after the first warning, I should take out a summons at once. He was as stubborn as ever when the time came, so I took out a summons. Then he came and told me to take out a warrant. But I didn't want to pay the cost of the warrant, so I would not accept the rate, but told him he must see the clerk at the court, ten miles distant.

He stormed and raved, and threw the money down on my table. I refused to take it or give him a receipt. Ultimately he had to take his money away and go the ten miles to the court. You may imagine he doesn't exactly love me to-day.

Councils don't pay much to their rate-collectors in the mountain regions of Wales, so we have to do other things to eke a decent living. I help two days a week in a draper's shop.

"You should ought to let me half this flannel at two shillings less!" says Mrs. Jones on Saturday night, "because I paid you my rates at once last week, whatever!"

I explain that I can't agree to that, and wants to know "What is the good of paying rates then perforce anyhow else, whatever?"

One like myself, calling at loan farms, and riding along almost untrodden ways, is now and then asked for strange advice. Only last summer Ebenezer David Williams Rhys wanted to know if I couldn't recommend him a bouncy girl (not over thirty years of age, whatever) as a wife. He said that I, going over such an extensive district, must know more girls and women wanting to get married than a lonely shepherd like himself.

I assented, and suggested a young widow down Beaufa Llanberis, on which Ebenezer sniffed heavily, and said he wouldn't marry a woman whose bad management had already done for one man! It was useless to tell him her first husband had been delicate from boyhood. The shepherd kept repeating that no man would marry a widow who had a marriage if his wife had done her duty by him. So there's the matter rests.

The contrariness of the ordinary Welshman with a real or imagined grievance is something unbelievable. Take Evan Evans as an example.

He vowed he'd see me dead before he paid such extortionate rates, though his were then only one shilling in the pound. He'd see me in Purgatory first, and he'd see me in Hades next year, and he'd see me in Heaven the year after! When finally we made him pay, by process of court, the sum of his splendid fellow-citizens and the whole amount in threepenny-bits, and chuckled delightedly as he handled them over in payment.

"A bit more for you to carry back, eh?" he chuckled. "Llewellyn Llewellyn!" he kept saying.

Then what trouble I always have with Gwenneth Trevelyan Lloyd! Lloyd! But his wife had more! For all his ills, after the day's work was done, Gwenneth would go up to the Black Horse, two miles off, whence he had to take his way home after ten o'clock. And such a walk up the vales and mountains at night was no light affair, even for a rater rate.

One night eleven o'clock came and he still hadn't arrived. He had fallen into a quite drunk by the side of a ditch full of water, and soon to sleep, in a position in which he was right over the water, so that when he awoke, half dazed, he could see the moon's reflection in the water, which puzzled him vastly.

Just then he heard his wife's voice calling. She had met with a lantern to seek for him. Her voice came nearer.

"Gwenneth Lloyd! Gwenneth Lloyd! Where are you?" she shouted.

The man, quite nonplussed by the moon's reflection, exclaimed, to himself:

"I can't tell, Jenny, whatever! But, anyhow, I'm somewhere up above the moon!"

And that's where, on my rate-collecting conditions, I sometimes wish I could go.

Ulster's Cattle Export.

Ulster's yearly export of cattle will be valued at £20,000,000 sterling, £1,745,000, bacon pigs and hams £10,975,000 and potatoes £6,425,000. These figures were quoted by the Minister of Agriculture at a luncheon to the Judges and stewards at Belfast Spring Farming Society's Show. Eggs, regarded in most country places as merely a luxury, were exported to the value of nearly $20,000,000 every year. That trade could be increased still further was shown by the evercreed more care in the sending of eggs to the market. They had sent to the Ulster $50,000 dairy cows and if they could raise the average production of each cow by 200 gallons a year, a quiet feasible proposition, they would have an extra profit of £5,000,000. Railway rates must come down, the minister declared. Full trucks at a low rate would be better than half empty trains at a high tariff.

SIR PHILIP WAS NERVOUS.

Even Experienced Lecturers Have Their Moments of Nervousness.

Even experienced lecturers have their moments of nervousness, and Sir Philip Gibbs is one of them. In his recent book, "Adventurers in Journalism," he tells many stories of his experiences on the platform, and this is one of them:

Stranger things happen to an English lecturer in the United States than in any other country. At least they happened to me. I shall never forget, for instance, how in the middle of a speech to the City Club of New York I was thrust into a taxicab hurried off to the 44th Street Theatre, received with a tremendous ovation (a flashlight photo!) in the dressing room of Al Jolson, the funny man, thrust into the middle of a farcen scene (scores of beautiful ma'sens), and told to make a speech on behalf of wounded soldiers, while the audience raffled for an original letter from Lloyd George to the American nation.

Surprised by my rapid transmigration from the City Club and by my presence in an Oriental harem, ver. hot, rather flustered and not knowing what to do with my hands, I kept screwing up a bit of paper which had been given to me at the wing, and by the time I had finished my three minutes' speech it was a bit of wet, mushy pulp. When I left the stage, a white-faced man in evening things who had been making frantic signs to me informed me coldly that I had utterly destroyed Lloyd George's letter to the American nation which had just been raffled for many hundreds of dollars. After that I went back to finish my speech at the City Club.

Australia's Wonder Bridge.

In about six years' time Australia will possess in the bridge to be built across Sydney Harbor one of the greatest marvels in the world.

The total cost of this vast structure, for which contracts are shortly to be allotted, will be about seven million pounds, nearly half of which will be expended in wages. The new bridge will eliminate the slow-working ferry now in use, and will bear four lines of railway, beside a 57 ft. roadway with broad pavements.

Australians have dreamed of this undertaking for many years and there has been much discussion as to what form the bridge should take, the possibilities of floating and suspension structures being considered. Finally, a high-level bridge has been decided upon.

For pure grandeur, this great construction is expected to rival the world-famous Forth and Quebec bridges, for although its span of 1,000 ft. is slightly shorter than either of these, it will be considerably higher above the water than they are.

The approaches to the bridge were commenced some time ago by Australian firms, but they found it impossible to carry out the whole undertaking, and tenders were invited from engineering concerns all over the world.

There are few great difficulties to overcome in the construction, as the granite piers which will support the bridge will have solid rock foundations on both sides of the harbor, thus making the venture relatively safer than has been the case with other large bridge-building contracts.

Vehmatic Potatoes.

Amid all the wealth of beautiful flowers and luxurious fruits displayed at the Royal Horticultural Society's autumn show in Holland Park Skating Rink, W. London, not even a glimpse was obtained of a vegetable was honored so much as a small basket of potatoes which was shown in a glass case.

The potatoes were a sample, about 1 lbs., of Messrs. Sutton's new disease-resisting tuber, Ben Cruchfield, which recently won Lord Derby's gold medal for the year's best potato a certified immune from the dreaded wart disease. Messrs. Sutton made the centrepiece in their exhibit of 200 dishes of their vegetables.

There was limited to see them in a glass case, but it was pointed out that the tubers were far too valuable to bear the risk of once being slipped from the basket, taken home, and propagated.

To raise a new potato of which no can be sure is a task of at least 10 years, and for every 1,000 new varieties grown about 999 are ultimately thrown away.

The Channel Islands.

The name Channel Islands is applied to a group of small islands in the English channel, lying off the northwest coast of France. Their total area is about 75 square miles, and their population numbers about 100,000. The principal islands are Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney and Sark. Jersey, Alderney and Guernsey are famous for their cattle. The "Channel Islands" were anciently an appanage of the Duchy of Normandy, and have belonged to England since the Conquest. The inhabitants still speak the old Norman - French language.

Super Power Station.

Several millions of pounds are to be spent on the new "super" electric power station at Barking.

It is says the British Industrial Power to be created by the Consolidated Construction Co., of Cleak lane, E.C.

This station will have a capacity nearly equal to the present consumption in the London county area.

In order to carry current from the power station to the South London area, a special tunnel, 7 feet in diameter and 60 feet deep, is to be built under the Thames.

Go to Jericho.

Here is a curious theory to account for our phrase "Go to Jericho." There is a house in Essex called Jericho. Here Henry VII. is said to have held his clandestine meetings with Anne Boleyn. "Where is the King?" "Gone to Jericho" was frequently heard about Whitehall.

"Why have Scotsmen a sense of humor?"

"Because it's a gift."

He—Is she progressive or conservative?

She—I don't know. She wears a last year's hat, has driven a five year's car, and lives on next year's income.

SIR JOHN C. SCHULTZ

INCIDENTS CONNECTED WITH THE RIEL REBELLION.

Escape From Fort Garry Prison and Winter Journey Through Hundreds of Miles of Wilderness to Reach Ontario—Honors Conferred on the Worthy Patriot.

Early in 1869 the bargain was completed between the Government of Canada and the Hudson's Bay Company by which it was agreed that upon the payment of £300,000 to the company the latter would surrender to Canada its rights in the vast region known as Rupert's Land. The Hon. William Macdougall was appointed Lieutenant-Governor. On October 20 he reached Pembina.

As Macdougall advanced he found the road barricaded; he was forbidden to proceed, and a few days later the half-breeds who were carrying out orders given by another half-breed at Fort Garry known as Louis Riel.

As winter came on the rebels looked about for more comfortable quarters than an encampment on the Prairie, and on November 3, they rode down to Fort Garry, and in spite of the protests of the officials took possession of the fort with all its stores and of abundant supplies of many kinds.

Col. Dennison, who had been sent out to superintend surveys, raised a small force to resist the rebels. A party of about forty marshaled at the house of Dr. Schultz, in the village near Fort Garry, for the purpose of protecting some Government supplies stored there. Three hundred rebels well armed, and having several field-cannon, appeared before the house. The little garrison surrendered. All were disarmed and several were imprisoned in Fort Garry. One of the prisoners was Dr. Schultz.

Dr. John Christian Schultz was born at Aultenbruch, in Essex County, Ontario, in 1841. He studied medicine at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., graduating in 1862. Red River Settlement, then the far Canadian West.

Having purchased the small press and very limited collection of type brought into the settlement for the publishing of a newspaper called the "Nor-Wester," Dr. Schultz began the publication of a monthly magazine, filling many of its columns with his own contributions, some consisting of news, others of articles describing the country and encouraging its handful of struggling settlers.

No nna in the settlement was bitter known to Riel and his followers than was Dr. Schultz and when they had him a prisoner they thought it wise to guard him well. He was, therefore, placed in a room by himself. Although winter was well advanced, the room in which he was confined was without a fire, and he was compelled to sleep on the floor.

The doctor's family and friends were allowed to send him in food, and one day, a pudding was passed by the guard, which the prisoner found had a knife and a gimlet. The buffalo skin, of which he made his bed, was cut into strips. That night Dr. Schultz induced the guards to sleep outside the door of the prisoner's room; and this, he knew, was the time for action.

With the aid of the gimlet the line of buffalo hide was made fast to the wall, and removing the window of his room, he threw out the line, and then with great difficulty managed to squeeze his huge body through the opening. But his ponderous weight was not much for the line. It broke, and Dr. Schultz fell to the frozen earth, a distance of twenty feet, severely injuring his hip. With painful effort, and after great labor, Dr. Schultz managed to erase the wall, and so reached the outside of the fort.

This was January 23, the snow lay deep on the prairie, the night was starless and dark, and the piercing wind whirled the powdery snow in the refugee's face. He lost his bearings in his hurry to leave the vicinity of the fort, and did not learn where he was until he found himself approaching St. Boniface, where he knew he need not look for friends. Turning about, he made his way with all possible speed to Kildonan, about six miles north of Fort Garry, where he took refuge in the house of a prominent settler, Mr. McBeth, father of the Rev. R. G. MacBeth, author of "The Making of the Canadian West."

From this trading place Dr. Schultz and his companions set out on snowshoes for Eastern Canada. After tremendous difficulty and a phenomenal winter journey of hundreds of miles through snow and ice and wilderness, he reached Canada, and passed through Windsor, London, Toronto, Kingston, and Montreal.

At all these points and many others his reception was most stirring, for the people had learned by then of the indignities their countrymen had suffered as prisoners of the insurgents. Indignation meetings were held, and at one at Toronto on April 6, 1870, when Dr. Schultz, Charles Mair, Dr. Lynch, and Mr. Setter were present—all refugees from Riel's violence—the Government was called upto take action.

It was not until the following August that the action finally taken produced results.

Dr. Schultz returned to Manitoba, and for many years took a prominent part in public affairs. He was elected to the House of Commons for Lisgar, and except for a short interval continued to represent that constituency until 1885, when he was appointed to the Senate.

From 1888 to 1895 he was Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, receiving in 1894 the honor of knighthood. His death occurred in April, 1896, at Winnipeg, whither he had gone in the vain search of health.—Montreal Herald and Weekly Star.

CENTURIES OLD.

Remains of Huron Warriors Unearthed at Orillia.

Scores of Orillia citizens visited the scene of discovery of the Indian skeletons, unearthed on the property of Bert Milne. As many as thirty skeletons were uncovered. Several of these, especially the skulls, were remarkably well preserved, the light, sandy soil acting as a preservative.

The scene of the disinterment is in the western suburbs of the town known as Mount Slaven and from the time of the earliest settlement was known as an ancient battle ground. It was in fact, the scene of the massacre of many thousand Hurons by the invading Iroquois in March, 1649, when a large Huron village known to historians as Ca-haigue, occupied this spot. Wagon loads of relics of aboriginal days have been unearthed at various times to be placed on exhibition in museums in various towns and cities in the Dominion and also in the United States.

Orillia has always been a mecca of summer excursionists and many of the visitors in past years went away loaded with relics picked up on the old battleground within a few inches of the surface, such as tomahawks, skinning stones, arrow heads, beads and wampun.

When the property was subdivided about 1887, by John McCosh and W. M. Harvey, both since deceased, the trees were cleared away and settlement began. At that time many skeletons were unearthed as well as implements of warfare and at odd times since other traces of Indian occupation have been reported. On the very lot where these thirty skeletons were found about twenty-five years ago, a man named Harry Wiley, while digging a cellar, came upon eight complete skeletons and several fine specimens of Indian pottery, one of large size. This later found its way to the Normal School Museum, Toronto, through the medium of the late Dr. David Boyle.

There is no evidence that this spot was ever used as a burying ground, within the past century and the remains just uncovered are without a doubt those of Huron warriors who perished in the great massacre. It is expected that as excavation proceeds other skeletons and relics may be brought to light. The Indian agent at Rama, the Ojibway Reserve, across the lake from Orillia, has been notified, and it is expected that the remains will be given decent sepulture.

Campaign for Winter Eggs.

The winter production of eggs in Canada is far short of what it should be. There are certain definite reasons for this and a remedy is readily available. G. R. Green, the district Agricultural Representative for Oxford county, along with his assistants, and with the help of Professor Graham, the poultry expert at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, has started a campaign to stimulate winter production.

The campaign is being carried on through the 12 affiliated egg circles of Oxford county, which are operated on a co-operative basis and are having great success in their marketing activities. The campaign was started recently, when the equipment which has been prepared for demonstration purposes was placed in the Woodstock Egg Circle room. This equipment is being duplicated in each of the 12 circles, and if it is successful in interesting the farmers in securing more eggs per hen the production will show a very material increase during the coming winter.

Winter production is determined by the care and feeding of the hens between October 15 and December 1. If the hens are given right feed, in right quantity, and a little more care during this period and throughout the winter, the farmers will get returns when the price of eggs is high.

Portable Wireless For Survey Parties

A small portable wireless set has been designed for the use of survey parties by the Canadian Signal Corps, directed by Lieut.-Col. E. Ford, and the set is to be given a thorough test by A. M. Narraway, controller of surveys, in a forthcoming trip of inspection throughout the Northwest. By the use of this set Mr. Narraway expects to be able to keep in touch with the broadcasting stations at Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton during all the period of his trip.

If the set proves successful, it is intended to equip all the various survey parties with this instrument. They will by this means be able to receive communications from the main stations when otherwise out of touch with settlements. Instructions will be sent them by wireless by arranging for a definite hour each day when they must listen in. They will receive time signals from Arlington, D.C., and thus check the time of their watches and be able to establish their position exactly. Incidentally, the parties will be able to secure information and entertainment from the general broadcasting stations.

The apparatus is contained in a box 12 inches square. It has a range of from 200 to 21,000 metres wave. It is specially turned for 400 and 450 metres wave.

New Variety of Wheat.

Reward, a new wheat, a cross between Marquis and Preludo, made the best showing in the experimental plots at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Indian Head this summer, according to N. D. MacKenzie, superintendent of the farm.

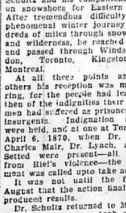
Reward gave a yield of 43 bushels an acre, which is considered an excellent showing under somewhat adverse conditions of wet weather and drought. MacKenzie said that the yield of wheat growing under field conditions was materially cut down this year by a new disease, Basal Glume rot, an ailment which is attributable to the exceptionally wet weather. Under field conditions Marquis made the best showing with 42 bushels to the acre, though a number of fields gave very much reduced yields.

"Have you any fresh vitamines?" asked the young bride.

"Yes, mum," said the veracious dealer. "We've some that was caught on the coast yesterday."

"A pound, please."

She got shrimps.



ODESSA

About one hundred and fifty relatives and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montgomery, last Thursday evening and had a very enjoyable time, which was spent with cards, dancing and music. One of the features of the evening and one that came as a great surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, was the presentation of a purse of money. The address was read by Mrs. Wm. Jones. There was an abundant supply of dainty eatables. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery expect to leave in the near future to make their home in Buffalo, where Mr. Montgomery has a position awaiting him. They will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends.—Mrs. Hiram Babcock, Kingston, is visiting relatives. — Robert Wyott, Watertown, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Ralph Benjamin. — Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and little daughter, Alice, have returned from spending the past three weeks with relatives in Acton, Windsor, Montreal and Ottawa.

BATH

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl McClelland, on January 8th, a son.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mellow and baby, of Napanee, spent Sunday at George Davy's. — Mrs. Alton Ritchie and son, George, of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting at Amos Barrager's.—The euchre drive held in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening, in aid of the Public Library, was a decided success. — The many friends of Miss Vera Miller and Mr. Ed. Horne, both of whom underwent operations for appendicitis at the Kingston General Hospital, will be glad to hear that they are slowly improving after being in a very critical condition.—Mrs. (Rev.) A. C. Hoffman, who has been ill, is improving.

DENBIGH

Mrs. J. W. Lane, who enjoyed a pleasant visit with relatives and friends at North Bay, has arrived home.—David Plotz and his brother Carl, who have been employed in the United States, also arrived home.—Russel Ball left for Oswego, N.Y., to visit his brother, Charles, there. — Miss Margaret Adam went to Belleville to attend Albert College, and Miss Frances Brady left for the Kingston Collegiate Institute. — Miss Gladys Stein returned to Little Ireland to resume teaching.

Taken by Surprise.

There are some unthinkable creatures who are greatly disturbed if they cannot meet every demand made upon them, although they are aware when it is ridiculous to expect them to be able to be equal to the occasion. Such a one was the wife of a large estate, and the fireman of the village worked hard to put out the flames. After it was all over the husband asked the fire fighters into the house for refreshments, and a number of edibles were on hand. His wife was there, also, when the steaming urn of coffee, doughnuts and pies. Then she said apologetically, "Oh, if I had only known that you were going to happen I would have had a lot of things baked up!"

Insurance May Reach $75,000,000.

When by December all pedigree insurance policies are in the hands of the applicants it is estimated that the Manufacturers will near-ate $75,000,000; for a total of 25,000 policies. In the last four weeks, ending September 1, during which the applications were accepted, there were 12,500 demand notes for policies, aggregating $22,000,000 worth of insurance. The demands were largely for policies of $1,000 and of $2,000.

It was said at the soldier's insurance division of the D. S. C. R. that 75 per cent. of the large batch of applications had already been approved and the remainder would be handled within the next two weeks. In only a very few cases, it was said, were the applications being found not to come within the regulations. It is hoped that every policy will be issued within the present month. All policies will necessarily be dated as from September 1 at the latest.

Are You Only Half Alive?

Is life just one glorious existence for you? Are you thoroughly alive every minute, every hour, every day? Do you sleep well? Do you look forward to your meals and enjoy them? Are you always hungry at meal time? If your whole body is not thoroughly alive mentally and physically—fairly tingling with the joy of living—if you don't sleep well—if you don't look forward to your meals and enjoy them—if you are tired, listless, weak, you need a tonic. You need Carnol. Carnol goes at the root of the trouble by first building your body, enriching your blood, toning up your system and strengthening your nerves. L'Abbé Cantin thinks so highly of Carnol that he has endorsed it by the following letter:

"All the good that is claimed for Carnol cannot be too well founded. I have myself observed how beneficial it has proved in a number of cases. That is why I recommended it so highly to my family and to all my friends. Carnol is within the means of every family as the price is most reasonable. To my sincere thanks I join my best wishes for the prosperity of your industry."—L'Abbé Auguste Cantin, 96 Cremazie St., Quebec. 14-9

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

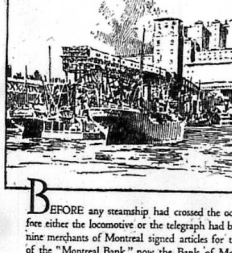
FIRST of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

IN MONTREAL



BEFORE any steamship had crossed the ocean, and before either the locomotive or the telegraph had been invented, nine merchants of Montreal signed articles for the formation of the "Montreal Bank," now the Bank of Montreal. That was on June 23, 1817—more than 106 years ago.

Since that time Montreal has grown from a town of less than 20,000 to a city of more than 800,000 population.

The Bank, in continuous and successful operation from those early days down to the present time, has steadily pioneered its way across Canada. Today, through its Head Office and more than 550 Branches, it offers complete banking service—local, national, and international—in every section of the Dominion.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Established over 100 years

Total Assets in excess of $650,000,000

After Fifty Years

FOUNDED fifty years ago, the Dominion Bank to-day has a chain of branches throughout the greater part of Canada, and strong foreign affiliations the world over. Our half century of banking experience has developed a complete and efficient service and a knowledge of financial affairs, invaluable to our patrons.

Fire at Silleville.

The home of Irvine Brooks at Sillsville narrowly escaped being destroyed by fire about 11 a.m. on Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Brooks, while attending to her duties in another room, heard the cries of a cat in the kitchen. She immediately investigated and found the room full of smoke. Neighbors were informed and were soon at work with two fire extinguishers, while the school children carried water from the cistern and well. The fire was soon under control, but it had caused considerable damage.

Hotelman Dies Suddenly.

Harry Johnston, aged 57, proprietor of the Oriental Hotel, 77 Parliament Street, Toronto, died suddenly on Sunday afternoon last while cleaning the snow off a walk in his backyard. Death was due to heart failure, and no inquest will be held. The late Mr. Johnston had been in the hotel business for almost twenty years, the larger portion of this time as proprietor of the Oriental Hotel. He was born at Adolphustown, Ont. In politics he was a Conservative. He is survived by his widow and four daughters. A sister resides in Montreal. The funeral service was held at the Oriental Hotel on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, and interment took place at Owen Sound on Wednesday morning.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Historical Society will hold their first meeting of the present series on Friday, February 1st, at 8 o'clock, in the Historical Hall, over the Public Library. The meeting is to be addressed by Professor McArthur, of Queen's University, who will give a lecture on "The European Reparation Settlement." Prof. McArthur is the successor to Professor Morrison as head of the History Department. He is one of our own Canadian teachers, of the younger type, an able lecturer, and a brilliant scholar. There is no more live subject at present in public to-day than the European question. Here is an opportunity to hear one who is well versed in all its phases.

This meeting is free to the public. 4b

SILVER WEDDING.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Douglas, South Napanee, was the scene of a most pleasant gathering on Friday evening last. About forty of the relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas met with them to join in the celebration of their silver wedding. A game of progressive euchre helped to pass away the evening and about eleven o'clock a most dainty and elaborate dinner was served. At the conclusion of the repast the host and hostess were presented with a beautiful silver platter and combination entree dish, and an address. The recipients made an appropriate reply. Following is the address :

Napanee, Jan. 18th 1924.

To Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas.
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Friends,—Your friends and neighbors are present with you this evening to help you celebrate your 25th anniversary of your marriage. We do not think that any celebration can be more important than that in which we gather to commemorate any of the mile-stones of a happy domestic journey. Marriage in recent years, especially in some countries, is not treated with that sanctity which the traditions of our Christian lands require, although we are happy to say that in Canada, marriage is generally looked upon as a solemn and inviolable contract which must be lived up to faithfully, and we trust that at no time will our Legislators, by unwise or hasty legislation, loosen up or make loss binding, this one great contract, which means the preservation of the home.

The word "home" as properly understood is one of the sweetest words in the language. A poet has described "home" as "the resort of peace and joy and love and plenty, where polished friends and dear relations mingle into bliss." We believe that such a home, thus so beautifully described, is the home we are now in. We see evidence of peace and plenty. There is much joy in our hearts to-night as we believe there is in yours.

On your family we wish also to felicitate you. You have brought to manhood manly and exemplary boys who are a credit to you and to our country and we trust that in the years to come they will perpetuate your memories as upright, industrious good citizens.

We trust that you may both live long to enjoy many such anniversaries as we now celebrate and that in the Divine providence, we may be permitted to be with you.

Yours sincerely,
THE GUESTS.

ARGYLL LODGE PAYS VISIT TO MIZPAH LODGE.

Argyle Lodge, No. 212, I.O.O.F., of Napanee, on Monday night last, paid a fraternal visit to Mizpah Lodge, No. 127, Belleville. Thirty-five members from Napanee, including representatives of Napanee Encampment, No. 86, Tweed, Stirling, Thomasburg, Madoc, Bowmanville and Hamilton, together with the members of Belleville and Mizpah Lodge, filled the large lodge room to capacity. Five candidates were present for the first degree, and the following members of Argyle Lodge exemplified that degree in a manner which various members said was nearly to perfection.

Degree Master, A. Douglas, E. Todd, H. Babcock, P. Wagar, H. Garratt, H. M. Black, R. Moore, A. Pybus, F. J. Bradley, J. Bennell, H. Roe, E. Doving, A. Ford, G. Winters, G. Root, R. B. Hart, F. S. Scott, W. Wilson, W. Sills, C. Loucks; pianist, T. T. Cook.

After the degree a banquet was served and a short toast list was conducted through with P.G.P. R. H. Ketcheson as toastmaster. The toast of "The King" was honored in the usual way. The degree staff of Argyle Lodge was toasted in a very enthusiastic manner and responded to by Bro. J. Douglas, H. Garratt and R. Moore. Bros. Rev. Mr. Kennedy and Rev. Mr. Marshall also expressed their appreciation of the manner in which the degree was conferred. D.D.G.M. G. G. Way also spoke highly of the work. P.G. G. Winters, of Napanee, led the visitors in expressing their appreciation of the welcome they had received at Belleville, and hoped that Belleville and Napanee Lodges would meet together again in the near future.

A MEMORIAL TO THE LATE DR. VROOMAN

The Hospital Aid Society of Napanee has undertaken to provide a most appropriate memorial to the late Dr. Vrooman by fully equipping and furnishing a room in the King-ston General Hospital to be known as "The Dr. J. P. Vrooman Room." The room has been selected and the Society has authorized us to say that a desire to assist in this most laudable undertaking and we trust them to do so by subscription lists have been opened at the Robinson Company's store and Wallace's Store, Napanee. It is not the intention to solicit subscriptions as contributions toward such a memorial should be voluntary. Anyone, therefore, who desires to show respect towards the memory of a man who devoted his life in alleviating the sufferings of others and was noted for his whole hearted generosity towards the poor, may leave their contributions at either of the above mentioned stores or with Mrs. J. W. Robbins, the treasurer of the Society. The Hospital Aid Society is to be congratulated upon its good judgment in choosing the form this memorial is to take, and we hope that for them a prompt and generous response to the call for funds. We hope the amount raised will be sufficient to enable the ladies to make this memorial worthy of the town and to provide the exemplary life it commemorates.

Some houses are kept spotless and in order; others are full of happy people. You will surely be one of the happy ones if you use Williams' Canphorated Mustard Cream for that disagreeable chest tightness, or stiff neck. Rub it on and you'll like it; it won't blister—no mess or bother in using it. Great for the children. 35c. a jar.

ENTERPRISE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Wagar and Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, on the afternoon of January 9th.

The programme was arranged by Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, Vice President of the Society, from the yearly Blue Book Report, and was both interesting and very instructive. Special music was provided by Mrs. W. J. Mellow and Miss Elizabeth Mellow, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

After the meeting a delightful farewell tea was served by Mrs. Carscallen, in honor of Mrs. H. R. Jackson, President of the Society, who is leaving for a three months' trip to San Antonio, Texas, and also for Mrs. Geo. Nelson, Corresponding Secretary of the Society, who is moving soon to Ottawa, where she will reside.

After luncheon was served, a vote of thanks was proposed by Mrs. Jackson to Mrs. Carscallen for her delightful hospitality, which was sincerely responded to by a hearty hand-clapping.

Important—It is requested that all blocks for the W. M. S. autograph quilt be handed in at the next meeting, to be held at the Parsonage, on February 13th.

LAST RESPECTS TENDERED TO JACK PAXTON.

Early on Friday morning, January 18th, T. E. McGill, Centreville, received the sad news by wire of the death of his brother-in-law, Jack Paxton, Regina, which took place the previous night, following an operation just two hours after cutting his thumb.

The following is taken from the Regina Morning Leader:—

The funeral of Jack Paxton of 1437 Cameron street, who died Thursday night, was held last Saturday afternoon from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, which was filled to capacity. A private service was first held at the deceased's residence and the church service was under the auspices of King Hiram Lodge, No. 164, A. F. and A. M., of which the deceased was Junior Warden, both services being conducted by Rev. A. Young and the Masonic ritual by Worshipful Brother D. Sanderson.

The Queen City Classics, of which the deceased was a member, rendered special music, the ceremony under the leadership of Prof. John Henry, one of the numbers being "By Deep Jordan's Banks," the favorite selection of the late Mr. Paxton. The choir of the deceased was left vacant.

The Saskatchewan government, of which the deceased was an employee, was represented by ex-Premier Martin, Commissioner P. G. Ward and other officials and representatives from Wascana Chapter, No. 1, G.R.S., and all organizations with which the deceased was connected.

Floral tributes were sent from the following: Pillow, widow; heart, mother; anchor, Andrew; wreath, Frances and Scott; spray, Irene; wreath, Nan and Jack; wreath, Bessie and Bill; wreath, mother, sisters and brothers, Centreville, Ontario; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Tomlin, Dundalk; heller; also wreaths and sprays from the following: King Hiram, No. 164, and A. M., No. 104; Wascana Chapter, No. 1, R. S.; North West Mounted Police, A. F. and A. M., No. 11; Excelsior Chapter, No. 21, O. E. S.; Queen City Classics, Caledonian Curling Club, Ladies' Curling Club, R. C. M. P. Curling Club, Department of Education, Insurance and office staff, Motor License Branch; Caledonian Dance Committee, Race Committee, Regina Committee, Race Station; St. Andrew's Thistle Football Club, Regina; R. S. Scottish Camp Balmoral, No. 177; Saskatchewan Motor Company, Ltd.; staff of Northern Electric Company, Ltd.; Mrs. R. V. Hinz, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. D. Dillon and family; Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Walker, Mr. J. Spence and family, Mr. Mrs. and Miss Arnall; Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Muirhead; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Newman, Messrs. E. M. Roy, L. A. Kennedy, A. B. Patterson; Mr. and Mrs. G. Parker; Mr. and Mrs. A. Roberts and Mr. Mr. and Mrs. A. McLean; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carter; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hipkins.

Following the service the body of the deceased was followed to the graveside by members of the Masonic Order, the pall bearers being W. Sanderson, A. Young, J. Chapman, J. A. Sangston, J. B. Watson and A. H. Rowbotham.

YARKER

At time of writing we are having spring-like weather. The mild wind and warm rain have the snow pretty well whipped. Big contrast to last Saturday night, when it was thirty below. The smoke stack on the big factory blew off recently, and had it not been for the strong guy wires it would have wrecked the building badly. The little Yarker's bucket boss is being broken. And don't you know that when one of our very best citizens was up on the roof of this big building doing some work the other day someone called to him from below and told him to stay up there, for he was as near heaven as he would ever be.—The good Lord pity the rest of us. —A part of the property belonging to the Standard Church was destroyed by fire last Sunday night. We understand there was some insurance. If the burned building had not been detached the whole plant would have been destroyed.—Mr. Reuben Curl fell from the barn loft the other morning and injured his arm quite badly. He will be off duty for some time.—The Hon. Dr. Edwards addressed a largely attended meeting on Tuesday evening in the interests of the L. O. L. Centennial Fund. He made a strong appeal in behalf of the Million Dollar Endowment Fund to be raised by the Grand Lodge during the next three years. His address was a masterpiece for broadness of vision and logical statements. • A special vote of thanks was presented to the speaker by Bros. Spencer and Down. A splendid banquet was tendered the doctor by the local lodges, at the village hotel, and was largely attended.—A number from here attended the open installation and banquet given by the I.O.O.F. at Odessa on Wednesday night. They vote the affair a big success. —Some of our section men on the C. N. R. had a thrilling experience on the big snow plough while clearing the track between here and Ottawa last Friday night. They had what the boys call a wild time for some eighteen hours.—The members of Yarker Cheese Board have wound up the factory business for the past year and are perfecting plans for next season.—Mr. J. H. Wright's factory is running overtime to fill the many orders that are constantly coming in. The young people of the village are taking steps to equip the Epworth League hall by painting it with clairs and putting in a piano, with a view to organizing a club.

ARDEN

Hello! Who said Arden was dead? Not at all, but nearly frozen up. — The box social at C. M. Green's on Wednesday evening, Jan. 16th, in aid of the Anglican Church, was a good success. The proceeds amounted to $38.00. All report a good time.—Misses Dorothy and Norma Woodruff, Sydenham, have returned to their home, after being the guests of Mrs. Edward Barker.—Miss Dell Pringle is spending a short time in Toronto. — Mrs. Everett Scott has returned home from the General Hospital, Kingston, and is gaining as well as can be expected. — Mrs. Ira Robert Monds and family spent Tuesday evening at Albert Marshall's, also Edward Hartwick.—Mr. L. D. Parks was in Kingston last week attending County Council.—Misses Jennie Johnston and Faye Clark have returned home from Kaladar. — Mrs. T. A. Johnston called on Mrs. Thomas Hughes on Tuesday afternoon. — Mrs. J. A. Pringle is in Kingston, undergoing an operation for appendicitis. We hope for a speedy recovery.—Hauling logs and pulpwood is the order of the day. Mr. J. A. Newton has a number of men busy hauling logs to his mill.

STRATHCONA

It has been reported that Strathcona is dead of late. Not much wonder, when Mrs. W. Uens, Mrs. F. Latimer, Mrs. C. B. Finlay, Mrs. R. Mc-Lean, Mrs. Nile Pybus, Mr. T. Hawley, Mrs. B. Finlay and Mr. Cecil Latimer have been on the sick list. This 'furg is not dead,—just dying. However, the thaw may bring a few back to normal once more. The evangelistic services, which were to be held here this week, are postponed until the weather becomes more favorable.—The W. M. S. quilting, held at the home of Mrs. Holmes Wilson some time ago, was a decided success. A goodly number of ladies were present and a very sociable time was enjoyed.—Mrs. F. Best took tea with Mrs. and Mrs. G. R. Finlay one evening this week.—Mrs. A. H. Hoare spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Jno. Finlay.—Miss E. MacDermid of Queen's, visited with Miss R. Willard over the week-end.—Mr. W. J. Finlay was in Toronto last week.—Mrs. F. Best spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald.—Mrs. Geo. Pybus visited with Mrs. A. H. Hoare on Wednesday.—A few of the citizens of Strathcona heard the address on "Community Building", given by Mr. MacIntyre, in Newburgh, on Tuesday evening. It would be a good idea if some of his plans were adopted and carried out.—A very quiet wedding took place on Monday evening at the home of Mr. William Fox, when Mr. Herbert Fox and Miss E. Conger, of Napanee, were united in the bonds of matrimony. Rev. A. H. Heare performed the ceremony. A host of friends wish the newlymarried couple bon voyage through life.—Mrs. Martin, of Yarker, has recently been visiting her brother, Mr. Fred. MacDonald.—The annual meeting of the Strathcona Public Library will be held in the Library Hall on Monday evening, Feb. 4th. Everyone interested in the Library should be present, as this will be a very important meeting.—The Mission Circle has been postponed until a later date.—Sunday School next Sunday at 2 p.m.

WEDDING BELLS.

Page—Sager.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, January 30th, at Knox Church Manse, by Rev. W. R. Inkster, of Toronto, when Ethyl May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Page, Harris, Sask., became the bride of Mr. William H. Sager, of Napanee.

The bride was beautifully gowned in dress of white cloth of log cabin shade, with satin hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. The attendants were Miss Lena Hogg and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jarvis, brother and sister of the groom. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to thirty guests at the home of Mrs. Jas. Hall, 148 Dynevor Road. The happy couple left on the evening train amidst showers of confetti and good wishes for Niagara Falls and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sager are now at 40 Merriman St., Rochester, N.Y.

HOCKEY

Point Anne 4, Napanee 1.

The return game between Napanee and Point Anne was played at Point Anne on Friday evening last, the home team winning by a score of 4-1. The weather during the week was bad for an outdoor rink, and as a result the ice was in poor condition, very rough, and a strong wind swept the rink from end to end during the entire game, making it very uncomfortable for spectators and players alike. The game was decidedly clean, condition of the ice considered, not a penalty being handed out. Point Anne scored four goals in the first period, while Napanee secured their one tally in the third. An unfortunate incident occurred near the end of the game, with about three minutes to go, when two of the opposing players got into an argument. In less time than it takes to write it a team of spectators were on the ice and it looked as though the visiting team were going to be mobbed. However, with the assistance of Manager Faulin, and three of the Point Anne players, Messrs. Boland, Goyer and Generaux, assisted by some of the fair-minded sports of the Point, the disturbance was quelled and the game called. The Napanee management and players have gone on record that they will never play another game of hockey in Point Anne until Peach time as they are guaranteed protection. At no time in a game has a spectator the right whatever to go on the ice while the game is on. If a difference of opinion occurs between the players it can be easily settled at once by the players themselves and the referee and the game continue without interruption.

Following is the line-up:

Point Anne—Goal, P. Boland; defence, B. Tompkins, J. Marader; right wing, M. Green; centre, F. Goyer; left wing, B. Generaux; subs., G. Faulin, B. Brant, H. Leggett (goal).

Napanee—Goal, H. Finn; defence, S. Switzer, F. Beckett; right wing, T. Spencer; centre, F. Huffman; left wing, H. Carter; subs., D. Johnston, H. McNeill, H. Babcock (goal).

Referee—Leo Barrett, Belleville.

Kingston 2, Belleville 1.

The return game between Belleville and Kingston was played in the Limestone City on Saturday evening, when the visitors were defeated by a score of 2-1, in an interesting game. The referee, in his report, says it was one of the best games played in Kingston this season and a credit to the Bay of Quinte League. The winning goal was scored about 22 seconds before overtime period was up.

Following is the line-up:

Belleville—Goal, K. Scott; defence, Goyer, W. Canning; right wing, S. Jones; centre, F. Wheler; left wing, A. Armstrong; subs., P. Hibbard (goal), J. Williams, F. Blute.

Kingston—Goal, B. McCarthy; defence, Ritchie, M. Bennett; right wing, A. Arnott; centre, R. Lamont; left wing, E. Waltz; subs., C. Logue (goal), D. Devlin, T. Andrews.

Referee—J. A. Casterton, Kingston.

Belleville 3, Napanee 2.

In one of the most closely contested Bay of Quinte Hockey League games played in Napanee this season, locals lost out by one goal, on Monday evening. The ice was in the soft and overskating the puck proved quite often.

Napanee started off strong and had two goals in succession shortly in the commencement of the game, before the period ended Belleville tied one, the period ending 2-1 in favor of Napanee. The second period did not bear fruit, and in the third the visitors scored two, making final 3-2 in favor of Belleville. There were thrills galore, especially in the third period. With the score 3-2 against them the Napanee forces bombarded the Belleville nets from all angles for a period of three or four minutes without interruption, but were unscharitable and would not let one go by.

The game was exceptionally clean, no penalty being handed out.

Following is the line-up:

Belleville—Goal, K. Scott; defence, N. Goyer, W. Canning; right wing, S. Symons; centre, G. Arnott; left wing, A. Armstrong; subs., P. Hibbard (goal), J. Williams, F. Blute.

Napanee—Goal, H. Babcock; defence, S. Switzer, F. Bentley; right wing, I. Spencer; centre, H. McNeill; left wing, H. Carter; subs., H. Finn (goal), H. Johnston, J. Sagerhin.

Referee—J. A. Casterton, Kingston.

Games Scheduled.

Monday, February 4th—Kingston at Napanee.

Kingston at Napanee.

The Young Irishmen, of Kingston, will visit Napanee on Monday evening for the return game, and they need this one to stay in the championship race for the first half of the schedule. The locals are playing good enough hockey to defeat any team in the league and under the circumstances it is likely to be the turning point. Hockey fans are urged to be on hand to see the game, as it will be one of the most important of the series.

Postponed Games.

The mild weather has occasioned two postponed games during the first half of the schedule, viz., Napanee at Belleville, and Kingston at Point Anne. These games will likely be played some time during the coming week.

NEWBURGH

The annual meeting of the Newburgh Dairy Co. took place on Monday. There was a full turn out of stockholders and patrons. The officers reported a good year's business. The average price paid for milk per cwt. was $1.38⅛. This was an advance of 19c. per cwt. over 1922. The amount of milk received in the factory during the season was 4554376 lbs.; out of this was manufactured 415121 lbs. of cheese, and the average price received per lb. was 18 5-8c. The stockholders received 6c. per cwt. for their milk over that received by patrons generally as a risk bonus. They also received 8 per cent. dividend on capital invested. The shares were raised, by action of Monday's meeting from $10.00 to $15.00. The Company has been operating three years. They paid $3600 for the factory, have added about $1000 worth of equipment, have paid for everything up to date, and have $511 on hand to begin the new year. This is certainly a good showing, and everyone, both stockholders and patrons, are satisfied.

On Monday night Hon. Dr. Edwards held a meeting in the Bank Hall, in the interests of the Ontario Centennial Fund. The night was stormy, the attendance was small, and the people missed hearing of a few things that they ought to know. On Tuesday night Mr. McLeary, of the Ontario Agricultural College, gave a lecture on rural problems and the advantage of community organization. The attendance was good and the lecture gave a very instructive and suggestive talk backed up with facts and figures that brought the question home to all who heard him.

Miss Eleanor Brown, who—at the time of her death about 95 years and 4 months old, passed away on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Brown had attained this great age without losing the use of her faculties, and until the last week or two, was a constant reader of the daily papers. She was a Public School teacher for years; latterly she has been living with her sisters, Mrs. Marshall Peters.

The high price of lumber is turning the attention of farmers to their own bushes, and saw logs of all shapes and sizes are finding their way to Breezes' saw mill to be manufactured into lumber. The saw mills are also taking the place of the broad axe for squaring timber, and it would be difficult to find a man under fifty years of age who could square a stick of timber with a broad axe.

BETHANY

The play, "East Lynne", presented by the Club at Bethany, on Thursday evening last, was a play to an overflowing house. Each person rendered his or her part perfectly, and many flattering comments are heard of it yet.—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Conger and Mrs. Ivy Conger spent Sunday at Mr. Mac. Conger's, Deseronto.—Mr. Geo. Hicks has returned home, after visiting his sister, Mrs. H. Miller, Oshawa.—Most people here were too busy keeping on fires to go to Napanee on Saturday, as Jack Frost was very prominent that day. — Mr. and Mrs. E. Howard Conger have spent Sunday at J. P. Cuthill's, Anderson.—The Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Victor Martin, on February 6th.—Mr. Geo. Burtch took dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Dean.—Miss Florence Dafoe returned home on Saturday, after spending a few days with friends at Oshawa.—We are sorry to hear that Mr. Joe Clark, Deseronto, formerly of this place, is on the sick list. We hope for a speedy recovery. His daughters motored two, making a few days with Mrs. Kverb, is spending a few days with Mrs. and Mrs. Ed. Conger visited on Sunday evening at E. R. Bethley's.—They have bushed a road to Desoronto, which is a great help on some of these stormy days.—Mr. Hartwig is now well and able to be about his work.

CAMDEN EAST

On Saturday night last at 10 o'clock, the thermometer registered 40 degrees below zero. Sunday and Monday were also very cold. — On January 26th, at Bethel Street West, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis, a son.—Saturday last, Mr. F. Holland, accompanied by his niece, Miss Carmelita Lambert, spent the day in Napanee.—Mr. Archie Hinch, of Bethel Street, returned home last week, after spending a few weeks in Syracuse, with his relatives. — Mr. Will Hinch has returned home from Kingston General Hospital, where he was receiving treatment for blood poison in his hand.—Mr. Roy Perry. A former resident of this place, arrived on Monday night to renew old acquaintances.—Mrs. Jas. Henderson is failing at time of writing; also Mr. Henderson is poorly.—Mr. Davie Patterson is ill, with Dr. Mounce, Newburgh, in attendance.—Mrs. Will Stewart visited her sister, Mrs. Susan Robinson, on Tuesday afternoon last. —Mr. Bert Avery has purchased several tons of coal to supply those in need, at $18.00 ton.

Why Ford Predominates

Low First Cost

The low price of Ford cars and trucks has been one of the great dynamic forces in the development of motor transportation.

Since January 1920 the average price of Ford products has dropped 38% and Ford prices are now the lowest in the history of the industry.

And because Ford prices are so low, the worker and his family enjoy the innumerable benefits and delights of owning an automobile; the merchant and manufacturer extend their business into new and profitable fields by means of motor delivery; the farmer carries his fresh produce to the best markets with none of the old-time hardship and delay—and all for a very small initial investment.

Fifty out of every hundred cars and trucks in Canada are Fords—due to the public appreciation of Ford value.

After the work of the evening had been concluded a most delicious repast was served in the Assembly Hall, to which one and all did ample justice to the good things provided by the ladies, and thus Queen of Sheba Rebekah Lodge No. 254, got away to a flying start, and we predict for this fraternal organization a profitable and fruitful future.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION BANQUET.

Since the organization of the Napanee Poultry Association, some four or five years ago, it has been the custom to hold an annual banquet at which prominent speakers would give the different phases of poultry raising, breeding, etc. The 1924 banquet was held in the spacious dining hall of Argyll Lodge, No. 212, on Friday night last and although the weather was intensely cold, there was an attendance of over 100. All agreed that it was the best ever held.

Promptly at 7.30 the members and their friends sat down to the tables which groaned with good things, Bickle's five-piece orchestra playing throughout the supper hour. After the inner man had been provided for Mr. Geo. Frolick, President of the Association, called the meeting to order and in a short address outlined the purpose of the Association.

The following program was then given: Selection, Orchestra; instrumental duet, Mrs. Hosey and daughter; solo, Miss Frances Dwyer; address, Dr. Bateman, Ottawa; selection, Orchestra; solo, Miss Frances Dwyer; address, Dr. Robertson, Ottawa; instrumental duet, Mrs. Hosey and daughter; address, Warden W. H. Milling. The program was interspersed with community singing led by Dr. Black.

Dr. Bateman, who is not a stranger to the Association, spoke on co-operation, which he said was just as needful in poultry matters as in civil and religious life. Mr. Robertson, of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, gave an address on pure bred stock, and outlined the many points which he had observed at the Ottawa Exhibition. Warden Milling, although not a member, told the audience that he was one of the largest poultry producers in the county.

LAPUM

On account of the inclemency of the weather during the first of the week, the people were very much shut in until the Pathmarter, Mr. Sidney Bush, cleared the roads of snow and made them in a passable condition. Miss S. Simpson has gone to spend the winter months with S. Vanderwater, Newburgh. — Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. J. Bertram and Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown spent an evening recently at Mrs. Wm. Pringle's; Miss D. Reeden at W. Huff's; Mrs. H. Barleigh, of Odessa, at W. Pringle's; Mr. J. Boulton spent a few days with relatives in Kingston.—Mrs. S. Shibley, Wilton, visiting at Mrs. Wm. Pringle's.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Boulton and Mrs. J. Boulton, of Mr. and Mrs. Parker, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boulton.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Clyde and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Huff made a flying trip to Odessa on Thursday of last week.—We are glad to report that Mrs. A. A. Reid, who has been ill for some time, is slightly improved.—Mr. F. Brown has been busily engaged in repairing the telephone lines, which were put out of commission by the recent storm.

A man saw the line, "Ink makes men think," in our Inklings heading and came around, saying he wanted enough ink to fill a bathtub (he was not a printer).

LENNOX AND ADDINGTON MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO. ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Lennox and Addington Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held in the Council Chamber, at the Town Hall, Napanee, on Saturday afternoon last. Owing to the extreme coldness of the day a comparatively small crowd was in attendance, and, it may be added, that the policyholders of our own home company are satisfied that the affairs of the Lennox and Addington are conducted in a business-like and economical manner.

The President, Mr. A. C. Parks, occupied the chair, and, after a few remarks, asked the Secretary, Mr. W. R. Lott, to read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which were read, and on motion were adopted.

The Auditors' Report was presented by Mr. W. Mearle Sills, which showed that in spite of heavy fire losses, which made large demands upon the cash reserve, the total assets of the Company at the end of last year was $70,300.21, which is the largest unimpaired assets that the Company has ever enjoyed. Also there were 1029 policies in force at the end of the year (an increase of 27 over a year ago), covering an insurance of $2,325,205.00 (an increase of $18,420.00 over a year ago).

Mr. M. N. Empey briefly addressed the meeting, and laid stress on the fact that the Lennox and Addington Mutual was very strong financially and was giving the farmers of this district insurance at cost.

Mr. W. R. Lott spoke at length and quoted figures showing the rates of other companies, and pointing out the fact that this Company is insuring the property of our farmers at a very low rate. He went on to say that during the forty-seven years the Lennox and Addington had been doing business here there had been three special assessments, which amounted, as a whole, to between seven and eight cents of an increase per $100.00 during the nearly half a century that the Company has been in business.

On motion Messrs. A. C. Parks and J. C. Hudgins were re-elected as Directors for the ensuing three years.

On motion Messrs. W. Mearle Sills and Sid. C. S. McKim were re-elected as Auditors for the ensuing year.

Tell of the Good Work Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Doing.

Mrs. C. H. Lallamme Tried Them and is Now Recommending Them to Her Friends.

Bridgeville, Que., Jan. 28th, (Special).—"Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me a great deal of good. I have taken many other remedies, but none of them did what the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me. I tell all my friends about them."

This statement, which speaks for itself, is made by Mrs. C. H. Lallamme, well known resident of this place.

Kidney trouble is very common amongst all classes of people, and usually a lot of valuable time is lost by using unsuitable treatments. A good plan is to watch the kidneys and keep them healthy. Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate and strengthen sick kidneys. They are safe and are recommended all over the civilized world.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have restored sound health to thousands of troubled women and men.

BALLOON TIRES ARE MEETING BIG DEMAND.

Low Pressure and Big Air Surface Take Up Jolts.

Balloon ford tires which are meeting with favor in the United States are now on exhibition in Canada, and are creating much interest. These tires are a part of the equipment on several of the different makes of cars which are on exhibit.

Balloon tires were first manufactured by the Firestone Tire Company of Akron, Ohio. Up to the end of last week the factory was turning out 1,500 tires a day at Akron. This week, however, the output has been increased to 2,000 per day.

Balloon tires were first manufactured in Canada at London, Ontario, by the Firestone factory. When their popularity become assured the manufacture was transferred to the United States.

A balloon tire is a cord that is built much larger in size, it contains approximately twice the volume of air space and only requires about half as much air pressure. The balloon tire requires between 18 and 30 pounds of air, while the other tires need from 50 to 80 pounds pressure.

The body of the tire is very thin and extremely flexible. It is soft and cushion-like and when inflated to the proper pressure has the appearance of a high pressure tire when deflated. With the larger air capacity and the lower pressure, it is run soft enough to absorb the irregularities of the road with resultant riding comfort. The wide tread on these tires clings tenaciously to wet or icy pavements and gives better car control and prevents skidding.

The gasoline consumption is not increased, it is claimed for the tires grip the road better and chains are largely unnecessary. The shock of a bump is entirely absorbed by the tire and the springs of the car are very seldom called into action.

The evolution of the balloon tire is considered to be the third period of tires. The first was the pneumatic, the second the cord tire and the third the balloon.

The automobile always heads the train to the crossing, barring accidents.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE—BUT!

A lion met a tiger
As they drank beside a pool.
Said the tiger, "Why the why
You're roaring like a fool."

"That's not foolish," said the lion,
"With a twinkle in his eyes.
"They call me king of all the beasts
Because I advertise!"

A rabbit heard them talking
And ran home like a streak;
He thought he'd try the lion's plan,
But his roar was a squeak.

A fox came to investigate—
Had luncheon in the woods,
So when you advertise, my friend,
Be sure you've got the goods.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

(How to drive a nail without effort)
Ask your husband to drive a nail,
He won't inquire: "Where's the hammer?"
Tell him it's where he left it the last time.
He will inquire: "Where's that?"
Ask him how you should know.
He will reply: "Well, who would?"
Ask him if he married you so that you might keep track of hammers.
He will answer: "Darned if I know what I married you for."
State that neither do you.
This will hit the nail on the head.
If necessary, repeat.

A tailor had called to collect his bill frequently, but without success. Finally, in desperation, he said somewhat:

"Mr. Jones, I must insist that you make some definite arrangement with me."

"Why, surely," replied Mr. Jones, agreeably. "Let's see. Well, suppose you call every Thursday morning."

MORE OATS MORE CASH

Growing More Oats By Sowing the O.A.C. No. 72

Larger Yields and Better Quality—A Great Prize Winner—A Triumph for the Agricultural College—A New Hybrid Field Pea.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The O.A.C. No. 72 oat has, during the short period of its existence, added greatly to the total grain production of Canada. Its multiplication during future years will undoubtedly add many millions to the agricultural wealth of the province.

Derived From the Siberian.

The O.A.C. No. 72 was derived from the Siberian. In 1903 a large nursery plot in the experimental grounds at the Ontario Agricultural College, containing 10,000 seeds planted by hand at equal distances apart, produced several plants of remarkable vigor. One of these selected plants was the parent of the O.A.C. No. 72.

The success of the O.A.C. No. 72 has been measured side by side with that of Go Banner, which, previous to the general distribution of the O.A.C. No. 72, was the most popular oat grown in Ontario.

Yield and Quality Compared.

For sixteen years in succession the O.A.C. No. 72 and the Banner varieties of oats, have been included in the experiments at the College, and the following table gives the average results in maturity, in percentage of hull and in yield of both straw and grain per acre:

	O.A.C. No. 72	Banner
Percentage of hull	24.0	30.5
Tons of straw per acre	2.2	2.1
Bushels grain	83.3	73.3

In these experiments the O.A.C. No. 72 in comparison with the Banner has a thinner hull in each of fourteen and a greater yield per acre in each of twelve out of sixteen years. Each variety required on an average one hundred and ten days to mature.

Remarkable Growth in Popularity.

In 1911 the O.A.C. No. 72 variety of oats was distributed throughout Ontario in connection with the co-operative experiments which were being carried out through the medium of the Experimental Union. Without a single exception this new variety of oat has given a higher average yield per acre than any other variety used in co-operative tests conducted by farmers in each of the past eleven years. The O.A.C. No. 72 soon made a record for itself, and was increased rapidly from the pound lots used in the tests conducted on the individual farms. In the last seven years, of the 950 first prizes which were awarded to fields of standing oats in connection with the Field Crop Competitions throughout Ontario, the O.A.C. No. 72 received 41 per cent., the Banner 229, and all other varieties combined 249.

A Consistent Prize Winner.

In the competitions of threshed grain at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto; at the Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa; at the Provincial Winter Fair, Guelph, and at the Ottawa Winter Fair, the O.A.C. No. 72 received 72 and the Banner 41 prizes in the last seven years, the O.A.C. No. 72 surpassing the Banner in awards from fifty to one hundred per cent. at each of these exhibitions. This is a remarkable record, twenty years from single seed to the present day millions. The benefit that Ontario is deriving from the development of the O.A.C. No. 72 will pay many times the entire cost of the Agricultural College.—Dept. of Extension, O.A. College, Guelph.

A New Hybrid Field Pea.

The market value of Ontario's field peas amounts to about four million dollars annually.

The O.A.C. No. 181 variety of field pea was originated at Guelph by crossing the Prussian Blue and the White Wonder. It is a small, smooth, white pea of good quality and appearance.

Of all the leading varieties of field peas tested at the Ontario Agricultural College, the O.A.C. No. 181 has given the highest average yield of grain per acre. In the past five years' results, the first, second, third and fifth highest yields were produced by new varieties originated at the College through cross-fertilization. In the tests with other varieties, the O.A.C. No. 181 was early, ripening maturity in 89 days, and the straw was the freest from blight and gave to an average length of 45 inches. The peas gave an average weight of 62.8 pounds per measured bushel.

This new variety of field peas was successfully tested in the co-operative experiments on fifty farms throughout Ontario in the past two years. The following was the average yield in bushels per acre per farm of each of the four varieties tested in this way by the practical farmers of the Province:—Prussian Britain, 24.4; Potter, 24.3; and Canadian Beauty, 22-1.—Dept. of Extension, O.A. College, Guelph.

How to Control Root Maggots.

The onion root maggot can be controlled by treatment, early in the season, with a solution of one ounce of corrosive sublimate in 10 gallons of water, applied to the stems and roots of each plant, twice or three times at intervals of a week, using an ordinary watering can with the rose removed and the spout reduced to a convenient form to make the application. Onion maggots can be controlled by the use of a poisoned bait, consisting of one-quarter to one-half an ounce of sodium arsenate dissolved in a gallon of boiling water, with a pint of molasses added.

Crop rotation and diversification are sound forms of insurance for the farmer.

A woman came into a car with five children. She busied herself seating them. A benevolent old gentleman arose and gave her his seat.

"Are those all your children, madam?" he asked, for he is a bachelor.

"They're all mine," snapped the woman, "and it's no picnic."

Gas Almost Smothered Her

Kingston Lady Relieved of Terrible Suffering by Constant Use of Dreco, the Famous Herbal Remedy.

"I don't suppose that anyone has suffered more with stomach trouble than I have in the past five years," says Mrs. A. Davis, of 320 Union Street, Kingston, Ont. "There would be times when I couldn't even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Gas would form after eating, which would press against my heart and sometimes it would nearly take my breath away.

"I would get sick headaches and dizzy spells and spots would float before my eyes. My liver was sluggish, my appetite very poor and I hardly knew what it was to eat a good square meal. I felt tired and worn out all the time and had to be continually taking harsh laxatives.

"Two bottles of Dreco have done me more good than all the other medicines I ever tried, put together. I feel much stronger and my bowels are regular every day. I gladly recommend Dreco to anyone suffering as I did.

Dreco is a reliable health builder made from the pure juices of herbs, roots, bark and leaves. It contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs and is pleasant to take and prompt in action.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Napanee by Wallace & Co., and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

WHY THE JONESES BOUGHT THE CAR THEY DID.

Because the salesman:
Laughed at Mr. Jones' jokes.
Told Mrs. Jones she couldn't have a superior limousine.
Told Susie she looked like Mary Pickford.
Told Willie Jones he had a build like Dempsey.
Said the Jones baby took after both parents.
And only smiled when the Jones pup nipped him.

ADVERTISING.

"Waiter," growled a customer, "I should like to know the meaning of this! Yesterday I was served with a portion of pudding twice the size of this."

"Indeed, sir!" replied the waiter. "Where did you sit?"

"By the window," answered the customer.

"Oh, that explains it!" said the waiter. "We always give the people at the windows a large helping. It's a good advertisement."

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. McMahon Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains in the backache, and was tired and weak, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the Vegetable Compound. I feel much better now and am not ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman I speak to about it do."—Mrs. J. McMAHON, 253 Harvey St., Chatham, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has for nearly fifty years been restoring sick, ailing women to health and strength. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularities, tired, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. McMahon writes, as well as by one woman telling another. These women know, and are willing to tell others, what it did for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Coburg, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women."

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

One of the most delightful dinner parties of the season was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Daly, on the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary, Thursday, January 31st. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Campbell, of Saskatoon. Mrs. Campbell will be remembered as Miss Clara Cairns, whose home was at one time in Napanee. The library of Mrs. Daly's home was charmingly decorated with bowls of pink tulips, and ferns, and dinner was served to twenty-two guests, on small tables, the dining room was also lovely with pink roses, and there were two bride's cakes, one for each end of the table. They were presented with special favors—sterling silver servette holders. Two place cards were tiny painted brides.

A very jolly time was spent in a game of progressive euchre, the winning lady being given a mahogany candle stick, the successful gentleman, a sterling silver Eversharp. Suitable prizes were presented as consolations.

The hostess looked extremely well in a black velvet gown, and Mrs. Campbell was also attractively dressed in blue velvet. After the card game, the rest of the evening was spent in dancing. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Campbell, of Saskatoon; Dr. and Mrs. Bogart, of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright, and Mrs. Mihaip, Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Galbraith, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Miller, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Davy, Mr. and Mrs. Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, and Miss Edna Richardson and Miss Alice Preston, who assisted Mrs. Daly.

"EAST LYNNE"

These are the days when Clubs, Young People's Societies and Church organizations are entering deeply into amateur theatrical playing. It must certainly be said that from season to season some very creditable work has been put on by some of these bodies, showing as some of them do, a distinguished ability for the claims of theatrical art.

There is such a society at Gretna which is known as the "Willing Workers' Community Club". On Thursday last, January 24th, this wonderful story, "East Lynn", (read by old and young), was rendered in drama at Bethany by the above Club.

Despite the stormy weather of the last few days, the evening in question was most propitious, so much so, well loaded sleighs came for many miles around, and the church was filled to its utmost capacity.

The platform and scenery all went to show that taste and interest were of the keenest and most realistic nature, and all this added to the life-like caricature, had the strange and wonderful effect of captivating the large audience. If the characters had been trained by a specialist, they could not have done better work.

The scene of the play opens at East Lynne, the former seat of the Earl Lord Mount Severn. Mr. Carlyle, a lawyer, buys East Lynne and marries Lady Isabel, only daughter of the Earl, now deceased. Miss Cornelia Carlyle, half sister of Archibald Carlyle, a snappish old maid, from the beginning renders Lady Isabel very miserable by her interference in domestic matters.

Miss Barbara Hare was long secretly attached to Mr. Carlyle. Her brother Richard is a fugitive from justice, having been accused of murder. He returns secretly and has an interview with Barbara who gets Mr. Carlyle to loan him money. Sir Francis Levison, an unprincipled villian, instills into Lady Isabel's mind the belief that her husband is unfaithful to her; in proof of this he leads her where she may witness the interview between Carlyle and Barbara Hare. Maddened with jealousy Lady Isabel elopes with Levison. He deserts her and her child. She is reported as dead, but returns to East Lynne disguised as a governess. She witnesses the death of her little daughter, Isabel, and herself dies in the presence of Barbara, now Mrs. Carlyle, and her husband. The story is pathetic and well drawn.

Harry Young, the Villian of the play, maintained his subtle and unbending poise with very creditable ability. Jim Clarke acted the lawyer with true measured exactness, while Wm. Spencer carried out the dignified bearing of Earl Mount Severn to perfection. Rosa Joyce, as usual, is at her best anywhere, and with well balanced judgement and womanly firmness, discharged the duties of Justice Hare with rare naturalness. Walter Joyce played the fugitive from justice and difficult as it sometimes was, he rose to the occasion with characteristic impressiveness. George Mooro, the Clerk; Percy Davy, the Officer of Law; Mrs. Ross Joyce and Miss B. Joyce, domestics, were parts all admirably rendered and harmonly blended in the plot. Mrs. W. Spencer made a charming old maid, and although snappy at times, made a decided hit. Mrs. P. Davy shone well in the hard part at first, but showed kindness and easy aptitude in her part to the last. Little Vivian Young, the child of the plot, was well trained and her part added much softness and impressiveness to the play. Perhaps the hardest part of all was that played by Mrs. Young, who had to disguise herself from Lady Isabel to Madam Vine, yet with a slight slip to perfection.

The play was well rendered and thoroughly well accepted. Tears flowed freely all over the building, showing that the pathetic aspect of the play was rendered with due naturalness, thus arousing the deep emotions of the people.

We are sure this play will appeal to the public and the Club is at liberty to respond to a call for service from anywhere.

ANNOUNCING

To Shoppers, Everywhere:

Our Mid-Winter Movement of Merchandise Sale is in full swing today, and continues through February 9th.

This is the greatest sale, staged semi-annually in Napanee. Hundreds of customers have waited for the announcement of this great event.

Men and women, who know values, will shop in this gigantic Clearance Sale.

All lines of merchandise and wearing apparel measure up to Robinson's standard, and come fully guaranteed to you.

This Sale affords "numberless opportunities" for the thrifty shopper to purchase personal requirements, family requirements and home requirements. The magnitude of this Sale, both in quantities of merchandise and reductions in prices, is equal to any and surpasses most of our previous sales. We know this is a strong statement but come, "You Be Judge", we'll stand or fall by your decision.

Circulars containing the news of this gigantic Sale have been sent to 5000 homes; about 20,000 customers will read and know what we are doing at Robinson's. While our assortments are generous, you must shop early for best values.

Mild weather last Fall retarded sales of heavier Winter goods. Our policy has always been to clear out our stocks at the end of each season, hence the reason for this Mid-Winter Movement of Merchandise Sale.

This Sale is store-wide; it embraces every department. Reduced prices will be found on staple lines, as Cottons, Flannels, Silks and Dress Woollens, as well as on made-up garments, as Suits, Overcoats, Dresses, Furs, and Women's Millinery.

Come expecting much; you will not go away disappointed. Reductions range up to 50 per cent.

LORD BYNG MEETS SIX HUNDRED OLD COMRADES

The Point St. Charles (Montreal) shops of the Canadian National Railways hold the honor of having sent more men during a visit to the shops, the Governor-General shaking hands with and talking to each man individually. The men were overseas than any one industrial firm in Canada. Six hundred of these veterans were inspected recently by Lord Byng drawn up in four ranks the length of the meeting shop. The photograph shows Lord Byng shaking hands with one of the veterans. In the central group from left to right are: Major P. K. Hodgson, Private Secretary to the Governor-General; Mr. F. C. Wilson, Superintendent of Motive Power, Canadian National Railways; Mr. T. M. Hyman, D.C.M., Superintendent of Shops, Canadian National Railways, and His Excellency Lord Byng of Vimy.

SOW THE BEST BARLEY

The World Had Been Searched For the Finest Variety.

The O. A. C. No. 21 Was Then Developed From the Mandscheuri, From Russia—Started From a Single Seed at Guelph in 1903—Feeding for Bacon.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The O.A.C. No. 21 barley has been such a marked success in Canada that a few words regarding its origin and subsequent may be of interest to the many farmers growing that grain.

A World Search for the Best Barley

During the year 1888 the Field Husbandry Department of the Ontario Agricultural College made a world search for the best variety of barley in existence. In the spring of 1889, fifty-three different kinds of barley were grown under test. A variety from Russia, under the name of Mandscheuri, gave such good results in the first and following tests, surpassing all other varieties in a five year average by five bushels per acre per annum, that it was multiplied for distribution. In 1892 this variety, Mandscheuri, was distributed in pound lots to co-operative experimenters throughout Ontario and was continued in co-operative test for each of fifteen years. It gave such good returns that from the pound lots sent to the farmers this variety was rapidly increased until it became the most extensively grown barley of the province.

The Mandscheuri a Great Mother Variety.

In the spring of 1903 between nine and ten thousand selected grains of the Mandscheuri barley were planted by hand, at equal distances apart in the experimental grounds. This method gave an opportunity for each plant to show its individuality. All different stages of growth and when ripe the plants were carefully examined, and the most promising ones were selected and threshed, after which the grain from the individual plants was examined. A definite number of grains from each of the selected plants were sown separately in the spring of 1904. The best performers, in descending numbers, were continued in the tests from year to year. The plant selected by the writer in 1902 as probably the most outstanding individual was included in the seeding list as number 21, and the progeny gave such excellent results that it was introduced into the co-operative experiments in the spring of 1906 where it has been included continually since that date under the name of O.A.C. No. 21. It gave such good satisfaction throughout Ontario that the farmers increased it rapidly and for the last few years there has been scarcely a field of any other variety of barley grown in the province.

Started From a Single Seed in 1903

The O.A.C. No. 21 barley, which was started from a single seed in 1903 is a six-rowed, bearded barley with stiff straw and white grain of good quality. In the experiments at the College the common six-rowed variety of barley has been surpassed by the Mandscheuri in a period of thirty-three years by an average yield per acre per annum of ten bushels, and by the O.A.C. No. 21, in a period of seven years by eleven bushels. According to reports of the Statistics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, the barley crop of Ontario has made an actual increase in yield per acre for the last twenty-one years, in comparison with the two previous decades of 17.22 per cent., or an average yield per acre per annum of four and one-half bushels.—Department of Extension, O.A.College, Guelph.

"Then you have met my wife before?"

"Yes, indeed. I knew her quite well before you married her."

"The deuce you say. You certainly had the advantage over me."

Our Forest Products.

According to a bulletin issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service, of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the total value of forest products of Canada in 1920, the last year for which complete statistics are available, was approximately $316,000,000.

To this sum must be added the increased value due to processes of manufacture through which wood passes in reaching its complete form. This would at least double its value, and make a total well over six hundred million dollars.

The sum spent annually on forest preservation does not exceed one and a half million dollars, which represents an insurance cost equal only to about one-half of one per cent. of the value of the products of the forests for one year.

Care when in the woods and forests is urged upon all by the closing paragraph of this bulletin, which is certainly very timely. The dry period of late summer and early autumn is at hand, and at no other time are the forests more exposed to the danger of fire.

"We are in trouble without a match," says the bulletin; "when our newspaper is not on hand there is a vacancy in our lives; and in numerous other ways the products of the forests are indispensable. They enter so intimately into the lives of the people to-day that each and everyone should reinforce this money expending nature with personal responsibility for care with fire in the bush, as well as interest either and do their part in making the Canadian forests safe for trees."

Salmon Trout Fishing.

The salmon trout fishing which has closed has been better than in many years. The close season, designed to protect the fish while spawning, is the month of November, but in Georgian Bay the salmon trout generally begin spawning about October 20 and finish before the close season begins. This year the run was almost like the old-time salmon runs up the British Columbia rivers and thousands of fishermen on thousands of sheds had great catches. Representatives of the big American fishing clubs that have islands were mingled with Indians, half-breeds and other cottagers, and some catches of as high as 300 pounds in one day by two men were reported. Some amateur fishermen who got a dare to pull as a fish by being pulled overboard by a big fish.

Negotiating With Indians.

R. V. Sinclair, joint commissioner for the Dominion and Provincial Governments who is negotiating with the Six Nations Indians for a settlement in connection with 12,000,000 acres of land in Ontario that have never been vested in the Crown, was a visitor to Premier Ferguson's office recently and reported progress.

Some time ago Mr. Sinclair was appointed to take the question up with the Indians with a view to a settlement in order that the land might be vested in the Crown. The area in question takes in 10,719 square miles of the province, and is situated around the shores of Lake Simcoe, Muskoka and Parry Sound districts. The commission is also making a general survey into the health and morality of the Indians of Ontario.

Calgary's Telephones.

The city of Calgary, Alberta, is said to have more telephones in proportion to population than any other community on the American continent.

"The boss offered me an interest in the business to-day."

"He did?"

"Yes. He said that if I didn't take more interest in it pretty soon he'd fire me."

His arm went 'round her slender waist.

She coyly raised her head.

"Your form," he said, "is quite divine,"

"Of corset is," she said.

England and Wales.

The cel's secret has been laid bare, and a hypothesis of many years' standing condemned. For a long time scientists have wondered whence the slippery creatures came, where they spawned, and where they spend the early part of their existence, before they find their way into fresh water streams and ponds. The secret will be explained at a meeting of the Association of British Scientists in Liverpool by Dr. J. Schmidt, a Danish zoologist, who after spending years tracing eels has found their breeding grounds. It is in the Atlantic Ocean, roughly 3,000 miles southwest of the British Isles—Sargasso Sea. Dr. Schmidt found it while grouping thousands of miles over the Atlantic, gradually finding smaller and smaller eels, till at last he picked up the actual larvae. Prior to his investigations, the smallest eels found were one and one-half inches long—too long to be newly hatched. He found larvae half an inch long.

Observing their actions, he discovered that the eels at once headed their way ashore, travelling 3,000 miles in about three years. After reaching fresh water the females, about four years, they return to the Atlantic to find a mate in the spawning place.

A Lloyd George Story.

A Lloyd George story which that gentleman himself enjoys more than most has been received from a Toronto reader who enjoyed the speeches and personality of the Welsh statesman during his recent visit.

In the days when the establishment was very much to the fore in Wales, Lloyd George achieved great local repute by his campaign against the Bishop of St. Asaph, the ancient church defense speeches afford a lively young and agile opponent ample material for criticism and reply. At one of Mr. Lloyd George's meetings in Flintshire the chairman, a Welsh deacon, with strong convictions, but no sense of humor—introduced Mr. Lloyd George thus:

"Gentlemen, I half to introduce to you to-night the member for the Carnarvon Boroughs. I do not come here to reply to what the Bishop of St. Asaph said the other night about Welsh disestablishment. In my opinion, gentlemen, what the Bishop of St. Asaph said the other night about Welsh disestablishment is my opinion, gentlemen, that the Bishop of St. Asaph is one of the least liars in creation, but, thank God, there is a God—yes, thank God—we have a protector for us to-night. The story is told about a great Scot by H. Lloyd Gordon himself, whose sense of humor is well known to enable him to suppress a good story, even at his own expense.—Toronto Globe.

"London Porter."

Various kinds of beer were on sale in London, Eng., while in 1722, a brew, or named Harwood introduced a cheap beverage for porters and laborers," and despite the more technical name he intended giving it, the drink became known as "London porter." It would appear that in those days "half-and-half" and other mixtures were as popular as "mild and bitter" is to-day, or was, when of pre-war quality. One of these "beer[illegible] mixtures" had a "porter" flavor, and it was to save the trouble of going to two or three barrels that Harwood introduced the one-mixture drink having the "porter porter" flavor. It was at first called "entire," because it came from one cask, and the word "entire" is still used with ca tavern customers.

Little Bobby, who had been playing with a neighbor's daughter, came sobbing to his mother one day and declared that his playmate had pulled his hair.

"Why, Bobby," his mother gasped, "I thought she was such a nice little girl that she would never do a thing like that."

"So did I," wailed Bobby. "That's why I kicked her."

Autumn seems to have stirred up our wagging correspondents. One writes: "The foliage seems to be taking its leaf." Another says: "The leaves that turn will never return," while a third remarks: "There is a suggestion of poetry in the falling leaves—unless you have to keep raking them off the lawn."

FERTILIZERS FOR POTATOES.

(Experimental Farms Note).

During the past few years there have been numerous complaints heard from potato growers in New Brunswick concerning poor stands of potatoes which they attribute to fertilizer injury. In order to obtain data on this problem, experiments were begun at Fredericton Experimental Station, N.B., last spring. Home mixed fertiliser was distributed in three ways; in rows, in direct contact with potato seed; in the row and covered with earth; and applied broadcast. The rate of application was 2000 pounds per acre of a 4-8-6 formula. The seed was planted by hand and covered evenly with a plough. Where the fertiliser was applied in the row in direct contact with the seed only 57.6 per cent of a stand was obtained. Where it was distributed in the row and covered with earth a 71.9 per cent. stand was obtained, and where applied broadcast an 81.4 per cent stand was obtained. The yield from the area where the fertilizer was applied in direct contact with the seed, was 68 barrels per acre, while the yield from each of the other two plots was 115 barrels per acre. These results emphasize the advisability of either covering the fertilizer with earth or applying broadcast rather than applying it in direct contact with the seed.

Generally speaking, the most economical results have been obtained from the use of a high grade fertilizer and in most cases the best results will be obtained from the use of a complete fertilizer. Experiments carried on at this Station with potatoes indicate that when a complete fertilizer was used much greater profits were realized than when nitrogenous, phosphatic or potash fertilizers were used alone.

Different crops require different fertilizer treatments, but the greatest return from fertiliser will be obtained when used for the hoed crop in the rotation. The increase in yield from the use of fertilizer on a hoed crop will generally offset the cost of the material, while a considerable residue will remain in the soil for subsequent crops in the rotation.

The greatest returns will be obtained from commercial fertilizers when it is used to supplement barnyard manure. Where commercial fertilizers must be used without barnyard manure, provision should be made to supply humus to the soil by ploughing down a clover sod.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF HENRY FORD.

It is not likely that the real story of Henry Ford will be written while he lives; it may never be written, for that matter. Those who are in a position to write about Ford have either strong personal reasons for flattering him or reasons for detracting from him, usually political reasons. One cannot assay his character by examining his public acts, for they are only a small part of him and some of the most sensational of them have been really the acts of others, as, for instance, the Peace Ship exploit. Naturally to know Ford one has to be closely associated with him, and those who are intimately connected with him are making a lot of money out of him. Disprraise is not to be looked for. Those who were employ might speak in disparagement, but their utterances would be discounted, since most of them have left at Ford's earnest solicitation. Senator Couzens might give a calm opinion of Mr. Ford, but the Senator is the richer by many millions of dollars through his association with Henry. It would seem ungrateful of him to reveal facts, if any, not to Ford's credit.

A Great Business Man.

The public get only occasional glimpses of Mr. Ford, if we leave aside the biographies that have appeared in such numbers in the past two or three years when Mr. Ford had not decided whether he would be a Presidential candidate. Mr. E. G. Pipp, a Detroit editor, has known Mr. Ford intimately for twenty years, and was the first editor of the Dearborn Independent. His opinion of the great manufacturer is given in the Brooklyn Eagle, and is not one that would rouse the ire of Mr. Ford. He regards Ford as an extraordinary man, not only as a mechanic, but as a business man and financier. He says it is Ford's ambition to become the richest and most powerful man in the world, and he is well on the way to achieve this ambition. It seems to us that Mr. Pipp pretty well proves his case for the phenomenal ability of Mr. Ford when he notes that he has the brains to produce the goods, to market them and to get the money for himself. There have been some men whom Mr. Pipp calls great in the Ford organization. They have come and gone, Ford remains; the business is his.

A Gigantic Industry.

Salient facts concerning the Ford business may thus summarized by the Eagle:—

For many years the Ford business has brought more money to the Ford offices than is taken in by the entire Pennsylvania Railroad system or the entire New York Central Railroad system.

In the plant and its 40 branches he employs approximately 100,000 men.

His profits are more than $100,000,000 a year.

The banks of the country are paying him more than $10,000 a day in interest on his daily cash balance on deposit.

The profits on the repair parts he sells for his cars amount to a million dollars a month.

He is now getting control of his sources of supply, iron mines, coal mines, lumber woods, glass plants, railroads and ships for transportation.

Henry Ford, personally, is in touch with the details of the whole business.

"I trust my boys", he said for publication, when a big deal was put over. But he checked them up well before the deal was closed.

Knows Mass Psychology.

When the war ended Mr. Ford gave Mr. Pipp an inkling of an understanding of mass psychology. A large building intended for war work was partly constructed on November 11, 1918. A manager suggested that work on it be stopped, but Ford ordered that it proceed slowly. He explained that labor would be rather nervous after the war, and that if the building were to be immediately torn down it would unsettle the men. So he decided to finish it, and then tear it down when the act would not appear to have so much significance. The first press bought for the Dearborn Independent was a second-hand one. After it had been set up, Mr. Ford ordered it dismantled in order that the wheels might be polished. He explained that if the wheels were polished it would then be possible to determine whether any of them were cracked. Moreover, he said, "you can't expect men to keep a piece of machinery neat and clean unless you start it that way." Mr. Ford is opposed to cities in his ship. James Couzens was his general manager and when he left the newspapers commented on it in a way that Mr. Ford did not like. He decided then and there that when men went in or out it would be only individuals who moved. The titles did not alter.

The Couzens Affair.

Mr. Couzens was a man of unusual ability who had done his share to build up the Ford enterprises, but the time came when Mr. Ford wanted to get rid of him. He did not check out on him and learned that he had been at the plant only 184 days in the year. Mr. Ford said that if Couzens were on the job he would rather have his judgment than anyone else's, but that his judgment off the job wasn't as good as somebody else's on the job. Ford remained for five or six days to figure out how he would break his business relations with Couzens. Then he did what he had made up his mind to speak Couzens precipitated matters by complaining of some peace propaganda that appeared in a little magazine circulated among the Ford employees. He said it would have to be cut out or he would resign. Ford told him it would stay in, and so Couzens quit. They parted friends, and on the day Couzens left Ford, to please him, gave an interview approving of public ownership. Later on, when there was a critical movement in the fight for the particular public ownership that Couzens stood for, Detroit, Mr. Ford had one of his leading experts issue a statement that helped knock the scheme on the head.

Painless and perfect in their action, Miller's Worm Powders are always a safe and reliable remedy for children in whom symptoms of worms. These symptoms are easily recognizable in a feverish restlessness, frequently ending in convulsions. A point of notable importance is that after Miller's Worm Powders have expelled the worms, the stomach and bowels are toned up into a very healthy condition.

Get acquainted with the "old man" and you will be able to get along pretty well with the rest of the family.

Perkins and Jessup had been having heated words as to which was the braver man. The outcome was an agreement to fight a duel after the old-time style. According to the terms they were both to be put in a darkened room, each with a revolver in his hand. The first one to find the other was to fire once. After that no more shots were to be fired.

About three seconds after the lights were out was enough for Perkins. Thinking to end the agony, he crept into the fire-place and fired up the chimney.

Jessup fell dead at his feet.

AS HE WERE.

The supply sergeant had just issued the last assortment of shoes to the colored outfit. There were plenty of kicks, but the loudest and most prolonged came from Private Indigo Snow, who, failing to receive satisfaction elsewhere, betook himself to the captain.

"Cap'n, suh," he announced, "mah shoes am too big fo' me."

"You'll have to make the best of it," answered the captain. "Plenty of men have shoes that don't quite fit."

"Don't quite fit!" ejaculated Indigo. "If yo' says 'tenshun, cap'n, Ah comes to 'tenshun right slow. Den if yo' says to right about face Ah right 'tenshun. Don' quite fit? Huh!"

THE GOODS.

You've got to have the goods, my boy,
If you would finish strong;
A bluff may work for a while, my boy,
But not for very long;
A line of talk all by itself
Will seldom see you through;
You've got to have the goods, my boy,
And nothing else will do.

The fight is pretty stiff, my boy,
I'd call it rather tough,
And all along the route are wrecks
That tried to bluff;
They couldn't back their lines of talk
To meet the final test;
You've got to have the goods, my boy,
And that's no idle jest.

A. C. DAVIS, Township Clerk.

WHAT BOTHERS THE B. C. L.

That great portion of the American public interested in the reception of long programs is now in the midst of its third season at the game. Operating conditions have improved vastly. The staggering and zoning of the broadcasting waves eliminated overlapping and did more than anything else could to make the programs enjoyable. At the same time the efficiency amateur sets (8 puts to 1650 p.m.) removed entirely the negligible amount of interference caused by amateur operation during the early evening hours. But still the life of a broadcast listener is full of trials, his concerts are broken up just as often and just as cruelly as before, and his radio existence is not more satisfactory than it was before these improvements came into effect.

The trouble lies with the "Commercial traffic." Even on good selective tuners the interference from skipping and some coastal stations is so bad on the average listener's set, particularly within a few hundred miles of any of our coasts that reception is anything but a pleasure. These code stations actually use transmitting waves within the broadcast band and so of course there is no simple way of tuning them out. They are not supposed to do it.—We thought that American shipping was to be required to forego the use of the 450-metre wave between 7 p.m. and 11 p.m.—but it is worse than ever. We even hear some of our coastal stations responding ships to shift wave from 600 to 450, right into the concert band to get through the Q. R. M. on 600 meters. Lately we have been making some observations and we find numerous cases where it is impossible to receive broadcasting with any satisfaction whatever, even on fairly selective sets, because of ships pounding in all over the scale—loud powerful signals that break up almost every item in any program, and some of these are a thousand miles away.

We amateurs are getting the big end of the blame for this interference, and we don't like it. Our listener friends don't know the code, but if they hear a code signal they are sure it is an amateur. We have even seen several cases where the interfering ship signals were so loud and persistent that the listeners knew just which "local amateur" it was who was breaking up their reception. Now we know that the interference we amateurs are causing during quiet hours is practically zero, for the law is being obeyed, and we are getting sick of being blamed for things we don't do.

We know by many observations that the B. C. L. has a great big grievance. But that grievance is the commercial interference, not amateur transmission, and we amateurs must pull together to show him the facts. It is the duty of every one of the amateur boys out to our B. C. L. friends that we are co-operating, that we observe the law, that we cause no interference, that this thing that bothers them is an entirely different class of station. We must do this to avoid unjustified blame.

We hope the Bureau of Navigation can find some effective method of dealing with the situation. It is hindering public enjoyment of radio and is bringing upon us amateurs much undeserved criticism. —Copied from Q. S. T.

TRY THIS ON YOUR DOC.

A printer received an inquiry from two physicians for quotations on several thousand letter-heads, different sizes, grades and colors and he wanted the form held standing.

The printer wrote back: "Am in the market for one operation for appendicitis, one, two, or five-inch incision, with or without ether; also with or without nurse. Quotations must include putting appendix back and cancelling the job found sound. Successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gallstones, and I want to save the extra cost of cutting."

Well! What are you stopping for?" asked the young man as the taxi came to a halt in the middle of Oxford.

"I heard the lady say, 'STOP,'" said the taxi driver.

"Well, she wasn't talking to you, was she?"

GRAPE POLLENIZATION

Many Varieties Self-sterile and Need Cross-Pollination.

What Investigational Work Has Shown—Varieties of Self-fertile Sorts Recommended—Eradication of Bladder Campion or Cow Bell.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

For years it has been observed by grape growers that certain varieties, typically represented by the Rogers' Hybrids, usually produce straggly, loose bunches, especially when planted in blocks. In the same season and under similar conditions other varieties as Concord and Niagara produce well filled, large bunches. The Rogers' varieties with one exception are self-sterile. Our other commercial varieties are all more or less self-fertile.

Result of Investigational Work.

Considerable investigational work has been done in New York State, in Minnesota, and at Vineland on this problem of self-sterility, with the result that the reason why certain varieties are self-sterile has been established. In our own work, as a result of three years' investigations, we have established the degree of self-fertility and self-sterility of fifty-two varieties of grapes and have ascertained the best pollenizers for such self-sterile varieties as Lindley, Brees—Mr. and Mrs. R. Potter spent etc. Our experiments have shown:

1. That insects are the chief agents in the distribution of pollen of self-sterile varieties, including Barry, Herbert, Lindley, Mammoth, Salem, Wilder, and Brighton. The Agawam is the only one of the commercially planted Rogers' Hybrids which is self-fertile.

2. That the majority of self-sterile varieties such as Concord, Campbell, Niagara, Worden would produce larger crops of fruit if they were cross-pollinated, though good crops were produced under self-pollination conditions. Campbell often has straggly bunches due to imperfect pollination. Cross-pollination would help.

3. That the self-sterile varieties (Barry, Lindley, etc.) pollinated by any one of the self-fertile varieties (Concord, Niagara, etc.) will set crops of marketable fruit, but that for maximum crops certain self-fertile varieties are better suited as pollenizers for certain self-sterile varieties than others. For Agawam and Brighton, the Worden is the best pollenizer; for Massasoit and Wilder, the Niagara is the best pollenizer; for Salem, the Concord; and for Herbert and Lindley, any of the varieties, Concord, Worden, Niagara, Campbell.

Replace Poor Sorts With Good Varieties.

In established vineyards where there are large blocks of the self-sterile Rogers' varieties and consequent poor crops, every third or fourth row should be removed and replaced with Concord, Niagara or similar self-fertile varieties. Further information will gladly be given to those requesting same.—Hort. Exp. Station, Vineland Station.

Eradication of Bladder Campion or Cow Bell.

Badly infested fields should be plowed deeply, and then thoroughly cultivated and cross-cultivated with a broad-shared cultivator in order to break up and weaken the underground rootstocks. This cultivation should be given frequently enough to prevent the plants making any growth above ground until it is time to put in a hoed crop, which must be kept thoroughly clean in order to be effective. A well cared-for hoed crop of corn has been found to give excellent results. Special attention must be given to hoeing out any patches of Bladder Campion which may appear in the corn crop, and which are not destroyed by cultivation. If in the fall there is any Bladder Campion in the field, it will be necessary to plow fairly deeply and cultivate thoroughly and the following spring repeat the frequent cultivation until it is time to put in a hoed crop. This second hoed crop should not be necessary under ordinary conditions. One spring's thorough cultivation, followed by a well cared-for hoed crop should destroy practically all the Bladder Campion.—J. E. Howitt, O.A. College, Guelph.

They Appreciate Canadian Varieties.

The Heart's Delight Farm at Chazy, New York State, consisting of eleven thousand acres, is one of the most noted farms in America. It is interesting to learn, when on a recent visit to this farm, that the hundreds of acres of spring grains under cultivation were, in all instances, varieties which had been originated in Canada; the oats and the barley at Guelph, and the spring wheat at Ottawa. The O.A.C. No. 104 variety of winter wheat, originated at Guelph more recently, was being tested out.

Cow Arithmetic.

"I am not strong on arithmetic," said the cow, "but I can add to my bank account of the man who owns me; I can subtract from the principal of his mortgage; I can multiply his chances for success; I can divide his cares and worries! I can give more interest to his work; and I can increase his chances for loss."—Nellisville Cow Testing Association.

The United States Department of Agriculture has recently issued a leaflet on clean milk. The gist of the leaflet is expressed in the following sentence: "Keep milk clean, covered, cold."

Every Spring Mrs. Manson Had Bronchial Trouble —How She Was Relieved

It is a very advanced case of asthma, nervousness, neurasthenia, chronic bronchitis or general feebleness that will not show marked improvement after taking six bottles of Carnol, according to directions. Read how Mrs. Manson was relieved of a yearly recurrence of bronchitis:

"Myself and friend, Miss E. McKerroll, 29 King St. East, Toronto, would like to let you know how very highly we think of Carnol. We are now taking our sixth bottle and the great benefit we have derived from its wonderful action is certainly more than words can express. It is a genuine tonic and body builder. For my part it has worked off a bronchial trouble I am subject to every spring time. We feel it would interest you to know this. You are also at perfect liberty to use this unsolicited testimonial if you should so wish. We both of us take pleasure in recommending Carnol to anyone whom we know is feeling below par."—Mrs. Laura M. Manson, 147 Dufferin St., Toronto. 15-9

Camps Broken Into.

Several camps at "Watercombe" were broken into last week and goods stolen by parties from Picton and vicinity. The culprits and loot were traced by Provincial Policeman Thompson and brought to trial. The offense is a serious one and punishable by fourteen years in the penitentiary, but as parties were penitent and made full restitution and costs upwards of $100.00, the charge was not pressed, the case being left open for sentence at any time. Napanee people owning camps down the Bay propose to punish those crimes to the limit in the future if any occur.

"The Rascal Pat".

The entertainment by the Young People's Dramatic Club in Odessa Town Hall, on January 24th, drew a large crowd. Among those taking part were Mrs. and Miss Cairns, the Misses Gladys Wallace, Dorothy Neilson and Marjory Storms and Dr. Munro. The humorous play, "That Rascal Pat", was enthusiastically applauded. The leading part of Pat McNoggerty, "that Rascal Pat", was taken by Stewart Martin, who proved himself to be a star. The part of Chas. Livingston, "poor but ambitious", was taken by S. Clark Dixon; Major Huff Jacket, "on half pay", by Dr. Munro; Lance, his niece, by Ruth Cairns, and Nancy, her maid, by Helen Sproule. All acted their parts in splendid style. The entertainment concluded with a short roaring farce, "No Cash, No Pay". The receipts were about $95.00.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

On Friday night, Professor McArthur, of the Historical Department at Queen's, will lecture on the European situation, in the Historical Hall. Professor McArthur is one of the younger school of Canadian Historians, who is fast gaining recognition in the sphere of research and presentation.

There is no phase of our present International life so vexed and perplexing as the European situation, and every man and woman who would be intelligently versed in these conditions should hear Professor McArthur.

The lecture is at 8 p.m. Friday, in the Historical Hall. Admission free.

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES.

The meeting of the Executive Committee held in the Public Library, on Tuesday afternoon, was largely attended.

Nurse Gardner's report was received with much interest. Sixty-eight nursing calls were made during the four weeks, consisting of medical, surgical, gynaecological, obstructrical and social service.

The canvassers had success in their efforts to get members for the Order.

It was decided to hold an Executive meeting the first Tuesday in each month, in the Public Library, at 7 p.m.

Nurse Gardner has kindly consented to speak in Grace Church Sunday evening.

AN APPRECIATION.

Warden J. S. Johnson,
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Warden Johnson :

Many, many thanks for cabled congratulations to you and members of County Council, and thanks again for sending a congratulatory message to my old father and mother.

Not only do I represent West Salford in this House of Commons, but perhaps also Lennox and Addington and Frontenac and Canada. Am still very much a Canadian. I get horribly homesick for old faces and for old places. Shall always be glad to see and welcome here all Canadians. Their account would be sweet music to a "voluntary exile".

No time now for more. Am simply snowed under with correspondence. But, believe me, my thanks are sincere, as also is my invitation. Any old friends who come here will find that I'm wearing the same size of hat.

In haste,

Yours faithfully,
A. W. HAYCOCK.

Address and Presentation

On Friday evening last a number of friends of Mrs. Matilda McKittrick met at the home in Richmond, prior to her departure for Selby, where she is to reside in the future. After enjoying a social time and a call, they read the following address and made her a present of a beautiful and useful nature. Though taken by surprise, Mrs. McKittrick thanked them for their kind thoughtfulness.

Selby, Feb. 1st, 1924.

Dear Mrs. McKittrick.—Once again the cruelties hands of time have wrought change in our closely associated neighbors are called upon to part, and for the time removal from our midst does not take you far, yet old time and memories with you will more or less be forgotten and broken, as a token of our appreciation of your friendship,

We have learned to esteem a number of years and have proved yourself a quiet, helpful neighbour, always ready to render assistance and sympathy in time of need and as a neighborhood we have assembled here this evening to spend a few pleasant hours together and to show you in a tangible way our estimation of you as a friend and our appreciation of your friendship.

We have learned that good wishes are not always expressed in words but a hope that you may find a happy home and a kind welcome with her sister, Mrs. H. Holland, at Enterprise.

MORVEN

We wish to convey to our worthy citizen, Mr. W. H. Milling, the hearty congratulations of his Morven friends upon his appointment as Warden of the County. — Mr. and Mrs. George Lampkin, on their way to Toronto, were recent visitors at Mr. Purdy's. —Mrs. Clayton Garrison and Bryce returned to their home in Oshawa on Saturday after a prolonged stay of weeks with relatives and friends.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Close, Violet, spent Monday at Mrs. W. Withers'.

—Mrs. Sharp and Dorothy are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Garrison.—Mr. Charles Gausden spent a few days at Mr. Arthur Fraser's.—Mr. Ira Ferguson is confined to bed.

Farmer—Hello, Tess, I think I'll keep Morven.

Speaking of advertising, a man who was accused for a wife said afterwards: "I can't say advertising pays, but it certainly brings results."

YARKER

The bear has not seen his shadow yet and February will soon be gone, in the meantime the weather-wise are talking of an early spring. We suppose the oldtime bear will fix that up all right. — The six days' storm has just ceased. — We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mrs. Wm. Storms, who has undergone two critical operations in the General Hospital at Kingston. What might have been a very bad fire was prevented by the prompt action of Messrs. R. Curl and G. McFarlane, at the residence of Mr. Miles Wilson, the other morning. The stovepipes were on fire, and, while burning out, started a big blaze in the ceiling, which was soon put out by the men who came to the rescue. — Mr. G. Curl's new driver is commanding considerable attention in the village.—Mr. Theo. Down injured his shoulder quite badly the other day by falling on a fence while taking instructions in fancy skating from Instructor Dunn. —The "at home" held in Epworth Hall on Monday evening was a great success. Mrs. (Dr.) Oldham, Mrs. A. D. Leonard and Mrs. A. E. Holland entertained some sixty of their friends. They served a dainty tea and provided a high-class musicale.—Mrs. D. Smith and Mrs. O. Bolton went to Kingston on Wednesday to visit the latter's daughter, Mrs. Storms.—Mrs. Murrell, of Cobourg, is staying with her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Wright, who has been laid up for some time with a dislocated ankle.—Mr. R. P. Robertson, of Toronto, spent the week-end at the parsonage. — Mr. Brock Leonard gave a party to some forty of his young friends last Saturday night, Miss M. Young, of Brockville, being the guest of honor. — A number of the young people from here went to Newburgh on Wednesday night, where they had a skating party on the rink. Miss Florence Down spent the last week with her sister, Mrs. H. Holland, at Enterprise.

THE CARNIVAL.

The fancy dress Carnival held at the Napanee Arena on Friday evening was a splendid event and furnished amusement for spectators, skaters and maskers. The Napanee Band supplied music which helped materially in the evening's entertainment. The reserved seat space and the standing room was fully occupied. A splendid list of prizes, contributed by Napanee merchants, added interest to the competition, and were much appreciated by the winners. Following are the prize winners:—

Fancy costume, lady—Mrs. Ivan Spencer and Onieta McMullen.

Fancy costume, gentleman—Limbert Graham, Julia Thompson, and Misses Hall and McKerry.

Comic costume, gentleman—Russell Stevens, A. McFarland and Ivan Spencer.

THE I. O. D. E. WAR MEMORIAL PICTURES

In view of the allotment of the War Memorial Pictures for the schools of Napanee, having recently been received by the "O. E. L." Chapter, I. O. D. E., for presentation and distribution, it seems desirable to give some information regarding this part of the War Memorial scheme undertaken by the Daughters of the Empire to inspire as an organization; which will probably be of interest to the general public, when the foregoing statement is taken into consideration.

As is generally known, the War Memorial pictures were painted by artists of Canada on order from the Dominion Government, and now adorn the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, Arrangements were entered into by the governing body of the I. O. D. E. with the Federal Government to have reproductions in halftone of these paintings.

Various allotments of the above were made to the several Provinces, according to their requirements, to be used as a means of educational propaganda, and at the same time, as a War Memorial, through presentation and distribution to the Collegiate Institutes, High Schools, Public and Separate Schools in the Dominion, by the Chapters of the I. O. D. E. in various localities in the nine provinces.

It should be remembered that this is only a part of the I. O. D. E. War Memorial, for which the sum of half a million dollars is being raised by the Chapters of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire.

Address and Presentation

The residence of Mr. W. J. McConnell, Forest Mills, was filled with members of the congregation and Sunday School of Forest Mills Methodist Church, on the evening of January 18th, when Miss Marion returned from Napanee. It was a genuine surprise party. The time passed quickly and pleasantly in social intercourse and games. The special feature of the evening was the presentation to the popular young lady, the following address was read by the Pastor:—

Miss Marion McConnell.

Dear Marion,—The congregation and Sunday School of Forest Mills Methodist Church desire to express their hearty appreciation of the invaluable service you have rendered during the past four years in presiding at the organ. We have ever found you to be faithful, self-denying and efficient. In all generations of the human race the power of music has been acknowledged. It is an important factor in the success of every Sunday School session or church service. The gospel song has touched the heart often eloquent as the spoken word. How, ever, every one in the community feels that it is nothing to crow about and all we can say is that experience like either of those ladies is a good thing to have since no one was hurt in either rig. It has been rendered in horsemanship. So keep on going, girls.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

At a meeting of the Board of Education on Wednesday night, Mr. Alpine Wood was again elected chairman for the ensuing year, it being the twelfth year in succession in which Mr. Wood has held this important office. It is not often that a board of this kind can secure as a chairman a man who attends meetings so regularly and transacts its business so efficiently. For eleven years Mr. Wood has been an outstanding feature in the chair, whether the meeting be regular or special.

Mr. Wood's successor in the chair is the same as last year with one exception, Rev. J. H. Coleman succeeds G. A. Thompson.

At the inaugural meeting a large amount of routine business was transacted. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Wood and Gibbard, was appointed to confer with the Executive of the Victorian Order of Nurses, re their offer of free medical inspection of the schools of Napanee.

"You will have trouble with a dark lady," predicted the fortune-teller.

"Think hard, sister, and be sure you are right," replied the wise widow-keeper. "I'm married to a blonde."

NEWBURGH

Situated as it is in a deep valley, Newburgh knows comparatively little about the fierce storms that rage at times throughout the country. Socially, we have settled down to a kind of hum-drum. Before the war, and even during the war, we had Pink Teas, Verandah Teas, Four O'clock Teas, Red Cross Teas and no end of social intercourse to report. Now—well, we haven't anything in that line except once in a while some public function; but we are attempting what we are pleased to call the Young People's Problem. If people would do a little more at entertaining the young people in their homes and create a friendly domestic social atmosphere, a good deal of the so-called problem would disappear. Do we ever think of the isolation to which young people are subjected ? To such an extent is this the case that when their elders meet them on the street, young people treat them as strangers, and politeness and courtesy are cast to the winds, not to speak of friendliness. The attempt to correct evils en masse has nearly always proved a failure and the community idea is being approached particularly in communities where circumstances are against it. Let us get down to more personal effort, and the place to begin it is in the home.

In this connection we are up against a rather paradoxical situation in Newburgh. There are those who contend that community organization prevents dances, while others contend that dancing is necessary to promote and sustain the community spirit. Perhaps some of the many correspondents of The Beaver could help us to a decision in this matter.

There is one thing, however, that we do not need to be told, and that is that we are being bled white with high taxation in some sections of the public press. Some contend that it is, while some contend that it is not. Newburgh's contribution samples to prove both contentions.

Mrs. Frank Fox had a narrow escape from being a victim of gasoline poisoning last week as a result of carbon monoxide caused by the motor. understand that she is now out of danger from its effects.

Mrs. Perry Maddon and children have arrived from Rochester to visit Mrs. Maddon's grandmother, Mrs. Alice Madden.

We had the pleasure of listening to a sermon delivered in Pittsburgh and to a choir of sixty voices, which came through the Radio on Sunday evening. Fancy sitting in a comfortable chair listening to a sermon delivered three hundred miles away. A century ago or less that would be considered a device of the devil.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Caton have returned home, after an extended visit with their son, Maurice, in Montreal.

Miss Mable McNeely has gone to teach in a school in Simcoe County.

Owing to the fact that Newburgh has a first-class skating rink, hockey is the order of the day. But owing to the inclement weather many events such as carnivals, hockey matches, etc., have had to be postponed.

We hear a lot of "hard times" talk these days, and all say part of the trouble is caused by "hard times" trying to get home from church on Sunday, and carry the robber with it to the outer spot. However, every one in the community feels that it is nothing to crow about and all we can say is that experience like either of those ladies is a good thing to have since no one was hurt in either rig. It has been rendered in horsemanship. So keep on going, girls.

HOCKEY.

Point Anne 8, Kingston 6.

The postponed game between Point Anne and Kingston in the Bay of Quinte Hockey League was played at Point Anne on Friday evening, the home team winning by a score of 8-6, which sets the Eastern boys back a peg in their race for the championship of the first half of the schedule, and leaves the Belleville team out in front. The game was very clean, not one penalty being handed out by Referee Walters. The victory was all the more remarkable from the fact that Frank Goyer did not play for the Point.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, B. McCarthy; defence, A. Purdy and T. Angrove; right wing, N. Millen; centre, A. Lanos; left wing, E. Watts; subs., C. Logue (goal), C. Devlin.

Point Anne—Goal, P. Boland; defence, R. Tompkins, H. Genereaux; right wing, M. Green; centre, G. Marnole; left wing, B. P. Brant; subs., L. Hart.

Referee—Geo. T. Walters, Napanee.

Kingston 7, Napanee 3.

The Young Irishmen, of Kingston, finished the first half of their schedule by taking a fall out of Napanee at Mr. Blute's arena on Monday evening. The first period was a walkover for the visitors, the local sextette giving the spectators the impression that they were tied up to some invisible object and could not move. However, the boys awakened in the second period and gave an exhibition of Canada's winter sport that was worth going miles to see, scoring three goals to Kingston's two in the last forty minutes after the visitors had made them look foolish by scoring five to nothing in the first twenty minutes. As is customary in the Bay of Quinte League the game was very clean, Referee Barrett having the players well in hand at all stages of the play.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, B. McCarthy; defence, Ira Williams and A. Purdy; right wing, N. Millen; centre, A. Lanos; left wing, E. Watts; subs., J. Logue, Frank C. Devlin.

Napanee—Goal, H. Babcock; defence, L. Spencer and F. Bentley; right wing, J. Spencer; centre, H. McNeill; left wing, F. Huffman; subs., Ivan H. Finn (goal), H. Johnston, J. Naphin.

Referee—Leo Barrett, Belleville.

Meeting of the Executive.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League was held at the arena on Monday evening, for the purpose of fixing the game between Napanee and Kingston, the members present being Wm. Gaulin, Vice-President; Albert B. Root, Secretary-Treasurer; Ray Gilmour, Point Anne; Wm. Palmer, Kingston; Leo. Barrett, Belleville; and Jack Napanee.

The question as to whether Harry McNeill is eligible to play with Napanee, having brought up from the Executive unanimously decided that McNeill was eligible.

The matter of Frank Goyer, a Point Anne player, was brought up. Goyer had broken the rules of the Bay of Quinte League, but the Executive decided that the player in question was innocent in the matter, and he was reinstated under certain conditions.

The next important item of business that was taken up was the fixing of the schedule for the second half, as follows :

8—Kingston at Point Anne.
11—Belleville at Napanee.
14—Belleville at Point Anne.
19—Kingston at Napanee.
19—Napanee at Point Anne.
19—Belleville at Kingston.
22—Point Anne at Belleville.
25—Point Anne at Napanee.
25—Kingston at Belleville.
27—Point Anne at Kingston.
29—Napanee at Belleville.
Mar. 3—Napanee at Kingston.

Napanee at Belleville.

The first half of the schedule will be finished at Belleville to-night, when Napanee will play their last game. A win for Napanee will leave Kingston and Belleville tied for the first half, while a win for Belleville will leave the latter in undisputed possession of the first half.

Belleville at Napanee.

The second half of the league schedule will be opened at Napanee on Monday evening next, when the local travelling Belleville aggregation will be the attraction. The locals gave the Belleville boys their worst scare in the first half and had them defeated until nearly the finish of the game. The Napanee team think they have the edge on the two and it will be well worth your while to go to the arena and see the game. The boys have had a couple of days' rest the three games and need your support, both numerically and financially.

Games Scheduled.

Friday, Feb. 8th—Kingston at Point Anne, (Postponed).
Monday, Feb. 11th—Belleville at Napanee.
Thursday, Feb. 14th—Belleville at Point Anne.
Tuesday, Feb. 19th—Kingston at Napanee.

PROFESSOR MacARTHUR AT THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Out of the tangle of conflicting reports and opinions which baffle and puzzle the layman in connection with the present state of affairs in Europe Professor MacArthur succeeded in weaving together a real statement of the case which for clearness and convincing power would be hard to surpass.

Tracing the history of England and France from the point of view of their relations to the general, political and economic situation in Europe, the lecturer showed that the interests of England and of France demanded that they each approach the situation from different angles. France, above everything else, was eager to safeguard her frontier from the threat of invasion, while England, with no large source of raw materials at home, was particularly concerned with securing markets for her manufactured goods and keeping the seas open for the securing of raw materials. Before the war this brought them into virtual agreement as to the policy they adopted toward Germany though it must ever be remembered that the motives of each were different.

After the war the menace of German aggression being removed these different points of view dictated a difference of attitude towards the debts question. France was anxious above everything else that the left bank of the Rhine should become theirs so that they might have the sense of safety and security which they desired. England on the other hand was anxious that normal relations be restored as soon as possible, so that commercial matters be lessened and trade opened up once more.

These different attitudes which before the war brought them together, now served the opposite purpose of separating them. And the consequence was that the entente which had been in existence since the time of King Edward, was threatened.

The hopeful feature of the immediate present was the attitude of the Labor movement in England, and the fall of the franc in France. The Labor Government had at once sought to approach France with a view to an agreement as to a common policy toward Germany. The fall of the franc had made Poincare amenable to these overtures. The result will probably be a clearer understanding of the situation and an honest attempt to adjust the affairs of Europe.

Canada was vitally interested the speaker pointed out, because Europe in the condition it now occupies economically, was unable to purchase goods of which Canada had an abundance. The result here has been depression in trade, and a price for wheat which did not even pay the cost of production.

This was the first visit of the new Professor in History of Queen's, and his lecture was illuminating in its incisive and delivered in a compelling and forceful fashion. Queen's is to be congratulated on having filled the chair of history a Canadian, who is both a scholar and a lecturer of ability.

The following lecturers have consented to deliver lectures before the Society :—

February 22nd—Professor Jeffry.
March 21st—Professor Alexander.
April 25th—Professor Campbell.

MOSCOW

The weather continues very cold and stormy, but we have hopes of better times, as it is certain that Spain could not see his shadow on Candleman Day.—Mrs. M. I. Huffman spent the week end in Kingston with her daughter, Mrs. Nicholson.—The quilting bee held by the Women's Institute, at the home of Mrs. Charlie Amey, was well attended and enjoyed by all. When the work for the afternoon was completed, a short business meeting was held, after which refreshments were served by some of the members. About thirty-five ladies were present.—Miss Violet Close of Tamworth, has returned home, after a few days' visit with Miss Chas. Amey and Mrs. W. Close.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Fraser, of Napanee, have been spending some time at the home of his parents here.—Mrs. (Major) Amey visited the sisters, Mrs. Crown, of Kingston, on Wednesday of last week.—A number of our young people enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Brock Leonard, of Yarker, Thursday evening and report him an ideal host.—Mr. Jos. Foster has also some boys here for a few days last week.—Owing to the severe weather and bad roads on Monday, Feb. 4th, the oyster supper held annually by the L.O.L., was postponed until Monday, Feb. 11th.

The farmers are busy hauling up their summer's wood.—Mrs. Archie Asselstine entertained a number of her friends to tea on Wednesday evening.—The young folks are busy practising for their play to be given in the near future.—Quarterly service was well attended on Sunday, despite the bad roads.—Where is that man who said we were to have an open winter? Saying is pretty close the last two weeks, I guess.—Miss Gertie Hill spent Saturday at Yarker.—Mr. Malcolm Townsend was called to the bedside of his brother-in-law, Mr. Patterson, at Camden East, who is very sick.—Mr. S. Shane and family have moved in their new home.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Cressie spent Sunday with Mr. Wes. Keech.

Why Ford Predominates

The Empire Builders

From time immemorial, Britons have gone forth and pioneered the remote corners of the earth.

In the face of seemingly insuperable difficulties they have built up a world-wide trade—trade that grew and flourished in spite of the limitations of those primitive burden-bearers, the native carriers, the mule train and the camel caravan.

Ford carries the burdens of Empire trade on the hill-trails of India, on the African veldt, on the sheep-stations of Australia and New Zealand, on the plantations of Ceylon and Burma, on the rubber estates of Malaya and on the jungle-paths of Borneo.

Universal usage under all these conditions has stamped the Ford as dependable transportation.

Made in Canada for the Empire

The Ford car is completely made in Canada with the exception of parts to the value of $15.02.

GEN. LEE CHRISTMAS, SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Richard Harding Davis is sadly outmoded now, but oldsters who remember what delight he gave them when he was at the height of his fame some twenty years or more ago, will no doubt recall "Soldiers of Fortune," one of his best books. If they do they will be interested to know that the original of the chief character in the book, Clay, died of a fever a few days ago. He was General Lee Christmas, whose boast was that he had fought for as many Governments as he had spent years in the business of revolution and counter-revolution, the total being estimated at about twenty. His chief regret was that he had never worn the uniform of his own country, the United States. When his country entered the World War General Christmas was able to obtain an interview with Woodrow Wilson and begged that he might be given the chance to fight. He was rejected because of his years, but is supposed to have done some important work for the Allies in Central America, where his name was a household word.

A Youthful Rover.

Lee Christmas was born on a Louisiana plantation, his father being Winfield Scott Christmas, who had the odd distinction of being named for the noted general and also fighting under him at Chapultepec, in the Mexican war. The boy was a rover and worked for awhile on pilot and tugboats on Lake Ponchartrain. He also became brakeman on a railroad, a member of a construction crew, and before he was twenty-one an engine driver on the old Louisville, New Orleans and Texas Railroad. His run was between New Orleans and Memphis, and in those days there was no 16-hour law. Once Christmas, who had been on continuous duty for fifty-four hours, was ordered to go out again, and he did. But Nature asserted itself and he fell asleep at the throttle, his train crashing into another. He was injured and dismissed because it was discovered that he was color blind. One story is to the effect that after he had recovered he went to Mexico and drove an engine regardless of his defect. Another is that he wandered on a boat one day and found himself in Honduras without having made any plans to that effect.

Made a General.

There was a revolution in progress, the rivals being Zelayas and Bonilla, but this did not prevent Christmas from getting a job as engine driver. He and his train were captured by revolutionists, and he was ordered to run it for them. He consented, but asked that as he was likely to be shot at he should be provided with a rifle so that he might do some shooting on his own account. To this wholly tenable request the revolutionists assented, and Christmas ripped up a flat car as a sort of fort and pushed it before his engine. He carried the war to the enemy, ran the other five engines to the end of the line and captured them. For his exploits he was made a general, and as a writer in the New York World remarks, since a general in one Central American republic was regarded as a general in the others, the rank of General Christmas was recognized in five armies at one time. Between wars he ran his engine and rose to the rank of Superintendent, which was probably more important than that of general, superintendents being comparatively rare. At one time General Christmas was in command of 14,000 men.

Faced Firing Squad.

His most notable exploits were achieved when he had a mere handful of equally adventurous souls to support him. Once his entire machine-gun regiment consisted of his old friend, Guy Molony, who was later to become Chief of Police of New Orleans. Christmas was also a chief of police between times, and when Bonilla was tried was both the jailer and trial judge of that noted revolutionary. In one of the forays he was captured by Nicaraguan troops, and since he was thoroughly hated in Nicaragua he was tried and sentenced to death. He determined to die in the approved Latin style, and as he was led out he buried many injurious epithets at his executioners. One of his insults was so dreadful that mere death would hardly expiate it, and the marksmen halted and debated what else they could do to Christmas before they shot him. While they were debating, a party of Hondurans arrived and carried away their hero. So many times was Christmas reported dead that American newspapers used to head the mortuary despatches, "Gen. Christmas Killed Again."

Overthrowing Governments.

When Davila became dictator of Honduras Christmas went to Guatemala, and when Bonilla began a revolution against Davila, Christmas became the leader of his forces. Bonilla became President, but not before Christmas had almost invaded the United States in the war by having filibustering expeditions sent out from New Orleans, an offence for which he was indicted. Bonilla was overthrown, but later on Christmas helped him to power again and became Governor of a Province. He also helped upset Governments in Salvador, Nicaragua and Guatemala. The last time he took up arms was as a supporter of Carranza, and the last time he visited the scene of his most noted adventures he was not a soldier, but an oil prospector. Such is the description Davis gives of Christmas in "Soldiers of Fortune":

"He was a tall, broad-shouldered youth, with a handsome face, tanned and dyed, either by the sun or by exposure to the wind, to a deep, ruddy brown, which contrasted strangely with his yellow hair and moustache. His most attractive feature was his eyes, which seemed to observe all that was going on, not only on the surface, but beneath it, quickly but with the calm, quick look of the trained observer."

The Man at the Table—Look here, waiter! This lobster is without a claw! How's that?

The Man at the Table—Well, take this one away and bring me one of the winners.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE DOMINION BANK

The fifty-third annual statement for the year ended December 31st last, which was presented to the Shareholders at the Annual Meeting of The Dominion Bank on January 30th, was one of the strongest in the Bank's history.

In view of the fact that 1923 presented many new and difficult problems, the Shareholders must have been highly pleased with the results of the Bank's business for the year.

The profits have been maintained at a high level amounting to $1,122,270, only slightly under the figures for 1922, while some $4,000 larger than the close of 1921. To this amount is added $758,163, brought forward from 1922, making available for distribution, $1,887,533.

The sum now carried forward to Profit and Loss Account—$825,374 is the largest amount the Bank has carried forward in any year. This amount was made available after the payment of the usual dividends of 12 per cent. and a bonus of 1 per cent., $780,000; the payment of Dominion and Provincial Government taxes, $162,168; contribution to Officers' Pension Fund—$45,000; and written off Bank Premises Account—$72,000.

In cash and liquid assets the Bank's position is an outstanding one. Cash assets are $26,260,000, or a fraction under 25 per cent. of the Bank's liabilities to the public, while liquid assets stand at the large figure of $68,800,000, or 63.7 per cent. of liabilities to the public.

Another very important item is the large holdings in Dominion, Provincial, Municipal and public securities at $21,500,000. During the year a very considerable increase in this type of securities has taken place—some $8,600,000—as a year ago the figures stood at $13,700,000.

The Capital and Reserve Fund of the Bank remain as at the close of last year, Capital $6,000,000; Reserve Fund $7,000,000.

That the Bank has, during a year in which business has been so unsettled, maintained its earnings and further strengthened its already strong liquid position indicates a prudent and conservative management.

The Bank's affairs have been audited on behalf of the Shareholders by Messrs. G. T. Clarkson and H. Dilworth of the firm of Clarkson, Gordon & Dilworth, Chartered Accountants, Toronto.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Margaret McConnell

Mrs. Margaret McConnell, wife of J. G. McConnell, died last Thursday night, January 17th, aged 76 years, 6 months and 9 days. Mrs. McConnell had been in poor health for the last two years, and on the Saturday preceding her death she suffered a stroke of paralysey, which was the cause of death.

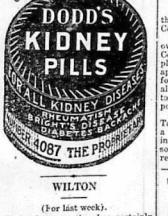
Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons and three daughters, also one brother. The sons are Wm. J., living at Harrop, B.C.; James, of Parkland, and Thomas. The daughters are Mrs. E. M. Sherman of Napanee, Ont.; Mrs. Robert McLaren, of Calgary, and Miss Carrie McConnell, of Her brother, John Gibson, lives at Elva, Man.

Margaret Gibson was born in Ottawa, Ont., and was married to James G. McConnell, in July, 1875. The family moved to Alberta in March, 1904, from Napanee, Ont., and located seven miles south of Nanton, where they have resided continuously since.

Funeral services were held in the Church of England, at noon, Saturday, January 19th, conducted by Rev. W. C. Marsh, and were largely attended by neighbors and friends of herself and her family. The pallbearers were Mr. F. Kirchoff, G. K. Lemley, James Scott and S. O. Lowtery.—The Nanton News.

ODESSA

Mrs. Lewis Snider has returned from spending the past three weeks with relatives in Sydenham.—George Montgomery has moved in his old home recently vacated by Fred Montgomery, and Mr. Huggard will occupy Avenue.—A number of friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Clark last Wednesday night to farewell Mrs. Gladwin Clark, who left last Friday to join her husband in Charleston, West Virginia, where they are to make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Clark came here last June from Omaha, Nebraska, and Mr. Clark had been assisting his father in the postoffice until recently. They will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends.—The public installation of officers in the I. O. O. F. hall, last Wednesday night had a very large attendance. Members from Napanee, Yarker, Enterprise, and other places, accompanied by their wives and friends, added greatly to the Odessa lodge. After the business part was over, a banquet was given in the Town Hall, where about two hundred partook of delicious refreshments and a very pleasant and sociable time followed. There was a social dance at a later hour that was kept up until the small morning hours. The music was furnished by the Yarker Orchestra. — The many friends of Mrs. Benjamin Mabee were sorry to hear that she passed away at her daughter's home, Mrs. David Arbuckle, Ottawa, on Jan. 22nd. The deceased had spent most of her life as a resident of this village. To mourn her loss are three daughters, Mrs. Horace McGuire, Mrs. Fred Hart and Mrs. David Arbuckle, all of Ottawa. She had reached the great age of ninety-two. The remains were placed in the vault at Cataraqui to be interred in the family plot later.



WILTON

(For last week).

Real winter weather has certainly set in, and the heavy snow storms of the past week has put the roads in a bad condition.—A large number from here went to Odessa last Thursday evening and enjoyed the concert put on by the Odessa people.—Mrs. W. Topping, who has been spending some time at her brother's, Thos. Wallace, has returned to her home at Elgin.—Mrs. A. Nichols, of Quebec, is visiting her father, Mr. A. Peters. —A number of the young men from this vicinity are working on hay pressers and only home for the week end.—Mr. James Lambert intends having a sale on Feb. 4th, of his farm stock and implements.—Miss Kathleen Parrett has returned home from the Kingston General Hospital, and all her friends are hoping for a speedy recovery.—Mr. J. E. Miller, who has been confined to the house for a few days, is improving. — The Y. P. S. will hold a box social this Friday evening, Feb. 8th. The ladies will furnish boxes and the gents must bring their pocketbooks

TOWN COUNCIL

Council Chambers,
Feb. 4th, 1924.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor A. MacGregor in the chair.

Present—Reeve Graham and Councillors Simpson, Dunbar, Jewell, Huffman, Paul and Burgess.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and confirmed.

The matter of obtaining a new Debenture Book for the use of the Town Treasurer was left in the hands of the Finance Committee with power to act.

On motion the Daughters of the Empire were granted the use of the Council Chamber on Thursday, Feb. 14th.

On motion the local Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses was given permission to hold a tag day in Napanee on July 1st.

Councillor Burgess, Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented a statement of receipts and expenditures for the month of January, which on motion was adopted.

Coun. Paul, Chairman of Fire, Water and Light Committee, reported recommending that no action be taken on the question of the increase of salary for the firemen until the estimates are prepared. Report adopted.

Coun. Huffman, Chairman of Market and Police Committee, presented a report of the Police Department for the month of January. Report was adopted.

The following report was also presented:

Napanee, Feb. 1st, 1924.

The Market and Police Committee held a meeting on the above date and came to a conclusion on the subject of the appointment of F. W. Barrett as County Constable. We, as Committee, recommend not to allow our police, Mr. F. W. Barrett, to accept this position under the terms that the County Council has suggested.

T. H. HUFFMAN.
W. G. PAUL.
W. H. DUNBAR.

The following communication was also read before the Council:

Napanee, Jan. 28th, 1924.

Mr. Thos. Huffman,
Chairman Police Committee,
Town of Napanee.

Dear Sir,—I beg to inform you that the Corporation of the County of Lennox and Addington has appointed me as the High Constable for the County, without salary, but before accepting this position, I wish to secure the permission of the Town Council to do so. The position is not a remunerative one, and the fees that would come as a result of any work done, would not exceed (after paying actual expenses) probably not $100.

If this appointment meets with the approval of the Town Council I would suggest that a resolution be passed appointing same, if not I will not accept, but if passed, I will turn over to the Town Council through the Treasurer, all fees earned in this position, over and above actual travelling expenses, or in the alternative I will surrender $100 of my salary per year as long as this appointment is good.

If the Council sees fit to approve of this, I believe it will work out to the mutual advantage of the Town and County, in the matter of police work.

Yours obediently,
F. W. BARRETT,
Chief Constable.

It was moved and seconded that the recommendation of the Police Committee be received and adopted.

Considerable discussion took place over the latter report of the Police Committee. The discussion evidently placed the matter of Chief Barrett's appointment in a different light before the committee as they agreed to allow the report to be referred back to the committee for a further report.

Councillor Jewell, Chairman of the Town Property Committee, presented a lengthy and comprehensive report in reference to town property and some necessary repairs thereto. The report was discussed, and on motion referred back to the committee to have incorporated in it an estimate of the cost of the work specified in said report.

Coun. Burgess, Chairman of Finance, presented the following report:

Mr. Mayor and Council,—We, your committee, appointed to bring in a resolution expressing the views and recommendations of this Council to be presented to the Honourable the Attorney General, asking for proper amendments to be made to the Ontario Temperance Act, which will render impossible the present traffic in this and other towns of the sale for beverage purposes, flavouring tinctures and extracts, beg leave to report that we have drafted such a resolution, and beg to prescnt it herewith.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

M. C. BURGESS.
J. M. SIMPSON.
M. P. GRAHAM.

Resolution.

Whereas the sale of essences, tinctures, compounds or preparations commonly known or described as flavoring extracts containing more than 2½ per cent. proof spirits is being carried on in the Province of Ontario to such an extent as to constitute a menace to the moral and physical welfare of the citizens and children of the said town.

And whereas the Ontario Temperance Act has been passed with a view to prohibiting the sale or traffic in intoxicating beverages;

And whereas it appears that by a simple evasion of the said Act dealing with the sale or traffic in the essences, tinctures, compounds or preparation commonly known or described as flavoring extracts containing more than 2½ per cent. proof spirits as aforesaid, such traffic may be carried on by persons dealing with such flavouring extracts as aforesaid with impunity.

And whereas it appears to the members of the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Town of Napanee that such traffic or sale can be ended by proper amendments being made to the existing sections of the said Ontario Temperance Act dealing with such flavoring extracts;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Town of Napanee do remit a copy of this resolution to the Honourable, the Attorney General for the Province of Ontario, asking the Honourable, the Attorney General for Ontario, to present a bill to the Parliament of the Province of Ontario in regular session assembled to provide for amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act so as to prevent the retail sale of essences, tinctures, compounds or preparations commonly known or described as flavoring extracts containing more than 2½ per cent. proof spirits in greater quantities than is necessary for ordinary household use, or for illicit purposes and to provide that such amendments shall clearly define what quantities are necessary for ordinary household use and what shall constitute knowledge of the illicit purposes of any purchase; and to provide for more effective means for licence Inspectors or other officers of the Crown to deal with books, receipts, orders, bills of lading, accounts or other documents showing the amount of such flavouring extracts purchased and sold by any retailer and to provide for such officers thereof to examine books and records in the office of express companies, freight companies and other carriers of amounts of such flavouring extracts delivered to such retailers.

The Clerk was instructed to forward a copy of the above resolution to the Attorney General.

A by-law was passed authorizing the borrowing of $50,000 from the Standard Bank to provide for current expenditure.

The passing of this by-law does not necessarily mean that the whole of this amount will be borrowed, but that such amounts will be secured from time to time to finance the town's business until the 1924 taxes begin to come in.

The exception was made by Coun. Burgess that it would be a good idea to have the different streets in the town designated by metal signs at the corners.

Several members of the council were of the same opinion, provided it did not cost too much.

The Town Property Committee were asked to obtain an estimate of the cost of metal signs.

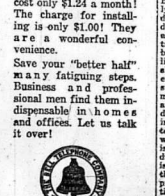
The following accounts were ordered paid:

P. A. Gleeson	$17.25
P. Gleeson	36 00
M. Hare	4 75
Wilfred Wilson	43 40
Davy & Allison	4 41
S. C. Denison	2 25
Thompson Bros.	3 22

Several accounts from the Bell Telephone Co. were referred to the Clerk.

An account from E. McLaughlin, $1.86, was referred to Reeve Graham.

Council adjourned.



A Wonderful Convenience

Getting out of a warm bed, to go downstairs and answer a telephone has its drawbacks. An extension telephone alongside the bed saves many a man or woman that unpleasant necessity.

Extension telephones cost only $1.24 a month! The charge for installing is only $1.00! They are a wonderful convenience.

Save your "better half" many fatiguing steps. Business and professional men find them indispensable in homes and offices. Let us talk it over!

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

METHODS OF TREATING MANGE.

Mange, scabies, or itch is a pestilential and serious contagious disease of the skin to which every domestic animal is liable. A bulletin, just issued from Ottawa, of which Dr. George Hilton, Chief Veterinary Inspector of the Health of Animals Branch, is the author, goes thoroughly into the nature of the disease, describes the rapidity with which it develops in horses, cattle and sheep, and prescribes the most effective treatment. The bulletin, which can be had free on application to the Publications Branch, Ottawa, is to the effect that the loss which every owner, breeder, dealer and veterinary surgeon, especially as under the Animals Contagious Diseases Act, and every one is required to immediately report to the nearest veterinary inspector any suspected occurrence of the disease. The rapidity with which the disease may develop is illustrated by the fact that reproduction of the insect giving rise to it is at the rate of millions and a half in three months. In addition to the prescriptions contained in the Bulletin, a list of disinfectants, with methods of preparation and use, can be had free on application to the Veterinary Director General, Ottawa.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not be without it. I have taken it before each of my children was born and afterwards, and find it a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and fainting in my ears. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of my husband told him what the Vegetable Compound had done for his wife and advised him to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help as it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. SMITH, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intended. Thousands of women testify to this fact. C

ENTERPRISE

At time of writing we are glad to report very little sickness. For past three weeks the Doctor has been kept busy night and day, but through his skill all are improving nicely. Mr. and Mrs. L. Deline left with their son for Port Colborne to spend the balance of the winter.—A stork arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wilson; it is a girl. Congratulations.—We must give credit where credit is due, and that is to the enterprising Women's Institute, for the way in which they have supplied our village with such splendid street lights, which is a great improvement. Mr. W. S. Fenwick & Sons have received two carloads of grain which they are unloading at their elevators. Give them a call.—Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Wagar and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bell gave a euchre party and dance last Friday evening, at the Bell Hotel. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Carscallen, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fenwick, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Keech, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wagar, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, Mr. Ross Bell and Miss Laura Peters. All report a most enjoyable evening. Music was furnished by Bell's Orchestra.—Mr. P. J. Murphy shipped a carload of stock on Tuesday last.

HAY BAY SOUTH.

We had quite a bad snow storm on Monday and Tuesday—of this week, but are not snowed under yet.—Grip has visited this place, but we are glad to say all are recovering nicely. — Mr. Joy Loyst and little son, Orval, are spending the winter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Loyst.—Mr. Ed. Embury is busy hauling wood to his residence in town.—Mrs. W. Loyst is spending a couple of weeks in Bellville.—Quite a number attended the concert and dance on Friday night, at Sandhurst, and all report a splendid time.—Miss Annabel Dickson spent Sunday evening with Mrs. H. Loyst.—The social evening at Mr. James Dickson's, was a decided success. — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foster Sundayed with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sills.—Mr. Christie Young is on the sick list. We hope for a speedy recovery.—Mr. James Bruce spent one day in town this week.—The Misses Benn, of the N. C. I., spent a couple of days at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Benn.—Mr. and Mrs. G. Garrison and two sons took tea on Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. H. Loyst.

TAMWORTH.

Miss Booth, of Niagara Falls, is visiting at George Stilsons'.—All the remains of the late Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie were brought home for burial last week, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Baxter, with whom she had been living.—A. Hunter has bought the old Gilmour farm.—Mrs. Fred Bird, of Winnipeg, is visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. O'Neill.—The Ladies' Aid meeting was held at Mrs. Bridle's, on Tuesday afternoon.—Mr. Pat. Murphy, who lives near Beaver Lake, died very suddenly on Friday last, while getting breakfast. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon Church, and was largely attended.—Wilbert Hunter, son of J. A. Hunter's old homestead farm, has been very dull for the past few days owing to the heavy snow storm.—Duck Pants and Overalls at $1.50, at Floyd's.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Isabel Katharine Dowdell, whom God called on January 8th, 1921.

Peaceful be your sleep, dear Isabel,
Sweet be remains your name;
We always loved you well,
And we do the same.
Flowers we placed upon your grave,
Were but few,
Memories we have to save,
Dear Isabel, of you.
Mother and dearest,
We love for her who sleeps below,
Never fade away. —A Friend.

Stone Gets Sick.

Bath stone was at one time used in England very largely for building purposes, but eventually became unpopular. It develops that the stone is subject to diseases in bad air. It is a stone similar to coal taken from the sandstone galleries rather than from open quarries. It must not be exposed to the surface in the winter or it will not weather hard. It must be properly handled before it is used. Some bullets, when cast, it is not the right way of its grain it will not last. However, it lives long enough in the buildings around its native health. It is much the same with other freestone found through the years in their own country air, they soon appear to be taken to the cities. For instance: Painswick stone, beautiful and durable on the Cotswolds, quickly disintegrates when introduced into the fabric of Westminster Abbey.

A Stone Which Weeps.

Truly awful is Fyvie Castle, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, the ancient home of Lord Leith. It possesses a secret chamber which has not been opened for centuries, the "Green Lady" ghost, which appears when misfortune or death threatens the family; and, built into the wall, a "weeping stone," made famous by Thomas the Rhymer, which weeps in wet weather and dries its tears in fine.

Irg—So you didn't like Cuba?
Targ—Naw. I went into a restaurant there to get a glass of milk. The waiter didn't speak any English, so I drew a picture of a cow, and the soda-fount went out and bought me a ticket to a bull fight.
Irg—Serves you right for orderin' milk in Cuba."

All Reduced M. M. M. Sale Prices Will Be Removed Saturday Night, February 9th

Snow, ice, wind, cold weather, individually and collectively, have failed to stop wise customers from shopping in our great Mid-Winter Sale. People who have shopped to date have not only saved money, but bought thoroughly, dependable merchandise which is guaranteed to give satisfaction.

Before we pull up the stakes, and before we return our prices to present market values, there is time for you to secure your personal and home requirements.

Friday and Saturday are the only "two" Shopping Days left; make them count for you. We are heaping "more Coals on the Fire". Goods not previously advertised at the prices, will be especially featured for Friday and Saturday, the closing days of the Sale.

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' WINTER COATS ALL REDUCED TO HALF PRICE FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

All Coats, previously sold at a discount of 33 1-3 per cent., will be marked down to half-price for the balance of our Sale.

Still obtainable are several wonderfully fine Coats, both in plain and fur-trimmed styles. Several models are desirable for early Spring wear when your fur coat becomes too heavy. No two absolutely alike.

CHILDREN'S WINTER COATS MARKED TO HALF PRICE TO CLEAR

BICKNELL'S CORNERS

The bad snow storms have made some of the roads very heavy.

There has been quite a lot of sickness here since the extreme cold spell.

A number of farmers are busy getting their supply of wood for the summer.

The snow comes so fast it keeps the men busy ploughing out the roads.

Mr. Arthur Barrett has had Tom Hayes helping him for a few weeks.

Miss Grace Skinner, of Camden East, spent Sunday with Miss Thora Emberley.

Several from around here attended quarterly service at Camden East on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McDonald entertained some of their friends on Wednesday evening to tea.

There was not many out to school this week.

Canadian National Dog Team's Win in Montreal Carnival Derby.

The Canadian National Railways have entered a team in the Montreal Winter Carnival's Seniors' Dog Derby, which is to be run in Montreal on Saturday, February 9th. The team is composed of three Danes and two Mastiffs and they will be driven by Jack Dooley, a former resident of Labrador and now a clerk in the Canadian National Railways Shops at St. Malo, Quebec. The dogs are the property of Patrick Nolan, foreman of the Blacksmith Shop of the Canadian National Railways at St. Malo. In a trial run this dog team has covered 75 miles in three and one-half hours. The course of the Montreal Derby covers 30 miles. The photo at the top shows the team ready to start in a trial run. In the circle is seen Jack Dooley with "Jack," the leader of the team. At the bottom, Mr. Joseph Samson, who has been Mayor of Quebec City for two terms and who is running for his third term this year, is seen standing beside two of the dogs in the team.

STRATHCONA

We are having winter weather in earnest this week. The heavy blizzard completely blocked the road through the village and some of the "sons of rest" turned out with shovels and cleared the way.—The public school was closed on Tuesday on account of the storm.—Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman, of Wesley vicinity, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Finlay on Sunday evening. — Mrs. G. R. Finlay has been in Moscow this week waiting on her mother, Mrs. W. J. Patterson, who is under the weather.—Mrs. Thos. Hawley, who has been very sick with pneumonia, is gradually improving. — Mr. Harold Hoare spent Sunday evening with Mr. Stanley Hanes. — A few from here attended the ice carnival in Napanee on Friday evening last. Strathcona always carries off some of the best prizes and this year was no exception. Mrs. B. Finlay and Mr. William Ballance took prizes this year. Mrs. Finlay was dressed as "Miss Canada", and Mr. Ballance as "Uncle Sam". We are proud of this pair. — A "jig" was held in the ice palace on Wednesday night of last week. Particulars later. — Miss Madge Luther has been sick with grippe lately.—The monthly meeting of the Mission Circle will be held this (Friday) evening at the home of A. H. Hoare at 8 o'clock. All members should be present. Visitors welcome.—Preaching service next Sunday at 10 a.m., Sunday School at 11.15. Be on time.

BETHANY

Quarterly service was well attended last Sunday. The Quarterly Board was to have met on Monday, but owing to the storm and road conditions the meeting was postponed —Our mail carrier failed to appear on Tuesday.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Miller entertained a number of friends on Friday evening last.—Mr. and Mrs. O. Hinchey, Picton, visited at Mr. A. Dempsey's.—Mrs. W. Conger is on the sick list at present. We hope for a speedy recovery. — A number of friends visited at Mr. Earl Howell's on Thursday evening last. — Although it was a stormy night a number went to Desoronto on Tuesday night to see "East Lynne" given by our young people. — The sympathy of the entire circuit goes out to Mr. Truscott and family, as Mrs. Truscott seems to be gradually sinking. — We understand Mr. Roy Rombough intends to move from our midst. Mr. Clifford Moore is to work his farm.—Mr. McFarlane is sawing lumber again at Desoronto and a number have been hauling logs over.

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

WORMS BOTHER HORSES

Some Are Long, Some Are Short, All Are Annoying.

They Range From Two to Fifteen Inches in Length—Symptoms Described—Practical Treatment Suggested.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The Oxyurides or Pin Worms.

The Oxyurides are popularly known as "Pin Worms," and are among the most common parasites affecting the large intestine of horses. Characteristics: Two varieties of this class of pin worms are said to occur in horses, termed respectively the Oxyuris Curvula and the Oxyuris Mastigodes. The Oxyuris Curvula is probably the more common, and some authorities appear to consider the Oxyuris Mastigodes to be but a variation of an abnormal form of the Curvula. In general appearance and form they closely resemble each other, the chief difference noticeable being their length. The average length of the Oxyuris Curvula is about two inches, while the Oxyuris Mastigodes is about four inches in length. They are both distinctly curved in shape and made up of a body and tail. The body is the curved and thickest part and forms the anterior half. Posteriorly the body becomes attenuated and is prolonged by a whip-like, long tail which tapers to a thin point. They inhabit the large intestine more especially the colon and rectum and are sometimes present in large numbers. The eggs are deposited around the outer margin of the anus and become noticeable as a yellow incrustation. The life history and cycle of these parasites has not been fully determined, but it is probable that infection takes place direct by ingestion of food and water contaminated with eggs, which later become hatched in the stomach and intestines.

Symptoms: If present in small numbers they may not cause any inconvenience. When present in large numbers they cause considerable irritation of the bowel and rectum, and the animal is noticed to be frequently rubbing the anus and tail against any convenient object. Owing to the continued irritation to which they give rise they may greatly impair the general health of the animal, causing unthriftiness and loss of condition. A characteristic symptom of the presence of pin worms is the appearance of a greyish fur and yellow incrustation around the margin of the anus, resulting from the eggs deposited and dried mucus accumulating. The worms themselves are also often observed hanging out of the anus or in the dung being passed.

Treatment: Medicinal treatment and injections are usually successful in expelling and eradicating pin worms from horses. A useful remedy consists in two ounces of turpentine given in a pint of raw linseed oil, as a drench, repeat once a week as may be required. In addition, injections into the rectum should be given each morning consisting of warm, salt water containing about four tablespoonful of salt to each quart of water. Salt should also be given in mashes or placed within reach of the animal. The skin around the margin of the anus should be washed to remove the incrustation of eggs.

The prevention of infestation by pin worms consists of avoiding food and water which are contaminated by the droppings from horses.

Ascaris Megalocephala.

This is a large worm which is very common among horses. It is so named on account of its comparatively large head.

Characteristics: In form it is a long, round worm tapering towards both ends. They are of a whitish or yellowish color and are easily distinguished by their large-sized and expanded heads, provided with three papillae or lips. The females are the larger, being from six to fifteen inches in length, while the males are from five to ten inches. They are the largest and most common of the round worms infesting horses, and inhabit the small intestines of horses of all ages, and are sometimes present in large numbers. The ova or eggs have great power of resistance and vitality, and after being expelled from an animal may remain alive for a period of over a year in manure, moist earth or ponds. The eggs and larvae are in turn taken into the system with the food and water, and, on reaching the intestines develope into the mature worms.

Symptoms: As a rule this worm is only present in small numbers and does not give rise to much inconvenience or harm. When present in considerable numbers they are frequently noticeable in the dung, and may cause the usual symptoms of worms in general.

Treatment: Medicinal treatment is usually effective in expelling this parasite, as they live chiefly in the contents of the small intestines, and vermifuge medicines dissolving in the bowels kill them rapidly. The following remedies have proved to be effective:—Sulphate of iron given in two dram doses in the food every morning for a week followed up on the seventh day by a purgative, such as an ounce of aloes given as a ball, or a pint of raw linseed oil. The iron may be continued longer, if necessary. Two ounces of turpentine given in a pint of milk or raw linseed oil is also useful. The most effective agent, however, is probably tartar emetic given in doses of from one to two drams daily for four or five days, followed by a dose of physic.—C. D. McGilvray, M.D.V., Ont. Vet. College, Guelph.

The success a man has in the production of lambs depends on the kind of ewes he selects, and the care he gives them.

To Our Advertisers

THE BEAVER takes pleasure in announcing a new service to our customers. We are now prepared to make our own newspaper cuts of which the above is a sample. You are requested to make full use of this service. It is absolutely free.

WHAT THE ADVERTISER GETS.

1. AN ATTRACTIVE ADVERTISEMENT. The best artists in the country are engaged in producing the original drawings.

2. AN UP-TO-DATE SERVICE. The drawings are revised each month. Seasonable changes are noted, fashions are the very latest, and special events taken into consideration.

3. A WIDE SELECTION. For February there are 104 cuts to choose from. Besides 7000 specials always available; covering every known subject.

WHAT THE PUBLIC GETS.

1. AN ATTRACTIVE PAPER. The advertisements are made more interest-compelling, and will be easily read and well illustrated.

2. THE LATEST STYLES in every branch will be found in the advertising section month by month.

3. ECONOMY. At a glance one will see the thing wanted and where to buy it; time and money are thereby saved.

WHAT THE BEAVER GETS.

THE BEAVER gets the satisfaction which comes from giving service. No extra charge is made for this, though THE BEAVER has invested a goodly sum in new equipment for this purpose.

REMEMBER, this Service is FREE. Ask our advice when placing your next advertisement.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

I have got to have a job, am man 22 years old, intelligent but married.

Proprietress—Will you take tea, coffee, or cocoa?
New Boarder—Whichever you call it, madam.

Holloway's Corn Remover takes the corn out by the roots. Try it and prove it.

Bride (to butcher)—What sort of a roast do you think would go well with a perfect darling of a blue-and-white dinner set?

To have the children sound and healthy is the first care of a mother. They cannot be healthy if troubled with worms. Use Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Adv.—Good plain cook wants position. Energetic worker, early riser, willing, conscientious. Can be seen. Really—We feared she was a dream.

The Man With Asthma almost longs for death to end his suffering. He sees ahead only years of endless torment with intervals of rest which are themselves fraught with never ceasing fear of renewed attacks. Let him turn to Dr. S. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy and know what complete relief it can give. Let him but use it faithfully and he will find his asthma a thing of the past.

"Do you know how the Labour party spell their programme?" asked a man, then spelling out the words, "Labor Program".
"Well, what is wrong with that?" inquired his hostess.
"Well, you see, it leaves out 'u' and 'me'," was the reply.

"You simply can't trust anybody nowadays. Everybody seems so dishonest. My maid, in whom I had the utmost confidence, left me suddenly, and took with her my beautiful pearl brooch."
"That is too bad" sympathized her friend. "Which one was it?"
"The very pretty one I smuggled through last autumn."

Externally or Internally, It Is Good. — When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately soothing relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

Wife—Richard, I wish you'd take care of the baby for an hour or so. I'm going to have a tooth pulled.
Hub—Aw, look here, Madge, you mind the kid and I'll go and have a couple of teeth pulled.

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

Andrew Carnegie on one occasion was asked which he considered the most important factor in industry, labor, capital, or brains. Carnegie quickly replied, "Which is the most important leg of a three-legged stool?"

Do not allow worms to sap the vitality of your children. If not attended to, worms may work irreparable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Powders is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

Rastus Jackson, a thoroughly married darky, was one day approached by a life insurance agent.
"Better let me write you a policy, Rastus," suggested the agent.
"No, sah," declared Rastus emphatically, "Ah ain't any too safe at home as it is!"

Iggs—So you didn't like Cuba?
Thggs—Naw. I went into a restaurant there to get a glass of milk. The waiter didn't speak any English, so I drew a picture of a cow, and the son-of-a-gun went out and bought me a ticket to a bull fight.
Iggs—Serves you right for orderin' milk in Cuba.

CAVE MEN LIVED IN EGYPT.

First Remains Have Been Discovered on African Continent.

An archaeological find, which promises to be an event of the first mangnitude, is reported from Egypt.

The remains of cave men have been there, the first ever discovered on the African continent. The bones were found by Dr. D. E. Perry and reported by the British Royal Anthropological Institute. They were discovered near the town of Gaul-el Quebir, on the east bank of the Nile in Upper Egypt.

The discovery opens a strange vista into the past of the dark continent. The bones are not those of people such as we know, but of men of the cave man level, low of forehead and dull in mind. There are no cave men to-day. They are all extinct.

This newly discovered prehistoric race lived in the Pleistocene age, during or before the age of ice. At that time the land of Egypt was much nearer sea level than it is now, and the Nile meandered through meadows filled with herds of African buffalo, hearts no longer found in northern Africa. There were many swamps also, and these abounded in crocodiles. The bones of both these creatures have been found with those of the men.

There seems to have been quicksands in those days in Egypt, in which the prehistoric hunters were sometimes stuck and drown. Many of their bones have shells of fresh water oysters sticking to them, showing that they lay in the swamps where they perished for untold years.

Then, half a million years or more ago, Africa began to rise. The land of Egypt has been slowly elevated, but the Nile has worked vigorously to keep its channel clear. The river has cut a trench ten miles wide and 300 feet deep from one end of Egypt to the other since the cave men lived there and has transported many cubic miles of debris to the sea.

The meadows are drained now. The river has cut 300 feet below their level and has left them with dried mud banks, high and dry. At the same time the rainfall has failed, so that what were once green fields are now parched deserts.

Dr. Perry found the bones in a pit dug by the Egyptians of an early Pharaoh's time. Some energetic person had scoured the desert for miles around and had gathered a great pile of bones together, to be burned as an offering in a grave. Some of the human skulls are well preserved and will greatly increase scientific knowledge of the races of men who made Egypt.

FEEDING FOR BACON.

Leave Litters With Sows for Eight Weeks—Selection as Important as Breed—Pasture Sod for Feed in Winter.

At the Ontario Agriculture College all litters are left with the sow until they are eight weeks old. Fine milk and middlings are the most satisfactory feeds on which to start the newly weaned pigs. Rations are made up with the idea of promoting growth during the first four months, by using growth promoting rather than fattening feeds until the pigs are five and one-half months old, fully matured and ready for the finishing period. Two-thirds barley and one-third finely ground oats, along with skim milk, has been highly satisfactory. Tankage up to 5 or 10 per cent. has been successfully and profitably fed during the growing period.

In the experimental feeding work at the Ontario Agricultural College it has been found that there is but very little difference in the cost of going with the various breeds, but there is a difference in the grade of product, which means dollars and cents for the kind that grade "select." Four hundred pounds of meal or its equivalent produced one hundred pounds of gain in weight for four breeds in the test. The degree of gain the bacon breeds fully held their own.

Before it freezes up store a wagon load or two of good, tough, green sods away in the barn cellar, pit or shed. Such will be very useful to toss into the pig pens now and again during the winter months. The pigs need mineral matter and this is an easy, cheap and efficient way to give it to them.—Department of Extension, O.A. College, Guelph.

In packing meat, put it in the brine skin side down, except the top layer, which should be turned skin side down.

Don't Let Housework Ruin Your Hands

To heal chafing, soreness or that harsh chapped feeling of the skin caused by housework, Zam-Buk is invaluable. This herbal balm soaks through the pores, soothing and purifying the whole tissue, killing and removing poisonous disease germs, and renewing the skin.

There are soothing, healing and germicidal virtues in Zam-Buk, never found in ordinary fatty ointments and salves. That is because Zam-Buk is a highly-concentrated medicinal preparation of unique herbal origin.

Zam-Buk is proved equally good for ending attacks of eczema, ulcers, ringworm, blood-poison or piles. It quickly soothes and heals all cuts, burns, chilblains, etc., and clears the skin of pimples and blotches.

Zam-Buk

FREE BOXES! We will gladly mail one trial box, free, to any reader who sends a postcard mentioning this famous herbal healer for trial purposes. Send your request for one on a postal, address: Zam-Buk Mfg. Co., Toronto. Note the effect of Zam-Buk balm on any Cut, Burn or Sore.

Whose Fault If the Child Is Delicate?

The success of your child's future is largely dependent upon its present health. The time to watch its health is while it is undergoing the growing age. Give a boy or girl health as a foundation and their future is fairly well assured. Let delicate health in children sometimes the result of unintentional neglect? Parents often dismiss these troubles with the remark, "They will be all right tomorrow." Drowsiness, weakness, lack of energy, loss of appetite, inability to study and concentrate, etc., in children are due to ill-health. Usually what the child, boy or girl, needs is a tonic. Carnol has worked wonders as a tonic with children. Read what Carnol did for Mrs. Ida Waite's little girl:

"I am very glad to be able to speak to any parent and explain to them that my little girl has been completely restored to health by the use of Carnol. She has been from infancy a weak, delicate child and very nervous, but the use of Carnol has not only completely strengthened her, but restored her to perfect health. I recommend Carnol to all mothers whenever a safe and effective tonic is needed."—Mrs. Ida Waite, 5 Simmit Street, Halifax. 16-9

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

Rouyn Gold Mines, Ltd.

One of the Most Sensational Developments in the Big New Quebec Gold Camp

$800,000 Offer for Control Declined by Shareholders

Recently large U. S. mining interests made an offer of $800,000 for controlling stock interest, which was over 60c a share, but, on the advice of Manager Cooper, shareholders declined the offer.

This shows the confidence of the management and shareholders in the big future for Rouyn Gold Mines.

ROUYN GOLD MINES, LTD., owns over 1,000 acres of the choicest mining ground in the Rouyn gold area of Quebec. This district has been announced by eminent engineers as the biggest discovery in Canada since Porcupine. Some of the largest mine operators in America are interested in this section. On present showings several big gold mines should develop, and among these will be Rouyn Gold Mines, Ltd., we fully believe.

LARGE PROFITS

are promised to those who buy shares in this company at the present price—around 33c a share. The stock is bound to increase in value as the property approaches the production stage. Fourteen strong gold veins have been uncovered and are being developed.

Speaking of the Coolidge reserve, a reporter attempted an interview.

"Do you wish to say anything about prohibition?" was the first question.

"No."

"About the farm bloc?"

"No."

"About the World Court?"

"No."

The reporter turned to go.

"By the way," added Coolidge, unexpectedly calling him back, "don't quote me."

BACHELOR'S CORNERS

MORVEN

The event of the season, namely, the concert given by the Morven Sunday School, was held on Friday evening, Feb. 1st, in the Brick Church. Mr. John Albert Bell, the loyal Superintendent, gave a short address, which was full of Christian enthusiasm. Rev. W. R. Merrick, Pastor, made an excellent chairman, who, by his ready wit and adaptability, added much to the evening's entertainment. The programme consisted of readings, choruses, solos and duologues, and the manner in which each number was given, and the hearty applause which followed, reflects much credit upon the committee, Mrs. Merrick, Miss Crozier, Mrs. Fralick and Mrs. Winters, for their untiring efforts in preparing with the entertainers so excellent a programme. Modesty forbids us making special mention of any selection, with the exception of a solo and encore given by Miss Anna Watters, of Switzerville, who so kindly sang for us on this occasion. Only in times like these we are brought to realize the hidden possibilities in the growing girls and boys. May every parent, officer and teacher be zealous in the maintaining of our Sunday School, that these lives shall be directed aright.

Could Not Work A Whole Day

But Now He Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Alfred Nadeau Is Enthusiastic Over the Remedy That Brought Him Relief—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Albertville, Que., Feb. 4th, (Special)—"It gives me great pleasure to tell you that I am feeling very well, since I started taking your Dodd's Kidney Pills. I was not able to work a whole day without severe pains in my kidneys.

Your Dodd's Kidney Pills are a wonderful remedy for weak kidneys. Kindly publish my testimonial, so that all those who suffer may know about Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mr. Alfred Nadeau, who lives here, makes the above statement. He feels that he owes it to other sufferers with sore kidneys, to tell them how he found relief from his suffering.

All Mr. Nadeau's troubles came from diseased kidneys. They speedily ceased when he commenced to use the one sure help for diseased kidneys—Dodd's Kidney Pills. There is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer when Dodd's Kidney Pills can be obtained from druggists everywhere, or The Dodds Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Last Notice.

We have a large number of small accounts that we have rendered time after time until we are tired paying postage. We now give notice that all unpaid after March 1st will be placed for collection. We will either have them paid or find that we cannot. They must be wiped off the book.

6a HENRY'S BOOKSTORE.

"East Lynne".

The old and popular play, "East Lynne", will be given at Wonderland Theatre, Napanee, on Thursday night, February 14th, 1924, starting at 8 o'clock sharp, under the auspices of the Willing Workers' Community Club, Bethany. Admission 35c., children under 12 years 25c. This play has been played by both professional and amateurs for generations, and still holds its place as one of the most popular plays of its kind. 6a

Hockey Club Dance.

The Napanee Hockey Club will give an informal dance in the Armouries, on Friday evening, February 22nd, 1924. The weather conditions have been very unfavorable this season, and the attendances at the games has been below par, thus the officers of the Club find themselves in financial difficulties, and are taking this means of raising the necessary funds to carry on with. The support of the general public is earnestly solicited.

PRICE OF CARS ADVANCED

On account of the increase in price of material and the Government Sales Tax, it has been found necessary to raise the price of Chevrolet Cars on February 15th. We will accept a limited number of orders at the present prices until the above date. Now is the time to order your car for spring delivery and save some money.

Conway Women's Institute Concert and Dance.

The concert and dance held on February 1st, by the Conway Women's Institute, at Sandhurst Parish Hall, was decidedly a success. A fine night and a goodly crowd helped to contribute to the enjoyment of the evening. Walters' Orchestra, as ever, furnished excellent music, while the rest of the programme was also good. Mrs. Fred Allison acted as chairman and spoke engagingly of the great possibilities of the work of Women's Institutes and of the hospital work being done by Conway Institute in particular. Miss Frink charmed everyone by her witty and humorous recitations. Mrs. Reade Robbin sang well as did also the two little Misses Howie, and we must not forget to mention the vocal and instrumental music given by Mr. and the Misses Jenee. Though much regretting the absence of Mrs. P. Young, President of the Conway Institute, the Vice-President and other members ably looked after serving the refreshments to the large crowd that stayed to enjoy the dance. The proceeds of the evening amounted to a neat little sum to be used for further good work for home and country. Try it again, Conway Institute, say we.

UNIQUE OCCASION NOT TO BE REPEATED.

When the Daughters of the Empire on the afternoon of Thursday, Feb. 14th, make the presentation of the I. O. D. E. War Memorial Pictures allotted to the schools of our town, to the Board of Education, the Principals, teachers and pupils of the schools, as well as the Mayor and Council, our Members of Parliament and the Clergy, are expected to be present. Besides the above, a cordial invitation is extended to the professional and business men of the town, as well as the public, and all others interested, for a free inspection of the pictures, and to attend the presentation, and the annual Valentine Tea, which will be held the same afternoon. The Public School pupils are asked to view the pictures at 4 o'clock. The presentation will be made to the Board of Education at 5 o'clock. Tea served all afternoon. Silver collection.

A CORRECTION.

The Hospital Aid Euchre will be held in the Masonic Hall instead of the I. O. O. F. hall. 6a

Band Concert by Radio.

Mr. Charles Stevens, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens, Bridge St., Napanee, with his band, will broadcast a concert from Station W.J.A.G., at Milwaukee, on Friday evening, Feb. 15th, from ten to eleven Central Standard time. Mr. Stevens formerly conducted a band in Napanee, and his many friends will be keenly interested in listening-in on his concert next Friday evening.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 30th, B. N. Sparks, D.D.G.M., Napanee District, No. 48, I.O.O.F., and Suite, of Enterprise, installed the officers of Odessa Lodge, No. 361, publicly, at their Lodge Rooms, Odessa, before a large number of members, visitors and friends, which ceremony was performed in a very able manner.

After the installation ceremony was over, the assembly retired to the Town Hall, where about two hundred sat down to a very dainty supper provided by the ladies of Odessa. Wilton and Westbrooke, followed by a splendid programme, consisting of speeches, music and singing by the D.D.G.M. and others, with music by the Rapid Lodge Orchestra No. 467, Yarker, and Enterprise Brothers.

The evening closed with a social dance, and all present remarked having a very enjoyable time.

BEAVER LAKE

The fine weather last week enabled a number of men to get their wood and ice hauled, but the storm on Sunday again filled the roads.—Miss Fae Godfrey, of Tamworth Continuation School, spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. M. Peterson.—Owing to the bad weather the horse races were postponed until Saturday, Feb. 16th.—Mr. Sandy Lott has been busy hauling hay to Tamworth.—We are glad to hear that Mr. Ray Woodcock is gaining nicely in the general store.—Mrs. Herb. McDonald and children spent a few days with her father, Mr. Reams.—A number from around here attended Mr. Russell Long's sale on Monday. — Death visited our vicinity and called away one of our aged citizens, in the person of Mrs. P. Murphy. The late Mrs. Murphy had not been sick previous to her death, and the cause was heart failure. She was known by many as a kind friend and neighbor. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, three sons and three daughters. The funeral took place to the Union Church, Rev. Mr. Clarke officiating. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. M. Storrings, J. Cunningham, M. Vandusen, T. Steele, G. Stinson, and W. Hughes.

MORVEN

Mrs. Jas. Mills spent a few days in Kingston with her friend, Miss Clara Cummings, who is very ill in the hospital.—Mrs. Jas. Brandon is spending a few days with her son, Mr. Harold Brandon, and family.—Miss Ruth Henwood spent the week-end at Mr. Fralick's.—Mrs. C. L. Sharp visited at Mrs. J. B. Sharp's recently. — Mr. Fullerton Playfair visited Mr. J. E. Gordon one evening last week. — We are pleased to hear of the improved condition of Mrs. Bruce Cummings since her recent surgical operation in Kingston hospital. — Miss Chalmers has returned to her home in Adolphustown, her sister, Mrs. Hugh Milling, accompanying her for a short visit. — The W. M. S. quilting at Mrs. Preslar's was largely attended.—The League is holding a Valentine social evening at the home of Mr. John R. Purdy on Friday evening. A good time is expected. All are welcome.

WEDDING BELLS

Shaw—Hannah.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw, Bloomfield, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, Feb. 6th, when their only daughter, Jennie Mabel, was united in marriage to William Clifford Hannah, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hannah, Camden East. Promptly at 6 o'clock the bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohns Wedding March, played by her cousin, Leslie Herbison, of Queensboro', Miss Eva Keene, of Belleville, acted as bridesmaid, and the groom was ably assisted by Mr. Alger Post, of Fuller.

The winsome young bride looked charming in her beaded gown of white satin de crepe, and tulle veil, with wreath of orange blossoms. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet set with pearls; to the bridesmaid a gold brooch set with pearls, and to the groomsman a gold tie pin.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. M. Wayne, the guests to the number of fifty, repaired to the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, showing the high esteem in which she was held. The following morning the happy young couple left by train for Niagara Falls and points West, the bride travelling in a brown silk dress, brown velour coat and brown hat.

On their return they will reside in Camden East, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

Fretts—Haggerty.

The home of Mrs. H. Haggerty was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Tuesday, Feb. 12th, 1924, when her youngest daughter, Annie Madeline, was united in marriage to William Albert Fretts, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Fretts, Rev. H. P. Anderson performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was becomingly attired in a grey canton crepe dress. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The happy couple left on the 3.40 train for Ottawa, the bride receiving as a parting gift two coat dress, with fur-trimmed coat and hat to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, near Napanee.

YARKER

The worst snow storm of the winter struck this locality last Saturday night and Sunday, when some ten or twelve inches of the beautiful fell on the level, but remained to stay just where it landed. The "Sons of Rest" Society had its members in action clearing the sidewalks, while traffic was almost entirely blocked on the country roads. — A goodly number of our young people took Dr. and Mrs. Aitcheson by surprise at their home the other night, when they showered in upon them many useful articles for housekeeping. — Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Curl were visited in the bride's new home at "Hillcrest" by nearly one hundred of their friends and neighbors, who came to present their congratulations and to sup with the newly married couple. The crowd sure had a great time taking short rides in the flying machine, while Ed. Purcell and Norm. Boyce acted as pilots. — The girls all had a "real cute time" while getting close shaves in the Ladies' Barber Shop, operated by widow and orphans. Some of the men also ventured in to get a close shave and looked quite silly when they came out. Our minister did not go in. — A "lingering little squall" struck F. Jeffrey's home on Water street the other night, and Grandpa Irish is as proud as Punch. — Miss Florence Down returned to resume her duties for the seventh year in the Standard Bank at Pickering. Her broken arm was much improved. — The Woman's Institute held a very successful meeting at "Glen Cairn", the home of Mrs. W. Jackson, last Thursday afternoon. — Mrs. W. Storms is still in the General Hospital at Kingston, but she is gradually recovering. Her daughter, Mrs. O. Robinson is staying with her at present.—We are sorry to record the death of Mrs. Eli Garrison She was staying with her nephew in Flinton, Ont., at the time of her translation. — Mr. Fitzgerald's big black foxes are thriving nicely up at the ranch. — Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Lees, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Holland, of Enterprise, were in town last Saturday. — Mr. Percy Robertson has returned to his home in Trenton.—Mr. White, our new station agent, who is coming from Perth, has rented Mr. W. Carroll's house, and will be moving in soon. — We may cost the company a little more for coloring now. — Mr. Fenwick Connoly has returned home, after spending several days visiting friends abroad. — Mr. T. Waterhouse and Mr. T. Down drove over to Newburgh last Monday night to have a shake on the rink. — The Valentine tea and concert, given by the ladies of the Methodist Church on Thursday night, was a good success. — Dame Rumor has sent our popular citizen, Mr. S. Hart, to Deseronto to take charge of the C. N. R. station in that town. We sincerely hope that it is only rumor. — One of the professors in "Yarker Men's College" may ask his class at one of the sessions next week to nuke two people, mentioned in the Bible, "who died before they were born". — The Colebrook Ladies' Aid Society will hold their annual oyster supper at Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baker's on Friday night of this week. They expect a big time. Hope they bid your scribe.

Address and Presentation

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 30th, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Brown were taken completely by surprise when the congregation of Ebenezer Church gathered at their home and presented a beautiful hanging lamp to Mrs. Brown, who has officiated as organist of the church for a number of years. Mr. Clayten Anderson made the presentation, and Rev. C. J. Wilson read the following address:

Dear Mrs. Brown,—No doubt you are surprised to see your friends gathered here to-night, but we, the members and adherents of the Ebenezer Church wish to show our appreciation of your faithful services as organist of our church. Perhaps we have been slow in expressing our gratitude, and showing our sympathy for your self-denying efforts, but nevertheless we were thankful. We realize it means a sacrifice on your part, but you have always been very willing and cheerful in the discharge of your duties.

We wish you to please accept this hanging lamp as a slight token of our appreciation and good-will to you.

We all unite in wishing that your efforts be crowned with success, and that your life be filled with happiness. Signed on behalf of the Ebenezer congregation,

FREDA KERR.
MAYSEL WHITEMAN.

Mrs. Brown replied, expressing her surprise and appreciation of the gift. An enjoyable evening was spent in music, games and social intercourse.

HOCKEY

Belleville 4, Napanee 1.

The first half of the schedule in the Bay of Quinte League was completed at Belleville on Friday evening, when the home team won from Napanee by a score of 4-1, leaving the Belleville boys in undisputed possession of the first half of the schedule.

Napanee made the only tally in the first period, Belleville scored three in the second, and Napanee practically scored the fourth goal for Belleville in the third period when the puck bounded off Huffman's stick into the net. Napanee showed well in the first period and had not Scott been a good net guardian the goal that Napanee made on a rush by Huffman would not have stood alone. The visitors played combination well and tried hard. The second period was all Belleville, Whalan scoring three goals, one on a pass from Williams. At times the game seemed to veer, with varying chances for the rival teams. But one penalty was imposed during the match, Williams being given a rest for a brief interval.

Following is the line-up:

Belleville—Goal, Scott; defence, N. Goyer, Williams; right wing, Symons; centre, Whelan; left wing, Armstrong; subs., Arnott, Blute.

Napanee—Goal, Fenn; defence, L. Spencer, McNeil; right wing, H. Huffman; subs., Babcock (goal), Nashin, Spencer.

Referee—J. A. Casterton, Kingston.

Napanee 7, Belleville 2.

The first game in the second half of the Bay Quinte Hockey League schedule was played at Napanee on Monday evening, the home team winning, defeating the winners of the first half (Belleville) by the decisive score of 7-2. The locals were a different looking aggregation from any that have donned a Napanee uniform this season, and were in the game from bell to bell.

Belleville scored the first goal after 19 minutes of play, Napanee following with two before the period ended, 2-1 in favor of Napanee.

The second period was all Napanee, splendid back-checking and good combination bearing fruit to the extent of four goals, while the visitors failed to score.

In the third period, with the score 6-1 in their favor, the Napanee team did things a little easier, and each team scored one, leaving the final score 7-2 in favor of the home team.

From centre to goal the locals played wonderful hockey. A general shake-up of the team was made, Mc-Neil going to centre, while Harold Huffman and Fred 'Huffman played their usual useful game, McNeil directly responsible for several of the goals by his clever stick-handling and unselfish opportunity-seeking when he might possibly have scored alone. That is the kind of brainy work that wins games and gives a shake on the rink. — The younger generation and less experienced hockey players are coming to the front in no mentioning Fred Bentley. His back-checking and general aggressiveness was a treat to witness, and with experience he will make an exceptionally valuable player. "The Twins", Harold and Gerald Johnston, are two of the hardest workers on the team, and loved up well on Monday evening. Harold has been playing regularly all winter, but Gerald has been warming the bench. Manager Roe showed good policy in starting Gerald, out at last, to-date. Leone Spencer, while always a valued player, has shown to better advantage in the last three games than he has all season, and has evidently decided that a man on the ice has not been forgotten in the penalty box. Will McLaughlin staged a come-back in this game and his experience counted for much on the defence. He is a hard man to get by and makes no low shots. Ross Nash is a comer and one nets has had this season. Nevertheless, he has several hard shots to handle and turned them aside in his old-time finished style.

Referee Jamp Mack, while all this was going on that the Belleville boys were not playing hockey. The referee's decisions, Williams and Armstrong, were the busiest men on the ice, especially Symons, who is a clever accomplished player and gave the Napanee boys many an anxious moment when he was seen getting the puck. Scott, in goal, had a strenuous night, and had more goals scored on him than any previous game this season. He played a splendid game and for every one that he missed he turned dozens aside.

Dr. Millan, of Kingston, gave one of the best exhibitions of refereeing that has been seen here this season, and always had the game under control. As usual in the Bay of Quinte League the game was exceptionally clean, only one penalty being given and that for one minute for a minor accidental offence.

Following is the line-up:

Belleville—Goal, K. W. Scott; defence, N. Goyer, F. Blute; right wing, S. Simons; centre, E. Whelan; left wing, A. Armstrong; subs., J. Arnott, G. Arnott.

Napanee—Goal, H. Fenn; defence, H. McNeil, L. Spencer; right wing, H. Huffman; subs., H. Bentley; left wing, F. Huffman; subs., H. Babcock (goal), W. McLaughlin, G. Johnston.

Referee—Dr. Millan, Kingston.

Games Scheduled.

Friday, Feb. 15th.—Kingston at Napanee.

Tuesday, Feb. 19th.—Napanee at Point Anne.

Thursday, Feb. 19th—Belleville at Kingston.

COLLEGIATE NEWS.

At the beginning of the year 1924 the Collegiate once more began the organization of a Literary Society. The first meeting, at which the officers were elected, was quite successful.

The second meeting brought forth a good response and much fine talent in the school was displayed. This meeting was held on Wednesday, February 6th, 1924, in the School Assembly Hall. The President, Mr. Albert Hall, was in the chair. He called the meeting to order and gave his opening address. It was a short speech but exactly to the point. In a concise way he explained the object of the Society and its work, what it should mean to the pupils both during their school life and later. It is supposed to be a period of recreation but one of great literary value. It is not something one person can undertake alone and make a success of; it needs the co-operation and good-will of all the pupils. It will be found of good use for most of the pupils in the future, especially those who either part in the programmes as it helps them in speaking or in any other undertaking before the public.

After these splendid remarks made by the President, the minutes of the first meeting of January 14th were read and approved. The School Orchestra, which finds a good director and musician in Mr. MacGregor, gave one of its best selections "A Flad ta Truce". Jean Paul, a reciter of which the school is proud, gave one of her very humorous selections. A Irish and Jean can certainly imitate the Irish brogue. Lauretta Hall, whose talent was formerly unknown to us, rendered a beautiful solo; she was accompanied by Bertha Hudgins. An oration on one of the new scientific discoveries, was well given by one of the junior pupils, Archie Wilson. The next number, a solo, was given by one of well-known talent, Allan Walters, who is exceedingly good at singing popular songs. A reading was given by Malcolm Corkill on the "Princess Pats". This speech was well prepared and proved to be most interesting. Reas Hudgins then favoured us with a cornet solo, and the last number on the programme was a selection by the Orchestra.

Doctor Morden, the critic for the meeting, was called upon for his remarks. They were very helpful and full of congratulation for the work of the pupils. He spoke of a can which a former school pupil, Mr. Taylor, has given to open a competition among the pupils for public speaking.

The meeting was closed with "God Save the King".

—Secretary.

OBITUARY

A. C. Osborne.

A. C. Osborne, one of the best known citizens of Pentanguishene, died on Monday last, aged 82 years. For a number of years he taught school in various parts of the province before going to Penetanguishene. He was associated with the local paper, the Herald, in its early days, but of late years he devoted his time to writing the history of the town and of that part of the County of Simcoe. He was known throughout the province for his historical essays and his research work, and to him may be credited the founding of the historical society in that part of the province and stirring up the enthusiasm among those interested in the history to celebrate the Tercentenary of the Landing of Champlain. For over fifty years he had been a member of the I. O. O. F. He leaves three sons and a daughter.

The late Mr. Osborne taught school in Napanee a number of years ago, and will be remembered by many.

Friday, Feb. 22nd—Point Anne at Belleville.

Kingston at Napanee.

All ye lovers of hockey who missed the game on Monday evening should be present at the rink to-night to witness the game between Kingston and Napanee. The locals have struck their stride and it will take a real team to defeat them. The Kingston boys always play their best on Napanee ice and cannot afford to lose this game if they stay in the running for the play-off for the cup. The Napanee Band will be in attendance to enliven the proceedings. It will be, without doubt, one of the best games that will be played here this season.

NEWBURGH

The deep snow has given the noble horse his innings, and the tinkle of the bells has taken the place of those wonderful and fearful sounds that emanate from the motor cars, which ranges from the blast of a sheep to the bray of a donkey.

The carnival on the skating rink last week drew a large crowd and was a brilliant affair both from the spectacular and enjoyable point of view.

The C. G. I. T. will give a box social in the basement of Union Church, on Monday, February 18th, at 7.30 p.m.

The death took place on Thursday last of an old resident of Camden, in the person of Mrs. Paul, relict of the late William Paul. The death took place at the home of her son, Walter Paul, with whom she has lived for the last few years. Mrs. Paul leaves two sons, Walter, of Camden, and Vernon, of Ernestown. Two other sons died a few years ago in Saskatchewan, both quite young men.

The news of the death of Mr. Fred Plummer was received in Newburgh with a feeling of loss. Mr. Plummer was a resident of Newburgh for a few years, living with his father-in-law, Mr. Wm. Wright. During those years he made many friends and was admired not only for himself but for the brave fight he put up against a disease that was gradually sapping his life away.

This correspondent fortunately or unfortunately lives on a corner, and has arrived at a stage in his experience when shoveling snow is not a pastime. He is therefore inclined to balk at clearing some of the sidewalks adjoining his premises until the more lp-law is more rigidly enforced in the case of delinquents.

There are quite a number of our citizens complaining that the electric lighting is not up to past standards. Word comes from South Ste. Marie of a crowing match which took place in that city, and which contains a suggestion for Newburgh. Seeing that cock fighting is banned, what is the matter with getting up a crowing match, putting the roosters of the south side of the river against those of the north side. On the north side we could have as competitors, Gendron, McNeely and Cameron, while on the north side we could have Harrison, Lilly and Vandewater. The committee could be pulled off in the Standard Bank Hall, and would create widespread interest, and would no doubt lead to further competition among other rooster owners in the village, whose names would be given in due course. We could name competent judges but will leave that for consideration later. Should such competition be arranged we bespeak the interest and attendance of the ladies. I have no doubt but the correspondent to The Beaver could be utilized to commemorate the occasion with a poem in which all the leading features would emerge.

Mr. Salmen Brown, of Toronto, well known to the older people of Newburgh, at home and abroad, was here attending the funeral of his sister, Miss Eleanor Brown, and remained over for a week visiting with friends. Mr. Brown is over eighty years of age, and is as lively and cheerful as a boy.

The Mission Band concert on Tuesday night was pronounced by many to be fifty per cent. better than anything that has come over the radio to date.

STRATHCONA

We have been having very cold weather this week. This is certainly an open winter,—open to the North Pole. — A number of young people were in Napanee on Monday evening to see the hockey match between Belleville and Napanee.—Those who attended the Newburgh carnival report a splendid time, although many, especially the ladies, thought that "Art" Hall's name should not show up on such an occasion. Messrs. W. Wilson and W. A. Ballance were the prize-winners from this burg. — The Mission Circle, which was held on Friday evening, was well attended and was a splendid success. — Mrs. Fred. MacDonald is on the sick list at time of writing. — Mrs. William Toner is visiting friends in Kingston.—Messrs. Stanley Danes and Harold Hoare took tea with Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Finlay on Sunday evening. — Miss Elsie Wood, who has been visiting with Miss Evelyn Toner, returned home on Wednesday.—Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson spent Tuesday at I. B. Hudgins', Selby. — Mrs. W. J. Finlay has been sick with grippe this week. — The February meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. B. Finlay on Wednesday afternoon. After the meeting, a dainty lunch-eon was served. — Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sutton are the proud owners of a little baby girl. — Miss Ruth and Mr. Wilfrid Wilson left on Friday morning for Toronto, to visit relatives there over the week-end. —Sunday School next Sunday at 2 p.m.—Jolly good plentiful, but this one is "all right": "Sandy", said a pompous Scotch laird to an old farmer, "you are getting very bent. Why don't you stand up straight, like me?" "Weel", answered Sandy, "d'ye see yon field o' corn?" "I do", said the laird. "Ye'll notice that the full heads hang doon, an' the empty uns stand up".

Why Ford Predominates

Ford Resources

The Ford is the product of a self-made institution which, over a period of years, has provided dependable transportation for all peoples.

Recognizing the value of Ford transportation, these peoples have purchased Ford products in such volume that the sale of Ford cars and trucks equals the sales of all other makes combined.

As a result, the resources of Ford of Canada are now over $20,000,000. These resources mean ability to buy the best material at a minimum price.

They mean the ability to organize each process of production, from the purchase of materials to the completion of the finished car, on such a basis that every non-essential operation is eliminated.

The economies thus accomplished are reflected in Ford prices which, always consistently low, are now the lowest in history. This is what Ford resources mean to you.

CAMDEN EAST OLD BOY HONORED.

Vernon ratepayers turned out in force last Thursday to record their votes for aldermen and mayor, when Ald. Galbraith was elected mayor over Ald. Brandon by a majority of 32.

The race was keen with much interest being developed throughout the city as the campaign progressed. It was generally conceded by everyone that the campaign would be close, and it was.

The aldermanic race was equally as interesting as that of the mayoralty, the surprise being the splendid ally, the surprise being the splendid run made by L. L. Stewart, whose nomination papers were the last to be turned in to the returning officer.

The campaign was conducted in a most friendly manner and elected and defeated candidates are as good friends, and in some cases, better friends than when the election race began.

The vote polled is said to be one of the largest ever recorded in a civic election in Vernon, 597 ratepayers marking ballots.

During the counting of the ballots everyone in attendance was quizzical at the number of 'plumpers' that had been cast. The number received by each candidate was:—Mr. Monk, 12; Mr. Nichols, 4; Mr. Oliver, 2; Mr. Provese, 4; Mr. Robertson, 9; Mr. Sauder, 3, and Mr. Stewart 7.

As the aldermanic ballots were taken from the box those keeping tally were much surprised at the peculiar manner in which some voters marked the papers. Some voted for Mr. Monk, whose name topped the ballot and then marked an X for Mr. Stewart, whose name was at the bottom, only two votes being made. Others voted for only three and four candidates.

While the votes were being counted the Vernon City Band rendered a programme of popular numbers at the post office and when the results were made known all the candidates and supporters met in the Vernon Club, where a 'love fesse' was held, with Dr. MacDonald, M.L.A., presiding over the impromptu gathering.

The successful candidates thanked the voters for their support, while those defeated paid their compliments to those that had been elected.

A splendid spirit prevailed and there was much good fun. The City Band gave a number of selections while Messrs. 'Bob' Abbott, Stevenson and T. Garratt entertained the crowd with musical selections and songs.

The Council was sworn in on Friday and will hold its first meeting tonight.—The Vernon News. Vernon, B.C., January 24th, 1924.

Mr. John S. Galbraith was formerly a resident of Camden East.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA.

The fifty-fourth Annual Statement of The Mutual Life of Canada, published in this issue, is an interesting resume of the past year's business. The operations of the Company are disclosed in figures that should cause the directors, management, field force and policyholders the deepest satisfaction. The new business written amounted to $23,510,573. Allowing for terminations and revivals, the net increase to the business in force amounted to $23,495,912, the total assurances in force standing now at $260,982,250.

The mortality experienced was less than 49 per cent. of the expected deaths according to the standard tables, so that there will result a substantial gain to the policyholders from this source.

The rate of interest was satisfactory, although there is a general decline from the high rates obtaining in recent years, but the rate actually realized of 6.55 per cent. will ensure more than satisfactory results to the members of the Mutual Life.

The net results of all the various transactions are summed up in the surplus which amounted to $3,012,-806.99.

There has existed in some quarters in Canada during the past year a marked feeling of pessimism. It is reassuring, in view of this, to note the comparative strength of Canadian life companies, among whom the Mutual occupies so conspicuous a position.

The Company announces the introduction as at January 1st, 1924, of several attractive features in its policy contracts and, what is of most practical interest, the dividends or return premiums are to be substantially increased. Altogether, the position of the Mutual is enviable and one distinctly reassuring to the Canadian public in these anxious days.

John.—Emil Fritsch, of Webb, Sask., and his son, Edward, are paying a visit to the former's old home and relatives and friends. Miss Grace Pridmore, of Marmora, spent a week or so visiting friends in this vicinity, and has returned to her home.—Miss Laura Ferguson, of Matawatchan, was during last week end and Sunday a welcome guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stein.—Arthur Ready went to Toronto, where he will likely be engaged the remainder of this winter, at his brother, Lorne, returned to Schumacher to resume his former position there.—Gustav Berndt went to Espanola, and Roy Chatron and his brother, Clarence, left for Detroit, Mich., to be employed there the remainder of this winter.—Carl Plotz cutting one of his hands with his axe while working in a lumber camp. The concert held in C. Both's Hall on Friday evening last, was well patronized and much enjoyed. The proceeds, about $60.00, are to be expended in completing the Methodist Parsonage.

Less Pot-washing

SMP Enameled Ware has the smooth surface and polish of fine crockery—without the breakage. And it is so very easy to clean—just like china, and therefore makes light work of pot washing.

Try this test. Take an SMP Enameled Ware sauce pan and an all-metal sauce pan of equal size. Into each pour a quart of cold water. Put on the fire at the same time. The SMP sauce pan will be boiling merrily when the water in the other is just beginning to simmer.

SMP Enameled WARE
"A Face of Porcelain and a Heart of Steel"

Three finishes: Pearl Ware, two coats of pearly grey enamel inside and out. Diamond Ware, three coats, light blue and white outside, white lining. Crystal Ware, three coats, pure white inside and out, with Royal Blue rolled edge.

PLUMA FLAKE.

KINGSTON WOMAN ABLE TO EAT NOW

Had Lost Her Appetite but Found Genuine Relief From This and Other Ailments in Dreco. Two Bottles Proved Beneficial.

Mrs. Charles Cunningham, well known to Kingston women as a hair dresser and masseuse, is loud in her praises of Dreco.

Mrs. Cunningham says: "I have suffered a long time with my stomach. Food would sour and form gas, which made me so miserable I could hardly attend to my work. I would get headaches and bilious spells, my appetite was poor and I was continually troubled with constipation. I have taken two bottles of Dreco and am feeling fine. I can eat most anything now without any after effects. I am not troubled with headaches or those awful bilious spells and feel that Dreco has done me so much good in every way. I have greater energy to do my work, my appetite is good and my bowels are regular.

"My daughter, who is also taking Dreco, is having even better results than I had myself.

Here are two members of a family who have found health and renewed energy in Dreco.

There are no habit forming drugs, such as mercury or potash, in Dreco. It consists entirely of herbs and roots of the health-producing body-building type.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Napanee by Wallace & Co., and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

Wellsderma (Winter Balm) is a delightful preparation for chapped hands or roughness of the skin. It dries in well and is not sticky or greasy. Large bottle, 25c. at Wallace's.

WILSON'S CROSSING.

Mr. Wm. Dopking returned to his home at Dexter, N.Y., after spending some time visiting his daughter, Mrs. R. Potter.—Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Switzer spent Sunday last at Mr. Nelson Bell's, Enterprise.—Sorry to say little Rosaleen Breen is confined to the house with scarlet fever.—Mrs. R. Potter spent Thursday in Napanee.—Mrs. M. Loucks has returned home after spending the past three weeks at Tamworth.—Mr. H. Allport, of Kingston, spent the week end at Mr. W. Allport's.—Mr. and Mrs. W. DeRuing attended the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. John Dowling, on Monday.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bell and Master Arthur and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown and Miss Pearl spent Monday evening the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Potter.—Miss Margaret Dowling and Master Bernard Dowling and Master Willie Potter spent Sunday afternoon with Master Russell Switzer.

To Soothe & Heal Those CHILBLAINS

Apply ZAM-BUK at night and the pain goes.

Whether your chilblains be on the toes, fingers, ears or ears, nothing else will soothe and heal the itching, inflamed or broken places so quickly as Zam-Buk. Owing to its refined herbal character Zam-Buk soaks through the tiny pores, deep into the tissues. By stimulating healthy activity of the skin Zam-Buk enables it to throw off poisonous secretions that are impeding the functions.

Mrs. A. J. Underhill, of Rutledge, Minn., writes: "For many winters my sons were so bad that I could not wear shoes for days together.

Zam-Buk

"To my great delight Zam-Buk gave the lasting relief which I had previously sought in vain. However my feet feel as well now as a little Zam-Buk soon put them right. I have also found it a soothing remedy for chapped hands, sore cracks, etc." Get a box to-day!

Poultry Necessities.

For profitable egg production use Royal Purple Tonic, Beef and Bone Scrap, Oyster Shell, and Crystal Grit.

Wilson's Hardware.

Serve your guests with Daly's Good Tea—and let your family enjoy it with every meal. "More cups to the pound"—and cheaper brands, and therefore more economical. For sale at Wallace's.

"Can you give me a good description of your absconding cashier?" suavely asked the detective.

"We-ell," answered the hotel proprietor, "I believe he's about five feet five inches tall and about seven thous and dollars short."

The "New Series" Star
"The Aristocrat of Low-Priced Cars"

Wears 22,000 Pearl Buttons on Suit.

"Semillustrior" is a dull word to describe the world's "Pearly King" when he appears on a sunny day in his suit of 22,000 pearl buttons. It took two years to sew the buttons on his costume, for there are 2,400 on his high hat alone and 500 each on stick, spats and gloves. This particular pearly king has no less than six pearly costumes and six for his children, counting altogether more than 1,000,000 buttons.

There are fifty odd pearly kings in London, but only one has claimed 1,000,000 buttons. The idea, which originated fifty years ago, has a charitable as well as spectacular aim, for the pearly kings parade on Sundays and collect money for hospitals. Many pearly kings are horse dealers, and they have formed a society composed of costermongers, eatery and window washers, called the North London Amalgamated Hospital Society.

It is believed the button wearing fad came from a navvy who used to wear a "flash" evening suit sparkling with buttons after a hard day's work. Any man can be a pearly king if he collects enough buttons.

How Do You Know You Haven't Neurasthenia?

"Never before in the world's history has there been such an excess of cases of run-down conditions of the nerves of both men and women alike show the need of an upbuilding tonic. The one best known as neurasthenia being the most common and most widely known ailment—makes you feel miserable and depressed—have the "Blues" and existence is nothing short of misery." This is the clipping referred to in the following letter from Mr. Moore:

"As a user of your tonic known as Carnol, I wish to state that it is the leader of all tonics. That's the way I speak of it. The clipping enclosed is just the way my wife felt also she could not eat or relish a meal. Now she is always ready for her meals and work is no burden. I have tried all kinds of tonics but none did what Carnol has done. It was recommended to me and it is a pleasure for me to recommend it to others because of what it did for my wife. Anyone who is in need of a tonic or body builder should use Carnol. You can use my recommendation anywhere or any way you like. That's how much faith I have in Carnol. Excuse me writing to you, also accept my thanks for the tonic known as Carnol."—J. Moore, 18 Rolyat St., Toronto.

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

PUTS HEALTH AND VIM INTO WOMEN

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brantford, Ontario.—"I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, pain in the nape of my neck, and when I stooped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back. I did not sleep well and was nervous at the least noise. I keep house, but I was such a wreck that I could not sweep the floor nor wash the dishes without lying down afterwards. A friend living near me told me what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for her so I borgn to take it. With the first bottle I felt brighter and got so I could wash dishes and sweep without having to lie down. Later I became regular again in my monthly terms. I have taken ten bottles all told and am now all better. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be baiten for putting health and vim into a woman."—Mrs. James H. MacPherson, 329 Greenwich St., Brantford, Ont.

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, or any other form of female weakness write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." C

You may insult a man and get away with it possibly, if you don't try to rub it in. It's just the opposite with Williams' Camphorated Mustard Cream, for to get the best results from that you have to rub it in; and good results you certainly will get when you use it for that nasty cold in the chest, or maddening neuralgia. It's simply wonderful for the children.

Pioneer Musician of Baldur District Dies.

The death occurred suddenly at Baldur, Man., recently of Walter Scott Jackson, 79 years old. He was a son of the late Darland Jackson and Malinda Scott Jackson, of Napanee, Ont., whose families were among the early United Empire Loyalists. Mr. Jackson was born at Hay Bay, Ont., in 1845, later moving to Napanee, where he spent his boyhood days.

His death was a great shock to his family as well as to the community. He was one of the pioneers. He was a member of the Methodist Church and was the possessor of a very fine bass voice and was always in request for choral and other musical organizations. He was a choir leader and vocal teacher since he was 17 years old.

Mr. Jackson was a charter member and past master of L. O. L. 962, and charter member and past worshipful preceptor of the Royal Black Preceptory No. 504. He joined the former at 17 years of age and was a member for 61 years.

He leaves, besides his widow, one son, W. M. Jackson, of Gladstone; Mrs. S. E. Darling, Tesherne, who was unable to attend the funeral owing to illness in their home; Mrs. L. A. Heath, Mrs. H. G. Brown, of Baldur, and Mrs. Lily Fitzgerald, of Los Angeles, Cal.

W. S. Jackson was a brother of J. S. Jackson, Selby, and another brother, A. M. Jackson lives at Marlbank.

BETHEL

The hum of the sawing machine is heard in this vicinity.—The assessor made his annual calls through here last week.—Mr. Geo. Greer, Napanee, made a short stay at Mr. S. Hamilton's, on Tuesday.—Mrs. Edith Alkenbrack spent Monday at her nephew's, Mr. J. Hamilton.—Mrs. J. Hamilton and baby spent a day last week at the home of Mr. G. Jeffrey.—Georgie Janes is out again, after being closed in for some time with whooping cough.—Mrs. R. Jackson, of Yarker, is spending a few days with her parents here.—Mrs. Robert Galbraith is spending a few days in Napanee, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. H. Huffman.—Miss Daisy Salsbury entertained to tea a number of her friends on Monday evening.—Mr. R. Galbraith is home, after spending some time with his son, Howard, at Deer Lake.—The Chief of Police of Napanee was given a notice over the telephone that there was an aged man by the name of Badour, who stated he was heading for Sault Ste Marie by foot. The fugitive appears to have left Montreal, from his French accent; also he said he left there. Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson showed their generosity and gave the aged man two square meals and a bed. The Napanee Police stated they were deporting the man to his native people at Montreal.—Miss Dorothy Hamilton is spending this week with her friend, Miss Marion Simmons, Bickell's Corners.

Du-Ko is as easily prepared as a cup of tea.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of Reuben C. Snider, who died February 18th, 1923.

We miss your smile,
We miss your voice;
Your chair is empty now,
But some day we will meet again,
How soon, we know not now.

—Wife, Son and Daughter.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of our beloved mother, Mrs. George P. Sills, who died February 15th, 1916.

Dear mother, as the years go by,
I miss the loving clasp of your hand;
Your gentle words and the tender
lovelight in your eyes.
I find no one on earth can take your place,
I want to meet my mother face to face.

—Daughter Emily.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear son, Wilbur C. Card, who departed this life February 9th, 1920. Not one day forgotten along life's weary way.

—Mother.

IN MEMORIAM.

The well known spot to meet and shop.—Walker's.

TIMELY

"That certainly was a very fine sermon", said an enthusiastic church member who was an ardent admirer of the minister. "A fine sermon, and well-timed, too."

"Yes", answered his unadmiring neighbor, "it certainly was well-timed. Fully half of the congregation had their watches out."

CHOOSING A PROPER CORSET IS NOT DIFFICULT AT ROBINSON'S.

Spring styles particularly stress the necessity of proper fitting Corsets and Brassieres. Beltless gowns leave no room for doubt. To produce the proper results, the styles this season must be fitted over a smooth, even foundation.

The new Spring Corsets adequately meet the present day requirements in dress.

Our new Spring lines are here, in a variety of styles and materials.

Let our Corsetieres fit you in what you should wear.

NEW SPRING DRESSES HAVE COME TO ROBINSON'S MODERATE IN PRICE

"Change" is the one permanent thing about Fashions. No one styleline is permitted to indefinitely monopolize the vogue. This season the younger girl has a silhouette of her very own. The basque waist with its short puff sleeve and its wide skirt is decidedly youthful. This pleasing style-change comes in a fine selection of bright Spring shades, and are mostly confined to Canton Crepe material. Priced from $24.50 up.

WE BEG TO ANNOUNCE TO WOMEN SHOPPERS IN TOWN AND COUNTRY

On Saturday Morning, February 16th,

at 9 o'clock

we are putting on Sale in our Women's Ready-to-Wear Department,

Nine Dozen Women's House Dresses

These Sale Dresses come in eight different styles, which are particularly suited for Women's and Misses' wear. They are made from durable, washable and attractive looking Checked Ginghams and Plain Chambrays.

Many of them are "Martha Washington" make of house-dresses. They are everything a house-dress should be. The balance of the sale lot are made in the same factory. They are equally as desirable. Reduced as follows :—

Regular $3.25 Dresses for $2.19.

Regular $3.75 Dresses for $2.69.

Sizes from 36 to 44. Buy your season's requirements.

Swiss Ribb Wool Vests, in fine quality, short or no sleeves, low neck, size 38. Price $1.00 each.

All Wool Vests, in Cumfy Cut style, tailored straps over the shoulder, size 38. Price $2.25 each.

All Wool Vests, in long and short sleeves, V neck. Size 38, price $2.50 each; size 42, $3.00 each.

Mercerized Lisle Vests, with glove silk top, ribbon strap over shoulder. Size 38, price $2.25 each.

COMFI-NICK BLOOMERS FOR WOMEN ARE VERY SATISFACTORY? OBTAINABLE IN SILK, SATIN AND SATINETTE

Women are most enthusiastic about Comfi-Nick Bloomers, because comfi-nick bloomers best meet the present day "Bloomer" requirements. Here are several reasons why these Bloomers should be worn by every woman :—

Comfi-Nicks are large enough for every movement of the body.

Comfi-Nicks are form-fitting and without strain in any position.

Comfi-Nicks are designed for comfort and ease.

Comfi-Nicks do not move from their position at the knee or waist.

Comfi-Nicks have full drop seat, preventing bursting or tearing.

Comfi-Nicks have tailored two-needled seams, preventing any possibility of pulling apart.

We have in stock a very complete range of these Bloomers, in Black, Navy Blue and Light colors. They are priced as follows : —Satinette, $2.29; Habutai Silk, $4.25; Duchess Satin, $4.95.

THE EARLY SPRING HAT IS SMALL OF SIZE AND SMART OF STYLE.

Each day the call of "Spring" is growing more persistent. Even with snow deep upon the ground and the temperature down to zero, no department is more ready to serve you than our Millinery Section. Here nimble fingers, backed by artistic thoughts, have created a splendid assortment of "First" Hats for Spring.

"Satins" reign supreme in this present initial showing. Splendidly they perform their duty, alike for suit or coat they are absolutely indispensable.

As previously stated shapes are small, even smaller than before. Occasionally a brim is featured and these turn upwards from the face. Usually a novelty pin is used for further ornamentation.

The prices are moderate in extreme. $5.00, $5.50, and $5.75 will buy wonderfully fine hats. Let us show you these.

HABUTAI SILK PRINCESS SLIPS AT $5.00 ARE GOOD VALUES. PROCURABLE IN FIVE COLORS.

Present day styles stress the importance of Princess Slips. For better wear "Habutai Silk" meets all the requirements: it wears, it looks well, your dresses will not cling to it. Fashion has little use for fastidous styles when it comes to slips, the more tailored, the better. They usually come with opera tops, strap over the shoulders, hemstitched at the hips, otherwise perfectly plain. They are also lined back half way for shadow proofing. Obtainable in Navy, Black, White, Sand and Grey, and in all sizes to 44.

THISTLEDOWN UNDERSKIRTS COME AT $2.19 IN REGULAR SIZES AND $2.69 IN OUTSIDE SIZES.

"Thistledown" is one of the best Underskirt materials that has been our privilege to handle. It is of English manufacture and has been specially imported by this particular manufacturer. We have the exclusive sale rights for Napanee. We will unconditionally guarantee them to you. These skirts come with a tucked frill, otherwise are very severely tailored. All sizes in stock.

—The amusing play, "A Cheerful Liar," will be presented in the Parish Hall, Adolphustown, by the Woodville Dramatic Club, next Wednesday evening, February 20th. Admission, 35c. Dance following, 25c. each. 7a

—This Friday night, February 15th, the annual Congregational Banquet given by the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church, will be held in the S. S. room. Supper served at 6:30. All members and adherents with their families are expected.

—At a recent meeting of the Quarterly Official Board of the Adolphustown Circuit a resolution was passed expressing appreciation of the faithful and efficient services of the Pastor, Rev. H. B. Neal, and a unanimous invitation was extended to Mr. Neal to remain for the third year.

—On Sunday evening, at St. Andrew's Church, Mr. Powell and Mr. Ashford, of Queen's University, will give a report from the World's Student Conference at Indianapolis. This convention was one of the greatest gathering of students who are interested in missions that ever convened. All interested in this subject should hear Mr. Powell and Mr. Ashford.

—The man who said "What you don't know doesn't hurt you", never saw a young suffering for information. The information we wish to impart right now is that Williams' Camphorated Mustard Cream is a mighty fine remedy to have in the house, for many aches and pains. Very easy to use on children, and wonderfully effective. All the good of a mustard plaster without the blister.

—On Saturday, Rev. Newton Jones, of London, Eng., comes from Smiths Falls to Grace Church to hold a twelve day Mission. Services will be held afternoon and evening. Rev. J. E. Mallott, of Bridge St., Belleville, where Mr. Jones was in December, writes of the missioner:—"He is a man of charming personality and of great versability. Mr. Jones at once gripped the hearts of both old and young as he spoke on the many-sided work. It is safe to say that no more thorough work was ever done in Belleville along Evangelistic lines than the work that Mr. Jones accomplished. His Chalk Talks to boys and girls; his Bible Readings for adults; his evening messages to all have been wonderfully suited to the needs of his audience. His methods are eminently safe and sound. Not an item of his teaching creates controversy. The Gospel in its simplicity, its purity, its fulness and in its sweet reasonableness is preached consistently and constantly by life and word.

—A hockey match will be played at the rink on Saturday, between the Third Book and Fourth Book teams. The game will be called at one o'clock. Admission, adults 10c., children 5c.

G. Wilson, W. C. Loyst, Mrs. Wesley Wagar, Christy Kellar and Miss L. Asselstine. There will be an organization meeting of the Local Board at Dr. W. G. Wilson's office, on Saturday, the 16th inst., at 10 a.m., and some pending applications will then be considered.

—The Moscow Branch of the Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. Jackson, Colebrooke, on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 7th. A pleasant sleigh drive party of three loads comprising thirty women were present. A very profitable afternoon was spent, some very interesting papers were read and discussed; also community singing and music. Our genial hostess was in her element when she surprised the crowd with a cup of hot tea and coffee, also sandwiches and cakes prior to their leaving for home. On Thursday, Jan. 31st, about thirty-five ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Charley Amey and quilted four quilts and presented them to needy families in the community. Five o'clock tea was served by a committee of ladies.

Euchre at Bath.

The last two of a series of Euchre Drives, in aid of the Bath Public Library, took place in the Masonic Hall respectively, Jan. 29th and Feb. 12th. On Jan. 29th the lucky winner of the first prize for ladies was Miss Marjorie Keyes. The gentleman's prize was carried off by Mr. Fred Thoms; the lone hand prize being taken by Mr. Edgar Thompson. On Feb. 12th, the crowd attending was a very large one, owing to the excellent crossing and, also, to Amherst Island. The lady's prize on this occasion was won by Mrs. Charles Young, Bath; the gentleman's going to Mr. Fletcher Young, and the lone hand to Mr. Fred Hogle. A very pleasant little dance finished up what have been enjoyable evenings for many people, both in and around Bath.

SLEIGH BELLS.

Under the Highway Traffic Act, which came into force on the 1st day of January, 1924, "Every person travelling upon a highway with a sleigh or sled drawn by a horse or other animal, shall have at least two bells attached to the harness or to the sleigh or sled in such a manner as to give ample warning sound."

We are drawing the attention of the public to the above enactment owing to the fact that a large percentage of the sleighs and sleds on the streets of Napanee, drawn by horses have no bells on them whatever, and under the Act any person driving a conveyance of this kind is liable to a fine, and no doubt people will be surprised to be summonsed up before the court and fined for what they are neglecting to do.

Cradle of American Methodism.

Barratt's chapel, near Frederica, Del., is to Methodist what Plymouth Rock is to Americans. It was in this chapel Bishops Coke and Asbury first met in America, held a council with eleven ministers and arranged for the organization of the Methodist church as it exists in this country to-day. During the year 1780 the chapel was erected on ground donated for that purpose by Philip Barratt, a member of the Independence hall is to Americans. It was one of the men who entertained the conversation which followed plans were laid which resulted in the foundation of the present church.

NOTICE TO RUPTURE SUFFERERS!

THOMPSON & HUYCK, Napanee, Ont.

Sole Proprietors of THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY, wish to announce that they have had their offices renovated and now have private rooms for consultation and fitting and adjusting of trusses, abdominal supporters, etc.

While undergoing treatment of rupture with THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY it is essential that the rupture be retained with a proper fitting truss so that no obtrusion will deter the growth of the sides and tissues.

Remember we are not in the truss business. We handle them purely as a service to users of our remedy, and now that we have found the truss that we can recommend, we are passing the good word along to you.

Read what users have to say. You, too, can get the same satisfactory results.

NOTE : STRANGULATED RUPTURE.

Now Sound from the use of THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY.

Sept. 10th, 1923.

Messrs. Thompson & Huyck, Napanee, Ont.

Dear Sirs :—

In reply to your inquiry regarding the condition of our son who had been ruptured for some time, and this Spring, in April, when the bowel became strangulated so bad that it was impossible to replace the protruding part, an immediate operation was advised.

When you advised us during our telephone conversation, an operation was unnecessary and asked to have his boy taken to Napanee, we were very much in doubt.

However, we were guided by your advice and we are exceedingly glad, for the rupture was replaced almost immediately, without pain. By the use of THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY the rupture has completely disappeared leaving no opening whatever.

Besides saving the cost of an operation we have also saved the wages of a hired man, as the boy has worked steady since he commenced your treatment. We strongly recommend THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY to anyone suffering from rupture.

(Sgd.) BERT. McCOY.

SUFFERED MANY YEARS WITH IRREDUCIBLE RUPTURE AND DREADED THE THOUGHTS OF AN OPERATION.

After only five weeks' use of Thompson's Renowned Rupture Remedy the allowed edge softened sufficient to allow rupture to go back. Only one treatment required to accomplish these wonderful results.

Address and Presentation

On Friday evening, February 1st, a number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw and presented their daughter, Jennie, with a beautiful Aladdin lamp and shade, an aluminum double boiler and aluminum sauce pan, previous to her departure to her new home at Camden East. Following is the address :—

Dear Jennie:—We, your friends, associates and neighbours, have met here to-night to tell you how sorry we are to know that you are so soon to leave us, and that all the old ties of friendship that have existed so intercourse for so many years, will be broken.

We have known you always as a pleasant companion, a bearer of cheer and light-heartedness, and we feel more keenly now than ever what we are losing, and what you have meant to us.—Bright loving spirit that has shed cheer over the common everyday ways of life.

You have been a willing assistant in all good causes, a real helper in time of need, and we know that wherever you may go you will bear with you the same kind influence.

We, your friends, all join to extend all these things in your life and character, and how much we will miss you, we bring you these gifts, and our last and best wish to you, on this, the eve of your departure, is that the future may hold great joy for you in every way, and most of all in the service of Him, who, in joy as well as in pain, will help you up and lead you on and on the way of true life.

Signed on behalf of all friends and well wishers.

A Large Field to Draw From.

BELIEVE IN WITCHES DOWN IN VIRGINIA.

It is a notorious fact not greatly relished by the champions of Nordic supremacy that the densest ignorance and superstition prevails in those parts of the United States least affected by the immigration of non Anglo-Saxon Europeans. In the South many of the whites who have lived in distance back for hundreds of years in direct lines to an English, Irish or Scotch ancestry are as illiterate and uninformed as the negroes whom they despise. A curious illustration of the mentality of certain parts of the South was brought to light recently in the trial for witchcraft of an old woman named Annie Taylor before a magistrate in Princess Anne County, Virginia. The whole countryside was aroused, blacks and whites alike, and when at the end of the trial Annie was told to leave the county and not return on penalty of being sent to jail as a public nuisance, a mob of some hundreds would have attacked her had not the police intervened. For many years she has been held in equal respect and dread as a witch whose ill will was likely to prove fatal to those against whom it was directed.

Snake Infested.

One of the witnesses against Mrs. Taylor was Mamie Smith, who testified that the alleged witch had caused the mysterious appearance of snakes in Mamie's stomach. She told the magistrate that she could feel them crawling and wiggling and that Mrs. Taylor had told her that they would remain in her stomach and lay eggs and increase until they became so numerous they would kill her. Mamie said that the witch had offered to banish the snakes if she were paid for the service, but Mamie refused, so it must be inferred that she is becoming accustomed to them. Then a man named Walter Johnson, who is a small farmer, said that the witch woman had killed one of his mules. She waved a stick over the mule's head and he sickened and died. "I know she did it, Judge," testified Johnson, "because she said she could do it, and I know she can do anything she wants to do. That woman can make it rain and she can make it snow right in the Summer time. Yes, sir, that woman has some power, believe me, Judge."

The Conjured Victim.

Lucy Brown then swore that she had been "conjured" by Annie Taylor. She testified that the witch had put some roots, horse hair and yeast in a bottle, which she hid under the Brown doorstep. Before that time Lucy had been happy and contented, sleeping soundly, untroubled by dreams. But the hidden bottle brought a disastrous change. It spoiled her cooking and thus undermined her reputation in the neighborhood in which her gifts in this department had been widely recognized. No longer did she slumber in peace. Frightful nightmares kept her. She dreamed that she was up in an airship pursued by two other airships manned not by human beings but by dragonlike monsters. Nay, it was more than a dream; really and truly Lucy believed that the evil power of Annie Taylor had caused her to be actually and physically wafted through the air and after the horrible voyage had permitted her to regain her own bed through a window. As Lucy and others gave their testimony they were encouraged by outbursts of corroboration from the courtroom. Nothing they said was too fantastic to lack witnesses who would endorse it.

Theft Epidemic.

C. C. Hudgins, one of the wealthiest farmers in the district, who employed a gang of fifty or sixty men, did not appear to testify to the powers of Annie Taylor, but he did certainly swear that belief in them was underlying the county. He said that most of his hands were believers in the woman, and paid tribute to her. Especially was that their attitude when he was made up too often of Hudgins' live stock. When Annie's customers found themselves short of cash they were apt to placate her with a pair of chickens or perhaps a succulent porker from the Hudgins' estate. Other farmers gave similar evidence. They did not believe in the witch's powers and therefore were incapable of benefitting from them; but they found their live stock mysteriously disappearing and could only conclude that their hired men were the cause of it to the grievance of the farmer's evil eye. At the end of the hearing Annie was banished from the county, after a leading counsel at the request of the magistrate had given the people a lecture upon their credulity, trying to shame them out of notions that children in other communities would laugh at.

A Noted Witch.

This Princess Anne County, which we are informed by the New York World, is noted for its churches and well-educated people, seems to be also noted for its witches, since there was a very famous one tried there three hundred years ago. She was Grace Sherwood, a woman of fine appearance and unusual mental endowments. She was credited with comnerce with the Old Boy, and any unusual deaths or accidents that occurred in the community were attributed to her. After she had kept perfect and dread as a witch whose ill will was likely to prove fatal to those against whom it was directed.

the people in a turmoil for several years she was arrested and tried for witchcraft. The court named a jury of ten women to examine her body to see if she bore any marks not common to her sex, and after prayerful deliberation she was found guilty and sentenced to a triple ducking. The night before the sentence was carried out there occurred the most terrific storm in the history of the county. Live stock and buildings were destroyed as though caused by a tidal wave. Only the frail home of the witch withstood the strain, and this so impressed the people that after her banishment many of them were wanted her to return and resume her reign over them.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Heck (to friend at phone)—What's the matter, old man? Trouble on the wire?

Peck—Yes, my wife.

For years Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has ranked as a reliable worm preparation and it always maintains its reputation.

Judge—You have been begging in the public streets and yet you had more than $12 in your pockets.

Prisoner—Yes, your Honor. I may be poor, industrious, but I'm no spendthrift.

Sleep is the great nourisher of infants, and without peaceful sleep the child will not thrive. This cannot be had if the infant be troubled with worms. Miller's Worm Powders will destroy worms and drive them from the system, and afterwards the child's rest will be undisturbed. The powders cannot injure the most delicate baby, and there is nothing to effect a cure for restoring the health of a worm-worn infant.

Good-bye Asthma. Persons suffering from that extremely trying trouble known as asthma know what it is to long with all their hearts for escape as from a tyrant. Never do they know when an attack may come, and they know that to struggle unaided is vain. With Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy at hand, however, they can say good-bye to their enemy and enjoy life again. It helps at once.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Chamberlain's Eclectric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its effectiveness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

"Did you take Pinto Pete's new automobile away from him because he was showin' reckless?"

"No," said Cactus Joe. "Nobody noticed that. But we're enforcin' the anti-gamblin' laws, an' Pete won it at a raffle."

The Oil for the Farmer.—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the doctor. It is not only good colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

Congressman Blather was a passenger on the steamship Steve, which was slowly sinking. The passengers were climbing into the lifeboats.

"Congressman," suggested a reporter aboard the ill-fated craft, "here's a chance for some publicity. If you cared—"

"You may quote me as saying," replied the statesman, "that I am heartily in favor of a back-to-the-land movement."

The man who is taking statistics for the new city directory approaches a movers' home in the suburb. At the doorway stands a stout, determined-looking lady.

"Madam," he says, "my call is official. I am compiling statistics on the inhabitants in this part of our city. Might I ask what your name is?"

"Duffy—Honoria Duffy."

"And your husband's name?"

"Naturally it's the same as me own —Duffy."

"I mean his full name."

"Well, when he's full he thinks it's Jack Dempsey, but when I lay me hands on him it's still Duffy."

JURIST WITH UNIQUE RECORD

Lord Coleridge Is Eldest Son of Silver-tongued Lord Chief Justice.

Lord Coleridge, whose retirement as Judge of the High Court of Justice (King's Bench division) at the age of 72, is announced in London, Eng., after sixteen years on the bench, can boast of a legal descent almost, if not quite, unique.

He is the eldest son of the "silver-tongued" Lord Chief Justice who died in 1894, and the grandson of Sir John Taylor Coleridge, a judge of Queen's Bench. There is also a great literary strain in the pedigree, for the Lord Chief Justice was the grandson of the poet, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, whose father was the vicar of Ottery St. Mary, in Devonshire, and the author of the Latin grammar known to many generations of schoolboys, which was first published in 1772.

Though the present Judge, when he was elevated to the Bench in 1907, was the first peer of the realm to attain that distinction, he was not the only son of a Lord Chief Justice to become a High Court Judge.

The Hon. George Denman, son of the first Lord Denman, L.C.J., was appointed a Judge of the Common Pleas in 1857. Another son of a legal peer to become a Judge was the Hon. Thomas Erskine, whose father was Lord Chancellor in "The Government of all the Talents" in the early part of the last century.

Like his father, who was Gladstone's Attorney-General in 1871, Lord Coleridge was a strong Radical in his prejudicial days. Before he succeeded his father in the House of Lords he was three times M.P. for the Attercliffe Division of Sheffield, and he resented his "elevation" so much that, during the earlier years of that time, he made an unsuccessful attempt to divest himself of the obligation.

As a Judge Lord Coleridge has been very careful and patient, and the records of the Appeal Court show how good a lawyer he is.

Beaver Deserts His Mate.

A gross case of mate desertion has occurred at the London Zoological Gardens, the culprit being Harold, a Canadian beaver.

Harold, with Nellie, his mate, arrived at the Gardens last June and, to save a possible tragedy among the occupants, the beaver pond was divided by railings, Bertha, an elderly splinter born at the Zoo many years ago, being allowed to retain the island on which she had lived for so long.

The new-comers soon made themselves at home in the pond next near an adjacent wall.

Though Harold used to spend much of his time hobnobbing with Bertha through the rails it was thought he and Nellie had settled down in contentment.

"Love laughs at locksmiths," and so did Harold. He and Nellie was zealously attending to her domestic duties, he was as diligently tunnelling under the wall to Bertha's territory.

A fine egg was the keeper, who had not noticed Harold's operations, found Nellie alone, looking very disconsolate.

Remembering Harold's behavior of late, the keeper built a bridge of a plank, invaded the island, and there, in Bertha's sanctuary, caught ensconced, was Harold.

"As the tunnel is still there, perhaps it would be better to let Nellie discover how she lost her mate and go and settle the matter in her own way," said the keeper.

Soaking takes the place of rubbing—

JUST by soaking the clothes in the suds of this new soap, dirt is gently loosened and dissolved.

Even the dirt that is ground in at neck-bands and cuff-edges yields to a light rubbing with dry Rinso. Not a thread is weakened. The mild Rinso suds work thoroughly through and through the clothes without injury to a single fabric.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux. For the family wash it is as wonderful as Lux is for fine things.

All grocers and department stores sell Rinso.

The Mutual Life of Canada (Operated Solely For Its Policyholders) Makes A Notable Record

Again Achieved Remarkable Surplus Earnings of Over $3,000,000

Our Company's Sound Progress

"Accordingly, though doubtless pleased, we are not surprised by a showing of over thirty-nine millions of new business, by a net increase in the total business in force of nearly twenty-three and a half millions, and by our magnificent surplus earnings of more than three millions of dollars."—From President Cronyn's address.

"Our holdings of bonds and debentures have a present value of slightly over a million dollars above the figures at which they are carried in the books of the Company."—From President Cronyn's address.

THE Directors presented a report to the policyholders at the Annual Meeting on February 7th, which was one of the most gratifying submitted during the past fifty-four years of its history. The following are the most salient features—

The Assurances in force now total	$269,982,566
A net increase of $23,495,912 over the previous year.
The new business written amounted to	39,040,578
An increase over 1922 of	4,583,330
The assets have accumulated to	59,727,388
An increase over the previous year of	6,121,757
During the year there was paid to Policyholders and their Beneficiaries	5,369,743

The invested assets earned the high average rate of interest of 6.55%.

The death claims were only 39.26% of the expected mortality according to the standard mortality tables.

Careful and economic management is again indicated by the circumstance that only 16.15% of the total year's income was required to meet all expenses of administration.

The net result of the various transactions, which are briefly summarized above, is shown in the

Surplus Earnings of $3,012,806.99

This magnificent amount further strengthened the Company's impregnable financial position, increasing the provision against possible depreciation of securities and for mortality fluctuation and other contingencies, besides enabling the payment of

Increased Dividends to Policyholders

The past year has been one of grave anxiety in financial circles owing to economic conditions, and there has been a pessimistic note sounded in some quarters. But this pessimism has not been reflected in the experience of The Mutual Life of Canada. It is natural that in times of financial stress the people should look more carefully than ever to their expenditures and give first consideration to the absolute security and protection of life insurance as afforded by

A PIONEER STEAMER

Built In Britain to Run the Federal Blockade of Southern Ports.

A recent reference in an upper lake newspaper to the steamer Gilcora recalls to a veteran reader some phases and incidents of her interesting career. She was one of two sister steamers built in Britain for running the Federal blockade of the Southern ports during the last year of the American Civil War. Naturally, she was built for speed, with long, sharp prow and low-set, powerful engines, with paddle-wheels of short diameter and capable of great rapidity of revolution, and without any accommodation for passengers. The somewhat freakish names of the twins were 'Let Her B' and 'Let Her R,' the capital letters standing for 'Be' and 'Rip,' respectively. The latter of the two had a short career, and a tragic end, but the former was eventually, after the war, brought up the St. Lawrence to carry passengers and freight between Collingwood and the head of Lake Superior. In order to get her through the canals, she had to be cut in two, and the parts, made watertight, were towed by tugs.

"One of her early captains, if not her first, was Murray McGregor of Port Bruce, in the county of the same name. McGregor was an odd combination of skill and daring, and in those early days there was abundant room for the exercise of both qualities. An old Highland Scotsman, who had been engineer of the Chicora, told me once that while he served under McGregor he always, in spots he knew to be dangerous, had the steamer slowing up before he got the signal. The same McGregor was afterward a wreck-appraiser for an insurance company, and when the latter was called on to pay for a steamer that had been stranded on the shore of the Lower St. Lawrence McGregor was sent down to view the wreck. To the surprise of the company, he rigged her with jury-masts, had her pulled off the shore, and sailed her up to Quebec, where she was disposed of, thus saving the company towage. When wooden vessels, better adapted than the Chicora for the upper lake service of 40 years ago, were put on the route, she was again cut in two and kept many years on the Niagara route, to be supplemented by the Cibola, and replaced by the Chippewa, the Cayuga and the Corona."—Toronto Globa.

TAMWORTH

Many are taking advantage of the snow for snow-shoeing.—Many people of this town and surrounding country were aroused from their slumber to the call of fire last Thursday at 1.30 a.m. The fire broke out in the cellar of Mr. Redden's office, and in spite of the heroic work of the men, it succeeded in burning Mr. Redden's office and Mr. Wells' harness shop, and it was only with great difficulties that Mr. Carscallen's store and the drug store were saved. As it is they are badly ruined.—The store has been busy of late. He called at Mr. Henry Lott's and left two fine baby boys.—A number from here attended the party given by Mr. Hugh Fingland on Thursday last. All report a splendid time.—Everyone is saving up their money to attend the play entitled "His Last Chance".—Mrs. Henry Lott was removed to the Kingston Hospital on Saturday morning last. All hope for a speedy recovery.—Many of our farmers are attending the Agricultural course given by Mr. Aylsworth and Mr. Maine in the Community Hall of our school.

HARLOWE

The past few days have been ideal winter weather, with good roads, and everybody is improving the time, some in drawing hay and others in drawing wood.—Jas. Vogan has a large gang with teams hauling logs to his mill at Northbrook.—Mrs. Edson Fallon and two children from Childwold, N.Y., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Sam Thompson.—Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Thompson had a little girl visitor come to stay at their home on Wednesday.—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Miller spent a few days in Kingston recently.—Mrs. Fred Wood and Florence Bott spent Saturday in Arden.—Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Thompson, Jr., spent an evening at Fred Woods' last week.—Mrs. Chas. Hillier and son, Johnson, from Roblin, visited at Walter Scott's, for a week, returning home on Saturday last.—Mr. Leslie Marshall, Arden, spent Sunday with his friend, Wilfred Perry.—Chas. McGregor, Myers' Cave, called at Harlowe en route from Kingston, where he has been attending County Council.—The Misses Shulte, of Pembroke, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Edmunds, have returned home.—Mr. John Grey made a business trip to Arden one day last week.

ARDEN

The weather at time of writing is very unfavourable. I guess by the looks of the beginning of this month that we are going to have a real winter.—Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hughes and son, Ross, are spending a month or so the guests of George Hughes. For the past year Mr. and Mrs. Hughes have been residing in Niagara Falls.—Mr. Harry Johnston has returned from the General Hospital, Kingston, and is as well as can be expected.—Mr. and Mrs. Clair Hayes were in Tweed on Tuesday.—Miss Edith Marshall and Edward Hartwick spent Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes.—On Monday evening the Ladies' Aid Tea was held in the Town Hall. Quite a number were present, considering the condition of the roads.—Robert Monds and Elmer Peterson loaded cars of pulp-wood on Thursday. — Stewart Gendron was the guest of John Johnston on Wednesday night.—Mrs. James Watson returned home from the General Hospital, Kingston, on Thursday. She is as well as can be expected. — This being Leap Year many young lady readers will find this short poem of great importance: Weddings now are all the go,
Will you marry me, yes or no?

Saskatchewan Woman Tells of the Good Health Dodd's Kidney Pills Brought Her.

They Made a New Woman of Mrs. J. Kozakewich, Who Had Had Three Operations and Was Not Quite Well.

Hubbard, Sask., Feb. 11th, (Special).—"I have been in hospital, full after fall, for three years. One month each time. I have suffered for about five years with backache, dropsy and headaches. I used to get dizzy and short of breath and was very nervous.

"I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and they have helped me a great deal. I am thankful I started taking them and will always keep some on hand."

This statement is made by Mrs. J. Kozakewich, well-known and highly respected resident here. All Mrs. Kozakewich's troubles came from diseased kidneys. They speedily ceased when she commenced to use the one sure help for diseased kidneys — Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are used to treat rheumatism, dropsy, backache, diabetes and heart disease, because all these ills are either of the kidneys or caused by diseased kidneys.

Dr. Chambers Celebrates His 83rd Birthday.

Rev. A. B. Chambers, prominent Methodist minister, who was for some years governor of the Toronto Jail, will to-day celebrate his eighty-third birthday. Rev. Mr. Chambers is enjoying good health. Tamworth Village Suffers by Fire.

The village of Tamworth suffered a heavy loss by fire early Thursday morning, Feb. 7th, when two stores were gutted and two others very badly damaged along with the Masonic Hall. The cause of the fire is unknown. The buildings destroyed were L. B. Wells' harness shop, Walter Redden's warerooms, agents for autos and separators. Bsdly damaged were Redden's drug store, A. B. Carscallen's general store and the Masonic Hall. The fire broke out about one o'clock and there was great excitement in the village. Many of the shopkeepers carried out their stock fearing they would be wiped out. It is stated that the fire originated in the shop of Walter Redden. Tamworth has no fire brigade and it was a case of everyone turning in and fighting the fire.

Recent Fire at Tamworth.

W. W. Redden was the heaviest loser in the recent fire at Tamworth. His two-storey brick building, used as a shoe room and office, was completely destroyed; also his drug store a two-storey brick building was badly burned and damaged. No insurance on contents and very little on buildings. T. P. Wells was the next heavy loser. His two-storey brick building, used as a harness shop and storeroom above, was completely destroyed. Building and contents were partly covered with insurance. It was thought at one time that it would be impossible to save A. B. Carscallen's store, but with determination and real fire fighting the flames were soon under control, but not before considerable damage was done to stock and buildings.

The people of this village wish to thank all who so voluntarily gave their assistance and by their brilliant work saved the rest of the village. Mr. Greer, a representative of the Agricultural Society, who has been giving lectures in the Community Hall for the past week, deserves great credit on behalf of damage displayed by him, in standing on the edge of a thirty foot wall with some of the Tamworth boys and drawing water to extinguish the flames that at times were thought impossible, but by perseverance they kept at their post and won the victory.

THE PIONEER IN CANADA.

Thirty-two years ago the now famous "SALADA" Tea was placed on the market in metal packages. "SALADA" was the pioneer package tea in Canada. HISTORICAL SOCIETY

On Friday evening, Feb. 22nd, the next regular meeting of the Lennox and Addington Historical Society will be held in the Historical Hall. The society have secured as lecturer Professor Jolliffe, of Queen's. Prof. Jolliffe is a stranger to Napanee, but he holds an enviable place as popular and scholarly lecturer at Queen's. The subject of the lecture is to be announced next week.

The Executive of the Society has continued its practice of securing the best available speakers, and those who have attended the meetings to date have been both instructed and entertained. These lectures are free to the public and present a rare opportunity for the people of the town to hear specialists in various phases of world's problems.

Another feature of this meeting is the probability that Mr. Clarence Warner, the founder of the Society and its Honorary President, will be here to preside at the meeting.

HOCKEY.

The Newburgh All Stars and Napanee Juniors staged a hockey game at the arena on Saturday evening before a fair-sized crowd of spectators, the game ending in a tie, 6 all. The Juniors are coming along fine and are capable of putting up a real game of hockey. Bentley was probably the best man on the ice, ably assisted by Powell and Rogers on the forward line, while the local defence, with Perry in goal were on the job all the time. The diminutive Bill Sweet, subbing for Napanee, drew rounds of applause in the second period when he scored from the face-off on a lone rush.

For the visitors, the boys all played good hockey, Martin on left wing showing the most class, while Milligan, in goal, put up a good game.

Following is the line-up:
Newburgh—Goal, Milligan; defence, Warner, Simpson; right wing, Wagar; centre, Conway; left wing, Martin; subs., MacNichol, Detlor, McNeely, Lawson.
Napanee—Goal, Perry; defence, Sagar, Cowle; right wing, Bentley; centre, Powell; left wing, Rogers; subs., Garrison, Sweet, Stinson.
Referee—Will McLaughlin, Napanee.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY.

Most motion picture actors train as rigorously for a part as any prizefighter for an important bout. Take the case of CHARLES JONES as an example. Having a pugilist character to interpret for his latest William Fox production, "BIG DAN," he donned the gloves and sparred for three weeks prior to the day the first scene was to be shot. Also a good comedy.

LENNOX AND ADDINGTON PURE BRED CALF CLUB, 1924.

At the January session of the County Advisory Agricultural Council, it was decided by the members to call it was decided by the members to conduct a Pure Bred Calf Club in 1924. The object of the Club is to encourage boys and girls to take more interest in raising pure bred calves. The breeds selected are Holstein and Shorthorn.

The rules are:—

1. Members must not be over 18 years of age.

2. Each member may select a male calf or a female calf or both.

3. Calves must be born after January 1st, 1924.

4. Members must feed, care for and train their calves and exhibit them on the halter, at the Napanee Fair.

5. Members must be prepared to show the Judge the pedigrees of the calves at the Napanee Fair.

6. Members must keep a careful record to show the methods of feeding, the care, management and training of the calves. This record to be in the form of an essay written by the member and must be mailed to the Agricultural Representative on September 1st, 1924.

7. Members of the Calf Club must be members of the Lennox Fair.

Boys or girls who wish to join the Calf Club should send their names and addresses to one of the following members of the Advisory Agricultural Council.

Mr. Robert Merritt, Sillsville; Mr. Thomas Chalmers, Dorland; Mr. Geo. A. McGill, Centreville; Mr. Arthur Fraser, Napanee R.R. 1; Mr. A. F. Reid, Napanee R.R. 6; Mr. Wm. Forsyth, Wilton; Mr. Frank Rodgers, Denbigh; Mr. R. J. Campbell, Flinton; Mr. J. Ed. Huffman, Tamworth; Mr. Sam Miller, Stella.

Where a member wishes to join the Calf Club and does not have pure bred stock on the home farm, they may be purchased locally in the county or from other counties at reasonable prices. Good breeders in this County are offering calves under six weeks of age for $35.00. If you desire assistance in purchasing a pure bred calf, write to the Agricultural Representative, Napanee. Applications for membership close on May 1st, 1924.

At the annual meeting of the Lennox Agricultural Society, Mr. Robert Merritt, Sillsville, presented full particulars of the Calf Club before the meeting. After some discussion, it was unanimously decided to encourage boys and girls to enter the Calf Club by offering the following attractive prizes.

Prizes.

Class 1.—Best pure bred Holstein Male Calf born after January 1st.

Class 2.—Best pure bred Holstein Female Calf born after January 1st.

Class 3.—Best pure bred Shorthorn Male Calf born after January 1st.

Class 4.—Best pure bred Shorthorn Female Calf born after January 1st.

Prizes for each of the above classes are as follows:—1st, $5.00; 2nd, $4.00; 3rd, $3.00; 4th, $2.00; 5th, $1.00, and $1.00 for each succeeding entry. The above prizes are donated by the Lennox Agricultural Society. The total prizes offered by the Lennox Agricultural Society will possibly be around $75.00.

It is hoped that the boys and girls will show their appreciation of the prizes offered by the Society in the way of making a large and fine exhibit of calves at the Napanee Fair next Fall. The object is worthy of the support of all those interested in the betterment of the live stock industry in the County.

Yours very truly,
C. C. MAIN,
Agricultural Representative.

A THRILLING RESCUE IS MADE ONE MILE ABOVE THE EARTH.

Aviator Jumps From One Plane to Another to Rescue Woman Whose Parachute Had Become Entangled in Attempted Descent.

Houston, Texas, Feb. 17.—Bonnie Gordon, Houston chorus girl, was saved from death to-day when an attempted parachute leap from an aeroplane failed. The drop was to have been one of a series of aerial exhibitions staged before 5,000 spectators at Ellington Flying Field here this afternoon.

In making the jump from the plane, Miss Gordon's parachute became entangled in the plane and held her suspended some 20 feet below the plane, which was more than a mile from the earth. Diavalo, acrobatic airman, who was in the plane, let himself down to the landing gears, but was unable to pull her up to him.

Stepping from a second plane to the one from which Miss Gordon was suspended, Freddie Loon, Houston aviator, relieved the pilot of the Gordon plane, who then assisted Diavalo in pulling Miss Gordon back to the landing gears. The plane landed safely.

Miss Gordon was formerly an aerial stunt performer.

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA.

The story of Three Yankee Hunters who came up from New York to do some hunting in New Brunswick is well described by Charles E. Williams of New York, one of the party, in the March issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, and all sportsmen will enjoy this narrative. For those who have never visited Jasper National Park, or for those who wish to renew their remembrances of this beauty spot, C. E. Trowbridge's well illustrated article on Jasper Park will be of particular interest. "Fishing on the Eastern Slope of the Rocky Mountains" is a good story by D. E. Elliott, while Bonnycastle Dale has a good account of moose hunting in Nova Scotia. In the Game and Ammunition department, H. W. Eby and J. B. Maitera continue their good articles in the new series, while R. P. Lincoln, W. C. Motley, J. W. Winson, F. V. Williams and F. H. Walker have filled their various departments with interesting reading for the sportsman. The March issue of Rod and Gun in Canada contains something to interest all lovers of hunting, fishing, shooting, and kennel interests, while there are articles dealing with many phases of outdoor life.

TO TRANSMIT MESSAGES.

Amateur Radio Operators Must Pay Fee of $2.50.

Amateurs operating experimental radio transmitter stations are now required to hold licenses costing $2.50 issued by the Department of Marine. This new regulation goes into effect immediately and the licenses can only be secured by application direct to the department. Officials state that this does not apply to those persons who have private receiving sets but only to those who are transmitting messages.

The penalty for establishing stations and apparatus illegally is a fine not to exceed $500 in the event of a conviction. On January 31st, 1923, there were 1,231 amateur transmitting stations in Canada. Operators of all such stations must hold the new licenses.

ONTARIO'S FUEL PROBLEM

ALBERTA OR BRITISH COAL?

"Millhaven", Bath, Ont., Feb'y. 14th, 1924.

To the Editor of the Beaver.

Dear Sir,—It is an open question whether the Canadian Government has not received an intimation from Washington "that it must protect itself against a diminishing supply of U. S. Anthracite" and a possible embargo."

As the matter has now become a live issue, in both political and economic circles by reason of the reference made to it in the King's Speech to the Provincial Legislature, I should appreciate space in your paper to expose the misleading nature of many of the arguments made in favour of Albertan Coal, and the excessive burden of taxation it would place on the taxpayers.

It is generally admitted that Western Coal cannot be brought here without railway deficits or the granting of heavy subsidies, and I purpose showing just what these would amount to, though my figures will deal only with some two and a half million tons necessary to substitute for U. S. anthracite for heating purposes, except in that section where I deal with the proposals of a Mr. Scaley, whose letter appeared in several papers recently, as it is absurd to suggest subsidizing freights on a comparatively low grade coal to compete with low grade U. S. bituminous.

The heating value in British Thermal units by analysis is Alberta Coal 10987, U. S. Anthracite 12615, British Admiralty 14897, or in simplified figures, Alberta 75, U. S. Anthracite 85, British 100.

We will assume it it most desirable to keep capital at home, and to use Alberta Coal if we can get it under fair business conditions at competitive prices, but as Drumhellar coal costs four dollars at the mine, and Sir Henry Thornton says it is worth, or costs twelve dollars and seventy-five cents to bring it to Toronto, and another dollar must be added for cost of Toronto, it would cost seventeen dollars and seventy-five cents here, and that must be the wholesale price at the cars, unless some taxpayer enables up the deficiency.

In the fall of 1923 the present Ontario Government brought down a trial shipment of ten thousand tons, and went to some trouble to collect and guarantee a freight rate of seven dollars a ton, an arrangement which cost the Dominion taxpayers fifty-seven thousand five hundred dollars, this being the difference between what the Canadian National Railway received and what they should have received as their British Columbia commodity rate is twenty dollars a ton or upwards.

It has been suggested even in editorials in daily papers that the Dominion Government should subsidize this trade, to the extent of the difference between the seven dollar rate and the twelve seventy-five rate, so that the railways would show their true earnings, and as Ontario uses two and a half million tons of enthracite the subsidy would have to be about fourteen and a half million dollars a year, which must come from general revenues.

This loss in freight would exist, whether in the form of a subsidy or a railway deficit, every person in the Dominion one dollar and sixty cents, and every average family eight dollars a year, and such a course would be a far greater injustice to the people than taking public monies to reimburse buyers in bank failures, many of whom have become poor, as it would bestow several thousand dollars a year on wealthy mine owners and rich corporations, as is shown in the two following examples :—

A Bank with a large head office building and say a hundred branches would use probably ten thousand tons of coal a year, and the taxpayers would contribute thirty-four thousand five hundred dollars towards their coal bill. The Board of Education of the City of Toronto will use as an instance of how it would work out in the case of a public body, as they use about twenty thousand tons of coal a year, and a subsidy would pay one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars from the Dominion treasury each year, and enable the Board to put in its coal at pre-the-war rates and relieve Toronto's taxation to that extent.

In all large cities there are not only the Civic Authorities, School Boards, Railways and other semi-public bodies, but apartment blocks, hotels, stores, banks and huge office buildings, many of which use a thousand tons of coal a year, and all of which would get a direct subsidy by any cut in a fair freight rate.

Last fall an offer was made to the present Ontario Government to lay down thirty thousand tons of British coal having twenty-five per cent greater heating capacity than Alberta coal, at a cost of thirteen dollars a ton, on terms no more onerous than they gave to the trial shipment, and such a shipment would have paid thirty thousand dollars in labour and quarrying points, ten thousand dollars in customs duties, given profitable freight rates to the National Railways, and a net saving when compared with the Western shipment of seventy-five thousand dollars to the Dominion taxpayers.

Britain exports about seventy-five million tons of coal a year, and it makes little difference to that trade if we do not buy her coal, but we buy a huge quantities of grain from the Western Provinces, and if there is to be such a thing as preferential trade within the Empire, here is an opportunity where it could be put into practice without subsidies, or additional duties, and where an overseas trade would be just as beneficial to Canada from an economic standpoint as internal trade, and I am in a position to state from definite personal knowledge that such business would be appreciated from a sentimental point of view, and tend to serve as a link to further bind and extend our export business with Great Britain, without injury to any vested interest in Canada.

The amount of cargo space that would convey one hundred and fifty million bushels of grain across the Atlantic would be sufficient to bring back two and a half million tons of coal, and in the absence of other business the whole of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine could be kept continuously and profitably employed in this grain and coal trade, which would eliminate their deficit, and reduce that of the National Railways, while the Customs duties would be increased by approximately a million dollars a year.

In a recent letter Mr. W. O. Sealey, of Hamilton, proposes that Alberta coal should be brought here for four dollars a ton, and the difference between this and the seven dollar rate should be made up by our Provincial Government giving a subsidy of a dollar a ton, the Alberta Government giving a dollar a ton, and the Coal Owners giving a dollar a ton, proposals which would if applied to Ontario's total requirements, entail in addition to the figures I have given, a tax of about five dollars a year on the average Ontario family, and one of about a hundred dollars on the Albertan family since he proposes to include competition for the low grade coal trade, and his proposals if adopted would make up a grand total of taxation to nurse this sickly interprovincial baby, of about ninety millions a year.

This country is now staggering under such a burden of taxation that agriculture and industries are declining, and are being emigrating in tens of thousands, and it seems desirable that the most strenuous opposition should be offered any association or governing body that contemplates plunging us either into subsidies or greater railway deficits.

The policy of promoting the idea of home markets is excellent, as it is to keep the home fires burning, but it is not good policy to pay one-third of the other fellow's coal bill, and to do so would be as great an injustice to the habitants of Quebec, as it would be to the farmers of Ontario and Alberta, or the fruit growers and fishermen of British Columbia.

Yours truly,
W. D. MIDMER.

Experience of a Well-Known Barber

Letting the system become run down is responsible for more illness than anything else. When the body is strong, healthy and vigorous, all the organs are in perfect condition. Disease then has little chance to lodge. But let the system become run down and the resisting powers of the organs are weakened. The body is then susceptible to any trouble—colds, pneumonia, consumption, fevers, fevers, contagious diseases, and all other diseases of a wasting nature. Therefore, when you are weak, listless, tired, drowsy, nervous, irritable, is the time you need a tonic. Carnol is the ideal remedy. It feeds the nerves, enriches the blood, builds up bodily tissue and increases weight. After a run-down condition following flu, Mr. Tingley, the well-known barber of St. John, N.B., was greatly benefited by Carnol. He says :

"I had a bad attack of the 'flu in the fall of 1919 which left me in a weak, run down condition. My appetite fell off and I had gone down in weight from 150 lbs. to 130. A local druggist recommended Carnol to me and on his advice I took four bottles. From that time my health and strength came back and I now weigh 135 lbs. I am now enjoying the best of health and can safely recommend Carnol to anyone in a similar condition." W. Tingley, 238 Prince William St. St. John, N.B.

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENTIFIC TEMPERANCE INSTRUCTION

Subjects and Rules for Prize Essay and Poster Contests, — Ontario W. C. T. U., 1923-1924.

When S.T.I. was put in the schools in conjunction with Hygiene less than fifty years ago, alcohol was called a food; it was classed as a stimulant; it was considered essential as a medicine. To-day alcohol is known to be not a food, but a poison; not a stimulant, but a narcotic; not a beverage, but an injurious drug and not essential as a medicine. In our schools to-day we must teach the facts concerning alcohol, not only for the sake of our own boys and girls, but the foreign-born children in our midst. We must help them to love Canada, to understand its laws, to learn that sobriety is an advantage to health and success.

Teachers' Contest.

Open to school principals and experienced teachers. Subject, "The Most Successful Method I Have Found in Teaching the Scientific Facts About Alcohol". Number of words, maximum, 1200; minimum, 1000. Prizes, $10, $20.

High School Contest.

Subjects : (a) "Total Abstinence and Modern Industrial Organization"; (b) "Smoking and High School Scholarship". Number of words : Maximum, 1000; minimum, 700. Markings : Essay shall be graded three-fourths on subject and one-fourth on style and grammatical excellence. Prizes, $12, $8, $5.

Public School Contest.

Subjects : (a) "Five Reasons Why One Gains by Total Abstinence", (b) "Abstinence From Tobacco as a Help to Fitness for School Athletics". Number of words (Fourth Book) : Maximum, 600; minimum, 400. (Third Book) : Maximum, 200; minimum, 150. Prizes : Fourth Book, $8, $6, $4; Third Book, $5, $3, $2.

Notes.

In High and Public School contests each pupil in the room is expected to write. The teacher decides upon the best five essays. Where a local contest is held, a local prize is awarded the writer of the best essay, then entered for the County or else forwarded to Mrs. W. Mulholland, 817 Huron Line, Sandwich, Ont., for competition in the Provincial Essay Contest.

Make two copies of essays, one to be retained by pupil and the other the property of the Provincial W. C. T. U.

Local and County prizes should be presented at a public meeting, and essays read.

All essays should be sent by the County Supt. to Prov. Supts. not later than March 15th, 1924.

Still Doing Great Work for Women

What Mrs. Vaillancourt Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Had Suffered From Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gravel and Backache, and Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dill Siding, Ont., Feb. 18th, (Special)—One more tribute to the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing for the women of Canada comes from Mrs. Frank Vaillancourt, well known and highly respected here.

"I have suffered for 14 years from the complication of kidney troubles and have never found any remedy that has done me as much good as your Dodd's Kidney Pills have. There was a friend of mine who was feeling very poorly and I told her of the good Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me. She used three boxes and is feeling fine now."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They relieve the work of the heart, by putting the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. This blood carried to all parts of the body means new health all over the body.

"A girl over beyond Mount Pisgy ran away with a caller night before last and you're married," related Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridges. "She's not a father, three uncles, two grandfathers and four brothers, all of which took down their guns as soon as they heered about it, an'——"

"Great grief!" ejaculated his hearer, "and killed 'em and shot 'em to pieces?"

"Not presisely; in fact they all went over and wished the young folks as soon as they got back from marrying."

There are still conscientious folk about who carry conviction into the slightest detail.

A London bookseller had a letter from one of them recently, ordering a copy of Tennyson's poems, with the postscript : "Please do not send me one bound in calf, as I am a vegetarian."

GROWING SUDAN GRASS

Experimental Results at Ontario Agricultural College.

Average Yields for Five Years For Green Crop and for Hay—How It Compares With Millet and Sorghum—A Good Emergency Crop—About Alfalfa.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

This forage plant, which belongs to the sorghum family, and is one of the finest in leaf and stalk of this group of plants, was introduced into the United States from Africa in 1909. During the last ten years it has obtained considerable prominence in the South-western States, and more recently has been advertised and sold by seedsmen in Ontario, and also grown by a few farmers in the Province.

Sudan Grass has been under test in the experiments at Guelph for the past eight years. During this time it has been grown for its total green fodder yield, for hay, for seed and for pasture.

Average Yields for Five Years.

The following table gives the average yield for five years of green fodder and of hay per acre of this crop, and of three types of Millet, Hardy's Wonder Forage Plant and Early Amber Sugar Sorghum:

Varieties	Green Crop Tons	Hay Tons
Early Amber Sugar Sorghum	15.92	8.13
Hardy's Wonder Forage Plant	16.14	5.22
Japanese Panicle Millet	13.65	4.41
Japanese Barnyard Millet	11.24	4.75
Sudan Grass	8.94	2.63
Siberian Millet 50c.	8.52	2.25

For the results of this experiment the plots were all sown broadcast.

It will be seen that the yields of green fodder and of hay per acre the Sudan Grass was surpassed by two of the six crops included in the test. The quality of hay made from Sudan Grass was superior to that made from Early Amber Sugar Sorghum and Hardy's Wonder Forage Plant, and slightly inferior to that made from the three Millets. This and other experiments indicate that Sudan Grass, although it yields more what less per acre, makes a better quality of hay than any of the other eight classes of sorghum which we have had under test.

In the average of two years' tests in which Sudan Grass was grown out and produced in competition with three varieties of millet, teff grass and early amber sugar sorghum, the Sudan Grass weighed 24.1 pounds per measured bushel, yielded 4.52 tons of straw and 547 pounds of grain per acre. This was a similar yield of grain than that produced by the early amber sugar sorghum and three different varieties of millet.

In pasture experiments at Guelph, Sudan Grass has stood the test, and summarizes very well. Sowing a mixture of 30 lbs. Sudan Grass, 30 lbs. Oats and 15 pounds of Sudan Grass seed per acre produced a greater amount of pasture than when Sudan Grass was sown alone.

Three Ways to Sow on Warm Soil.

Any one desiring to grow Sudan Grass, is to believe that the plant is not subject to injury by late frosts in the spring than the average variety of dent corn. In growth resistance it is the equal, if not the superior of Indian corn. It is essential in sowing Sudan Grass that it be not sown until the soil is warm. We have had the best results from sowing this crop just after the corn has been seeded. When sown for hay or pasture, Sudan Grass is usually sown broadcast or in close drills 25 to 30 pounds of seed per acre should be sown when Sudan Grass is sown alone, and when used in mixtures for pasture about 15 pounds per acre is sown. Sudan Grass should be cut for hay when the heads are in full bloom, and may be cured in much the same manner as timothy. This crop has been little grown for silage either in the United States or Canada. The reason for this being that it is a better hay and pasture than a silage plant and that Indian corn is a larger yielder of silage than Sudan Grass.

We have had different classes of sorghum under experiment at Guelph for twenty-eight years, and Sudan Grass for the past eight years. Up to the present time we have had no trouble from northern grown seed in the feeding of Sudan Grass or the other sorghums to stock.

Worth Trying as a Pasture Crop.

From the experimental evidence at hand, it would seem that Sudan Grass has shown sufficient promise to warrant its trial in a limited way for pasture, and as an emergency fall crop on the warmer soil of Southern and South-western Ontario, and in favored areas even further north. Sudan Grass has been included in the co-operative experimental tests in each of the past four years, and will be distributed again in the spring of 1924. Any farmer in Ontario, therefore, who desires to test this plant under his own conditions may have an opportunity of doing so.—W. J. Squirrell, O.A. College, Guelph.

Ontario Variegated and Grimm Alfalfas.

Ontario Variegated is not a Grimm alfalfa. The seed of the former was obtained from Lorraine in 1871 and has been grown in Welland County for the last half century. The Grimm variety was brought from Baden, Germany, by Kuhnlein Grimm and was sown in Carver County, Minnesota, in 1858, where this type of alfalfa has been grown since that time. Both varieties have variegated flowers and are similar in some characteristics.

WE ARE MAKING PRELIMINARY SHOWINGS OF NEW SPRING DRESSES THIS WEEK END

For weeks, even before Xmas, Dress manufacturers have been coming our way with their new Spring Dress Styles. Carefully we have made our selections. Only those representing the newest in styles, materials and colors have been considered. Fashion shows her fondness for straight lines by creating new style lines more straight and more slender than ever. On many of the dresses a girdle is the only thing that breaks the plainness of the back from collar to hem.

The V neck-line appears to be most popular, although the round and bateau lines are much in evidence. Sleeves are either very long and tight-fitting or are cut off, merely forming a cap about the elbow. Pleats, Beads and Lace are used in numerous, artistic ways for ornamentation.

For practical wear, Navy, Black and Sand lead in our present showing, while Sand Beige, Brickdust, Whirlpool, Cocoa, Bran, Mohawk, Almond Green, Havana, Silver and Zince are among the present Spring collection.

Prices range from $24.50 up.

NEW ARRIVALS IN OUR CARPET DEPARTMENT

KIDDERMINSTER MATS

Are made from very fine wool and are finished with a thick, deep pile. They are woven in a hit and miss pattern, the colorings come in Grey and Rose, Rose and Black, Crimson, Rose and Gold. The colors are exceptionally well and artistically blended. You will find that they blend beautifully with your draperies. Come in 24x54 size. Priced at $3.00 each.

COCOA MATS

Prepare for muddy Spring days; Cocoa Mats will save you a lot of unnecessary work. They come from East India where labor is cheap, thus the price is extremely low. These Mats are well made from best quality unbleached Bengal Cocoa. The ends and sides are securely fastened. Come in two sizes, 14x24 at 75c. each; 16x27 at $1.00 each.

TAPESTRY

Comes 50 inches wide, and is used exclusively for upholstering furniture. We have just placed in stock several new, artistic designs at very moderate prices. You will find our stock exceptionally attractive from start to finish. Priced at $2.00, $2.25, $2.95, $4.00, $4.50, $4.95, $5.00, $5.25, and $5.50. Let us show you.

The Gentle Art of Looking Your Best

Naturally we all want to look our best—the very loveliest of which we're capable. Of course that "loveliest" differs widely according to age, type, position and ideals. But if we're to be lovely at all, there are five cardinal things we must have.—

1. Health.
2. Self Confidence.
3. A Pleasing Face.
4. A Well-proportioned Figure.
5. The right kind of clothes.

It is in the last two requirements where we fit in. A well-proportioned figure can be had by proper Corsets. The right kind of clothes can only be right over the right fitting Corsets for your individual figure.

Let our Corsetieres assist you in choosing. Our new Spring models are here in wide variety.

THE RAISING OF NUTS

Some Practical Observations as to Tree Planting.

Why Nut Trees Are Desirable—Where They May Best be Grown—The Kind to Plant—The Trees May be Top-grafted.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The conservation and improvement of our native nut trees and the introduction of suitable varieties from foreign lands have not occupied a prominent place in horticultural activities in North America until just recently, except in the Southern and Western United States, where a great deal of interest has been shown during the last twenty years in this place of horticulture.

In the northern and eastern States and in Canada there is a growing interest in this useful but much neglected branch of horticulture. An example of this commendable movement is seen in the organization and activities of the Northern Nut Growers Association. This organization was formed in 1910, and its membership of men and women from almost every station in life who are interested in the culture of nut trees and the extension of the use of nuts as articles of human food. At the suggestion of members of this association, the State of Michigan has undertaken an extensive program of nut tree planting along the state highways, and in other northern states good work has been done to encourage people to plant more and better nut trees.

In Ontario comparatively little has been tried to improve and plant our valuable nut trees, and unless something is done to interest the public in this movement we shall lose a golden opportunity to save for ourselves and posterity the remnant of the fine nut trees which formerly grew so abundantly in some parts of this Province.

Why Nut Trees Should be Planted.

Most people who are interested in the welfare of the country realize that trees generally should be planted in much greater numbers, and some believe that it would be desirable to plant trees that serve a threefold purpose of food, shelter and beauty.

Nut trees yield a valuable food, provide shelter and beautify the landscape, and thus combine the three with utility. Large quantities of nuts are imported every year from foreign countries, for which a great deal of money has to be sent out of the country. It is believed that a portion of this demand for nuts could be met by growing a greater number of the best types of native and introduced species.

Where Nut Trees Might be Used to Advantage.

(1) As Roadside and Street Trees: Where the soil and the site are suitable, nut trees should form a part of the scheme of beautifying our highways and streets.

(2) Trees for the Home Grounds: The grounds surrounding many of our homes, both rural and urban, would be more beautiful and productive if planted with some of the best types of native and exotic nut trees.

(3) Stop Hillsides or Other Planting Areas not costly or profitably cultivated could be very well devoted to nut trees provided the soil was suitable.

(4) As Park Trees: City and rural park systems generally have a collection of native nut trees and some of the hardiest and best exotic species.

(5) As a Commercial Venture: In the warmest part of the Province of Ontario it might pay to establish, on a small scale, commercial plantations of the best varieties of black walnut, Japanese walnuts, hickories, blight-resistant chestnuts, and filberts.

Kind of Nut Trees to Plant.

Nut trees, like fruit trees, are difficult to grow true to type from seed, and hence have to be propagated by budding or grafting. While it is quite true that one may get a very good tree by planting nuts from a desirable tree, it is also true that a considerable proportion of the trees so produced will not be any better or as good as their parent. Because of this uncertainty it is much better to plant budded or grafted trees of superior named varieties.

Inasmuch as nut growing is a comparatively recent development, our Ontario nurserymen have not developed much attention to the propagation of named varieties of nut trees. There is some interest being shown at present, however, and it is hoped that before long there will be a fair supply of the best varieties of native and foreign nut trees available. In the meantime those who desire to secure named varieties of nut trees will have to place their orders with nut nurserymen in the United States.

Nut Trees May be Top-grafted.

Should the prospective nut culturist not be able to obtain at a moderate figure budded or grafted stock of improved varieties of nuts then, of course, the only thing to do is to grow seedling trees. As previously stated, some of these may produce very good nuts. If superior trees are found in any lot grown from seed, or if an exceptional fine nut tree is known to exist, such trees are useful as a source of scions for improving trees that are not so desirable. It is a fact, though not generally known, that nut trees may be top-grafted like fruit trees. This is not as easy to accomplish as is the case in fruit trees, but if proper methods are followed very good results may be obtained.—Jas. A. Nettson, Hort. Exp. Station, Vineland Station.

Beautiful home surroundings not only increase the value of a farm property, but have a valuable influence on the community in which the home is situated.

THOMPSON & HUYCK, Napanee, Ont.

Sole Proprietors of THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY, wish to announce that they have had their offices renovated and now have private rooms for consultation and fitting and adjusting of trusses, abdominal supporters, etc.

While undergoing treatment of rupture with THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY it is essential that the rupture be retained with a proper fitting truss so that no obtrusion will deter the growth of the sides and tissues.

Remember we are not in the truss business. We handle them purely as a service to users of our remedy, and now that we have found the truss that we can recommend, we are passing the good word along to you.

Read what users have to say. You, too, can get the same satisfactory results.

NOTE: STRANGULATED RUPTURE.

Now Sound from the use of THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY.

Sept. 10th, 1923.

Messrs. Thompson & Huyck, Napanee, Ont.

Dear Sirs :—

In reply to your inquiry regarding the condition of our son who had been ruptured for some time, and this Spring, in April, when the bowel became strangulated so bad that it was impossible to replace the protruding part, an immediate operation was advised.

When you advised us during our telephone conversation, an operation was unnecessary and asked to have the boy taken to Napanee, we were very much in doubt.

However, we were guided by your advise and we are exceedingly glad, for the rupture was replaced almost immediately, without pain. By the use of THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY the rupture has completely disappeared leaving no opening whatever.

Besides saving the cost of an operation we have also saved the wages of a hired man, as the boy has worked steady since he commenced your treatment. We strongly recommend THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY to anyone suffering from rupture.

Dear Sirs :—

I used your remedy according to directions throughout the treatment and it is with pleasure I inform you that to-day I am completely cured.

I don't know what I would have done by this time had I not seen your advertisement in the Ottawa Farm Journal and secured your remedy as I had suffered many years, but thanks to your treatment, now I am cured.

I unhesitatingly recommend THOMPSON'S RENOWNED RUPTURE REMEDY to anyone suffering as I did. Thanking you for the benefit received, I am

Clever Critic-isms.

Dr. Brander Matthews, the brilliant critic, said at a Brooklyn tea:

"The most brilliant criticisms are usually the briefest. You remember the story of the playwright who woke up the critic and said repeachfully:

"'Here I've been writing you my play in order to get your opinion and you fall asleep.'

"'But,' yawned the critic, 'sleep is an opinion.'

"A little girl at breakfast criticised her mother's cooking beautifully:

"'Oh, mummy,' she said, 'you haven't burnt the oatmeal!'"

Little Lord Fauntleroy.

The news that Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett had taken a villa at Nikko, a summer resort in the hills 80 miles from Tokio, caused some anxiety for the safety of the veteran novelist among her many admirers. It was so long ago as 1886 that she made her great success with "Little Lord Fauntleroy." This book, which was dramatized, brought its author over $100,000. Another play by Mrs. Burnett, "Esmeralda," ran for three years in America.

Life of Leisure.

"How did you spend the summer?" "Mostly," replied Mr. Dustin Star, "in listening to mother and the girls figure on where we'll spend the winter."

FIRST MURDERER DIES FROM POISON GAS.

On a day last week not previously announced there occurred the first legal execution on record by means of a poison gas. The victim was a Chinaman named Gee Jon, and his crime was murder; the scene of its expiation was a little hermetically sealed building in the yard of the Nevada State Prison, at Carson City. The murder committed by Gee Jon was of a kind not uncommon among the more lawless Chinese. It was part of a long war, and Gee Jon as a professional gunman was hired by a San Francisco tong to go to Mina, Nevada, and take the life of Tom Quong Kee, who had offended the organization. Gee Jon accepted the commission and set out on the enterprise taking with him a China boy named Hughie Sing, who had once worked for Kee and knew his habits. In Reno they hired a taxicab driven by a Greek and in it drove 150 miles to Mina. They left the vehicle a short distance from the town and went to Kee's shanty, where Jon shot him dead. They then returned to the taxi and fled. But a description of them had been secured and they were arrested after they had returned to Reno.

A Fight for Life.

Sing made a confession and the taxi driver was released. The two Chinamen were tried and convicted, being the first men to be condemned to death by lethal gas. Then began a terrific legal battle to save the lives of the two murderers. Perhaps the tongs had plenty of money to spend for those who served them, for there was no lack of funds and expensive lawyers, who carried the case to the State Supreme Court and made unsuccessful efforts to have it carried to the United States Supreme Court. The fight was based not on the alleged innocence of the prisoners, but on the punishment provided by the state. It was described as cruel and unusual and thus prohibited by both the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Nevada. Unusual the punishment undoubtedly was, but the court held that it was not unusual in the sense contemplated in the constitution. Then an appeal was made to the Pardon Board of the state, and so far as Sing was concerned it was successful. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, and it is hinted that he will be valuable to the Government in supplying evidence against a drug ring that exists in the state.

Had Choice of Shooting.

But after two years' legal struggle Gee Jon's last hope was destroyed, and it seemed unlikely that he would have preferred death by hanging or death by shooting to death by lethal fumes. The presumption is that he must have preferred the latter for almost anybody would. A death by hanging is not more pleasant to contemplate than a death by fire. Shooting is preferable, and not long ago convicted murderers in Nevada were permitted to choose this way out. As to electrocution, which is coming into increased favor, it is probably as painless a death as one could imagine, but has it been objected to by an Austrian scientist that electricity produces a sort of catalepsy, and that many executed murderers must have the experience of waking up in their coffins to undergo the terrible pangs of suffocation. In France the guillotine remains the agent of death. It also is sure, but bloody and as in hanging the memories to the execution are calculated to torture mentally the victims. It was with these thoughts in mind that the Nevada Legislature two years ago passed the law requiring that executions should take place by means of gas.

Hydrocyanic Acid.

In the case of Gee Jon the lethal agent was hydrocyanic acid, recommended as being the swiftest and most painless. It was purchased in liquid form in Los Angeles and, because railroads refuse to transport it, had to be carried 500 miles by motor to Carson City. The death house was extemporized out of a small, detached stone building in the prison yard which formerly was used as a barber shop. One of the two rooms, six-by-eight and fitted with ventilating flues, has been divided by steel bars into three cells, each of which contains a bunk. In the other room has been installed a fumigator or gas pump in which deadly vapor through an inlet pipe at the floor level of the death chamber. At the ceiling level is another pipe through which, by means of a suction fan, the deadly air may be withdrawn in order that those witnessing the execution may enter after they believe the sentence of the law has been carried out. The law provides that the execution shall take place on a night not named in a certain week. The prisoner will have no means of knowing the day of his death.

Swift and Painless.

It is presumed that the penalty will not be inflicted upon either the first or last night of the specified period and that the doomed man will be asleep when the lethal gas is turned on and its paralyzing action upon the heart is supposed to be so rapid that the victim dies as soon as he inhales it, presumably before he can notice its presence by the characteristic odor of bitter almonds. The witnesses at the Gee Jon execution will report whether the infliction of the death penalty by the means of gas is as swift and painless as it is believed to be. If they confirm the assertions of chemists it is assumed that this new method of putting murderers to death will be adopted in other states.

An Oil Without Alcohol. — Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

"Fear Less—Hope More;
Eat Less—Chew More;
Whine Less—Breathe More;
Talk Less—Say More;
Hate Less—Love More;
And all Good Things are Yours."

The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

A clergyman, accompanied by two charming girls, stood admiring the beauties of a little stream.

An angler passing by said—"Any sport?"

"Sir, I am a fisher of men," replied the parson, with dignity.

"Well," reported the fisherman, glancing admiringly at the girls, "you've got the right bait."

If Miller's Worm Powders needed the support of testimonials they could be got from mothers who know the great virtue of this excellent medicine. But the powders will speak for themselves and in such a way that there can be no question of them. They act speedily and thoroughly, and the child to whom they are administered will show improvement from the first dose.

A political candidate was incensed at certain remarks which had been made about him in the leading paper of the town. He burst into the editorial room and exclaimed, "You are telling lies about me in your paper and you know it!"

"You have no cause for complaint," said the editor, coolly. "What would you do if we told the truth?"

Women and Asthma. Women are numbered among the sufferers from asthma by the countless thousands. In every climate they will be found, helpless in the grip of this relentless disease unless they have availed themselves of the proper remedy. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought new hope and life to many such. Testimonials, sent entirely without solicitation, show the enormous benefit it has wrought among women everywhere.

The Cathedral had been gayly decorated for the Christmas services, and two Irishmen were visiting it. One was from the country, and had been taken there by his friend who wished him to be duly impressed by its grandeur. As they came out, the resident of the city said:

"Well, Mike, and phwat do you think of it? Isn't it grand?"

"Pat," said the one from the country, "it bates the divil!"

"That," said his friend, "was the intintion."

Canadians in London Banking.

Canadians in the banking circles of old London have not been numerous, and when, a year or two ago, Mr. E. R. Peacock, formerly of Toronto, became a director of the Bank of England, it was recognized that new ground had been broken and a new honor given the financiers of the Dominion. A reader now sends a clipping from the Guelph Mercury in 1876, concerning a Canadian of that early day who won honor in London fiance. This was Robert G. Ferguson, son of Hon. Adam Fergusson, of Woodhill, Ont., who had just been elected to the high position of governor of the Union Bank of London, England. Twenty years earlier Mr. Fergusson had left the service of the Bank of British North America in Canada, after having managed several of its branches. He went to New York as junior partner in a house of high standing, largely engaged in shipping merchants in the South American and Pacific trades, and later was for a time resident partner on the Pacific side. Then he married the daughter of the head of the house and retired with a large fortune. Settling later in England, his experience and financial ability led to his appointment as governor of the Union Bank, a London organization second only in size to the London and Westminster, with deposits and acceptance then of $85,000,000.

Eskimo Fight Singing Duels.

A curious custom of certain Eskimos of Northern Canada, who settle disputes by a "song fight" in which the rivals taunt each other by impromptu witty and insulting ballads, is reported by Christian Ledon, Norwegian explorer. Phonographic records of such a contest were made by Mr. Ledon in the course of his recent third expedition to the Eskimo tribes, a despatch from Paris to the New York Tribune states. The "duels" are held, he says, before the assembled members of the tribe, and the contestant whose taunts make the crowd laugh loudest is adjudged victor in a solemn ceremony. The explorer has evolved a theory that the Eskimo tribes are of the same stock as the North American aborigines on the basis of their songs, which "carry implications of being entirely different in origin from the Asiatic, and are clearly related to the songs of the Canadian Indian."

In the local competition, W. F. Graham, of Meaford, wins first, his fish weighed 21 pounds.

Great Win for Ayrshires.

A cablegram from Hugh Bone, secretary of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Great Britain to W. Isn't it strange that Princes and Kings
And clowns that caper in sawdust rings,
And common folks like you and me,
Are Builders for Eternity?
To each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass and a book of rules;
And each must make, ere life is flown,
A stumbling block or a stepping stone.

ODESSA

Owing to the condition of the roads since the recent storms, Mr. Anglin, the Kingston stage driver, has had to make his trips with sleighs. The freight was held over for a couple of days, but not any trips were lost with the mail matter.—The first hockey match of the season was played on Saturday afternoon, between Albert School team and Odessa Juniors, being a draw. Vincent Kilgannon had the misfortune to meet with quite a serious accident. He was struck across the eye with a hockey stick. The wound is healing nicely.—The ice harvest has started, and the quality of the ice is considered very fine, being about twenty inches thick and wonderfully clear. — Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ball and family sent Sunday the guests of Mrs. Sanford Thompson.—Lieut. Kingdom has charge of the Salvation Army.—Charley Conway, of the Royal Bank staff, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Conway, Sydenham.

BATH

James Blair, of the Royal Bank staff, is spending his holidays at his home in Cataraqui. — The euchre drive held in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 12th, in aid of the Public Library, attracted a large crowd.—Robert Stevenson is seriously ill with pneumonia.—Several from here went to Kingston on Saturday to see the much talked of picture, "The Covered Wagon", at the Grand.—The many friends of Mrs. Florence Chapman will learn with regret that she is leaving this week to reside in Napanee.—Asher Calver and family are also moving to Napanee.—Mrs. Walter Bikley is quite ill in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston.—Wm. H. Hall is spending some time at Essex, Ont., having been called there owing to the serious illness of his father, M. H. Hall.

How Mackenzie Escaped.

A fact incidental in connection with the escape of William Lyon Mackenzie from Toronto to the frontier after his defeat in 1837 was related recently by Mrs. Colin H. Campbell of Winnipeg, wife of the former Attorney-General of Manitoba, and a daughter of a pioneer of Halton county. The story came in the course of an address to the members of the Council of Trafalgar township when portraits of some of the early Reeves of the township were presented at a ceremony at Trafalgar. Mrs. Campbell's father, the late Dr. Anson Buck, was a member of the Council of Trafalgar for no less than 400 years, and the whole of that part of Halton county has interesting connections with early transportation in Upper Canada and with the escape of Mackenzie.

Mrs. Campbell, in speaking of the Philip Trriller homestead, near Trafalgar, said she remembered it as a large colonial frame house, painted yellow. "It has historical interest," she said, "in that in 1837 when there was a reason for the 'rebel' leader, William Lyon Mackenzie, he was safely housed for three days and nights under this hospitable and friendly roof. When the officers of the Government were searching for Mackenzie they were so charmingly entertained by the seven beautiful daughters of the household that the great Mackenzie aided by Mr. Trriller, made his escape, not before, however, he was directed whether to go and was provided with rations as he made his way to George Ghent's, at Freeman, and Gilbert Davis', near Burlington station, from which place he made his escape, disguised as a woman, in Miss Rachael Davis' gown and bonnet. She afterward became the wife of Reeve John Buck.—Toronto Globe.

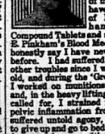
MRS. MISENER'S ACHES AND PAINS

Vanished After Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound



"Branchton, Ont.—"When I wrote to you for help my action was mostly prompted by curiosity. In fact, I wondered if I, too, would benefit by your medicine. It was the most profitable action I have ever taken, I honestly assure you, for through its results I am relieved of most of my sufferings. I have taken three boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, and I can honestly say I have never been so well before. I had suffered from pains and other troubles since I was fifteen years old, and during the 'Great War' period I worked on munitions for two years, and, in the heavy lifting which my work called for, I strained myself, causing pelvic inflammation from which I have suffered untold agony, and I often had to give up and go to bed. I had doctored for several years without getting permanent relief, when I started to take your medicines."—Mrs. GOLDWIN MISENER, Branchton, Ont.

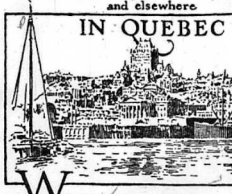
SECOND

of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

IN QUEBEC



WHEN the Bank of Montreal opened its first office in Quebec 106 years ago, travel between Montreal and Quebec was mainly by stage coach, occupying three days in the journey. The difficulties and exigencies attending travel were such that funds were only conveyed between the two cities "at the first safe opportunity."

With the opening of this Quebec office, the Bank of Montreal introduced into Canada branch banking, one of the elements that has contributed to the remarkable elasticity of the Canadian banking system, winning for Dominion finance an enviable reputation in all parts of the world.

Of the Bank's 567 Branches, 83 are situated in the Province of Quebec.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Established over 100 years

Total Assets in excess of $650,000,000

The Wage Earner's Bank

EVERY wage earner should feel that his savings account, however small it may be, is welcomed at any branch of this Bank. The man or woman with a few dollars to deposit is afforded the same prompt and careful attention as the depositor with a large amount. It is our constant aim to extend to all our depositors every possible courtesy and service.

Grace Church Services.

Grace Church and its friends gave Rev. Newton Jones a most appreciative hearing on Sunday last. He comes highly accredited as an expert Sunday School worker and leader, a specialist in children's services, chalk talks, bible readings, and adult evangelism. He is a mature and kindly speaker and thinker and a safe guide. His presentation of the great themes is sane, engaging and helpful. His hearers warmly commended his messages. Many of the children's hymns are altogether new to. He has been twice around the world. On Friday night Jr. gives a great Lantern lecture in the auditorium on "Sea Treasures". On Sunday large congregations are anticipated. It is doubtful if a messenger of the British National Sunday School Union has ever before been heard in Napanee.

MUSICAL CLUB CONCERT

A very excellent programme was arranged for this week's meeting of the Ladies' Musical Club by the committee in charge, Mrs. Herbert Daly, Mrs. W. Doller, Miss H. Grange and Miss J. Light.

Mr. Marvan Rathbun, of Deseronto, who possesses a splendid baritone, gave two numbers, "Out of my Soul's Great Sadness" by Franz, and "Thou Are With Thy Beloved", by Taylor. Both were beautifully rendered and enthusiastically encored. Miss Vanlaven accompanied Mr. Rathbun in a manner which called forth the admiration of everyone present.

Another out-of-town artist was Miss Virginia Fair, of Kingston, who delighted her audience with several piano solos, splendidly interpreted. Her numbers were the "Prelude in C Minor" by Rachmaninoff, "Novelette" by MacDowell, and later, the Allegro Movement from Mozart's Sonata in F Major. Miss Fair showed exceptional talent and a marked brilliancy of style, and her solos were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Eleanor Ham, A.T.C.M., of Adolphustown, also gave a very fine piano solo, the "Blonde Brilliante in C", by Weber. Especial interest was taken in this number as Miss Ham, who possesses a wonderful technique and power of expression, is one of the coming teachers of the community.

Too much cannot be said of the delightful violin solos as given by Mrs. Cameron Wilson, who was never heard to better advantage. Three lovely dances of Gorman's, "Tambourine", by Grace Frank, and an especial treat in a number entitled "Romance" by Martin, which received only the highest praise from Tuesday night's audience.

Other home talent was also greatly appreciated, Miss Hilda McGreer singing a group of Fairy Songs, by Maurice Besley, and Mrs. Tamblyn-Clarke, which was exceedingly well done, and accompanied most efficiently by Miss Lenore Bleecker. Miss Hare accompanied Mrs. Wilson, Miss Oliver and Miss McGreer.

The programme for March includes two concerts, one for March 4th, and the second for March 18th, a slight mistake having been made on the printed schedule.

TRINITY CHURCH ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

The seventy-fourth anniversary of Trinity Methodist Church will be observed on Sunday and Monday, March 2nd and 3rd. On Sunday, the special preacher will be the Rev. C. W. DeMille, of Toronto, Superintendent of the O. B. F. C., and a former Pastor of Trinity Church. The singing will be under the direction of Prof. Baird and Trinity Church Choir will be assisted by Miss Eileen Law, of the Aeolian Quartette, and Mr. A. C. Chapman, of St. Clair Methodist Church, Toronto.

The annual Anniversary Supper will be served on Monday evening, from six to eight, and will be followed by a splendid musical programme, in which both Miss Eileen Law and Mr. Chapman will take part. 8a

LARGE SHIPMENT OF "BEEKIST" HONEY

What was perhaps the largest single shipment of honey ever to leave Napanee went forward on Thursday from the local members of the Ontario Beekeepers' Co-operative Association, Harold Thompson, Fred Hamm, Charles Thompson and A. J. Wilson. The consignment consisted of a complete carload of over thirty thousand pounds, and was consigned to a Western City.

This is the first year in which the Co-operative Association has been in active operation. That its success which is meeting its efforts to stabilize the market, and to guarantee the products bids fair to be sure. In spite of the difficulties which the unsettled condition of marketing any produce presented, the Ontario Beekeepers have succeeded in establishing a demand for their products both at home and abroad.

"Beekist" honey, which is the trade name of the product, is guaranteed both by, the producer and the Association. A large shipment has gone over to Britain, and so favorable was the result that it has been decided to open a bottling works there to prepare the honey for the British market in that form. In Ontario, too, there has been established a bottling works which will put the honey in slightly different container to suit the local market.

It is well to remember that Napanee is having a share in the publicity which this organization is giving all the Province, as each container shipped from here bears the name of Napanee as well as that of the producer.

WHAT THE PACKAGE DOES

Tea growers have found from experience that it is necessary immediately to pack tea in air-tight metal-lined chests, to preserve the flavour and goodness of the leaf. Equally so is an air-tight package necessary for the small lots of tea for individual consumption. Bulk tea is always inferior tea because it is exposed to air. The "SALADA" air-tight aluminum package is the most efficient way of preserving tea known.

OBITUARY.

Wm. B. Cade.

Wm. B. Cade passed peacefully to his reward on Friday, February 8th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ella Thompson, McIntyre's Corners. All that medical aid and tender nursing could do was of no avail, and after nearly a week of severe suffering his soul took its flight to be at rest with his Jesus. His last audible words being "In the Sweet Bye and Bye", that dear old hymn was one chosen for his funeral, which was held on Sunday by the Pastor, Rev. A. C. Hoffman.

Mr. Cade was born on the north shore of Beaver Lake, in Sheffield Township, on May 16th, 1841. When 21 years of age, he married Elizabeth Kring. Two children were born to them, Robert, who died bless this union, some years ago, and Annie, now Mrs. A. Robertson, of Renson, N.Y. His wife only survived the birth of her little girl a short time. Then on June 16th, 1870, he married Alice Detlor, who with two sons and two daughters, survive him, Wm. R. Cade, of St. Catharines; Stanley M. Cade, of Bath; Mrs. Ella Thompson, of McIntyre's Corners, and Mrs. Luke Godfrey, of Arden, Ont. Another daughter, Mrs. John Finn, of Bath, having passed away about six months ago.

He leaves a host of friends in all parts of the surrounding country to mourn the loss of a good staunch friend, one who was ever ready to stretch out a helping hand to anyone in need. When a young man he spent a few years in Colorado, U.S.A., and then later in life a few years were spent in Alberta. This he leaves friends in many parts of the country, who will mourn to hear of his loss. The sympathy of all goes to the sorrowing family, especially to the widow, who after 53 years of happy life, has thus had her companion taken from her.

Mr. Robert Hannah.

On Sunday morning last the citizens of Melita received the sad news that Mr. Robert Hannah, one of the pioneers of this community, had passed away at an early hour in the morning.

Mr. Hannah came to this district from Addington County, near Napanee, Ontario, in 1905, and a year later he brought his family to the west and settled on the Paul farm north-east of Melita. In 1910 he homesteaded at Assiniboia, Sask., and in 1915 Mr. and Mrs. Hannah returned to Melita and have since resided in town.

For some time Mr. Hannah had been suffering from a lingering illness which reached a critical stage, and from which he did not recover.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist Church and of the Melita County L. O. L., and was well and favorably known in this community.

He died at the age of seventy-eight years, and leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, three daughters, Mrs. C. Armsden, Vancouver; Mrs. Greaves and Mrs. Dalmage, of Goose Jaw; three sons, Reginald, of Saunders Creek, Alta., Stanley of Vancouver, and Stewart, of Moose Jaw, also one sister.

The funeral service was held in the Methodist Church, on Tuesday, Feb. 19th, under the auspices of the Melita L. O. L. The services were conducted by Rev. E. H. Smith, and a large number of friends and acquaintances turned out to pay their respects to the departed citizen and extend their sympathy to Mrs. Hannah and family in the loss of husband and father. —The New Era, Melita, Man., February 21st, 1924.

John B. Shea.

The death took place on the 18th at Odessa, Ont., of Mr. John B. Shea, at the old family home there, at the age of 58. His father was the late Daniel Shea of the same place, but who came to this country from Ireland.

John Shea was well and favorably known in a very large circle of friends. Up to the time of the Great War he was a railroad engineer, but like every patriot he heard the call to arms during the great struggle. He joined up with the 80th Overseas Battalion at Barriefield on the 29th of September, 1915, and served in Canada, England and France. He was discharged on the 20th of June, 1918, as medically unfit for further service, arising from wounds and severe head injuries received in France.

The funeral, which was to Cataraqui, and of a military nature under the Last Post Fund, was in charge of R. J. Reid, undertaker, of Kingston. The remains were taken to the Cataraqui vault on the 20th inst. for interment.

The service at the home, where a large number of friends gathered to pay their last respects to the departed, was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Merrick, of Morven. He leaves behind to mourn his sad loss, his widow, Annie Shea, and three sisters, Mrs. Chas. Emery, Kingston; Mrs. Marg Rankin and Mrs. George Shepard, Napanee; and one brother, Mr. Daniel W. Shea, of Odessa.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY.

Mr. John Dowdell.

Dear Sir and Bro.—We, the members of Forest Hills L.O.L. No. 1344, wish in this way to express our heartfelt sympathy to you and yours at this time of sore bereavement,

DEATH OF FORMER CHATHAM CITIZEN.

Dr. Clarence A. Brisco, M. C., of Timmins, Ont., Dies in England.

Chatham, Feb. 24th.—Word was received in the city on Saturday of the death in London, England, of Dr. Clarence Alfred Brisco, M. C., of Timmins, Ontario, and formerly of Chatham, who succumbed to a serious illness brought on by his services in the world war as a Major in the Royal Army Medical Corps.

Dr. Brisco left Chatham four weeks ago for England to seek expert medical aid. He was accompanied by his nephew, Beverly Brisco, of Chatham, who will bring the remains back to Canada. Burial will take place in Chatham.

Dr. Brisco, who was born in Napanee, Ont., in 1892, graduated in medicine from Toronto University, and later went to England in May, 1916, as Sergeant-Major in the Queen's University medical unit. Subsequently he transferred to the R. A. M. C. and went to France in the following September, serving continuously until the close of the war. He was on advanced service when the armistice was signed.

During his services in France he was twice mentioned in despatches by Field Marshal Haig, and in the fall of 1916 was presented with the military cross for bravery in the field. He was also mentioned by Field Marshal French in dispatches and was the bearer of a letter from King George complimenting him on his services.

Dr. Brisco was one of the youngest doctors to pass his final examinations at Toronto University, having graduated when 20 years of age. Since returning from the war he had been practicing medicine in Timmins. He was a Mason and an Anglican. His boyhood days were spent in Napanee, but he came to Chatham in 1906 and attended the Collegiate Institute until he entered the University. He was a member of one of the oldest Ontario families, all four of his grandparents being U. E. Loyalists.

Dr. Brisco's parents predeceased him some years ago. Surviving are his five brothers, Dr. N. A. Brisco, Ph.D., of the University of New York; Fred. H. Brisco, former Mayor of Chatham; Ira Brisco, of Chatham; R. M. Brisco, of London, and Ald. E. C. Brisco, of Chatham, and a sister, Miss Nellie Brisco, of Garden City, N.Y.—The Free Press, London. Ont., February 25th, 1924.

ONTARIO LEADS IN CRIME STATISTICS

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—Ontario led all the other Provinces in the number of convictions for crime according to the 1922 criminal statistics published today for the first time by the Bureau of Statistics. It is explained that printing and tabulating these returns is a slow process.

By Provinces convictions for indictable offences were as follows: Ontario, 7,021; Quebec, 2,885; Manitoba, 1,188; Saskatchewan, 1,291; Alberta, 1,171; British Columbia, 1,604; Nova Scotia, 701; New Brunswick, 322; Prince Edward Island, 27; Yukon, 10. Total 15,720.

The total convictions compared with the previous year show a decrease of 439.

ODESSA

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith and little daughter and Mrs. James Smith of Parrotte's Bay, spent Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith.—Fred Rutledge, Sydenham, called at R. L. King's, last Tuesday.—Mr. and Mrs. William Gardiner, Saskatoon, have been visiting relatives.—Mr. and Mrs. Blake Gilbert, who have been spending some time with Mrs. Gilbert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Frink, have moved to Napanee, where Mr. Gilbert has a position in the Confectionery.—Roy Babcock has moved on the John Schermerhorn farm vacated last fall by Leo Lawlor.—Mr. and Mrs. Percival Thompson have returned from spending a few days in Watertown, where they were attending the funeral of Mrs. Thompson's brother, Z. Y. Storms.—Mr. Storms will be remembered by many as this was his home for a number of years before going to Watertown.—The Kingston train was not able to make Odessa last Thursday, owing to the condition of the roads from the north shore, and the Sharpton mail was blocked for three days in succession, and the three days' mail was delivered Saturday. Those parties who prophesized an open winter will undoubtedly have to look for other indications than those mentioned last fall, for they have certainly proved to be failures.

MOSCOW NORTH

(For last week).

Our last snow storm has been the biggest and roughest of the season. The roads are completely blocked, and the train was cancelled for Thursday night and this morning.—Mrs. Frank Alberston passed peacefully away on Wednesday evening.—Mr. John Vanvolkenburg, of Perth, spent a day recently with his sister, Mrs. Rufus Wagar.—Mrs. Norman Jackson and Mrs. Wellesley Coulter spent Friday at Kingston, and left for Toronto on Saturday. — Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Wagar and son, Garnet, spent Sunday at Mr. Erwin Wilson's.—Mr. Norman Jackson is spending a few days at home.—Mrs. Hugh O'Reilly is on the sick list, but is improving at time of writing.—Mrs. Wellesley Coulter spent a day recently at Miss Felicia Huffman's, Napanee.—Mr. Oscar Vanvolkenburg left on Monday for South Bend, Indiana.—Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Wagar and son, Garnet, spent Friday evening at Mrs. Wellesley Coulter's.—Mrs. Clark, of Marlbank, is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Wesley Keech.—Mr. Kenmen is spending some time at his brother-in-law's, Mr. Frank Albertson.—Mrs. Cyntha Knapp and family spent Sunday at Mrs. Norman Jackson's.—Mr. Todd spent a day recently at Bell Rock.—Mr. Olen Bovay spent Monday at Mrs. Elias Jackson's.

TAMWORTH

(For last week).

Mrs. E. W. Pringle died in Kingston Hospital, on Friday night. She was a daughter of Robert Adair. Her funeral was held at Tamworth on Tuesday last, Rev. C. J. Wilson, her former Pastor, officiating.—There is a large supply of ice being put in for the coming summer.—Business is very quiet, owing to the heavy storms.—Walter Redden has opened up the drug store.—Mr. Wells, of British Columbia, visited his cousin Dent last week end.—Mrs. Fred Bell is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Welle. The concert was was to take place on Wednesday evening of this week, was postponed for another week.—No mail was delivered on the rural routes owing to all the roads being blocked by the heavy snow storms.—The young folks of Christ Church will give a concert in the Town Hall on the evening of the 27th. This will be a radio concert from stations in Chicago, Ill., and other cities.

Where Royalty Amuses Itself

London's most fashionable supper club is undoubtedly Luigi's, more formally known as "The Embassy." Smart society goes there to eat and drink and chiefly to dance. It is favored by the Prince of Wales, by the ex-King of Portugal, and until a short time ago by the Duke and Duchess of York. Now the Duchess of York will no longer go there to dance, and the incident has been made the subject of rather an amusing article in the New York Times by H. L. Gates. Mr. Gates perceives a deep significance in it; or rather, he says that fashionable and gossiping London sees a deep significance; no less a significance, in fact, than that the Duchess of York will be the next Queen of England. He observes that the lively family of King George have hurdled so many conventions that it is hard to believe that this informal dancing at Luigi's would have been forbidden to anyone of less importance than the next Queen. What is certain is that the duchess used to dance there and take obvious delight in the dancing, and that she will dance there no more. The suggestion is that Queen Mary has issued a ukase.

The Embassy was given its great boom a short time after the Prince of Wales returned from India, and gave his report at the Guildhall, a ceremony each royalty must perform after a state visit abroad. He wanted to fox-trot occasionally and decided that the Embassy would suit him best. Up to that time the club had been smart and swift. It numbered among its thousands of members perhaps a thousand that were considered rather rashly, though it became a member one has to present credentials that are socially satisfactory. However, when the Prince of Wales, through his equerry, intimated to Luigi that His Royal Highness would like occasionally to dine there he demanded the list of members. From this he ticked off about a thousand names and it is said that Luigi immediately withdrew their cards, telling them politely that the restricted dancing area made a reduction in membership necessary. Luigi was amply rewarded when a few nights later the prince accompanied by two or three men friends and a group of girls in his immediate set, the very highest in the land, appeared at the club and began to dance.

Before her betrothal to the Duke of York, Lady Elizabeth went rarely to Luigi's. It is said her father and mother are rather old-fashionable and hold that the place for people to dance is at home or in the homes of their friends. One night, however, after the engagement was announced, there was a sudden flutter at Luigi's when the fun was at its height. A special corner table used by the Duke of York when he visited the place was at the moment in the possession of another party, but after a few whispered words, the other party was somewhere else with good grace. Presently the red draperies leading into the supper room were drawn aside, and Wing Commander Louis Greig, equerry to the Duke of York, appeared and quickly surveyed the floor, exchanging a glance with Luigi, who telescraphed back the information, presumably, that there was nobody in the place whose presence would be objectionable. Then Lady Elizabeth followed by the Duke of York entered. She smiled and gave a comprehensive nod to anybody.

This is the secret of the charm of Luigi's for royalty. They are there always incognito. Nobody is supposed always incognito. Nobody is supposed supposed to pay them any particular attention. Nobody is supposed to even stare at them. When they dance people are supposed to dance also, and not sit at the tables observing them. One may even rub shoulders with them on the floor. Obscure commoners have had the bliss of being bumped into by royalty, and of submitting loyal corns for a royal foot. But those who tried to follow them about in the dance, to get too near, to look too long over their shoulders would find themselves gently and unobtrusively jostled away by a tall guardsman who always seems to be bringing up the rear. Lady Elizabeth went to Luigi's several times after the engagement, and then came the marriage, followed in a few weeks with speculations as to the likelihood of her going back to dance. Once she did come and enjoyed herself as much as ever. The next day it was whispered about that in future the Duchess of York would dance in no company that had not been scrutinized and approved by the Court Chamberlain.

Now as to the wild idea that the pretty little duchess is likely to be the next Queen. We are assured by Mr. Gates that it is only gossip that the Prince of Wales has no intention of ever being the King. There are two or three equally incredible reasons given for his supposed decision, but as far as we are aware, it is no more within the jurisdiction of the prince to settle this matter than to settle upon his father and mother. It has been noted that when the Duke and Duchess of York are staying at Windsor, the official home of the sovereigns, there are always two red-coated guardsmen stationed in the quadrangle at the entrance to their apartments. In recent times, only one guardsman has been allotted to the King's second son. It is more than probable that the Prince of Wales had he free choice, would prefer to remain Prince of Wales for the rest of his life and have his father outlive him. But the proofs, the innumerable proofs, he has given of his sense of duty, give not the slightest indication that when the time comes he will shrink from the heaviest duty of all.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

With Rinso— snowy-white clothes just by soaking

SIMPLY soaking in Rinso suds loosens dirt, so that it rinses right out.

The old wearing method of rubbing soap on the clothes and then rubbing the clothes is done away with. There is no need of it with Rinso.

Only the dirtiest places—where dirt was actually ground in—will need just a light rubbing. Where this is necessary, use a little dry Rinso.

Rinso is made by the makers of LUX—the largest soap makers in the world. It does the family wash as wonderfully as Lux does fine things.

Rinso does the whole job—with it you need no other soap

Here's the Secret of Health

Do you know why you catch cold, why you have chronic dyspepsia, why you have headaches, why you can't sleep, why you are weak, nervous or depressed? It's because your system is run down. When the system is run down every organ becomes more or less affected. If any one organ is weaker than another, it is the first to succumb. For instance, if you have a weak stomach dyspepsia results—if you are subject to headaches they become more frequent and so on. No matter what your trouble, the first thing to do is to build up and nourish your system by feeding your nerves and enriching your blood. When you do this every organ in the body is strengthened. Carnol accomplishes this. Carnol is a blood-builder, a nerve invigorator, a stimulating and nourishing food, a flesh builder. Mr. Hill, the prescription specialist of New Westminster, B.C., has such faith in Carnol that he is pushing the sale of it at every opportunity. He knows from experience its value as a tonic and this is what he writes:

"It indeed gives me pleasure to say a good word for Carnol. With the sales talk and general boost which it has had from this end, the sale of Carnol has grown from nothing to something worth while."—Fredric T. Hill, Prescription Specialist, 607 Columbia Street, New Westminster, B.C. 19-6

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

Wagar, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carscallen were entertained at a euchre party on Saturday evening at the Ball Hotel.—Miss Hoggson returned home from Toronto for her mother's wedding. — Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Vanliest were guests of O. B. Jackson on Sunday last. — We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Eddie Clancy is not so well at time of writing. — Mr. C. W. Keech is improving as nicely as can be expected, after passing through such a critical operation.—For the past few days Enterprise has been practically isolated, owing to very heavy storms which blocked all kinds of traffic. We are pleased to see the farmers around once more.—Mr. P. J. Murphy held his cheese meeting on Friday last, and received the same price for manufacturing cheese as last year.—Mr. Edw. Lockwood and Mrs. Hoggson were united in wedlock on Wednesday, 20th inst. In the evening they were entertained by Rev. Mr. Merriam, Mr. W. J. Mellow, and a few of our other young people. Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood responded nicely. — We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Edgar Hanna has had the misfortune to fall and break his foot. We hope for a speedy recovery. — We sometimes think would it not be a grand thing to do a little missionary work around about us and help some of the needy, instead of sending all of our money to foreign fields? Dr. Horton and Mr. Harry Jackson and son, Donald, are leaving this week for San Antonio, Texas, where they intend remaining for three months. We hope to see Harry come back much improved. Mr. D. Moore, formerly of Yarker, is taking his place. — Mrs. S. D. Lockwood has returned home from Toronto from attending the millinery openings.

BETHANY

The joint Sunday School of Gretna and Bethany on Sunday last was enjoyed by all who attended. Over twenty from Bethany went in a load to Gretna. Next Sunday we expect a large turnout, as we are having a contest to see which school is most largely attended during the month of March, so come along and boost for Bethany. — On Monday evening, Feb'y 25th, about eighty-five neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rombough to bid them farewell, also to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dean, and presented them with two beautiful rocking chairs, when the following addresses were read:

Bethany, Feb'y 25th, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rombough,

We, your neighbors and friends, on the eve of your departure from our midst, have gathered here tonight to wish you the very best of health and success in your new home, and ask you to accept this chair, not for its intrinsic value but as a small token of the esteem in which you are held dear to us, and trust you will not soon forget your many friends at Bethany.

Mr. and Mrs. Rombough replied very nicely, each expressing their gratitude. Then Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dean were asked to come forward, when the following address was read:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dean.

It was with regret we learned of your leaving our neighborhood, so we, a part of your neighbors and friends, have gathered here, and though we are glad you will not be removed a great distance from us, we thought we could not let you go without some small token of remembrance of your ever readiness to help serve in the best interests of the community; therefore we ask you to accept this chair, trusting God will bless Mrs. Dean with better health, long to enjoy life in your new home, hoping as you rest in this chair you will often think of your friends at Bethany.

Signed on behalf of the company,
ED. W. CONGER
ANDREW DEMPSEY
JAMES KEECH.

Though taken completely by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Dean, in a few well chosen words, replied, after which the ladies served a dainty lunch, and the party broke up, singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows". — Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hicks entertained on Tuesday evening. — The Community Club gave their popular play, "East Lynne", at Demorestville on Tuesday evening. —The Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Clark on Wednesday, March 5th. — Mr. James Miller is busy sawing wood in our midst.

ANDERSON

The Ladies' Aid Society had a record attendance at their Valentine social evening, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Card. Many valentine favors were in evidence, such as red heart-shaped tally cards, etc., and the prize winners at progressive crokinole were Miss W. Moore, and Allan Baldwin. Guessing contest prizes were won by Miss Crozier Mr. and Mrs. E. Anderson, of Picton, returned home on Monday, after spending a few days at S. Parks'.—The meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. A. Parks on Wednesday.—Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnston and daughter spent Tuesday in Napanee. — Don't forget the play, "Farm Folks", by the Anderson Dramatic Club, to be given in Anderson Church this (Friday) evening.

GAVE UP THEIR THRONES

MONARCHS WHO WERE TIRED OF POMP AND POWER.

Diocletian Preferred Growing Cabbages to Ruling the Vast Roman Empire — Charles V. Gave Up Throne for Privacy of a Cell In a Monastery — Rehearsed His Own Obsequies.

Many monarchs have abdicated their thrones during the past two thousand years, some being forced to take the action and others retiring for various reasons.

But the two strangest cases in history are those of the Roman Emperor, Diocletian, in the fourth century, and the Holy Roman Emperor, Charles V., in the sixteenth.

These two monarchs gave up their thrones simply because they were tired of pomp and power and desired privacy.

The Roman Empire, in the third century, stretched from the Grampians to the Sahara, and from the Atlantic to the sands of Mesopotamia; to govern these vast dominions the Roman Legions chose Diocletian, the son of a slave.

In Diocletian there shone the statesman as well as the soldier; as the latter he foresaw that the danger of the empire lay in the Goths, Vandals, Burgundians, and Persians, outside its frontiers; as the former he saw the impossibility of organizing the empire from a single central Government. He accordingly put the imperial office and the imperial capital, as it were, into commission, associating with himself three imperial colleagues, and, with the city of Rome, four imperial capitals, Treves to watch France and the West, Milan and Sirmium (Mitrovitza) to watch Germany and the Danube, and Nicomedia (Ismid) to watch Asia. His policy of decentralization soon justified itself in every part of the empire.

In Britain, France, and Africa revolts were suppressed by the wise hand of Diocletian and the firm hand of his lieutenants; in Mesopotamia, that bugbear which for centuries had cost the Romans so much blood and treasure and which successive emperors could never make up their minds either to conquer or to leave, Diocletian patched up a peace with the Kurds and Persians near Mosul in 297. In 302 and 303 Diocletian and his principal imperial colleague Maximian celebrated at Rome a magnificent triumph; it was the last the Eternal City ever held.

The next year, at the height of his success, he abdicated, and retired to his native village in Dalmatia, and for ten years afforded the peasants the unaccustomed spectacle of a Roman emperor growing vegetables. When urged to resume the purple he replied: "If you could come and see my cabbages, you would not invite me to exchange happiness for power." He died in 313.

Equally striking was the abdication of Charles V., ruler of the Holy Roman Empire. The announcement was made on October 25, 1555, in the Netherlands palace of the Duke of Brabant at Brussels, while the emperor was leaning on the arm of William of Orange.

For over thirty years Charles had worn the crown of that Holy Roman Empire, which in the sixteenth century was rapidly becoming, as Voltaire described, "Neither Holy, nor Roman, nor an empire." Charles had two dreams of the west, that the foundations of Charlemagne and Otto the Great, and the establishment of an undivided church upon the Rock of St. Peter. These two aims were irreconcilable. At times his hopes ran high. He defeated the French at Favia, the Germans at Muhlberg, and the Turks before Vienna.

But the Germans and Netherlanders, whom he persecuted as heretics, he needed as soldier to fight the French and Turks.

If he championed the spiritual authority of Rome, he disputed her claims to temporal power, and the emperor was tenant for life of Rome against Luther was the emperor whose army sacked the city of Rome and besieged the Pope in the castle of St. Angelo. His dreams remained unrealized; by the Peace of Augsburg he recognized the right of a nation to its own form of religion, and even before he died the Protestant champions of St. Denis and St. Peter, of Luther and Mohammed, all learned in the holy alliance against his own most catholic majesty. He abdicated the crown of an empire, a sick and disappointed king, and, escorted by two British navy, sailed on September 17, 1556, from Flushing to found in Spain a desire cherished for twenty years of entering a monastery.

For twenty months there may have been for his abdication. Deep in his character Charles had a love of the arts and religion. In 1538 he had agreed with his wife, the Empress Isabella, that as soon as the cares of office would permit they should retire, he to a monastery, she to a nunnery. Then Isabella took up his abode at the Hieronymite Monastery of Yuste in the Estremadura, famous for the sanctity of Fra Juan de Xeres, who, with the Eleven Thousand Virgins. At Yuste he spent two years in the enjoyment of religious ceremonies and joyment of religious ceremonies and unmodified gluttony. He suffered from gout, consequent upon his profuse and exquisite cuisine, iced beer, and what-nots.

Feeling the approach of death, this gluttonous monarch ordered the monks of Yuste to rehearse the celebration of his own obsequies. The high altar, the catafalque, the whole chancel glittered with wax lights; the gentlemen of the household attended in deep mourning. Charles himself during the solemn mass for the dead gave up his black taper to the priest, in token of yielding up his soul to his Maker.

A few days later the monks repeated the ceremony in earnest over the corpse of this strangest of kings, buried in the Pantheon near Madrid.

"Mother, I am going to give Jack Wilder his congee."

"I'm glad to hear it. You had no business to take it from him in the first place."

The well known spot to meet and shop,—Wallace's.

SALTED POPULATION.

Natives of Old London Most Healthy In the World.

London, according to its Chief Medical Officer, Sir William Hamer, has a "salted population."

That strange explanation occurs frequently in his annual report which has just been issued. It means a population physically accustomed and adapted to London life.

A "salted" man or woman thrives in London — which is one of the healthiest cities in the world — but the same cannot always be said of "unsalted" country folk who come to make their homes in the town. As another distinguished doctor said recently:

"Perhaps what happens to an extreme degree when Dryden's noble savage becomes a townsman happens to a less degree when Corydon repairs to the tenement, the picture palace and the factory."

Sir William Hamer shares this view. He makes the very interesting and important suggestion that "the tendency which has become so marked in the last few years for young girls to exchange 'living-in' as domestic servants for 'living out' may have operated prejudicially on their health."

The domestic servant, as he points out, was well housed and well fed and cared for. Now the "unsalted" girl who comes to London does not so frequently enjoy these advantages. She goes direct to "the tenement, the picture palace and the factory."

But there is a price to pay for this too rapid change. The number of cases of lung trouble in girls between 15 and 25 has lately increased.

In other words, the present desire to plunge suddenly into the dissipations of a great city is dangerous to those yielding to it. They are attempting to run before they can walk.

The "salted" Londoner knows better; and in any case she possesses powers of resistance to city life which her sister from the country has not acquired.

Curiously enough, however, the "salting" process seems to work also in the reverse direction. Townfolk when they go to the country to live are frequently less fit than they would have been had they remained in town.

We are all in short creatures of habit. Our bodies and our minds become "salted" to any surroundings, and if we change them suddenly we are apt to suffer in the process. Our sufferings soon make themselves known in the bill of health of the locality to which we have transferred.

Possibly the Real Trouble.

A writer some little time ago suggested that the real trouble in this country was that while about one person in five operated an auto, only one in fifteen hundred operated a wheelbarrow. The same idea was expanded in an article in Big and Little which angered the question "What's Ailing Canada These Days?" as follows:

"Too many diamonds, not enough alarm clocks.

"Too many silk shirts, not enough blue flannel ones.

"Too many pointed-toe shoes and not enough broad-toe ones.

"Too many serge suits and not enough overalls.

"Too many limousines and not enough cows.

"Too many consumers and not enough producers.

"Too much envy of the result of hard work and too little desire to emulate it.

"Too many desiring short cuts to wealth and too few willing to pay the price.

"Too much of the spirit of 'get while the getting is good' and not enough old-fashioned conservatism.

"Too much discontent that vents itself in mere complaining and too little real effort to remedy conditions.

"Too much class consciousness and too little common democracy."

Differ In Glory.

Gustav le Bon, an authority on diamonds, has found a striking difference of the phosphorescence of Brazilian diamonds and those from the Cape. The former, which are noted for the liveliness of their light, and which have become quite rare of late years, exhibit a brilliant phosphorescence after being exposed to the radiation of a magnesium ribbon, while Cape diamonds in similar circumstances show very little or no phosphorescence. This is thought to be a means of detecting diamonds falsely offered as Brazilian gems.

Hope for Herrings.

Ocean fishermen, don't waste your herrings. A Yankee firm has opened in England a modest establishment for the collection of herring scales, to be utilized in the manufacture of artificial pearls. The promoters of this new industry are handicapped, however, by the comparatively few scales obtained from the curing and kippering sheds are damaged by the salt used in their preparation and that difficulty is experienced in collecting the scales in sufficient quantities.

Jews Organize.

A national Jewish conference will meet in New York soon. The objective will be to strengthen Jewish religious and cultural institutes. For the first eight years the attention of American Jewry has been concentrated on the problem of relieving the suffering Jews of war-stricken Europe. Meanwhile a generation has been growing up without any systematic effort being made to bring them to the synagogue.

Tried Law.

When Marconi began to send messages and wireless threatened to be commercialized, the cable companies grew alarmed for their monopoly. One of them actually served papers with a writ to prevent his carrying on experiments in trans-Atlantic wireless communication. He preserved the writ, but ignored it, and it was not proceeded with.

Suffered Terribly Till Dreco Came

Kingston Lady Finds Wonderful Relief From Stomach and Kidney Trouble and Praises Dreco to the Skies. One Bottle of this Grand Remedy Gave Splendid Results.

"For years I have suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," says Mrs. J. Hallwell, of 208 University Ave., Kingston, Ont. "Gas would form on my stomach like a lump of lead and cause terrible belching. I had dull pains in my stomach and across my back and my kidneys were badly out of order. I continually had a dull, tired feeling and didn't seem to have energy to do my work. Everything was an effort. Constipation was chronic with me, too, and I had to take a laxative every night. I took many kinds of medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"I have only taken one bottle of Dreco, but the improvement in my condition is wonderful. My stomach hardly ever gives me any trouble now. The pains have disappeared altogether and my kidneys are in much better shape. My constipation is greatly relieved and I feel much better in every way."

Run-down systems improve rapidly under the corrective influence of Dreco's pure herb, root, bark and leaf ujices. It purifies the blood and tones and regulates the whole system. Dreco contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Napanee by Wallace & Co., and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

Long Distance Super Salesman

"All my sales are made by Long Distance," says an Ontario merchant.

"My brother, who travels for the firm, strikes the large towns and sells to all small towns in the vicinity by Long Distance. Even letters enquiring for prices are answered by Long Distance. I could quote you hundreds of instances."

Another merchant says if a customer is out when a salesman calls, he makes note of his stock, and a special toll salesman calls him by Long Distance and sells him.

Experience shows that Station-to-Station calls can often be used with entire satisfaction.

Address and Presentation

On February 5th, a very pleasant social evening took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Anderson, Kingsford, when their friends and neighbors assembled to bid them farewell before their departure to their home, and family reunion with an oak dining-room table, and the following address:—

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Anderson,—Upon learning that you are about to leave our midst shortly, we could not refrain from visiting you once more under the old ancestral roof and whiling away a happy hour with you.

We are sorry indeed to lose you as a close neighbor, but the fact that your new home is scarcely outside our own vicinity, tends to lessen our immediate loss. But as the poet says, "Old times are changed, old manners gone", and so we know that your present move is for your convenience and future happiness.

In your new home you will no doubt find life more pleasant than under your present circumstances, and after all life with its ever changing phases consists of the happiness and contentment that we feel.

We will no doubt find it difficult to associate new faces with these acreages. We shall miss you as kindly neighbors—shall miss the music that both of you so freely gave us whenever it was asked of you, but trust that your violin will help to pass away a delightful hour in this community yet.

We could not let you leave without giving you some token of remembrance, and so we ask you to accept this table. In its roundness may it symbolize to you the circle of friends that you have in this community. May it ever groan under an abundance of good things and may he who sits beneath it ever feel the true-hearted hospitality that reigns beneath your roof.

We wish you both, peace, happiness and comfort in your new home, and trust that you may long be spared to enjoy the fruits of honest toil.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors,

FRANCIS McCULLOUGH.
W. MILTON SAMPSON.

Mr. Anderson responded in his usual jovial manner, thanking one and all for the kindness shown them, and extending to all a hearty invitation to visit them in their new home.

A bountiful lunch was then served, and the rest of the evening was spent in amusements and social chat.

An Oil of Merit. — Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is not a jumble of medicinal substances thrown together and pushed by advertising, but its result is the careful investigation of the healing qualities of certain oils as applied to the human body. It is a rare combination and it won and kept public favor from the first. A trial of it will carry conviction to any who doubt its power to repair and heal.

"Now, tell us about it—why did you steal the purse?"

"Your Honor, I don't deceive you—I was ill and thought the change might do me good."

Ready-made Medicine. — You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable; for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, it is unsurpassed; while for cuts, sores, and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

"Not so bad, doctor," replied the patient, "but my breathing troubles me."

"Well," assured the doctor, "I'll see if I can stop that to-morrow."

HORSEHAIR SNAKES.

Positive Proof of Boyhood's Belief Not Forthcoming.

Of course horsehairs can be turned into snakes.

So states a letter in the Atlantic Monthly in which Mrs. L. Emilie Pearnall disagrees with a contributor to the magazine who pooh-poohed the theory, and relates to the racetrack of Shakespare, who raised the point some time previously.

He (the magazine writer alluded to above) says he cannot believe Shakespeare when he says that horse-hair, imbedded in mud, would decay, and become snakes as we develop into worms or snakes as we used to call them, writes Mrs. Pearnall—and as Shakespeare is not here to defend himself I would like to say a few words for his vindication—inasmuch as I have had some experience with horsehair snakes myself.

When I was a child we lived in the country (about 25 miles from New York), and we had an old watering trough, made from a hollowed-out log, where our horses were always watered, and quite often my brothers used to bring in a hair snake found in this trough. The trough was set on a slant: the horses always drinking from the lower end, while the upper had always in it some green slime.

One day I pulled out a lot of hairs and imbedded them in the slimy end of the trough. I remember hearing one of my brothers say one day, "What are all these horsehairs doing in here?" and another one said, "Oh, Emilie is trying to raise snakes."

The first said, "I have a notion to throw them out," but the other said, "No; let them alone and let her see what she can do." And in a couple or more weeks after putting them in my mother called me one day and told me I had a couple of snakes there.

That was a great many years ago, but I can still see those snakes as they curled about my fingers and as they opened wide their mouths—how long they lived or anything more about them I cannot tell—but if that old trough was still in existence I would like to prove to some of our modern scientists that there is much a thing as live snakes developed from horses' hair.

Shakespeare was right.

A Future Minister.

A remarkable travel record has been made by a seventeen-year-old Chicago boy, Ernest Watts, who has travelled from Chicago to London for the sum of $5.

Starting on June 22 he managed to get little in private cars from Chicago which took him to Fort Wayne. There he spent the night in the Y.M.C.A. Next day, still using the same means of travel, he reached Akron, Ohio. Here he found the Y.M.C.A. closed and was lodged for the night in jail.

"I went and asked at the jail if I could sleep there and they said 'Sure!' and put me in a cell, but forgot to give me a bed. It was my first night in jail, and I'll see it to my last," he said. "It was rhythm."

On the third day he reached Pittsburg, where he was lodged at an hotel, an Episcopal minister paying his expenses, and on the fourth day he reached his sister's home at Gettysburg, Philadelphia, after travelling 1,100 miles in four days with no expense to himself.

Not satisfied with this record, he worked his passage as a deck boy across the Atlantic in the Furness Withy liner London Commerce, and, landing at Greenhithe, reached his uncle's home at Coxwell now, Essex, after 14 days' travel.

Ernest Watts intends to go into the ministry after he leaves school.

None But Hours of Sunshine.

"I record none but hours of sunshine."

A famous sundial bears this inscription.

So to that sundial there are no hours but those of sunshine.

All other hours, the cloudy ones, the rainy, the stormy, pass right over it unnoticed, "unregistered," as to speak. As far as the sundial is concerned, they never existed.

And why shouldn't we humans be like that sundial? Some of us, a too few of us, are.

It was intended that we should dwell only on the good in the things that are present. That would be the natural way. And it is those of us who do not have this happy faculty, those of us who do register every little bit of disappointment or setback or unpleasantness, and record it in black letters on our dispositions and our features who are abnormal and on the wrong track.

Lives 30 Years on Wine Diet.

A man fifty-seven years old, who has lived for thirty years on alcoholic drink instead of the customary rice, diet, has offered his body when he dies to the Cuba Medical College. He believes that the result of a post-mortem examination will be a revelation to the medical world.

The man says that he started to drink when he was nineteen years old, and when he was in his early twenties he consumed a gallon and a half of rice wine every day. Latterly he has contented himself with a little less than a gallon each day. He says he never eats rice, but has a strong constitution and weighs 170 pounds.

The Burrowing Owl.

The burrowing owl is a small owl which burrows in the ground in many parts of North and South America. It is about 10 inches long, grayish-brown, profusely spotted with white, with the head smooth, without plumicorns. This is the owl, which lives on the Western prairies in connection with the prairie dogs, in the deserted burrows of which it makes its nest. These owls are diurnal, and feed upon insects and small mammals and reptiles.

Wild Horses Live Longer.

In a wild state a horse lives to be thirty-five or forty years old, while the domestic horse is as a rule old at twenty-five.

Was Ancient London Village of Mud Huts

Two Thousand Years Ago

What was London like 2,000 years ago?

Was it a little village of mud huts perched on Ludgate Hill with a few shaggy Britains business men engaged in the fish and meat business; or did it begin with the Romans? This is one of the interesting questions which Mr. W. R. Lethaby attempts to answer in "Londinium."

The earliest glimpse we have of London is a vision of a busy port thronged with great galleys, bringing merchandise, wines, pottery, furs and pretty jewellery for London's first shopping women, across the New York). and we had an old water- from Gaul. Mr. Lethaby revives the suggestion that London may have begun life as the Port of St. Albans, which, long ago, was the great British stronghold of Verulamium.

For 500 years London was ruled by the Romans, and it became the busiest city in Britain. It was built on the banks of the Walbrook. It must have been a beautiful city, with its red-tiled houses, its wide squares, and its amphitheatres, where gladiators and animals fought.

"The best way to see again the old Roman city of London," says Mr. Lethaby, "is to go to the foot of the hill below St. Magnus the Martyr, and then, turning away from the riverside quays of to-day, begin to walk up in the street, which still retains something of the look of the High street in an old market town.

"Behind it we may still discern the ghost of the Roman Axis street. Right and left are narrow streets with red plastered houses, separated by little old-tiled houses, in yards

Carbon Black To Be Made Here

But for one of the non-metallic minerals—carbon black—this paper might have to be printed in some other color, and the automobile tire industry would be severely handicapped.

Carbon black, a product of the incomplete combustion of natural gas, has not as yet been manufactured in Canada, but the Mines Branch of the Department of Mines, through Mr. E. T. Elsworthy, of the chemical division, is this season making a field study and chemical investigation of natural gas in Western Canada with particular regard to determine the composition, character and gasoline content of these gases.

At present natural gas containing ethane and other hydrocarbons is in great demand for the manufacture of carbon black.

Carbon black is a soft, light soot, somewhat similar to the soot produced by a smoking kerosene lamp. It is, however, a product of the burning of natural gas. The flame is impinged against a metal surface, which is kept cool by running water, and as the soot accumulates it is mechanically removed. The chief production centres at present are in West Virginia and Louisiana, where there are tremendous supplies of natural gas. Each of these states has stringent conservation legislation governing the use of the gas. In Louisiana, before the gas may be used for the manufacture of carbon black, the gasoline content must be extracted, and in certain sections but twenty per cent. of the daily output of the wells is permitted to be used for carbon black manufacture. All possible efforts must be made to avoid waste in the use of the natural gas. How important the industry is in Louisiana may be judged from the fact that one company's plant consists of 120 burning houses, 114 by 12 feet.

Canada has many gas areas, some of them situated at points distant from possible domestic utilization, and it is likely, as a result of the Mines Branch's investigations, that some of these may be found available for the economical production of carbon black. The Mining Lands Branch of the Department of the Interior is at present engaged in framing regulations for the production of carbon black from wells situated on Dominion Lands.

The Ontario Government, it is reported, has recently given permission for the natural gas from a small field in the Sarnia district to be used, for the production of carbon black. It is understood that development will take place at once. The initial plant will be of but limited size, and will permit of enlargement as the opportunity arises.

The recovery of carbon black varies from one-quarter to two pounds per 1,000 cubic feet of gas, and the market price ranges from 17 to 22 cents per pound, with as high as 50 cents for special grades. The carbon black is packed in paper sacks for shipment.

The uses of carbon black are almost innumerable. One of the chief uses is in the preparation of printing ink, such as this paper is printed with. By admixture with oils of different qualities and consistencies a wide range of ink may be made, from that which is termed news-ink to a grade suitable for the printing of the finest illustrations.

It is also used as a pigment in the manufacture of paint, in which case a loading material is generally added, usually barytes. In the making of black polishes, carbon black very generally enters, while for phonograph records, fountain pens, carbon paper, black enamel leathers, etc., it finds many uses.

In the preparation of the rubber composition of automobile tires and other rubber goods the greatest consumption of carbon black has developed. It is estimated that fully 45 per cent. of the entire production is used in this industry. Owing to its fineness of subdivision it is a very valuable ingredient in automobile tire in compositions; it must, however, be used in combination with other things. Alone as a rubber pigment it is not particularly valuable.

Canada is a very large user of carbon black, and, while as yet producing none, for the year ending March 31 last, imported of lamp, bone, ivory and carbon blacks 2,742,499 pounds, of a value of $446,812, and it enters Canada duty free.

Should the Mines Branch be able to demonstrate the commercial possibilities of the utilization of the Alberta gas fields for the production of carbon black, it will add considerably to the industry of Canada and make use of another of our great natural resources.

The dying man shook his head tearfully and maintained, "I won't take it, no, Ikey, it tastes awful."

"But, mine dear fren," groaned Ikey, "you can't die and leave all these expensive medicines wasted."

Mr. J. A. Boutilier feels better now than he has done for a long time—thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Aspotogan, N.S., Feb. 25th, (Special).—"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and they have helped my back. My rheumatism has left me and I feel better than I have done for a long time. Dodd's Kidney Pills are all right."

This statement is made by Mr. J. A. Boutilier, aged 56, well known and respected here. Backache, headache, rheumatism and other aches simply mean impurities in the blood. Otherwise you couldn't have such troubles. Purify the blood by taking Dodd's Kidney Pills and see how quickly they go.

Every sufferer who tries Dodd's Kidney Pills is delighted with the comforting relief that they so quickly create. Thousands are buying and using this remedy solely through the recommendation of their friends who first discovered their wonderful relieving and healing properties. Insist on having Dodd's Kidney Pills.

YARKER

(For last week).

We are right in the midst of what promises to be one of the most serious snow blockades that we have had in this locality for a number of years. Snow has been falling fast for nearly eighteen hours and still continues. Train service has been badly interrupted and the snow ploughs are much in evidence.—Large quantities of ice, of a fairly good quality, are being harvested at present. — George Richardson left for Toronto on Friday to take up a special course in hair artistry.—Last week's notes from "South Yarker" were "Curled" but lovely, and no one "Huffed".—Why do we not hear from Brookside? Rip VanWinkle does not live out there surely.—Mrs. J. W. Down is spending a few days with their daughter and family at Keene.—There is some talk of a Continuation School for Yarker in the near future.—Mrs. W. Storms is home from the hospital, and is improving nicely after a very serious illness.—We are pleased to see Mrs. H. Cambridge out again. — Mr. Storms is moving back to Odessa shortly.—Yarker ten-piece Orchestra is putting up some very fine music now.—Guy Lee is returning from Wilton to Petworth, and will work Widow Benn's farm.—Roy Freeman's horse became badly excited by steam escaping from a locomotive at the station on Tuesday, and what might have been a serious accident was averted by the driver's good horsemanship. He had his five year old son in the rig at the time, and it was fortunate that the frightened animal did not get away.— We are pleased to report that Mr. S. Hart is not going to Deseronto. He is evidently of the opinion that "rolling stones gather no moss". Hope he does not get the notion that "setting hens never hatch eggs".—Is it square for one shepherd to take or keep another shepherd's sheep? Your scribe heard a shrewd sort of man say one time, that it never pays in the end to hire cheap labor. We wonder if it is so?—Professor Sharp may ask his class next week to name two persons mentioned in the Bible, "who were born once and died twice". It was Adam and Eve last week, so some one answered.

STRATHCONA

(For last week).

We have once more been favoured with a little snow, and the roads are in bad shape again.—Although the weather was rough, the prayer service held at W. J. Finlay's, on Tuesday night, was well attended. — A number from here attended the funeral of the late Mr. H. Armstrong in Napanee on Saturday last.—Mr. and Mrs. R. Finlay spent Sunday at W. J. Patterson's, Moscow.—Mr. and Mrs. Ward Warriner took tea with Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Finlay, on Monday evening.—Mr. Jackson has gone to Adam, N.Y., to see his brother, who is sick with pneumonia.—Mrs. Geo. Wartman has been visiting relatives in the village this week.—Those who attended the C. G. I. T. box social in Newburgh on Monday evening, report a splendid programme, and also plenty of "eats".—On account of the heavy storm, the public school was closed on Wednesday.—Your scribe has not been on his job this week, so "no news is good news".

LAPUM

(For last week).

Who said Lapum was dead? Not quite, but nearly snowed under, that is all.—The men are kept busy ploughing out the roads.—A number from here attended the shower on Monday evening, which was held for Mr. and Mrs. C. Hannah, Camden East.—Mrs. J. Huff took dinner with Mrs. W. Huff, on Thursday of last week.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. R. Reid.—Mr. Beeman, of Camden East, snow-shoed down to Mr. D. Kennedy's one afternoon recently. — Mr. and Mrs. J. Huff entertained a number of their friends on Wednesday evening.—Mrs. W. Huff spent Monday with Mrs. S. Brown.—On account of the recent snow storm the mail carrier has been unable to make his regular trips, but some have been fortunate enough to secure their mail through the kindness of Harold Brown, who snowshoed to the office and brought it up and delivered it the following morning.

Dinah made up her mind to go to the dentist. But the moment he touched her tooth she started to wriggle and scream. The dentist said severely: "What on earth is this fuss about? Why, I'm a painless dentist. Didn't you see my advertisement on my side?" "Well, sah," said Dinah, "yo' may be painless, but ah isn't."

The tremendous sale throughout Canada of Smiles's Chuckles Chocolates, testifies to their popularity. A shipment of these "Lullabys to the Palate" fresh each week at Wallace's.—60c. lb.

Fresh Lettuce at Hooper's.

SELBY

We are glad to report Mr. Lewis Innis is recovering from his recent illness. — Teachers' Training Class was well attended on Monday evening.—The W. M. S. are planning for a birthday tea in the basement of the church on February 29th.—Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Pringle entertained the Loyal Sons and Daughters of the King" Sunday School class on Saturday evening. All report a very enjoyable time.—On Wednesday last Rev. T. H. P. and Mrs. Anderson entertained about thirty-five church officials and their wives. The Board extended an invitation to Mr. Anderson to remain another year. Mr. Anderson accepted, subject to the approval of Conference. Singing, games and contests were engaged in until the hands of the clock were pointing toward twelve. Then Mrs. Anderson served refreshments, and those who know her best know when she undertakes to do anything, it is never done by halves, and this part of the evening's entertainment measured up to the best, both in quality and quantity. After the serving, Mrs. S. Pringle gave a short address, expressing appreciation of the faithful and efficient services of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson in the past three years; also promising loyal support in the year to come. At the close of her remarks she moved a vote of thanks to the host and hostess for the very splendid way we had been entertained, which was seconded by Mr. J. C. Hudgin; all present showing their approval by a hearty clap of the hands, immediately singing, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows". Mr. and Mrs. Anderson made very suitable replies. Mr. Anderson expressed the wish that this coming year he might be able to render unto his Master the best year's service he has yet given. Also thanked the people for their co-operation in the past. One of the remarks Mrs. Anderson made was that she thought Church officials had the most thankless job, but she would like them to know that the minister and his wife appreciated their efforts. After this the company broke up, dispersing to their several homes, all feeling that a most enjoyable evening had been spent.

SANDHURST

This place seems to be alive yet.—Mr. Harold Sills returned home, having spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bristow, Bethel.—Misses Marjorie Keyes and Mary Whitfield, Bath Continuation School, were at home during the week end. — Our school is once more open, with Miss MacIntyre, Mariteon, as teacher in charge.—Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Sills entertained a number of young friends at a dinner on Friday evening.—We wish the snow storms would discontinue, as Mr. John A. Young would like to fill his ice house.—A number from here took in the horse races at Stella on Wednesday.—Miss Helen Sills, who had the misfortune to fracture her collar bone, is improving.—The Young People's Society, which was to have met on Friday evening, had to be postponed on account of the roads being impassable. — Mr. Maurice Young has been enjoying the snow ploughing.—Mr. Kenneth Morrow, "Locust Villa", has a new driver.—Mrs. E. J. Hill, who has been ill with a cold, is somewhat improved. — Miss Mary McMullen, Ann Harbour, Mich., has been renewing old acquaintances.—Mr. Donald Shetler recently purchased a new driving horse. — Miss Corn Morrow is the guest of Mrs. D. McClew, Bridge St., Napanee.

WILSON'S CROSSING.

Snow shovelling and wood sawing seems to be the order of the day.—Our school is closed on account of scarlet fever. Sorry to say little Margaret Dowling was the unlucky one to get it, but she is improving nicely.—Our local Doctor had a hard time to get to see his patients on Thursday, on account of the roads. Our main roads were blocked nearly two days.—Mr. Arthur Carroll is all smiles as a baby boy has arrived to board at his place.—Messrs. Grover Wagar and Elgin Vanneck have been the wood sawyers here this year. — Mrs. Orinda Kellar and Leon spent Saturday last at Mr. H. Potter's. — Mr. Fred Wagar and family at Mrs. E. Loucks', on Sunday evening.—Mrs. M. H. Switzer and Russell at Mr. R. Potter's, on Sunday.—Our mail courier had a rest of three days this week as he was unable to get through the snow. Every one will welcome spring this year.—Mrs. Potter and Evelyn Wagar have been suffering from la grippe.

EXCRUCIATING PAINS, CRAMPS

Entirely Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Eberts, Ont.—"I started with cramps and bearing-down pains at the age of eleven years, and I would get so nervous I could hardly stay in bed, and I had such pains that I would scream, and my mother would call the doctor to give me something to take. At eighteen I married, and I have four healthy children, but I still have pains in my right side. I am a farmer's wife with more work than I am able to do. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel like a new woman. I am unable to get through the snow. Every one will welcome spring this year.—Mrs. Nelson Yott, R. R. 1, Eberts, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for ailments common to women. It has been used for many troubles for nearly fifty years, and thousands of women have found relief such as did Mrs. Yott, by taking this splendid medicine.

If you are suffering from irregularity, painful times, nervousness, headache, backache or melancholia, you should at once begin to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is excellent to strengthen the system and help to perform its functions with ease and regularity.

Affairs of the County.

The County Clerk advises us that the County's claim for subsidy for road construction in 1923 has been granted by the Provincial Department of Highways, excepting 40 per cent. for expenditure on Flynn's bridge, which is on a colonization road and received a direct subsidy from the Province. The amount of the subsidy will be $38,291.06. This County's returns were the first to be dealt with by the Department of Highways, and the County has received very satisfactory consideration.

Odessa School Prizes.

Prizes for the best essays on "The Development of Character Through Sport", were awarded last Friday afternoon, at the Odessa High School. Rev. Soford Dixon, Principal Leslie Earl and Assistant, Miss Marion Ridley, gave cash prizes. The essays were exceptionally good according to the judges, Mr. Dixon, Miss Moore and Miss Allen, of the Public School staff. First prize was won by Floyd Babcock; second by Doris McClure, third by Nellie Babcock, and Arthur McClure had honorable mention. The occasion was the meeting of the Literary Society, at which there was a lively debate on "Resolved that the automobile has done more good than harm". The affirmative won, although the negative gave some good reasoning.

DISCOVERED BY DOCTOR

Was Pioneer in Introducing Tobacco in Europe.

Every man who smokes owes a debt of gratitude to Francisco Fernandes. The commencement of the use of tobacco by civilized people has been traced back to its introduction in Europe by that celebrated physician. Fernandes was sent by King Philip, Second of Spain to investigate the products of Mexico. As a result of his exploration Francisco Fernandes took the tobacco plant to Europe in 1558, for the first time on record. The use of tobacco in England dates from 1586 and the name of Sir Walter Raleigh is associated with its introduction there.

At first the plant was supposed to possess wonderful curative healing powers, and the poet Spencer called it "divine tobacco". Millions of people since those days have realized that tobacco is "a sweetener" of their life and a great equalizer of the temper.

CHEVROLET MEN HOLD MEETING.

Representatives of Dealers From Surrounding Country Hear Officials From Oshawa on New Service Programme.

Mr. Ross MacKinnon, General Sales Manager for Canada with the Chevrolet Motor Car Company, was chief speaker at the luncheon held at Hotel Quinte, Belleville, on Feb. 21st and 22nd, and which was attended by dealers, salesmen and mechanics of that city and surrounding territory, who were in convention on Thursday and Friday. The convention proper, known as the Chevrolet Sales and Service Convention was held at John T. Warren's Front Street Garage. MacKinnon's address was on "The Chevrolet position in the automobile field".

The purpose of the convention is to show dealers and their mechanics the uses of the latest pieces of garage equipment, and to talk over sales and service problems. The aim of the convention is to have dealers' garages well equipped with time saving tools in order to provide economical transportation and maintenance to Chevrolet owners. Canada is completely covered by similar conventions with the hope of ultimely and gradually raising the standards of service over the entire field.

Thursday afternoon's business consisted of a sales'-conference under the direction of Ross MacKinnon, assisted by C. T. Bateman and W. J. Mullen, sales representative on this territory, also I. A. Hull of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

Tool equipment was supplied by Bennett & Elliott Co. of Toronto, and Prest o' Lite Co. of Canada and the demonstration of equipment and service work was under the direction of H. Rutter, F. M. Gould and R. J. Cordick from Chevrolet Motors Co. at Oshawa.

A banquet was held at Hotel Quinte, at which E. E. Everson, Service Manager for Canada, presided, and where several dealers gave interesting addresses. Solos were rendered by Reg. Wiseman, son of C. A. Wiseman, Chevrolet dealer at Napanee. Mr. Wiseman is a pupil of Professor Anglin.

Dealers, mechanics and salesmen present were :

Belleville—John T. Warren, Albert Paradise, O. D. Clapp, F. H. Griffin, W. S. Gerow.

Kingston—George Bawden, J. P. Clark, Jack Bawden, J. R. Hamilton.

Napanee—C. A. Wiseman, H. J. McNeely. G. D. Robson, N. Richardson.

WEDDING BELLS.

Lyons—Kehoe.

On Wednesday morning, Jan. 30th, in the Church of the Annunciata, Rev. J. J. Farrel united in marriage Marguerite Veronica Kehoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kehoe, of Enterprise and Andrew Lyons. The bride was handsomely gowned in her suit of navy broadcloth trimmed with Hudson seal collar. With it she wore a white crepe-de-chene blouse beautifully beaded and a grey silk taffeta hat. Miss Mary Hunt, of Desoronto, first cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid. She wore a navy suit of tricotine. Mr. Joseph Kehoe, brother of the bride, was best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet set with diamonds; to the bridesmaid, a fancy brooch; to the best man a set of gold cuff links; to the organist, Miss Eileen Dillon, a gold chain.

After the ceremony the happy couple received the good wishes of their friends, then they returned to the home of the bride, where an elaborate dinner awaited them. Miss Mary Shean, sponcer of the bride, donated her with her wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lyons received many expensive and useful gifts, showing the popularity of the young couple.

THE NEWSPAPER MAN IN CHURCH.

A preacher, at the close of one of his sermons, said: "Let all of the business men paying their debts house with me." Presently every man, woman and child arose with one exception, a man and emphatically rose to their feet.

The preacher seated them and said: "Now, that every man not paying debts will stand up." The exception, including a newspaper-looking individual, clutched at the last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend?" asked the minister, "that you are the only one not able to meet his obligations?"

"I run a newspaper," he answered meekly, "and the brethern here who weekly, and the brethern here who weekly, and the brethern here who weekly,

Why Plant Trees?

Trees add value to property.

Trees cool the air in summer and radiate warmth in winter.

Trees help keep the air pure for man and the lower animals.

Trees provide homes for thousands of birds that help man in his fight against injurious insects.

Trees provide homes for many animals that are useful to man for food and clothing.

Trees help man in his fight for better sanitation.

Trees supply a large part of all the fuel in the world.

Trees give us wood, and wood provides us with building material, furniture, implements, utensils, tools, and other useful things in great variety.

Trees provide one of the most striking and permanent forms of beauty.

Trees improve the climate and conserve soil and water.

Trees provide a great variety of miscellaneous, useful products.—The Maritime Farmer.

Mother's prescription

JOHNNY is taking a prescription. His careful mother —the family health doctor—ordered it. Her daily ounce of prevention—Lifebuoy Soap—works wonders in combating disease.

Every day your children touch dirty objects and cover themselves with germ-laden dirt. Give them Lifebuoy —the health soap.

Lifebuoy protects

The rich creamy lather of Lifebuoy carries a wonderful health element deep down into every pore. The skin is completely purified, and cleansed—delightfully stimulated.

She Could Not Do Her House Work

Mrs. E. Ouellet Tells of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Sends a Message of Cheer to the Thousands of Canadian Women Who Carry a Load of Pain and Weariness Through Their Daily Work.

St. Andre de Kamouraska, P.Q., March 8rd, (Special)—"I have suffered terribly for several years from bad kidneys and indigestion. I was so weak that I was not able to do my housework. After taking some Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt better and the pains in my kidneys have disappeared. I recommend them to all weak women."

Mrs. E. Ouellet, who lives here, makes the above statement. She feels that she owes it to other sufferers to tell them how she found relief.

Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that the great majority are women. The reason given for this is that the great majority of women's ills come from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Healing and strengthening them, they enable the kidneys to strain all the impurities out of the blood.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"Abe, yen you pay me dot visit you owe me?"

"Shafe me gracious, haven't you heardt dot news?"

"Vot news?"

"I failed yesterday and gant pay noddings."

"Did you ever try to stop bootlegging in Crimson Gulch?"

"No," declared Cactus Joe. "The local undertaker has such a political pull we're afraid to interfere with his business."

Mothers can easily know when their children are troubled with worms, and they lose no time in applying a reliable remedy—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

"So the people next door to you are always bragging about their ancestors."

"Yes; from the way they talk you would almost think they had selected them themselves."

"And now," began counsel, well known for his use of legal phraseology, in his cross-examination of a witness, "I take it that in view of the enforcement of this wages award you were given notice that your agreement would be terminated?"

"If you mean I was given the sack, that's right," said witness.

Many children die from the assaults of worms, and the first care of mothers should be to see that their infants are free from these pests. A vermifuge that can be depended on is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only expel worms from the system, but act as a health-giving medicine and a remedy for many of the ailments that beset infants, enfeebling them and endangering their lives.

IN MEMORIAM.

She left us as the summer birds
Leave when the wintry air
Brings terror to their little breasts—
And left us lonely here.
She faded as the flowers fade,
To bloom again once more,
Where sorrow never will be known—
On that etrnal shore.

In loving memory of Vera (Richardson) Callaghan, who departed from us March 6th, 1922.

—Father, Sister Tena
10sp and Brother Leslie.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear Father, Hugh Knight, who passed away on March 2nd, 1923.

10sp —The Family.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of David James Thompson, who departed this life on March 6th, 1922.

Sadly missed by Wife and Family.
Just two years are past and gone,
Since God took our loved one home;
Forget him, no, we never will,
We loved him then, we love him still.
10sp

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. William Walker, who departed this life on March 8th, 1921.

A soul passed out its way to Heaven,
And all the earth was never again so bright,
For the soul that had left its place that night.
Ever remembered by Husband and Family.
10a

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Flossie B. Young, who departed this life March 5th, 1922.

Deep in our hearts lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest;
In memory's frame we shall keep her
For she was one of the best.
Our lips cannot speak how we loved her,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God only knows how we miss her,
As we travel through life's rough way.
10ap —Parents and Brother.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Margaret Ethel Pringle, who died February 15th, 1924, aged 26 years, 3 months and 16 days.

Her weary hours and days of pain,
Her restless nights are past;
Her ever weary worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
The blow was great, the shock severe
We little thought her death so near;
Only those who have had can tell
The pain of parting, to bid farewell.
This day brings back to memory
A loved one laid to rest,
And those who think of her to-day,
Are those who loved her best.

Left to mourn her loss are husband, and daughter of 6 years; father, mother, three sisters and two brothers.

ANDERSON

The Anderson Dramatic Club gave their play, "Farm Folks", in the Anderson Church on Friday evening to an audience that completely filled the church. The different members of the caste played their individual parts fine, and, although humorous at times, it taught many good lessons. The orchestra from Napanee filled in between acts. The same play will be given again this (Friday) evening in the church for the benefit of those who were unable to attend and who wish to see it over again.—A number from around here attended the anniversary services at Trinity Church on Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Hambly spent the week-end in Napanee and attended the services in Trinity church on Sunday and the concert and tea on Monday evening.—Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnston spent Monday at Bath.

"THE SEASON'S CHOICE MATERIALS AND SHAPES ARE UNIQUELY UTILIZED AT ROBINSON'S

Artistic lines certainly make artistic hats. You'll find that our hats possess those smart attractive lines that are most pleasing.

Choosing our requirements at the best places, gives us positive assurance, we know that the style lines of our hats are not only authentic but are extremely fashionable.

The "reign" of the "Cloche" is being enthusiastically prolonged; hats measure their smartness by their smallness. Crowns reach unexpected heights, while brims turn off the face.

Exquisite hand-made garnitures, lovely flowers, novelty pins and ribbons create a wide variety of beautiful trimmings.

Our present showing embraces a wide variety of Ready-to-wears, Sport Models, Sailors, Hand-mades, and exquisite patterns.

The leading colors are well represented.

HARVEY TAILORED UNDERWEAR FOR EARLY SPRING WEAR

The new lines in Harvey Combinations are specially designed for the discriminating woman. Each garment is tailored to fit, not stretched. The seat and underarm are reinforced with an added thickness of material that adds to the life of the garment. The lines of the bodice are designed to combine beauty and comfort. The double shoulder strap is an added extra feature that contributes greatly to comfort. This keeps the strap in position over the shoulder.

Harvey Tailored Combinations are the only open combinations that will stay completely closed, and each garment comes in size to fit every figure.

Harvey Combinations in white combed Egyptian Cotton, in long sleeves, ankle length, short sleeves, ankle length, short and no sleeves, knee length. Prices range $2.50 to $2.95 each.

Harvey Bloomers, in medium weight, Egyptian Cotton, elastic at waist and knee. Price $1.00 pair.

Harvey Vests in medium weight cotton, long and elbow sleeves, V neck. Price $1.50 and $1.65 each.

Harvey Vests in mercerized lisle, plain lisle, with round neck or opera top, and tailored straps over shoulder. Prices range $1.50, $1.25 and 75c. each.

STYLE TRADE-WINDS FAVOR SUITS

Silhouettes Are Divided Three Ways,—"The Tailored", "The Box", "The Boyish Form"

From New York, the greatest Fashion Centre on this continent, comes the word, "That Suits are taking the country by storm".

The larger Canadian cities follow in the wake of New York's fashions. We have a firm conviction that Suits will be very popular in Napanee and vicinity.

Three distinct Silhouettes stand out in bold relief for Spring,—"The Tailored", more severe than ever; "The Box", in characteristic smartness; "The Boyish Form", is the last word Our Suits are manufactured from thoroughly reliable materials, many of which have crossed the ocean. Navy Blue, Black, Sand, Grey and Tweed effects are leading shades.

Priced from $22.50 to $59.50.

PASSED BEYOND."

On Monday morning, February 11th, 1924, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stuart L. Daly, there passed peacefully away the spirit of Hulda B. Yeomans-Churchill, widow of the late Mortimer Cromwell Bogart, of Adolphustown.

The deceased was the youngest daughter of the late Levius Churchill, Esq., of Fairfield, who was of English descent, the family being members of the Society of Friends.

She was educated at Whitby Grammar School and a select Lady School at Pickering. After her marriage to Bogart homestead on Hay Bay, bringing her melodeon with her, which was the first musical instrument in the neighborhood. Her charming old songs and her music were always in demand. Later, she was for some time organist at the church at Gosport.

Mrs. Bogart was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends, and was by many years a faithful member of the Methodist Church. She was Treasurer of the W. M. S. of Trinity Church for several years after coming to Napanee.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, February 13th, conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. R. Tanton, assisted by Dr. Shorey, an old family friend. A quartette, "That Beautiful Land", was sung by members of the Choir.

Many beautiful floral offerings adorned the casket, which was borne by sons.

Friends from a distance were two nephews, Mr. W. V. Cornell, of Pickering, and Mr. C. S. W. Scott, of Newmarket.

The expression of sympathy for a bereaved family is fittingly conveyed by a floral offering. Designs suitable for such occasions may be procured on short notice from Wallace's Drug Store, agents for Canada's largest wholesale and retail florists.

Improved, Enlarged, and Re-organized Plant Produces Artistic, Modern Furniture by Latest Methods

The days are gone when a Chippendale, a Robert and James Adam, a Hepplewaite, or a Sheraton can create a vogue in furniture design that will dominate a whole period. This, of course, is due to the ease with which the modern designer is able to interchange his ideas with those of others in the same business. Changes today are largely adaptations of existing designs to a changed demand, or the alterations in detail rather than in any great and broad or sweeping changes. And yet the modern designer has succeeded to a remarkable degree in putting imagination, beauty and poetry into the furniture which is commonly used by the householder of the present day, and this in spite of the fact that most of the work is done by machinery.

No one who has not had the privilege and opportunity of a trip through a modern furniture factory can at all appreciate the care and specialized labor and machinery which are used in order to get into permanent and enduring form the ideas of the designer.

The Gibbard factory in Napanee is one of the best equipped for this purpose of all the factories in Ontario. About a year ago, in order the better to compete with the demands of the exacting market, a reorganization of the existing plant was undertaken, and only recently has that reorganization been completed. During all the time that these changes have been in progress it is interesting to note that not only did production not fall below what it had previously been, but that it increased considerably. This was in face of an adverse market condition and when most of the other furniture factories in Ontario were either running part time or were shut down altogether.

The reorganization consisted of two parts, that in connection with administration, and that which was concerned with production. As it now exists the Gibbard Furniture Company is a Limited Company, with Mr. George Gibbard, the President; Mr. J. H. Moffat, Secretary-Treasurer, and Mr. J. McPherson, Vice-President. Besides holding these executive positions, Mr. Gibbard is General Manager, Mr. Moffat is Designer and Factory Superintendent, and Mr. McPherson the Sales Manager. It is now being arranged that under certain conditions the various workmen in the factory can take stock in the company.

Altogether at the present time there are one hundred and twenty men on the pay roll, and last year these men received in wages approximately one hundred thousand dollars. The men work a nine-hour day and are insured in two insurance companies entirely at the expense of the firm. So, that, if an employee dies, whether in the factory or not, and quite irrespective of any remuneration or compensation from the government, his survivors receive a premium from both companies. The amount paid to the survivors is graded according to length of service, beginning at five hundred dollars in each company in the case of the man who has been in the employ for three months, up to a thousand dollars in each of two companies in the case of the men who have been in the factory for at least four years. This and other considerations for the welfare of the men have given them a direct interest in their work, so that labor troubles are an unknown quantity in the local factory. As an indication of the fine spirit existing between employer and employee it is interesting to note that Mr. H. E. Loucks has been with the firm for fifty-one years and Mr. Wm. Norris for forty-seven years, while twenty others have been with the Gibbard Company twenty years or longer. These men watched the growth of furniture manufacture from the time all the work was done by hand, with a jack plane and chisel as main tools, until its present high state of efficiency.

The other branch of reorganization, which had to do with production, is of more interest to the casual visitor, and it was this that particularly interested the representative of THE BEAVER, who was so kindly shown through the plant by the Superintendent.

He took me first to the yard where I was shown the black and dirty looking boards which were about to begin their long and arduous journey through the plant, to be subjected to the terrific heat of the kilns, torn and mangled by the planers, rubbed and scrubbed by the sanders, slashed and cut by the saws and moulders, only to emerge in the finely polished and artistically constructed chair, or buffet or table. But this is to anticipate.

The walnut wood, of which most of the Gibbard furniture is made, comes from Iowa, Indiana, or Kentucky, while the mahogany is imported from Africa. Loaded onto a truck it is placed in a kiln, where it is subjected to a steam spray for twelve hours, until every pore and fibre is thoroughly permeated by the water. It is then heated by an intense heat of a certain moisture density, and thoroughly dried from the inside out. This takes about twelve days. And then without leaving the truck it is brought to an automatic elevator, which by a touch of a button can be raised or lowered at the convenience of the workmen who cuts the boards into sizes which will get the most out of the lumber. And though every effort is made to economize, the guide told me that there is a loss of approximately forty per cent. of this valuable material.

From this machine the boards, now of various sizes, are taken to the buzz planers and roughing planers, where they are straightened. From there they go to an endless belt joiner where the edges are tongued and grooved to prepare them for being built up into varying widths to suit the demands of the trade. Some of the pieces go over to the clamping machine, which is a sort of Ferris wheel. The pieces to be glued are placed in the machine and clamped to the shelves of the machine. A complete revolution of the wheel in all that is necessary to dry the glue and permit the removal of the pieces to be machined.

At this point the journey of the wood through the factory diverges, some pieces to the band saw, to be sawn into the desired scrolls and shapes, and goes to the motor-driven shaper to be given a different contour, to the motor-driven moulder, which if necessary will mould or plane four sides at once. Some, too, is taken to the automatic turning lathe which is capable of turning pieces any desired shape, round, oval, or even square. In this department is housed a machine known as a double end tenoner, which cuts tenons and grooves in the ends of pieces of wood at the same time. Not only that, but it will give almost any shape to the groove that one can imagine. A transverse section of one of these grooves, or a duplicate of the complex notches in a door key, while others are of the regular dove tail sort.

The sanders form an attractive and essential part of the process, which come into action at this stage of the journey. The sanding machines are of different kinds, but the general principle is that of a long sand paper belt running over pulleys. The wood to be polished is held to it at the proper pressure to produce the maximum of smoothness. In the sanding department are housed the hand machines, which can here quickly and accurately any number of desired holes. One of the machines was performing what to the uninitiated seemed the impossible, it was boring square holes. A new interesting little machine was busy here. It is an electric liner, which cuts the fine lines which are a prominent feature of all well designed furniture. It is a great labor saver I was told, as prior to its installation the lines had all to be carved by hand by highly skilled artisans.

From this room we went to the assembly room. Here pieces of every kind and shape were piled ready on trucks or moveable racks. The process of assembly resembled nothing so much as the puzzle-block game of our childhood, but dexterous hands brought the pieces together, and gently tapping them into place fastened all securely driven by an electric screw driver. And there arose as if by magic, chairs, buffets, tables, and other articles of beauty and utility.

Leaving here they are taken to the finishing room, where they are stained, shellacked and varnished. Here, too, labor saving devices have been installed, and a piece is put on a hook from which it is emitted a fine spray of compressed air and varnish, does in three minutes, what formerly took about half an hour to perform.

Then on to the journey over. The varnish has to be dried. And in order to do this all articles are placed in a large kiln, which is kept at a temperature of about a hundred degrees Fahrenheit. They remain in the kiln for about twenty-four hours, and are then transferred to the polishing and rubbing room. Here the first sight of the furniture is disappointing. It seems to have been ruined by a white gritty substance. This, however, turns out to be pomice and water. It is rubbed by an automatic rubber—a funny little machine—which acts with a sort of jump, and at the same time, under the direction of an operator, rubs the pomice over the surface to be finished. This done the article goes to the polisher who extracts all traces of the pomice and puts the final touches to the fine glossy surface of the table or buffet as the case might be.

Slipping down a long chute from the stock room, they are brought to the trimming department, where glass is put in cabinets, mirrors inserted, castors adjusted, door pulls put on, and all those little extras completed which add to the utility and appearance of the furniture. Here is the screw-driven sewing machine in use, manufacturing asbestos mats, as table covers. And an upholsterer is busy upholstering chair seats and backs, with real leather. These operations over a piece of furniture is finally inspected, a guarantee tag attached, and the whole carefully wrapped and crated. A motor truck is ready waiting under cover to be loaded. And off they go to the great centres of the province for distribution.

One would fain follow them further, to the show rooms of the great city stores, the tables to some brilliantly lighted dinner party, and the chairs to some equally dimly lighted cozy corner. But over all that let us draw a kindly veil.

There are several impressions a visitor receives as he goes through the Gibbard factory. One is the comparative absence of dust. My escort explained that practically all the dust was removed by suction fans attached to each machine. Another is the arrangements which are made for the welfare and comfort of the men. The plant was warm and comfortable at every point. This is obtained by a new heating system. By it, hot air warmed by steam pipes is blown by fans through the whole plant. About one hundred and fifty tons of coal are used per year for this purpose, besides all the waste lumber from the factory operations.

Another feature of interest is a newly installed sprinkling system. The installation cost in the neighborhood of ten thousand dollars. But by it great economies in insurance rates has been effected. The principle is this. If the temperature should rise above a certain point in any part of the factory that part would at once be sprinkled with water under pressure. Ceiling, floors and walls are included in the system. This at once reduces the risk from fire.

Altogether the alterations and improvements which have been made to bring the Gibbard plant up to date and to enable it to do its work efficiently and economically is in the neighborhood of seventy-five thousand dollars. To house all the new machinery it was necessary to increase the floor space of the factory by about a third. The power for the plant is derived partly from a local water wheel. The balance is supplied by the Hydro Electric Commission.

Napanee is fortunate indeed to be the home of such a progressive organization which spends so liberally, and provides an occupation for such a large part of the populace.

A GOOD YEAR

Earnings of The Standard Bank of Canada Satisfactory—Large Holdings of Government Securities.

The Forty-Ninth Annual Statement of The Standard Bank of Canada, which was presented to the shareholders at the annual meeting held at the head office of the Bank in the City of Toronto on Wednesday, February 27th, was accepted by the shareholders as highly satisfactory.

A review of the figures shows that the earnings have been well maintained and that the Bank's liquid position has improved considerably during the past twelve months.

The profit for the year stand at $695,004, which, together with a balance of $160,567 carried forward from the previous year, makes available for distribution $855,661.

After paying quarterly dividends during the year amounting to $520,000; reserving for Dominion Income Tax $55,000; applying $40,000 to War Tax on circulation, and making a contribution of $25,000 to the Officers' Pension Fund, a balance of $215,661 is carried forward. This is an increase of $55,000 over the amount carried forward a year ago.

It has been evident to the business community in Canada that the past twelve months has been hesitant and uncertain. It therefore, reflects very creditably on the management that under these conditions such an excellent statement has been produced.

Liquidity is an outstanding feature of the statement, as the liquid assets are at a higher figure than at January 31st, 1923, in fact cash assets are $15,253,411, or 24.3 per cent. of the Bank's liabilities to the public, and liquid assets have reached the considerable figure of $29,218,972, or 46.8 per cent. of liabilities to the public. The Bank's holdings of Dominion and Provincial and school districts are $1,500,000.

The Bank's capital remains at $4,000,000, with a balance at its credit of Reserve Fund of $2,750,000.

Sponge Farming.

Sponges are so essential to the daily toilet of so many people, that they now have to be sown like other plants. Modern use for the best sponges came from the Mediterranean, the Red Sea, Barbary, and the coasts of Turkey in Asia. Fresh sponges look rather like meat when they are brought up, and are covered with a thin skin, in which little holes appear and disappear, apparently at the will of the animal. The interior of the sponge, very much like raw meat, is broken by numerous canals and hollows, which are filled with a viscous grey liquid known as "the animal matter." This "milk" must be pressed out at once, for it is the only part of the animal which holds real life. If it remains in the sponge the elasticity is speedily lost.

The original sponge fields have been practically exhausted, and are now artificially extended. Sponges are cut in little pieces, attached by means of wire to little pieces of cement, and lowered to the bed of the sea. After a period of about two years the sponge has grown to the usual commercial size; it is brought up and a fresh "seed" put in its place.

Different varieties of sponge grow at a different rate, and some need ten years to reach maturity.

Syrup from Sweet Potatoes.

Government experts are endeavoring to interest people in a plan to make a fine brown and highly palatable syrup out of sweet potatoes. They are said to be a great possibility, commercially, in this syrup, for it fit realizes the commercial aspect that are imitations of cane syrup. Plants are to be established throughout the Southern States where the sweet potato grows most abundantly, and it is thought that hundreds of bushels of small, undersized, unmarketable sweet potatoes can be used for syrup purposes. Heretofore they have been discarded as waste, or ploughed in to help fertilize the ground.

A Lobster's Walk.

Proof that a lobster is capable of travelling at least a mile a day under water has been established by a record of a certain lobster kept by the State Board of Fisheries and Game, Connecticut. In connection with its work of advancing the fishing and lobster industry in Long Island Sound the Board has undertaken to tag every ripe egg-bearing lobster released by its agents. A lobster released in Palmer's Grove, Noank, on July 14 was caught by Robert Hale on Watch Hill Reef, nine miles away, on July 23.

At the Gates.

An old negro, who lives near a small town, was asked about what denomination he belonged to. His answer was something like this:

"Bless you, chile, it's dis way. There are three roads leading from here to this town—a straight road, a road that goes round in a sort of circle, and a road that goes round in a half circle. When I go there with a load of grain, they don't say, 'Uncle Moze, what road did you come by?' but 'Is your wheat good?'"

OXO CUBES

WAS A FAKE.

Cures Were Only Result of Imagination.

Dr. Elisha Perkins was a devoted hard-working physician of Norwich, Conn. In 1796 he became convinced that he had observed striking beneficial results when the affected parts of patients were touched by certain metals. Accordingly, he found several metals and made a pair of short rods, tapering to a blunt point. They contained a little gold. With these he "stroked" his patients.

The curative results were amazing. "Tractoration" became the fad of the hour. "Pains in the head, face, teeth, breast, side, stomach, back, rheumatism and all joint and muscle pains" were cured by the tractors according to Dr. Perkins' announcement. The best straightened up and walked erect. All maladies yielded to twenty minutes' downward stroking with the magic tractors. Patents were taken out in both the United States and England. They were supplied to clergymen free; other professional men paid $25 a pair for them, while the price to the less fortunate was $50.

Perkins became famous; he had proved himself a benefactor of mankind, and his fortune was made. A magnificent hospital, called the Perkinsean Institution, was erected in London. Lord Rivers was president and Sir William Barker, vice-president. Perkins' son was in charge, and at the end of three years he published the details of 5,000 cases treated there, although it was estimated that fully 2,500,000 persons had been "cured" in all by the tractors.

Finally, some hard-headed English doctors proceeded to test their theory that the cures were the work of the imagination. They made some "tractors" of wood, painted them to look like the Perkins invention, obtained the same results from using them, published these—and the bottom promptly fell out of the tractor market.

The "cure" went the way of all baseless "cures" that had had their day and failed.

Many Uses for Seaweed.

It is generally known that certain seaweeds are used for food, but the making of dye from seaweed is a new discovery due to the war.

A beautiful green dye is obtained from a seaweed found on the Welsh coast, and stuff dyed with it was shown at a recent meeting of the Welsh Industries Association.

A Japanese seaweed known as "Jujamo" provides a fibre which can be spun and woven exactly like cotton. The weed is first boiled in an alkaline solution, and afterwards bleached. The weed being a perennial one, the discovery may prove very valuable.

Chinese doctors have been successful in curing certain skin diseases with extracts from seaweeds. Experiments in this direction are now being carried out in Paris and other European towns.

An excellent size is prepared from seaweed, which is used largely for sizing string. All the best office string made in English prisons is sized with this preparation.

For packing purposes, seaweed is being used in continually increasing quantities. Seaweed, when dried, is extraordinarily light and elastic, and admirably adapted for packing delicate china and works of art.

During the war, when Venice was being bombed by Germans and Austrians, the masterpieces of painting and sculpture which could not be removed were protected by bags of seaweed. Tons were used in the safeguarding of St. Mark's Cathedral.

First Women Actuaries.

Yet another profession which has hitherto been regarded as exclusive to men has now received women into its membership. Recently two girls, Miss Gladys Gregory and Miss Dorothy Davis, of London, England, passed the examinations of the Institute of Actuaries, which has only been open to women for the last three and a half years. The examination is perhaps the stiffest possible test in mathematics, and the success of the two young women, the elder of whom is only twenty-six, has caused some surprise in the insurance world. They are the first women to become qualified actuaries and members of the Institute of Actuaries. Miss Gregory, who is now employed by the Prudential Assurance Company, was first a teacher. Her examination papers are said to have been faultless and to have considerably surprised the examiners. Miss Davis, who is in the Guardian Assurance Company, is a graduate of Newnham College, Cambridge. Both girls are at present the heroines of their respective offices.

Ancient Cure Revived.

A Parisian doctor announces that he has discovered that a patient suffering from smallpox will recover more rapidly if red rays of light fall upon the patient and that exposure to ordinary sunlight with make the sufferer worse. This is very interesting in view of the fact that in the fourteenth century a popular method of treating smallpox was to isolate the patient and hang red curtains about him. It was thought that there was something malignant about the red rays in such diseases. Modern science later declared that this was more of a preposterous superstition than a well-founded cure.

Electric Wine.

A French inventor claims that he can age wine electrically. The method is simple. Now a bottle of ordinary Burgundy or any new wine and place it in an electrostatic belt of from 50,000 to 120,000 volts, leave it there for a minute or two, according to the "age" you desire, take it out, pull the cork—and there you have it. It is claimed that this swift method produces an old wine, lacking neither the color, bouquet, or that "indefinable smoothness" of wine that has been carefully kept in cellars for years.

BY-LAW NO. 319.

A By-law appointing a Road Overseer for the Township of Adolphustown, in the County of Lennox.

Whereas it is desirable that the laying out and supervision of all work and expenditure upon improvement and maintenance of roads within the exclusive jurisdiction of this township, should be under the supervision of a road overseer, acting under the direction of this Council;

And whereas it is the desire of this Council to take advantage of The Ontario Highways Act, 1915, and to receive the Government grant as provided in Section 11, Sub-section (1) of the said Act.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the said Township of Adolphustown, and it is hereby enacted.

1. That J. S. Johnson, Derby Hill Road, is appointed Road Overseer in the said Township to act as aforesaid in accordance with the provisions of the said Section 11 of the said Act from the 23rd day of February, 1924, and during the pleasure of the said Council.

2. That the said J. S. Johnson shall be paid at the rate of no salary for such time as he may be so employed.

3. That it shall be the duty of the overseer to lay out and supervise all work and expenditure on roads within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Township Council, and to conform to such general regulations as the Department of Public Highways may prescribe.

4. That all by-laws or parts thereby and all or any resolutions of said Council contrary hereto or inconsistent herewith, be, and the same are hereby repealed.

5. That a certified copy of this By-law be forwarded by the Clerk, without delay to the Deputy Minister, Department of Public Highways, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Read a third time and passed this 23rd day of February, 1924.

J. S. JOHNSON, Reeve. A. C. DAVIS, Clerk.

BY-LAW NO. 320.

A By-law to provide for expenditure on roads in the Township of Adolphustown, during the year 1924.

Whereas the regulations of the Department of Public Highways of Ontario require that the expenditure of Provincial Aid under the Ontario Highways Act, and amendments thereto, shall be provided for annually by Township By-law,

Therefore the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Adolphustown enacts as follows:

(1) The sum of $1181.31 is hereby appropriated, from monies raised by taxation, for expenditure upon maintenance and repair on the roads in the said township during the year 1924.

(2) The said monies shall be expended under the direction of the duly appointed Township Road Superintendent.

(3) All work on which the said money shall be expended shall be performed in accordance with the last revised regulations respecting Township Roads issued by the Department of Public Highways of Ontario.

(4) The Clerk shall transmit two certified copies of this By-law to the Deputy Minister, Department of Public Highways of Ontario, within thirty days after the passing thereof.

Passed in Council, this 23rd day of February, A.D. 1924.

A. C. DAVIS, Clerk. J. S. JOHNSON, Reeve.

I, A. C. Davis, Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of Adolphustown, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a copy of By-law No. 320, passed by the Council of the said Corporation on the 23rd day of February, 1924.

A. C. DAVIS, Township Clerk.

BY-LAW NO. 321.

Being a By-law to appoint a Treasurer for the Township of Adolphustown.

Be it therefore enacted by the Council of the Township of Adolphustown, that R. M. Roblin, of the Township of Adolphustown, be, and is hereby appointed Treasurer of the said Township of Adolphustown, at a salary of $50.00 per annum, and that J. L. Haycock, Jr., and W. D. Roblin, both of the Township of Adolphustown, be, and are hereby accepted as bondsmen for same R. M. Roblin, as Treasurer, in the sum of $5000.00 each, and the said R. M. Roblin also to give bonds in like amount.

Passed in Council this 23rd day of February, 1924.

A. C. DAVIS, Clerk. J. S. JOHNSON, Reeve.

BY-LAW NO. 322.

A By-law to authorize the Head and Treasurer of the Corporation of the Township of Adolphustown to borrow certain sums to meet the now current expenditure.

Whereas the taxes levied for the current expenditure of the said Corporation for the year have not yet been collected, there being uncollected of such taxes a sum not less than the sum hereby authorized to be borrowed;

And whereas the sum of Three Thousand Dollars is required to meet the now current expenses of the said Corporation, and it is expedient to authorize the Head and Treasurer to borrow the said sum;

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Township of Adolphustown, as follows:

1. That the Head, with the Treasurer of the said Corporation be, and they are hereby authorized, under the seal of the Corporation to borrow from The Standard Bank of Canada, the sum of Three Thousand Dollars, required to meet the now current expenditure of the said Corporation.

2. That the said Head with the Treasurer aforesaid, be, and they are hereby authorized to pay or allow the said Bank interest on the said sum so borrowed at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

3. That a promissory note or notes convenant of agreement, sealed with the corporate seal, and signed on behalf of agreement, sealed with the corporate seal, and signed on behalf of the said Corporation, and said Bank as aforesaid as security for the repayment of the amount borrowed, with, interest thereon as aforesaid.

4. That The Standard Bank of Canada be, and is hereby appointed Banker of the Corporation and is hereby authorized to pay and honor all cheques and orders for the payment of money made, signed or drawn in the name of the said Corporation by the Treasurer, and further, to accept for deposit to the credit of the Corporation all cheques, drafts, notes, bills and other negotiable instruments endorsed in the name of the said Corporation by the Treasurer.

Passed in open Council this 23rd day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four.

A. C. DAVIS, Clerk. J. S. JOHNSON, Reeve.

Sunlight—for your Washing Machine

A WASHING machine is made to wash your clothes without rubbing or boiling — and it succeeds just in proportion to the value of the soap you use.

Sunlight Soap dissolves quickly and completely in hot water and works up into an abundant suds. This is very necessary so that its rich cleansing ingredients may search through and through the meshes of the clothes and dissolve the dirt and soil spots. Then, when rinsing comes, all dirt and soapy matter runs entirely away, leaving your clothes sweet, fresh and snowy clean.

Pare half a cake of Sunlight into hot water in your washing and stir into generous suds. Put in the clothes and operate the machine—your clothes will be clean.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED

The pure lather of Sunlight Soap cleanses the clothes naturally, nor chemically. The $5,000 Guarantee of Purity is stamped on every tablet of Sunlight Soap.

Address and Presentation

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Monday, Feb. 25th, at the home of Mr. Mack Burgess, on the Newburgh Road, when the neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook gathered together and presented them with an address and chair. The evening was spent in games and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Cook left for their new home in Forest Mills, on Wednesday.

The following address was read by Mr. C. Luther :

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Cook,—We, your friends and neighbours of the Newburgh Road and Strathcona, learning that you are about to move from our midst, thought it only right that we should gather to-night and express our sincere regret at your departure, and to wish you all success and happiness in your new home. We ask you to accept this chair as a remembrance of your friends and neighbours.

Signed on behalf of the community.

GEORGE TONER.
CECIL LUTHER.

Mr. Cook responded very ably, thanking their friends for their kindness, and extended a cordial invitation to one and all to visit them in their new home.

G. M. THOMAS.

SIZE OF SKULL INCREASES.

As Knowledge Advances Skull Is Enlarged.

There is a remarkable large proportion of the highbrows among American women, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, anthropologist of the Smithsonian Institute, declared in Washington recently that his measurements of the foreheads of over nineteen hundred men and women of American stock which has been in this country for from three to eight generations indicate that such is the case.

Taking the distance from the nasal depression to the hair line, he found that 9 per cent. of the males and 13 per cent. of the females had low foreheads. The greater percentage of lowbrows among women, Dr. Hrdlicka explained, is what is to be expected; as the female skull tends to develop less from its childhood characteristics. His figures further showed 88 per cent. of the males and 81 per cent. of the females had foreheads of medium height. Most surprising to the scientist, however, was the fact that 3 per cent. of the men had high foreheads, while 8 per cent. of the women showed this development. In other races, he said, the proportion of women to men is about equal.

Although the persons examined were from the relatively cultured classes, and perhaps among those with fewer cultural advantages the differences would not be so great, Dr. Hrdlicka said that these figures indicate that females in the country stand relatively high in the proportion of high foreheads developed. He attributed this to the educational advantages in the country.

The earlier Neanderthal cave men and earlier human, prehuman and anthropoid ape skulls, however, show increasingly marked differences in the development of the frontal region of the skull. There are also sex, racial and age differences in the height, slope, breadth and the bulge of foreheads in man to-day. The whites have the highest breadth of head, however, is misleading, he said. Proportion of head size to breadth must be taken into consideration.

Although the brain is largely responsible for the shape of the skull, there are individual variations resembling the primitive head shapes which are not due to low brain development.

Dr. Hrdlicka scored phrenologists' and so-called character readers' predictions.

An Oil That is Prized Everywhere.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over fifty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.

REIDVILLE

(For last week.)

How Reidville is surviving through the winter may well be judged from the item which appeared in the Reidville correspondence of last week. The weather continues cold, and the snow an unusual depth for an open winter.—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wilson made a flying trip to Kingsford. —Mr. F. C. Reid is busy hauling wood to town.—Mr. Elmer Hyland, who has lately purchased a gramophone, intends broadcasting some of his latest records over Mr. R. J. Wilson's new radio. A rare treat awaits those who have already had radios installed.—A number from here attended the party at Mr. James Milligan's, and report an excellent time.—All are pleased to see Mr. N. W. Reid out again, after his recent illness.—Mr. A. Fingland is busily engaged plowing roads.—Mr. Edmond Wilson has accepted a position as assistant cook in the lumber camp at Ballahac.—Mr. A. Reid spent Sunday evening last at Mr. R. J. Wilson's.—Mr. R. J. Wilson is busy hauling logs to the mill.—Mr. George MacLaren has accepted a position with the "Be Happy Orchestra".—Mr. J. H. Wilson has accepted a position as chairman on the Board of Directors for the Company Cheese Factory at Centreville.—Mr. A. Obleman has purchased Mr. Wilson's Baby Grand car.—Mr. Johnston Hannah went to Toronto on Tuesday last. —Miss Enid Fingland spent the week end under the parental roof.—Mr. James Reid spent one day recently in Enterprise.—Mr. C. J. Whalen had the misfortune to fracture his arm while cranking the motor lorry at Lena.—Mr. H. J. Fingland is delivering wood in town.—Mr. J. H. Wilson and Mr. Alex. Obleman spent Saturday evening in Tamworth.—Mr. John Lyman and Mr. James Reid were fortunate in capturing a live fox.—Mr. John Lyman and Mr. E. Wilson intend going in as partners trapping muskrats in the early spring.—Mr. L. Wagar spent Sunday evening at Dockrill.—What might have been a serious accident occurred when Mr. George Reid's team became frightened at a C. P. R. train and ran away.

An Oil for All Men.—The sailor, the soldier, the fisherman, the lumberman, the out-door laborer and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subdue lumbago and overcome incrustation, it is excellent. Therefore, it should have a place in all home medicines and be amongst those taken on a journey.

WALNUT GROVE

(For last week).

Sawing wood and shovelling snow is the order of the day.—Mr. D. F. Aylesworth made a flying trip to Napanee on Monday.—Our school is progressing favorably, under the able management of Miss Maxwell. —Mr. and Mrs. C. Morrow spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. W. Weese.—Mr. and Mrs. Claud Thompson visited at Mr. and Mrs. Arch Thompson's, on Sunday.—Miss Jessie Thompson, of Napanee Collegiate, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Ella Thompson.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buck at Mr. Miles Buck's on Sunday.—Mr. Wilson Buck spent Monday in town on business.—We are sorry to report the death of Mr. Jas. Cady, Sr., whose home is near Arden, and who passed away on February 9th. Mr. Cole came to visit his daughter, Mrs. Ella Thompson, and was taken ill soon after his arrival. Though Dr. Northmore, who was called to attend him, did not think his condition serious, he passed away after one week's illness. He was born in 1842, and lived most of his life in Sheffield. Deceased lived a few months last summer in this neighborhood, and was much liked and well respected by all who knew him. Those left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father, are his widow, Mrs. Alice Cade; two sons, Stanley, of Ernestown, and Will, of St. Catharines; and three daughters, Mrs. A. Robertson, of Kemson, N.Y.; Mrs. L. Godfrey, of Arden, and Mrs. Thompson, at whose home he passed away. All the members of the family were with him at his sad spirit fled. The sympathy of a host of friends goes out to the bereaved ones. What makes it more sad is that this is the fourth bereavement of the family in six months. The funeral was held at the house, on Sunday, February 16th, and was well attended by a large gathering of friends and neighbours. The remains were placed in the vault at Napanee to await interment in the spring.

WOMAN SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down state and always tired from the time I got up until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My sister recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it, but it was from my sister's advice that I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger. Headaches left me and my appetite came back to me. I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women."—Mrs LOUIS F. LESAGER, Hillcrest Farm, Webbwood, Ont.

Another Nervous Woman Finds Relief

Port Huron, Michigan.—"I suffered for two years with pains in my side, and if I worked very much I was nervous and just cried in the morning as when I went to bed. I was sleepy all the day and didn't feel like doing anything, and was so nervous I would bite my finger nails. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I soon felt fine."—Mrs. CHARLES BEDNARSKI, 501-14th St., Port Huron, Mich.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. C

Meeting of the W. C. T. U.

The February meeting of the Napanee Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in the Public Library on Thursday last Mrs. J. H. Thomson presiding. Mrs. J. H. McLaughlin led the devotional exercises, after which readings and talks on different departments of the temperance work was given. A resolution was passed that we, as a Union, appreciate the efforts of the Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney-General for Ontario, in the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act, and request the Ontario Government that it bring on no vote on the O. T. A., as we believe it is the best Temperance legislation in Canada.

Signs of Spring.

We have Spring with us again, and the usual signs. The housekeepers are brightening up the walls that were soiled during the winter. There are many changes in the papers this year, in colorings and patterns. At Henry's Bookstore they have a very large new stock, showing the new lines, and at prices that will stand the closest competition. They have also a large new stock of Window Shades, of the different qualities. Examine them and the prices before you buy. While you are at it, bring in those pictures you intend to get framed. They will show better on the wall than in the drawer. If you propose to have a plain wall finished with a nice border, they can show you a wide range of borders, at prices that will surprise you.

10a HENRY'S BOOKSTORE.

To the Live Stock Trade.

Messrs. Clair Russell, J. M. Ramsay and J. Ed. Harrison wish to announce that they will ship hogs and calves from Napanee and Newburgh each Tuesday until further notice, and from Roblin according as conditions will justify it, paying all the market will afford and continuing for the Canadian Packing Co., Montreal, the business as carried on by the late G. H. Williams, J. M. Ramsay and Clair Russell, and respectfully solicit a fair share of your patronage. It is not in the best interests of the farmer or dealer to ship hogs too light, or calves too young, and thus hogs should weigh 160 lbs. and over, 8c. to 4c. off for sows; calves from 4c. to 8c. according to quality. Cheques for Napanee shipments payable at Royal Bank. Messrs. Russell and Harrison will be in Napanee Saturdays, Mondays and Tuesdays.

Yours very truly,
CLAIR RUSSELL.

A HUGE OUTLAY

Gross additions to the plant of the Bell Telephone Company in 1923 amounted to $12,698,582.83. Of this amount, land and buildings cost $457,909.83, central office apparatus and subscribers' telephones to $4,668,478.06 and exchange and long distance lines to $4,626,785.88.

A huge capital outlay this ! The fact is that telephone service, local and long distance, is found so effective for the purposes of all classes of the community, that the demand increases out of all proportion to the growth in population. 10a

C. O. F. "AT HOME"

The Canadian Order of Foresters held their annual At Home in the Masonic Hall Tuesday evening. A large number of Foresters from town and vicinity were present, and spent a very enjoyable time. A delicious spread was partaken of by the many who attended, after which Mr. Allan Walters led in community singing. Mr. A. E. Paul acted as chairman, and the following programme was given:—Solo, Miss Norine Johnston, violin accompaniment by Miss Helen Masters, Fred LaSalle, Harry Seymour, Fred Barrett and Allan Walters; readers, Mr. J. G. Loucks, the audience. The soloists, who are well known in town and vicinity, were highly appreciated. Miss Norine Johnston, who possesses a wonderful voice for a girl of ten years, was applauded several times by people who were greatly surprised by the quality of the young lady's voice. Immediately after the program, a dance was enjoyed by all the music being furnished by Charlie Walters' Orchestra. The committee must be congratulated upon the wonderful success of this event.

The offer still holds good ! With each $1.00 spent at one time for Kodak work, an enlargement of any negative is given absolutely free. Bring your films to Wallace's Drug Store.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NAPANEE

The question has often been asked "why has Napanee not had 'An Old Boys' Reunion'"? Picton, Belleville, Kingston, and many surrounding towns and cities have had similar gatherings, and they have been very successful. I believe a Lennox and Addington Old Boys' Re-union could be made a great success at the time of our Fall Fair, Sept. 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th.

The Fair Association have contracted with The Happyland Midway, of Detroit. This is a 10-car Midway. This year the Fair has broadened out to a 4-days' fair, and the citizens should give every assistance to make it a success. The Napanee Driving Park and the Lennox Fair Association officials have worked faithfully to make these societies the success they are.

Our present Town Council, in conjunction with the Board of Trade, should take this matter up, and we believe they have the material to make the Old Boys' Re-union a decided success.

I trust the Council will take this matter up at once. They can make a success of it if they wish.

Yours truly,
J. L. BOYES,
Secty. Lennox Fair.

Bradshaw is spending a week with her parents at Sulphide.—Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Yarker, were in town on Monday last.

CONWAY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Owing to the disastrous fire which utterly destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spearing, the February meeting of the Conway Women's Institute at Mrs. Spearing's home, was held at Mrs. M. Shelton's. The usual business took place at this meeting, Mrs. Shelton winning the prize given for Weekly Competition. The remaining members were present to take part in this. A vote of twenty-five dollars was given by the Institute to help purchase bedding for Mrs. Spearing, who has been a faithful institute worker for some time.

The March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. Young, on Tuesday, March 11th. In spite of bad roads a goodly number of members turned out to show their interest in this live Institute and its work. Flowers were sent to a sick member in Kingston and a box to the Institute aims to cheer all the sick and suffering as much as possible. A good feed and the meetings is the reading of current events by Mrs. J. Young. Some fine papers were given by the ladies, wives have hardly time to read newspapers, and it also helps to brush up on memories of those who have read current events and forget easily. The Hospital Survey the roll call, which shows the membership increasing at every meeting. Then after a dainty lunch and the singing of the National Anthem, the members dispersed to their homes, with all need good wishes for each other and towards Conway Women's Institute.

HOCKEY

The Finals for the Cup.

The final games for the beautiful cup, emblematic of the championship of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League will take place between Kingston and Belleville, the first game being played at Kingston this (Friday) evening, and the second game at Belleville on Monday evening, March 17th.

Kingston 7, Napanee 4.

The Napanee team visited Kingston on Saturday evening to play their last scheduled game, and were defeated by a score of 7-4. Our boys had not the services of McNeill. The game was played at the Holt rink, the home of the K. H. G. The ice was very good, and a fairly fast game was witnessed by those who attended. The Kingston team had on the ice their strongest line-up of the season, the subs. being every bit as good as the regulars. For Napanee, the defence, especially Fenn, in goal, put up an excellent game.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, McCarthy; defence, Elliott, Angrove; right wing, Hillon; centre, Lanos; left wing, Watts; subs., Speer, Hardy.

Napanee—Goal, Fenn; defence, Spencer, McLaughlin; right wing, Dunham; centre, Hussey; left wing, Huffman; subs., Vanalstine (goal), Nanoles, Bourdon.

Referee—Ray Gilmour, Point Anne.

Kingston 3, Point Anne 1.

The game to break the tie and decide a winner for the second half schedule was played at Napanee on Wednesday evening, between Kingston and Point Anne, the former team getting the decision on a 3-1 score. A large crowd was present and witnessed an exceptionally fast and clean game of hockey. Considering the cold weather we have had during the past two weeks the ice was in fair condition, a little on the soft side as was to be expected. The Kingston management put their best available team on the ice, the same line-up as defeated Napanee in Kingston on Saturday evening, and they certainly had every one of them. McCarthy, in goal, played his best game of the season, and many times gave the home team a hard rub. Point Anne boys are sadly handicapped for want of ice on which to practice. Their rink, being an open one, has been closed out for over two weeks, and the team has had no place to work out on and keep in condition. In the first period they showed this lack of condition and practice very noticeably, but improved as the game progressed. Boland, in goal, has no superior in the league on defensive work, but our chief weakness is manifested when he showed very plainly Wednesday night in attempts to get familiar with his playing. The first goal that Kingston scored went over his head into the net, he was not able to see the long shot and checked his head to save a possible blow in the face.

The Kingston boys scored two goals in the first period and one in the third, while the Point Anne team secured their lone counter in the third.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, McCarthy; defence, Elliott, Angrove; right wing, Hillon; centre, Lanos; left wing, Watts; subs., Speer, Purdy.

Point Anne—Goal, Boland; defence, Tompkins, Marsole; right wing, Green; centre, Peters; left wing, Brunt; subs., Generous, Gaulin.

Referee—Stan Nurse, Belleville.

STRATHCONA

The snow is fast disappearing, and the roads in a bad condition. Although the mosquitoes and black flies have not made their appearance as yet, a few have ventured forth,—in sure harbinger of spring.—Mrs. W. Hall is visiting relatives in Toronto.—Miss C. R. Wilson has been quite sick with grip this week, and unable to perform her duties as school teacher in Camden East.—Mr. G. H. Parks has been experiencing very poor health of late, and his many friends hope for improvement.—The March meeting of the Mission Circle was held at the home of Mr. Geo. Finlay, on Wednesday evening. A helpful and interesting program was provided, and those who attended went home feeling that they had been well fed.—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Allen, Toronto, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Amey and Miss Hattie Amey spent the week-end with friends in Toronto.—Mrs. A. Carr entertained a number of friends on Thursday evening of last week.—Miss Lulu Asselstine, who is attending Sydenham High School, spent the week-end at her home.—Mrs. Ira Bedford and Mrs. R. Brooks are improving, after their recent illness.

The nice warm days and the sound of the frogs make us think that spring will soon be here.—Mr. Harris has moved in Albert Pearson's house for the summer.—Alfred Cassidy's home caught fire on Tuesday, and only for the timely assistance of friends, it would have been a total loss, as there was a strong wind blowing at the time.—The Friends intend holding three services on Sunday in the Brick Church. They will be conducted by Mr. Orvis, of Wooler, and Rev. Mr. Rogers. A cordial invitation is extended to all.—Also the regular service in the Methodist Church.—The sawing machines are busy these days.—We are glad to report the sick are getting better. —James Fisher has returned home, after spending last week at his old home and in Kingston.—We are glad to see the smiling face of Rose Cousins with us again, after spending the last two months in Toronto, attending the Hemphill Auto School.

YOU CANNOT JUDGE BY APPEARANCE

It is impossible to tell the quality of tea by the appearance of the leaf. A coarse, coarse, unevenly rolled tea may taste much better in the cup than a closely rolled, well tipped tea that LOOKS much finer. The only way to be sure of getting tea of reliable quality is to buy a tea like "SEALDAH," whose goodness and purity are guaranteed.

Smiles'n Chuckles Candy, or "Lullabys to the Palate" as they are called, have attained a tremendous sale in Canada—one Toronto store contracts for a ton a week. A fresh supply each week at Wallace's.

NEWBURGH

Two weeks ago we had something to say about books, and the duty and responsibility of those who select them for circulation. One can easily understand the difficulty of the task, those who undertake such a task. They cannot read all the books nor can they be gibbed by their titles nor by the advertisements of the publishers. In fact, it is a task that requires considerable preparation and study. It is a very good day to read reviewers' comments on new books. Most reviewers give a short synopsis of what the book contains, which gives some idea of its trend. To study these reviews and make a note of the books is a fairly safe way to select, although not always, sure, as some critics are guided more by the literary merits of a book than by its moral tone. If catalogues are read it should be carefully noted from where and by whom they are issued. This question of books is an important one and some heated discussions take place in different localities where Public Libraries are located. We may have something more to say on the question some time.

The hall being closed for over two years, the Newburgh bakery is opening for business again, under the management of Mr. Kenneth Tomkins. Mr. Tomkins has secured the services of an experienced baker, Mr. McKinnister, of Kingston, and we expect to produce the staff of life honest forth under our own eye.

An entertainment will be given in the S. S. room of Union Church on Monday, 17th March, at 7.30 p.m., at which Mr. Geo. A. Aylesworth will give a talk on "Ireland, Past and Present." There will also be a programme of music and other features. A light lunch will be served, and an enjoyable time is expected.

A very creditable Anglo-Canadian Temperance meeting was held on the 6th of this month in Union Church. This was probably a ladies' meeting and was well attended, every denomination in the village being well represented.

Mrs. Conway, who spent most of the time with her daughter, Mrs. Cane, in Toronto, is home again.

Mrs. Ellen Mc. Reade Tomkins and Mr. Kenneth Tomkins spent last week end visiting friends at Bath.

Mr. Ira Bedford is doing the village that the boys and girls who are attending the High School, and others, have a little too gay, and that instead of spending their time at their studies they are sent here to do, they are spending it on the streets and at other places which are of little benefit to them. It is but reasonable to expect that parents should exercise more care over their children or put them in charge of some one who would. Boys and girls when allowed to run loose are not inclined to be angels.

MOSCOW

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Albert Pearson, on March 6th. Mrs. J. A. Amey, President, presided, following a very interesting programme, a delightful buffet luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. F. Clark, Moscow. —Mr. Ivy Lapum is confined to the house by the grip.—On Friday evening, the factorette being the game of Miss Mildred Willis Allen spent Sunday with Mr. W. Potter's, Napanee. —Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bedford, of Napanee, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Huffman.—The Ladies' Auxiliary enjoyed a social meeting evening at the home of Mrs. E. Allen on Tuesday, March 11th.—On March 10th, Mr. and Mrs. W. Benn and Mr. and Mrs. Arley Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lapum attended the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Amey, Ont.—Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Amey and Miss Hattie Amey spent the week-end with friends in Toronto.—Mrs. A. Carr entertained a number of friends on Thursday evening of last week.—Miss Lulu Asselstine, who is attending Sydenham High School, spent the week-end at her home.—Mrs. Ira Bedford and Mrs. R. Brooks are improving, after their recent illness.

BETHANY

Our snow has nearly all disappeared, and while some roads are full of snow yet, it makes going very bad.—Forty-one journeyed to Gretna Sunday for the joint Sunday School session. Were you one of them? Another joint session on Sunday next at Bethany.—The boy pressers have been at Mr. James Wilson's, and while there one of the staff fell sick with measles. The patient was removed on Saturday, and so far there have been no more cases.—Mr. Thos. Hawley and Mr. Nile Pybus have purchased a new lumber recently, and Mr. Hawley is in the employment of Mr. W. A. Bullance.—Sunday School next Sunday at 2 p.m. Everybody come and surprise your teacher.

BOOTH'S MILLS

Mrs. Jas. Keech entertained on Monday evening.—Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Rumble, Green Point, were visitors in our neighborhood on Sunday last. Loads of logs are still being taken to the mill at Deseronto.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

The 22nd Annual Convention of Good Roads Association in Toronto on the 27th, 28th and 29th of February, was the most successful yet held. Delegates from every County in the Province attended the sessions, over 800 having registered.

Warden W. H. Milling was elected a member of the important committee on resolutions. He also acted as Auditor of accounts of the Association.

The officers elected are :

President—Hon. Geo. S. Henry, Minister of Public Highways.

1st Vice-President — Ex-Warden Major R. J. Hannah.

2nd Vice-President—J. E. Jamieson, M.P.P., Simcoe.

Secty.-Treas.—Major Thos. L. Kennedy.

Honors from the Association have come to this County in the election of Messrs. Milling and Hannah to important offices.

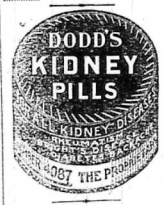
All the delegates from the County express high appreciation of the advantages of meeting so many practical road builders and discussing matters with each other. Premier Ferguson enunciated in plain, unvarnish ed language the intentions of his Cabinet regarding expenditures on Highways and his remarks received marked approval of these attending the Convention. Much valuable information was obtained by those in attendance. The present Government, judging from the Premier's remarks, intend to devote especial attention to Township roads.

WILTON SOFT BALL TEAM

The Muse Terpsichore apparently reigned supreme for the young ladies of the "Wilton Soft Ball Team" and their friends on Friday evenings, February 15th and 29th. On these nights Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Simmons opened their spacious home and welcomed the young people.

The 15th was the occasion of a jolly Valentine Dance. Trees ladened with varied silver and golden colored hearts, one for the ladies and one for the gentlemen, were placed in the living room. The guests advanced to their respective trees and chose their "heart's desire", and then the "proverbial" courting hearts gave each his partner for supper and continued festivities. Favours were received at supper,—colored heart hats, which altogether gave enthusiasm and delight, which even the different ice cream could not cool.

On both occasions dancing, games and radio music were enjoyed, until "hearts were content", and on bidding "adieu" every face mirrored that they realized that their heat and hostess held the key of true social talisman.



LAPUM

The weather at time of writing is very mild.—A number from here attended the Leap Year dance and box social held at Camden East, on February 29th.—All reported having had a pleasant evening.—Miss C. Bowman, Kingston, was the guest of Mrs. Boulton last week.—Mrs. H. Robinson spent a few days with relatives in Kingston.—Mr. and Mrs. F. Brown entertained to tea a few of their friends.—Mr. A. Boulton spent Tuesday with his brother, Sir. J. Boulton. —Miss A. Fields, Gretna, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. W. Lapum. —Miss Dean spent a few days visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Fields, Gretna. —Miss S. Simmons spent a few days with Mrs. W. Brown.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown were "at home" to a number of their friends one evening recently.

Making wash day pleasant—

Just use Rinso in the way you used to use fine soap—for soaking, boiling, or in your washing machine.

THE hardest part of wash-day, rubbing, soaking, rubbing, has given way to the new method of soaking the clothes clean with Rinso. This wonderful way is so gentle it goes through the clothes without harming the daintiest laces or linens, leaving them white and glistening as you never could get them before.

Only spots where the dirt is ground-in, such as cook pans, cuff edges, and the like, need a little rubbing, and a little Rinso rubbed on these spots will make the dirt disappear.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, March 9th, 1924, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Martin, Yarker, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, received many congratulations and best wishes from a wide circle of friends. Mr. Martin, who is in his 76th year, was born on the farm where he still resides and has always been in the Martin name since it was cleared from a wilderness, it being cleared and developed by Mr. Martin's grandfather. A remarkable feature is that Mr. Martin's father, Warner Aylesworth Martin, is now living with him on the homestead, making five generations to have lived there.

Mrs. Martin, who is in her 72nd year, was a daughter of John Lucas, Moscow, who were also early pioneers. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were married on March 9th, fifty years ago and have resided continuously where they now live. One son, S. O. Martin, Travelling Agent for Canadian National Express, headquarters at Moncton, N.B., is home for the occasion. An only daughter, Mrs. James Hogle, and son-in-law, Mr. Hogle, live at Bolton.

This event was celebrated by a dinner on Saturday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Martin were presented with a purse of gold, from their children, by their Pastor. Mr. Joslin Martin, Syracuse, N.Y., a brother, is still living and is in his 85th year. He visits the old homestead every year, but on account of weather conditions at this time was unable to be present. Mrs. Martin, widow of the late Wm. Martin, Ernestown, who was a bride, and elderly two years of age, also Mrs. Mercy Pringle, Napanee, who is a sister of Mrs. Martin, and eighty-three years of age, were present at the dinner. Mr. Joseph B. Lucas, Moscow, aged 87; Mr. Hiebner Lucas, New York, aged 76; and Mr. Cyrene Lucas, Selby, aged 74, are brothers of Mrs. Martin, while Mrs. Maud Sills, Mrs. Wm. Davidson, Mrs. Hannah Mish, Napanee, and Mrs. Dean Metcalf, Picton, are sisters.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Martin were at home to their friends, and many congratulations and good wishes were received from the numerous friends who took the opportunity of calling.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin are enjoying good health and enjoyed the event, especially the good wishes of their many friends.

Address and Presentation

On Friday evening, February 15th, about one hundred friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mark Pringle and presented Mr. and Mrs. Pringle and family with a purse of money, shortly before their departure to their new home in Selby. The evening was spent in music and social intercourse, after the following address and presentation was made.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Pringle, Hattie and Dorelle:—We, your friends and neighbours, knowing that you were about to leave us, thought we could not let you go without spending a social evening with you, and wishing you God speed also to show you in some way how we have appreciated your friendship as a and neighbourliness.

To you, Mr. Pringle, we can say that we have always found you ready to lend a helping hand to any one in need, and as we have watched your life from day to-day, have found you striving to live with a heart void of offence toward God and men.

To Mrs. Pringle, we might relate you when we gather in our dailies' Aid and W. M. S. meetings. We have found you a willing worker ready to do what you could in "the Master's Service" along these lines. And we hope you and Mr. Pringle may make as warm friends in your new home as you are leaving behind.

We feel sure the wish of everyone here to-night is that the move you are making may be a benefit, both spiritually and temporally. May God's richest blessings go with you, and may his banner over you be love.

So we ask you to accept this purse, not for its value, but to slow you in a tangible way a little of our esteem. May you never be spared to enjoy your new home, and then as an unbroken family circle be gathered into that home not made with hands, where there will be no more moving and no good-byes.

Signed, on behalf of your friends and neighbours,

MRS. WESLEY YORK.
MRS. BEN. YOUNGS.

After the presentation the ladies served a bountiful lunch, of which all partook heartily.

Mr. and Mrs. Pringle thanked their friends very much, and asked one and all to visit them in their new home on Selby hill.

HARLOWE

(For last week).

We are having beautiful weather at time of writing, after the heavy snow storm, which had the roads blocked for almost a week.—Everybody seems busy cutting ice or drawing hay or wood.—The sale of farm stock and implements and furniture of Mrs. Charlie Martin, has been postponed account of bad roads. This sale will be held on March 14th. Mrs. Martin and daughter, Gladys, intend moving to Napanee, where they will reside. Their many friends will be sorry to see them go.—Miss Vera Benter spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Gladys Martin.—The stork has been busy again, and left a little daughter with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Cuddy.—John Curtis is spending a few days with Mrs. Cuddy.—On February 19th, Mr. and Mrs. J. Perry entertained about thirty-five young friends in honor of their son, Byron, and his friend, Mr. Willis Storms, of Centreville, who was spending the week with them. Mr. Perry and sons, Wilford and Donald, furnished excellent music for the dance, which did not break up until a late hour, everyone went home pleased, and pronounced it the best dance of the season.—Mr. Claude Wilson, Mrs. Arden, made a flying trip through here one day last week.

TAMWORTH

(For last week.)

The weather at time of writing is very moderate, and everyone is enjoying it, but the roads are getting very shaky, which makes everything thing that spring is coming once again.—Mr. Roy Woodcock, Hesson Lodge, has returned home from the Hotel Dieu, where he underwent a serious operation, and had his right limb amputated. His parents and friends are all pleased to see him home.—Mr. D. R. Fletcher has returned home, after attending the funeral of his mother.—Miss Mae Thompson, of Kingston, was removed to the home of her parents. Miss Thompson was seriously ill. Her girl friend, Miss Mildred Breen, of the Kingston General Hospital, where they work, both employed, accompanied her home, but returned back to her duty on March 3rd. Miss Tompson is improving as well as can be expected, considering her illness, with Dr. O'Connor in attendance. We all hope that Miss Thompson will soon be able to return to her duty at the hospital.—Mr. Fitzpatrick's men and Mr. Schoolcraft's men have an enormous lot of hardwood sawed out from their shanty, and they will soon be done cutting.—We are all pleased to hear and know that Mrs. Harry Fort has returned home from the Hotel Dieu, much improved, and to hear that the babies are getting along so nicely. Mrs. Fort feels very happy to be able to be home with her twin babies again.

SILLSVILLE WEST

(For last week).

This little hamlet is actually alive at present.—A great number of farmers are busy hauling logs and grain to Deseronto while the ice is good.—Also many of the farmers are busy hauling gravel to repair the roads next summer.—Owing to the good sleighing quite a number attended the dance at Sillsville on Monday night, and all reported a splendid time, and hoping for another in the near future.—The debate at Hayburn Church last Saturday night was a great success, and those who are missing these little socials are missing a great treat.—Mrs. A. Pyke we are sorry to report has been seriously ill but is now recovering nicely. — The scholars of the N. C. I. spent the week end at their respective homes.—Mrs. E. Embury spent a day at the farm last week.—Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brooks and family Sundayed with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brooks.—Mrs. Robert Young and son, Garnet, of West Plain, spent a week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Young. —Mr. and Mrs. B. Platt spent one day recently in town.—Mr. Percy Young is spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Young.

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N. B.—"I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would be the only thing to build me up. I am sure he is right, for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight daily, gone down to 102, three boys. I was in bed for only a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter."—Mrs. ELMER A. FOSTER, 92 Rodney St., West St. John, N. B.

There are many women who feel their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet every such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling should be corrected at once. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases restored those sympathetic by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Ritchie's experience is but one of many.

IN MEMORIAM.

A mother's chair, but vacant now—
'Tis this that grieves us so.
And in the merry Spring time
Her filling our hearts with woe.

'Twas there she sat, so loving,
And sweetly smiled at 'we',
We'll ne'er forget those happy hours
Around our Mother's knee.

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, who departed from us March 18th, 1922.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Egbert and Ford Thompson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Winslo Thompson, who departed this life on March 1st and March 13th, 1923.

Our lips cannot speak how we loved them,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say;
God only knows how we miss them,
As we travel through life's rough way.

This day brings back to memory
The loved ones laid to rest;
And those who think of them to-day
Are those who loved them best.

Saturday Evening, from 7.30 to 9 p.m.

THE ROBINSON COMPANY, LIMITED

SHE WAS NO COOK

"Young women nowadays," remarked an ornithologist in the employ of the government, "take too light a view of marriage. While in the West last summer I was induced to lecture to a summer school. During the course of this lecture I chanced to remark:

"The ostrich sees very little; on the other hand, it digests everything."

"Whereupon a girl on the front bench exclaimed, sotto voce, to her neighbor: 'Gee! What an ideal husband an ostrich must make!'"

PREPARE FOR EASTER CHOOSE YOUR FIRST SPRING HAT NOW AT ROBINSON'S

In Millinery "Ready-to-wear Models" have a very envious place among discriminating women, the country over.

These hats usually have a smartness of line that is expressibly attractive. Attention has really been concentrated on shapes and materials, they radiate charm from all sides. Usually a ribbon band, a fancy pin or novelty ornament, a tailored bow of ribbon is all the ornamentation necessary.

For early wear from now until Easter, you will find a hat of this nature a wonderful help. It will add just that touch of spring to your wardrobe, that is so much in harmony with the weather and with Fashion.

We have a most delightful range at Robinson's, with no two alike.

Priced from $3.75 to $7.50.

SILK-KNITTED WAISTS ARE SMART FOR SUITS THIS SEASON

The sportive vogue has spread its influence to the realm of Separate Waists. Now you may choose a waist that will suitably and fashionably "go" with suit as well as sport skirt.

"Silk-Knit" manufacturers have woven many attractive fabrics, for spring. These have been developed in waists of many styles with the over-blouse perhaps the best of the lot.

These come in Navy, Black, White, as well as in all the high shades as Sunflower, Crabapple, Sandalwood, Golden Brown and French Blue.

Our Waist Department is showing a very unique collection, priced from $3.95 to $7.75.

ROBINSON'S.

CONGOLEUM RUG WEEK STARTS MARCH 17th

The Congoleum Company are introducing to the public two new exclusive designs in Congoleum Gold Seal Rugs. These will not appear during the week beginning March 17th.

The Company are spending thousands of dollars in advertising. They expect enormous results from this expenditure. To protect our own customers we have purchased a liberal quantity of these new patterns along with their other famous rugs in all the sizes.

The patterns are completely different from those shown here-to-fore, and without a doubt they are the finest obtainable in this type of floor-covering.

Measure your rooms. Buy during Congoleum Week. You will be sure of your rug when you need it.

"TAILORED STYLES" REPRESENT THE VOGUE IN SUITS FOR SPRING WEAR

The tailored vogue which monopolizes daytime fashion, finds wonderful expression in Suits this spring. Poiret-twill and Tricotine in plain All Wool qualities have been enrolled to fabricate the newest Suits as well as Coats and Dresses.

Tailored Suit Coats are long, ranging from finger tip to knee. A new note is struck by the use of pleats which have the tendency to nip-in the waist-line. Some Suits are belted, others have belts as narrow as a shoe-string. Tucks, Straps, Stitchings and Braids are used in many artistic ways for trimmings.

Suit Skirts, though simply styled, play important parts, and are developed mostly in strap-around styles.

Navy and Black are leading shades. Priced from $27.50 up.

SWISS AND POINT ARAB CURTAINS MAKE DIGNIFIED HANGINGS FOR BEST ROOMS

During war years, these Curtains were not available at any price. How the particular housewife longed for these curtains can only be "sung" by the curtain salesman who tried to substitute some other line.

We are now featuring for Spring a complete range of Swiss and Point Arab Curtains. The foundation is of good quality brussels net with individual decorations appliqued on from best quality Egyptian Cotton.

These Curtains come 2½ yards long and are 36, 38 and 40 inches wide.

Priced at $4.50, $5.50, $6.75, $8.65, $7.95 and $10.50 pair.

"CANTON-CREPE" STILL REMAINS IN THE SPOT-LIGHT OF FASHIONABLE APPROVAL. NEW STYLES ARE HERE

New materials come, have their day, pass on or cease to be, but "Canton for Canton-Crepe, season after season, to be chosen as the "most reliable".

This season "Cantons" come lovelier than ever. They are produced in all the high shades as well as the staples. The pliableness of this fabric is a delight to manufacturer, designer and wearer alike.

We are featuring Canton Crepe Dresses developed in Spring styles. Straight line effects vie with basque waists and full skirts to win your affection. Laces applied in various forms create suitable trimmings for these dresses. Priced from $22.50 up.

Address and Presentation

A very enjoyable evening was spent, when over one hundred friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mrs. Olive Hambly, and presented Mr. and Mrs. John Redgrevil, who are leaving for the West on March 18th, with a well-filled purse. Although entirely taken by surprise, Mr. Redgrevil made a few very appropriate remarks in answer to the following address:—

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Jack Redgrevil,
Upon learning that you are about to leave our midst shortly, we could not refrain from spending a pleasant evening with you. We are sorry indeed to lose you as friends and neighbours, but owing to the fact that you are going to far distant lands, we hope that you will meet with success and happiness.

We shall miss you in our Choir, the help that both of you so freely gave whenever it was asked of you.

We could not let you leave without giving you some token of remembrance, and so we ask you to accept this purse. May it symbolize to you the circle of friends you have in this community.

We wish you both peace, happiness and comfort in your new home, and trust that you may long be spared to enjoy the fruits of honest toil.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours of Bethany and Gretna.

NAPOLEON AND FORESTRY.

Credited With Having Laid the Foundations of French System.

A reader of Canadian Forest and Outdoors asks: "Is Napoleon rightly credited with having laid the foundations of the French system of forestry?"

We seldom think of Napoleon as a great exponent of reafforestation. He has to his credit, however, one or two activities along that line. One of these is a reorganization of the Forest Service alluded to by Dr. Fernow on page 219 of the History of Forestry (revised edition) as follows:—

"In 1801, after various previous attempts at organization, Napoleon promulgated the service with five administrators, thirty conservators, 200 inspectors, and 1,466 inferior officers. At that time it appears that the revenue from the public forests amounted to $2,000,000, a sum fully satisfying such elaborate organization. But otherwise the methods of Colbert's ordinance were revived. Devastation however, continued."

The greatest of the French operations in reafforestation, namely that of the planting up of the Landes, was started about the time of the revolution and carried on during Napoleon's regime, during the later years with increased appropriations. Fernow, on pages 225 and 226 refers to it as follows:—

"The inauguration of systematic reafforestation was begun only after a notable report by Bremontier, who, in 1786, secured as chief engineer of the department of Bordeaux, a sum of $10,000, to be employed in ascertaining the possibilities of draining the Landes by means of a canal, and of fixing the dunes. As a result of this beginning the method for their recovery having been, by 1793, experimentally determined by Bremontier, 270,000 acres of moving sand have been fixed during the last century. The revolutionary government in 1792, created a Commission of Dunes, of which Bremontier was made president, and an annual appropriation of $10,000 was made, later (in 1808) increased to $15,000."

Of course on the other hand, the revolution removed a good many restrictions on the cutting of timber, and much damage was done to the forests in this way during the earlier years of the republic.—Canadian Forest and Outdoors.

Crossing Atlantic by Air.

Late advices from London, Eng., state that preparations practically have been completed for the opening of a trans-Atlantic airway.

It is likely that trial trips will be made in the spring of the present year, but no definite date has been set or suggested for the opening of the service proper.

The airships are to be of the Zeppelin type, similar to the ZR-1, just completed for the U.S. navy at Lakehurst, N.J., and there are to be two flights weekly from each side of the Atlantic.

It is probable that the ships will ply between the United States and Spain, and the trip will require a period of a little more than three and one-half days. It is intimated that the ships will be equipped with three engines, developing 2,400 horsepower, and will accommodate about forty passengers, ten tons of mail and other freight, and be capable of moving a speed of eighty miles an hour.

HISTORY OF STREET GAS

VAN HELMONT WAS FIRST DISCOVER OF GASEOUS FLUIDS.

Beginning of Last Century Was Marked by an Invention Which Did Much to Change Our Methods of Illumination—Phillip Lebon Invented Illuminating Gas.

The beginning of the last century was marked by an invention which although of no apparent promise at first, did much to change our methods of illumination. The invention in question was the industrial production of gas from vegetable and mineral fuels, and was the culmination of a series of investigations instituted by the French engineer Phillippe d'Hambersin, whose name is now almost forgotten.

Combustible gases were known before Lebon's day. The existence of gaseous fluids was known, even to the ancients, notably atmosphere air. Other gases were recognized by their effects upon various bodies. Carbon dioxide, for example, was a familiar gas by reason of its destructive effects; combustible marsh gas was also known. Coal-mining, with which mankind has been more or less familiar for thousands of years, undoubtedly revealed combustible gases; but since there were no means of ascertaining the chemical nature of these gases, they were simply regarded as modifications of ordinary air, which had acquired new properties.

Van Helmont was the first who discovered the existence of gaseous fluids of constant chemical composition—fluids which were to be sharply distinguished from ordinary air, and which he called "gases." The name applied by Van Helmont to these fluids is still used to-day in modern chemistry.

The first investigator who laid claim to the discovery of illuminating gas was undoubtedly Phillippe Lebon. The idea of using carbureted hydrogen gas for illuminating purposes seems to have had its birth in Paris in 1786. But the laboratory experiments made in England and France up to the year 1799 yielded no practical results. In the year eight of the Republic (1799), Philippe Lebon, who at that time was well known for his improvements in steam engines, described an invention for the utilization of inflammable gas as an illuminant. Lebon generated his carbureted hydrogen gas by distilling wood, obtaining as by-product, tar, wood alcohol, and all the other substances found in a retort after the destructive distillation of vegetable material. The first carbureted hydrogen apparatus was installed at Havre for the illumination of the lighthouse. In the same year Lebon took out a patent on his invention. He exhibited his apparatus at his house between 1799 and 1802. The odour of illuminating gas when it first comes out of the retort is by no means agreeable. French gentlemen therefore immediately condemned the new system of illumination.

In order to overcome this objection as well as others, and to make the generation of Lebon's more practicable, it was necessary to wash the gas, but Lebon took no notice of any of his labors, he would undoubtedly have devised a method of ridding the vapors of some of their disagreeable qualities. His widow, in the year ten of the Republic, received a grant for an improved process. She died soon after her husband.

Lebon's memorial was published in 1801, and bore the title, "Thermal Light Lamps or Stoves, which Heat and Light Cheaply and which Generate Power, useful for all Machines." Lebon's invention was developed in England and was first practically utilized in that country by an engineer named Murdoch, in Soho, near Birmingham, at the large factory of James Watt, the inventor of the steam engine. In 1802 the entire facade of this large building was illuminated by gas in honor of the peace of Amiens. Shortly after this event a German named Winsor, who had translated Lebon's memorial into German, came to London, collaborated with Murdoch, and received from King George the exclusive privilege of lighting London by gas. On July 16th, 1810, his privilege was confirmed by Parliament; and by 1823 England had adopted gas.

After Winsor had assured himself of the success of gas illumination in England, he went to France in 1815, created an establishment in the Passage des Panoramas, and in a short time had the whole principal city lit by gas as well as the Palais Royal. After the peace, Winsor was successful in founding a company, which was however by no means successful. Other companies soon followed, and in a short time gas became one of the most widely used illuminants.

Lebon was born in Brachay (Department Haute Marne) in May, 1767. He studied in Paris and graduated from the Ecole des Ponts et Chaussees. As we have already remarked, his first scientific researches were achieved in the field of steam engineering. His improved steam engine received a prize of two thousand livres in 1792. Lebon was murdered on December 20th, 1804, under circumstances that have never been cleared up.

Monk an Early Aviator.

As far back as the reign of King Harold it is recorded that a monk of Malmesbury named Ellmer, made short glides in the air. Emboldened by the success of these attempts, he built on one occasion three himself from the top of a lofty tower, and, having fixed on a pair of large wings, and skimmed through the air for more than a furlong, when he encountered a cross current or possibly an "air pocket" and fell suddenly to earth, breaking both his legs. He himself, it should be added, ascribed the cause of his accident to the circumstance of his having neglected "to fit on a tail" for the purpose of balancing himself.

Brings Motoring Enjoyment to Every Canadian

HOW great the service done for the Canadian People by Chevrolet cannot be estimated. How great the benefits it has brought to them is beyond human ability to reckon.

It has provided them, at a cost unequalled in motordom, with a means to speed up business, to increase wealth, to better health, to bring friends closer and to open up every part of the whole country to every Canadian.

The fine quality, strength, endurance and full equipment provided by Chevrolet cannot be purchased for so little money anywhere else. Moreover, the owner of a Chevrolet finds a further satisfaction in the savings effected day by day as he drives his car. No other car built can be run or maintained as cheaply as Chevrolet.

Chevrolet cars are built in Canada by Canadian workmen. Every dollar you pay not only buys a good-looking, comfortable car, but helps build up a strong Canadian industry.

An Oil That is Famous.—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

Sills, Picton.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leavitt and family took tea with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sills, and attended church, to hear Rev. J. J. Mellor.

A Frenchman was courting an English girl. Her mother said, mischievously:
"Now, monsieur, if my daughter and I were drowning, which would you save first?"
With great presence of mind, he replied: "I would save madame your mother, would you, mademoiselle?"

Every Bad Leg needs Zam-Buk, whether it result from an old sore or injury, or, as is more often the case, through old-standing varicose veins. Now that powerful herbal Zam-Buk builds up the weakened tissues and sets them right, is told by Mr. R. S. Reynolds, of Lethbury, Ala., U.S.A.
"As the result of inflammation set up by a horse kick," he writes, "terrible sores appeared all over the lower part of my leg. It was a year before the limb took a real turn for the better.
Needs "it started out to try Zam-Buk, quite prepared to meet with the balm if it showed the least sign of doing good. Zam-Buk's first effect was to remove from the sores all their angry inflamed appearance. New skin and tissue formed as I went on with the Zam-Buk, and every sore was gradually but surely healed."

GRETNA

(For last week).

A double presentation was given at the home of Mr. J. E. Loyst, on Monday night, February 25th, when a large number of neighbours and friends met to spend a social evening with Mr. and Mrs. Loyst and family, also Mr. and Mrs. Moore, before their removal from the neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Moore were presented with a set of dishes. Mr. and Mrs. Loyst were presented with an electric iron. Lenora Loyst with an everready pencil and guard, and Doris Loyst with a sterling silver maple leaf brooch and 50c. The presentations were made by Mr. Elmore Allenbrack, and the following address read by Mr. W. C. Joyce:

Mr. and Mrs. Loyst and family and Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

Dear Friends.—This evening is to us one of mingled feelings of gladness that we are here together for a social time, and of sorrow because in view of your coming departure, we feel it may be the last we shall spend together for some time. All will be missed from our church, the ladies from our Ladies' Aid, and Doris and Lenora from our Sunday School. One at least has spent all her life among us; the rest have been so long associated with us in all our activities that we have formed many tender ties which cannot be broken,—which we earnestly hope will never be broken, though it is our wish and belief that you will make many new friends in your future homes. This we feel will not make less dear those you have left behind.

That this remembrance may be more vivid, we present you with these little tokens of our feeling. When you look at them will you think of the friends who are thinking of you and wishing you God speed.

Signed on behalf of your Gretna friends,

W. C. JOYCE.
E. S. ALKENBRACK.

After the reading of this address lunch was served, and a very pleasant evening spent.

Two Bottles of Dreco Restore Mrs. Shaw to Old Time Health and Strength. Steady Nerves, Splendid Appetite and Sound Sleep Make Life a Pleasure for her Again

"I had an attack of La Grippe last winter", says Mrs. George Shaw, of Sydenham, Ontario, "and ever since then my system has been in a badly run down condition. I had no strength at all to do my work and had to make an effort to get around at all. My nerves were all out of order and I would startle at the slightest sound. Would lie awake for hours after going to bed at nights and sometimes I would have to get up and walk the floor.

"My appetite was very poor, scarcely ate enough to keep a baby alive and what little I did eat would cause me indigestion. I felt weighed down until I was nothing but a shadow of my former self. I took many medicines but none of them did me any good. Instead, I kept growing weaker.

"Finally one day I read of Dreco and the good work it was doing and decided to give it a trial. I have only taken two bottles, but the way it has built up my system is little short of Marvelous. I have gained in weight, have a splendid appetite, my nerves are steady as a clock and I sleep soundly all night long. I can eat anything I want now without any trouble with my stomach and I feel much stronger and more energetic in every way."

Dreco is the ideal tonic and restorative and will pick you up after the most severe illness. It puts all the vital organs of digestion in shape to relieve sufferings such as indigestion, rheumatism, blues, etc., that would otherwise make life a misery. Hundreds have tried Dreco and have proved its merit. It is made from herbs, roots, bark and leaves and contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Napanee by Wallace & Co., and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

Address and Presentation

On March 3rd, 1924, a very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Windover, South Napanee, when their children and grandchildren took them by surprise, the event being the anniversary of their fiftieth wedding day. Following is the address read to them:

Dear Father and Mother,—We, your sons and daughters, have met here to-night to spend a few enjoyable hours with you, it being the occasion of your fiftieth anniversary. Words cannot express our appreciation for your ever readiness and willingness to help each one of us whenever it was your opportunity to do so, and no matter when we have met with you in your home we have always found a welcome, cheerful home. Also we would not forget to thank our Heavenly Maker for eparing you both so many years with us. And to-night we would ask you to accept this parlor table and reading lamp, sincerely praying that God will still spare both of you many more years of health and happiness.

Signed on behalf of your daughters and son.

The guide introduced a tourist in the Rocky Mountains to an old hunter who was reputed to have slain some hundreds of bears.

"This man," the guide explained to the hunter, "would like to hear about some of the narrow escapes you've had from bears."

The old mountaineer regarded the tourist with a disapproving stare.

"Young man," he said, "if there's been any narrow escapes, the bears had 'em."

Vaccinate your young cattle! Already two cases of blackleg are reported, and you cannot afford to take chances. It costs only 10c. to vaccinate one animal, and it is cheap insurance with this disease. For prompt results, insist on Parke, Davis & Co. fresh Blackleg Vaccine in sealed tubes of ten pellets, with needle, at Wallace's Drug Store. Mail orders promptly filled.

LITTLE SHIPS.

Salvage Ships Called Upon to Do Huge Tasks.

The biggest ships do not always do the biggest jobs. Indeed, the ships that take on some of the most important duties have to be quite small, as, for instance, the lifeboat. If the lifeboat were very big she would not be handy enough for her grim task of effecting rescues in the stormiest of weather.

It often happens that a ship's great size is her undoing. In a terribly heavy sea—like the "grey hurricane" of Cape Horn—a very long ship might break through her ends being lifted simultaneously by two seas with hardly any lifting power under her middle.

Salvage ships are often called upon to carry out huge tasks. And they are never very big, but they are a mass of the finest and best-kept machinery possible. Little salvage ships have been known to raise and bring to floating upright position some of the biggest liners. But, of course, they have to enlist the services of floats, lighters, bags, and so on, as well.

Then there is the tug. If she were large she would be useless. Small, handy and powerful as she is, she can pluck a great unwieldy ship through very intricate channels and put her safely to sea. A tug is practically all boiler and engines.

Could a large ship speed to the Baltic and, in one night, work wreck and disaster amongst an enemy fleet as did an eighteen-foot motor boat during the great war?

Then there are certain ugly little under-cranes of craft in the Thames known as trows. They are just like small barges, though the rig is somewhat different. When a huge steamer fails to get her anchor from the bottom, and has to slip cruiser and cable, the trow will go out and pick up that mighty hook and massive chain and deliver it to the owners.

Last, but not least, the tiniest ship of all—the Welshman's coracle. This little craft can be carried on the back, and yet it will carry its owner safely on the breast of a turbulent and swirling river.

Fluid Lifts Loads.

A scientist has invented a fluid that when reduced expands at a rate that, when translated into power can perform wonderful feats in the way of lifting loads. At present its chief application seems to be in the lifting of motor cars to allow of the mending of punctures. A piston jack is placed under the axle and to the jack is attached a small bottle about one foot long and weighing about three and one-half pounds, equipped with a patent screw cap. The bottle is turned sideways and the car is promptly lifted off the ground. The little bottle contains this fluid. The terrific power of the expanding liquid rushes through a pipe and catches the piston of a jack with irresistible force. Lifting the ordinary automobile is child play to the power of this fluid.

If this is true, and it bottles of great size could be constructed one could perform great undertakings by lifted from their foundations and moved bodily to another site. As a power bottle can lift 10,000 pounds, what would not a one-ton bottle remove? Actually it is asserted that there is no limit to the weight that could be lifted when the proper size bottle is used, no power.

The tremendous expanding force developed by this fluid is a boon indeed for cars, can be turned to other purposes besides lifting weights. Ice can be made with it, and if confined in three seconds, then extinguished (for the contained gas undergoes liquefaction) drinks carbonated at very low cost.

With only a few bottles in the car, the motorist can pick up the vehicle, indeed the new tire and make himself a cup of tea, drink to refresh himself after his exertions, or the inventor says.

Telephone girls sell goods

A small store in a small town can train one or two of its own girls (or men) to take telephone orders on advertised goods, as the big stores do.

In one store with over 100 telephone operators, each takes telephone orders, acting as shoppers for the telephone customer. In this store as many as 3,000 telephone orders will be received in one day.

Some grocers use the same method. May we help you apply it to your business?

INDIAN MAGICIANS.

Perform Tricks That Are Beyond Comprehension.

India is often spoken of as the land of mystery and certainly some of the things that are done by the wandering magicians of that country are almost beyond comprehension. These strange men are met with in all kinds of unexpected places and they assuredly do perform tricks that take a lot of explanation.

The wonder worker is invariably accompanied by a small boy whom he describes as his son, and the paraphernalia of his profession is contained in a couple of baskets.

Many tricks of the usual type are performed—the disappearing egg, the resuscitated handkerchief, the production of fire through the mouth, the multiplication of marbles, the vanishing rupee, and so on. But the main tricks are the mango trick and the basket trick.

Most people have seen the mango tree trick, famous throughout the world. A small hole is made by the wonder worker in the ground with his fingers, and a mango seed is put into this hole and covered with mud. Water is poured over it and then a basket placed over the top, covered in turn by a cloth.

After a while the cloth and the cover are removed partly in order to give the onlookers a glimpse of a plant which has grown to a height of about six inches. Later the plant is uncovered and is found to have grown to a foot in height with leaves and twigs, and at the last stage of uncovering the plant has reached a cubit and is bearing fresh fruit.

The basket trick is another favorite trick of the wandering Indian magician. With some difficulty a boy is placed into a basket in a doubled up attitude. The basket is then covered with a cloth, and the conjurer draws long thin blade with he thrusts into the centre of the basket. Thereafter the knife is drawn out dripping with a red fluid resembling blood, but when the cloth is removed and the basket is upturned the boy is found to be no longer inside, but approaching the gathering out interested spectators from the rear.

There is also the rope trick, but at the risk of reviving a well-worn controversy reference to this trick must be avoided.

Coral Reefs.

Builders of coral reefs and islands are entirely unentailing animals, Dr. T. Wayland Vaughan, of the U. S. Geological Survey, told the Pan-Pacific Sciences Congress at Melbourne, Australia. In experiments conducted by him in the Virgin Islands (in the Gulf of Mexico) corals persistently refused a vegetable diet, but even water from which had been drained of its living animal matter was not avoided.

Builders of coral reefs and islands are entirely unentailing animals, Dr. T. Wayland Vaughan, of the U. S. Geological Survey, told the Pan-Pacific Sciences Congress at Melbourne, Australia. In experiments conducted by him in the Virgin Islands (in the Gulf of Mexico) corals persistently refused a vegetable diet, but even water from which had been drained of its living animal matter was not avoided.

Enough to dodge the lightning-like tentacles of these carnivorous creatures. The living coral is a branched colony of individuals all connected together and with their soft bodies encased in strong shells. Each individual is little more than a stomach, with a mouth surrounded by tentacles and sheltered in a little cup of the limy skeleton within which the whole colony is enclosed. Dr. Vaughan described how when a little beef juice or a small bit of meat, usually crab fish or fish, was offered, the tentacles at the outer edge of the colony would begin to appear. Then the stimulus was transmitted to other members of the colony until soon the surface of the specimen had opened out like a beautiful flower. This condition, he explained, seems to indicate that the coral colony is hungry and ready to capture food.

Takes Years to Cool.

Peasants on the slopes of Mount Etna can still boil water over the lava that flowed from the volcano during the eruption of 1910. Lava, according to Walter Woodburn Hyde, of the University of Pennsylvania, writing in the Geographical Review, often reaches a temperature of 2,000 degrees F.

Even the ancient poets recorded the tenacity with which lava retains its heat, and Horace, describing the great eruption of 1669, says the lava took eight years to cool. It is related that steam was still rising in 1820 from lava ejected in 1787. And this is not astonishing when it is remembered that the stream of molten lava which reached the sea at Catania on that occasion was at least 600 yards in breadth, 40 feet deep and contained 2,522,000,000 cubic feet. It barked up against the walls of Catania, which were 60 feet high, until it flowed over the top and destroyed a large part of the city. The huge promontory that juts like a breakwater to the harbor is the remains of that stream of lava that flowed into the sea.

Indian Machine.

That the ancient Inca civilization in Peru possessed an adding and calculating machine has been revealed in the recent discovery by excavators in the form of a knotted cord, or "quipu," in the ruins of a prehistoric tomb. The cord is sixteen yards long and contains 100 knots. Divided into ten unequal sections, these knots represent the odd numbers from 1 to 19. The sections are of different colors, including red, brown, yellow, blue and green, and are separated by silver beads, which represent the even number from 2 to 20. By using this simple way of counting, based on the decimal system, rapid calculations can be made.

Wonderful Guarantee!
Of Over a Million Bottles of Carnol Sold, Only Four Have Been Returned

If you will read the second to last paragraph of the circular which accompanies every bottle of Carnol, you will notice the following guarantee: "If, after taking your first bottle of Carnol, according to directions, you find that it has not helped you, that its action is not already recognizable, and you can say so sincerely, take back the empty (or partly empty) bottle, and get your money back. However we refund the druggist his purchase price—he loses nothing."

Do you think the manufacturers would make this guarantee if they did not know that Carnol possessed properties of unusual merit?

But, would it be fair to say that Carnol does not possess merit when, out of a million bottles sold, only four were returned?

If the other bottles sold had not proved beneficial, they also would have been returned.

These four bottles were returned and the money refunded without question, the only explanation being that Carnol did not given relief.

As disease is of slow growth it naturally takes time for any medicine to eradicate it.

To get the full benefit of Carnol it is clearly stated in the circular that you should take a "Course of Carnol," although many people have been greatly benefited after taking one or two bottles.

Perhaps the reason why these people didn't benefit by taking Carnol after a few days was that they did not take enough of it—it is not claimed for Carnol that it will do the impossible.

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

DORLAND

(For last week.)

Oh, Dorland! Oh, Dorland!
Who would not live in Dorland?

Dorland is still on the map, but like her citizens, very reserved. The old prophesy that March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb, has failed to prove true this year. Let us hope the reverse does not occur.—Drawing gravel is the order of the day.—Many took advantage of the perfect weather on Saturday, and spent the day in Picton.—Mr. Herb. Trumpour had the misfortune to lose two valuable cows during the past week.—Those who attended the play, "The Little Clodhopper", in Adolphustown Parish Hall on the 29th, were delighted with the amateur talent ably displayed by the Dramatic Club of Milford.—A large crowd attended the sale on the Curlette place, on Tuesday of this week. We regret to say that the attractions of this vicinity fail to hold "Pat" among us. But then, they say "love is blind." — The A. Y. P. A. held their meeting at the home of Mr. R. Johnston's, on Monday evening.—Mrs. H. Milling, Morven, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. F. Roblin.—Miss K. Chard is making an extended visit at St. Davy's, Prince Edward.—We are sorry to report Mr. George Hawley on the sick list.—Mr. R. Cousins has rallied the long-felt need of a corner store. We all wish him success in his undertaking. — Mr. Patrick Laveck spent several evenings of the past week in Picton. — Mrs. Dafoe and family have moved into the vacant house on the Bryant property, and Mr. A. Brooks is occupying the house they vacated.—Visitors: Miss Marion Hall, N. C. L., at her home for the week end, accompanied by the Misses Helen and Hattie Milling; Mr. R. Smith at D. Smith's, Conway; Mr. J. Prout at J. Laveck's; Mr. F. Smith at John L. White's.

ARDEN

(For last week.)

The weather at time of writing is very unsettled. The roads are in bad condition, owing to the rain. — Mrs. Cecil Barker has returned home from the General Hospital, Kingston, and is as well as can be expected.—Mrs. Dole Greene has returned home from Niagara Falls, after spending the winter there with her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Loyst has sold his residence to Henry Keller.—The dance, which was to be held at Mr. Harve Scott's on Tuesday evening, was postponed until Thursday evening, owing to the heavy downfall of rain. But just the same on Wednesday a crowd was present and all report a very enjoyable evening.—Quite a number of our young people took in the dance at Mountain Grove on February 29th. All report a good time.—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gendron, Smith's Falls, spent the week-end at J. J. Gendron's.—Mr. Peter Hughes, Kaladar, who has been spending some time with his brother, Joe Hughes, of this place, has returned to his home. — Misses Lula and Laura Greene, also Clarke Alexander, spent Sunday last at F. E. Johnston's. —Mr. Durland Steele has returned to his homestead in the west.

Pain in His Side is Now All Gone

Ontario Man Pleased With the Results Obtained From Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. John F. Pain Tells of Relief From Suffering and Gladly Advises Others to Try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Minett, Ont., March 10th, (Special).—Mr. John F. Pain, a well-known resident here, is very satisfied with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had been getting very low and feeling hardly able to do any work, with pains in my side," Mr. Pain states. "I got hold of one of your Almanacs and read it, then sent for six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. After taking three boxes my pain left me and I can now do a lot of work, so always keep some of your pills on hand."

Mr. Pain's troubles came from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They put them in shape to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Without uric acid in the blood there can be no rheumatism or sciatica.

ODESSA

Inman Wright, has returned from spending the past two months with friends in Toronto.—Joseph Lawlor and daughter, Miss Lizzie Lawlor, have returned from spending the past three months with Mr. and Mrs. James Burns, Erinsville.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emmons and little son, Gerald, have returned from visiting relatives in North Bay.—Mr. John Mancur has returned from spending the past week with relatives in Napanee.—Mrs. Ernest Wright and little son, Arthur, are visiting relatives in Detroit.—Mrs. Arthur Smith left on Tuesday to join her husband in Detroit, where they are to make their home. She was accompanied by her little daughter, Muriel.—The Community Club gave a concert at Camden East last Monday night, which reflected great credit to the actors, as it was pronounced a decided success. There were three sleigh loads and several single cutters from here which helped to enlarge the audience. The entertainment consisted of dialogues, "The Only Young Man in Town", and "Reasons Why We Never Married"; choruses, instrumental and vocal selections and violin solos. They were delighted with their reception by the Camden East people who gave them every encouragement to return in the near future with a guarantee of continued success.—Mrs. Henry Burley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Belton, Belleville.—Quite a number from here attended the play, "Cranberry Corner", given by the Harrowsmith Dramatic Club, in Wilton, on Friday night.—George Burnett has moved in the Alf. Kenyon house on Main St., recently vacated by Ben Schermerhorn.—Mr. and Mrs. Percy Venten spent a few days last week with relatives in Batterson.—A quiet wedding took place last week, Mrs. Sanford Thompson was united in marriage to James Shannon. Their many friends are offering congratulations. Mrs. Shannon purchased a home on Centre St., about a year ago, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends when she moves to the groom's home, about two and one-half miles from here.—There was a W. M. S. meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) J. E. Mabee that is well worthy of note, having a very large number present, about sixty in attendence. There were four life members and one annual member enrolled. This meeting was an annual event for Mrs. Mabee, and the number present would have been larger had the conditions of the roads been favourable. A lengthy programme had been prepared, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections and effective readings by the members. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

ENTERPRISE

We are enjoying very fine weather here at present.—The roads are in very good condition for this time of year.—Miss Elizabeth Mollow, Mr. Dave Moore and Miss Cummings, of Kingston, were among the guests who were entertained at euchre at Mr. Alpheus Raymond's, last Saturday evening.—The young people here intend taking their play "All a Mistake", to Bloomfield in the near future.—Mr. S. D. Wagar and Mr. H. Holland attended the baseball meeting in Napanee on Saturday last.—Mr. Edgar Keech has arrived home from Flint, Michigan.—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Wagar were entertained at euchre at Mr. Alpheus Graham's, last Saturday evening. — Mr. Charles Keech is fully recovered and is ready for any work in the lumber business that may come in.—Mr. Cliff Hardwick is home on a vacation from Luvant.—All seem to like our new station agent, who is relieving H. B. Jackson, who has gone to Texas.—Mrs. Oliver entertained at an afternoon tea and euchre last week in honor of Mrs. Goodyear Fenwick, Mrs. S. D. Wagar, Mrs. Charles Graham, Mrs. W. H. Wagar, Mrs. D. W. Bell, Miss Clark, Mrs. H. A. Carscallen and Mrs. Guy Fenwick.—A number of our young people went on a sleighing party back to Shippegan Lake, last week. They had dinner in H. A. Carscallen's camp.—The young people held a dance in C. W. Keech's hall last Thursday evening. Music was furnished by Mr. C. W. Keech and Mr. Russell Bell. All report a fine time.—Mr. Deptha Hawley and Mr. Bert Coburn spent Sunday evening at Mr. Patrick Winslen's. — Charley Hartwick is getting business straightened up. He intends until Tuesday evening, owing to the heavy downfall of rain. But just the same on Wednesday a crowd was present and all report a very enjoyable evening.—Quite a number of our young people took in the dance at Mountain Grove on February 29th. They Had No Banks

IN pioneer days the general merchant often kept the money of his customers for them — there were no banks. Buying and selling were largely by barter only.

The coming of the branch bank filled an important need in every community, and to-day the wise farmer, business man or private individual keeps his money in the bank and makes full use of the many services it has to offer.

Now that winter has arrived in earnest many battery owners are placing their batteries in storage and we again remind you that we are prepared to give the best of service along this line. Our prices are in keeping with first class service.

We do all kinds of repair work, gumming and sharpening saws, machine work, oxo-acetylene welding and brazing, etc.

As a new departure for 1924 we have recently installed an up-to-date Radio Set, and have taken the agency for Radio Sets, of different manufactures, at very reasonable prices. We purpose carrying Radio supplies, and those requiring head phones, loud speakers, batteries, etc., will do well to get our prices before buying.

We are Agents for Durant and Star Cars, and if you contemplate making a change or buying a new car, we suggest that you place your order early, for prompt delivery, in the Spring.

MARRIAGE LAWS

Speaking on the marriage laws at a meeting presided over by an archdeacon, a curate remarked that it was not generally known that a man could not marry his widow's cousin.

"Widow's sister, you mean," corrected the president.

"No," replied the youthful cleric, "I mean widow's cousin."

The archdeacon was on his feet in an instant. His law must not be challenged by a curate.

"I tell you," he said, "a man may marry his widow's cousin, but not his widow's sister. You must really allow me to know."

"But," persisted the curate, "how can a man do anything in the way of marrying when his wife is a widow?"

Maple Leaf Institute.

The regular monthly meeting of the Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Will Fretts, on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 31st, at the usual hour. Sewing for our room at the Kingston General Hospital was given out, a goodly crowd of members being present. The contest which is being observed in the Hawley and Big Creek schools was again discussed. A special prize will be given to the scholar in each of the above schools who attains the highest points in three specified points, of which the teacher in each school has been notified, namely, punctuality, regularity and tidiness of the scholars.

BOARD OF COMMERCE AND TOWN COUNCIL

During the past two weeks the Executive of the Board of Commerce and the Town Council have had two joint meetings. Several matters affecting the town were thoroughly discussed, and plans were outlined, which if carried into effect, should be of benefit to the community.

It was decided to at once commence a drive for membership in the Board of Commerce, the annual fee to be one dollar. After the canvass is completed, a meeting will be called and the Board re-organized.

It is to be hoped that all citizens will become members and attend the meeting as a solution should be found to several questions, both social and commercial, with which the town is confronted.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A very delightful tea took place last week on the afternoon of March 7th, at the home of Mrs. J. G. Daly, the occasion being the 92nd birthday of her mother, Mrs. James Richards. Little Miss Celestine Daly, in a cherry red jersey dress braided in white, opened the door, and the guests were received in the living room by Mrs. Richards, who was handsomely gowned in black Duchesse satin and real lace, and Mrs. Daly, who wore a smart little Kine Tut frock. The room was beautifully decorated with flowers—roses, carnations, jonquils and pansies, all of which were birthday gifts sent from friends in Toronto, Cleveland and Napanee. Mrs. Richards was also the recipient of many other lovely presents and telegrams carrying good wishes for her health and happiness.

In the dining-room, Mrs. J. H. Madden poured tea at a tea-table charmingly decorated with Richmond roses, and Mrs. W. T. MacKenzie, Mrs. Jack Adams, and Miss Bertha VanLuven assisted in serving. Among the forty or more ladies who attended the party no one enjoyed it more or gave more life or brightness to the afternoon than Mrs. Richards herself.

EFFECTIVE PUBLICITY

Just as with every enlightened organization nowadays, the Bell Telephone Company finds that it pays to advertise. The Annual Report of the Company says: "Through the press, addresses by employees, demonstrations before public bodies and by invitations to our exchanges, we have continued our policy of telling the public many of our service problems. There is evident benefit from these frank statements, both in general understanding of telephone service and in more effective use thereof. This ready response of the public is helpful and encouraging, and is much appreciated."

COLLEGIATE NEWS.

The Literary Society of the N.C.I. met on Thursday, March 6th, in the Assembly Hall of the school. Mr. Albert Hill, as President, brought the meeting to order. The minutes of the previous meeting, Friday, February 22nd, were read and approved, and a splendid selection was rendered by the School Orchestra, which is made up of about sixteen pieces. Our President then gave an interesting and comical address on his "First Years at the N.C.I." From this speech we found out that the young people of this era are not worse, as many seem to think, but better, at least than when Mr. Hill entered the Collegiate. The next number was a piano solo by Katherine Baird, and it was quite worthy of the highest praise. Marjory Ham favored us with a piano solo, and Misses E. Gleeson and H. Grange with a piano duet. A fourth piano selection was given by Marguerite Kember, and it was highly appreciated. The music of the meeting was all of which were birthdays, and was well rendered by the musicians. The last number on the programme was by the Orchestra, after which Miss Stewart was called upon to give her remarks as critic; but they carried no criticism, only praise of which we might be proud. The meeting was then closed with the National Anthem.

MILKERS.

Testimonial for Macartney Hand Milkers, sold by Spencer & Son, Napanee :—

Napanee, Ontario,
June 15th, 1923.

Gentlemen,—It did not take me long after Mr. Spencer delivered my Macartney Junior to look upon it as the best investment I have ever made. The cows took to it right from the start and have held up wonderfully in production without any trouble or bother.

No more milking drudgery with your head under a cow two hours twice daily during the hot weather. My thirteen year old daughter is milking our sixteen cows in fifty minutes, and the best part is that she considers it play.

Its low cost and marvelous efficiency leads me to prophesy that within two years the Macartney Junior will be in every cow-stable. 11-81

FORMER NAPANEE BOY GIVES SONG RECITAL

The large audience which filled St. Andrew's Church, on Monday evening, March 17th, waited with unusual interest to hear the soloist for the evening, Mr. Roland Daly, who was born and brought up in Napanee. Mr. Daly possesses a pure, full baritone voice with a splendid range and fine powers of expression, and his choice of songs was excellent. It is extremely difficult to choose from the programme any numbers for special mention, as each one seemed particularly suited to the singer, and every one was a favorite. Two lovely musical poems were "The Last Hour" by Kramer, and "When You That Love Are Parted", by Secchi. In these, the hushed notes of the baritone's voice were particularly beautiful and likened by some to the notes of an organ.

Mrs. C. E. Madden played the accompaniments with exquisite understanding, and also gave three organ numbers which were received with great appreciation. Many musicians from out of town have visited Napanee this winter, but it is unanimous among music-lovers that none have approached in any form the artistic skill of Mrs. Madden.

Miss Jean McIntosh is such a wonderful young artist, that her work deserves unstinted praise. Her simplicity of style was one of her greatest charms, and her ability to change quickly and naturally from one character to another, her gift of mimicry, and gracefulness were all wonderfully attractive. Miss McIntosh's four numbers were encored enthusiastically. Perhaps her two finest selections were the Balcony Scene from "Romeo and Juliette", and a dramatic piece which she recited to musical accompaniment.

CAMDEN EAST

It has been very cold weather the last several days, and the autos are running again. The snow is fast disappearing.—Several in this vicinity are sick, with the Doctor at several homes, and some are seriously ill at time of writing.—Mrs. Peter Hinch, at the West end of the village, has undergone a serious operation, having two large tumors removed from her back. She is doing nicely. — The paper mills at the West end of Camden East, are doing a great business. It employs a large number of laborers, and turns out the finest paper that ever was made. — Mrs. Martin Switzer and her son, Walter, spent Friday last in Napanee.—The W. M. S. had a good turnout at the home of Mrs. D. Williams Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Bessie Rose in the chair. Mrs. Davidson, of Brownville, N.Y., paid a flying visit to his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Skinner, on Monday night last.—Mr. R. Longford left behind him a pleasant day Tuesday last in Kingston.—Mrs. Geo. Scott, of Sharpe's Corners West, called on Mrs. D. B. Asey, on Tuesday last. —Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Asey, Bickerdike Corners West, are the proud possessors of a fine baby boy, that the stork left on Friday night last. March is a mother and baby month so far as well.—Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Stewart spent a day last week in Desmond with Messrs. Frank and Fraser Bell and mother.—Mr. and Mrs. James Youmans spent several days last week with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Saundercook, at Kingston. — Mrs. Macdonald spent a couple of days with her daughter, Mrs. Alva Emberley, at Bickerdike.—The Young People's Mission Circle met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Youmans on Tuesday evening last. A good crowd, and a very inspiring meeting was enjoyed by all the members.

BETHANY

A very pleasant evening was spent on Saturday night last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Huff, when quite a number of friends and neighbors presented their daughter, Isabel, who is quietly married on Wednesday, 12th March, with a shower. Following is a number of the many useful things she received:—Silver pickle cruet, and Mrs. Jas. Davis; glass cake set, Mr. and Mrs. V. Martin; agate potato pot, Mr. Geo. Burtch; agate stew kettle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark; glass dish, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller; large tray, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr; silver sugar shell and butter knife, Mr. and Mrs. Arch. Amey and Harold; pair towels, Mr. and Mrs. James Keech; agate potato kettle, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller and Marian; fancy cruet bowl, Mr. and Mrs. T. Bartley; bedroom suite and glass set, Mr. and Mrs. W. Huff; $1.00, Mr. and Mrs. B. Huyck; $1.50, Joe and Ben. Hicks; pair towels and agate frying pan, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cook; After many wishes for a long and happy journey through life, and the serving of a dainty lunch, the party wended to their way to their homes. — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bedgewell left on Tuesday to take up their home in the west. We wish them every success in their new home.—Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dean and Mr. and Mrs. E. Conger took tea at G. Burtch's, on Sunday evening.—A large congregation turned out to greet our Pastor on Sunday. Also for the Joint Sunday School session. Next Sunday at Gretna again, at 2 p.m.—Mrs. E. Howell and daughter spent over Sunday with her father. —On Monday a meeting was held at the cheese factory, when most of the milk routes were sold, and other business attended to for the opening of the factory.

Your horses will be in good condition for the Spring's work if you use Milling's Compound Iron Powders, "Improved". Always fresh at Hooper's Drug Store.

NEWBURGH

We are approaching another change of season. I sometimes wonder if we appreciate how much the change of seasons means to Canada and Canadians. The relief from monotany, the arousing of expectations, the unfolding of beauties peculiar to the season and the vigor producing elements that each season brings with it. Truly this Canada of ours is a goodly land. It inspires gratitude to the Creator for our blessings and take them too much as matters of course. It is a hopeful sign when we find people who are willing to forget themselves for the benefit of others, and do something for the general good of their country or community. Every one has an opportunity to help and use his influence in this direction. There is a tendency in human nature to want to do something large or great, but after all it is the small things that go to make up the sum of human happiness.

Newburgh is indebted to its Athletic Club for providing clean sport for the younger element in the community, and deserves the support of the citizens generally. They have, at considerable expense and labour kept up a skating rink during the winter, and now that the baseball season is approaching, they will no doubt try to keep in the general swim of sport that will provide an outlet for the energy and spirit of the boys. The one thing to remember in this connection is that mere sport is not by any means the last and only thing that goes to swell the tide of human happiness. Anyway it is a pity of any one who forgets that he was once young, and in whom the spirit of youth is dead, and it is also a pity of any boy or girl who think that they have attained a premature age in the possession of brains and experience.

What an ideal existence we would have if every one would accept the place for which he or she is fitted and strive to fill every position to the best that is in him.

The Grafonola for the use of the Public School has arrived and become part of the fixtures of the school. The sale price of this instrument is $75.00, but a special offer has been made, for a limited time, to schools at $50.00. This offer has been taken advantage of. To raise the necessary money for payment, $16.00 was raised on the Christmas concert, the School Board contributed $10.00, the teacher $5.00, and a lady trustee $5.00, leaving a balance, after paying some transportation expenses, of $15.00. There is no doubt but there are those in the village who will be glad to contribute the wipe out this balance, and so help to make their school life something to look back to with pleasure by the children in after years, as men and women.

It is to be hoped that St. Patrick has arrived at a country which can really claim him as a citizen for he has left behind him a memory as by this world, in this regard.

The entertainment on St. Patrick's night was very enjoyable affair. Mr. Aylesworth's talk on Ireland was interesting and instructive. Green was very much in evidence as decorations and dress. Ireland is always to the front when people are never so happy as when "Alein the Governmint" is called to violin.—Then is sure to introduce the picturesque.

Miss Elsie Moore has been forced to resign her position in the Odessa Public School. Miss Moore found that she had not sufficiently recuperated from her late illness to undertake the strenuous and nerve wrecking task of teaching school, and very wisely resigned.

The Ladies' Aid of Union Church will give a concert in the S. S. room, on Wednesday night, the 26th inst. This should be a Calcavecchia Year concert. A programme will be provided that is likely to create some surprises. The fact, this concert is likely to be the best ever. A lunch will be served, and all who attend will go home warmed, filled and satisfied.

CROYDON

Glad to see Miss Glenn, our teacher, able to resume her duties again, after spending a week at the home in Stella, through illness.—Mr. and Mrs. Silas Gallagher spent Friday afternoon at Mr. Robt. Milsap's. — Mr. Earl Teskey and sister, Miss Elsie, spent the week-end under the parental roof. — Sorry Mr. Will Galbraith's three girls are very ill with la grippe. — Mrs. Fred Fleming has returned to her home in Toronto, after spending the winter months with her brother, Mr. Herb. Bawn, and other relatives and friends around Croydon. — Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rose and Aggie spent Sunday at Mr. Dan. McGregor's. — Mr. Will. McKeown and daughters, Frances and Vera, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Asselstine, Napanee. — Mr. and Mrs. P. Armstrong and daughter, Mrs. L. T. Campbell, and little Jean, visited the former's parents at Breckenridge, who is seriously ill.—The many friends of Mr. Sam. Fleming will be pleased to hear of his improving slowly. — Mr. and Mrs. Pat. Nolan visited their daughter, Mrs. Pat. Ryan, in Henry Larey spent Friday evening at Croyden.—Mr. John Hawley has received drawing up Mr. Hub. McCabe's wood. — Mr. James Hughs called at his father's on Sunday.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS.

All our stock and fixtures, sale of which makers' tools, will be sacrificed.

Wednesday Afternoon.

Messrs. G. P. Carr and J. W. Robinson addressed the Council briefly, inviting the members of the County Council and County Officials to a dinner at the Campbell House, on Friday evening. The object of the function of Friday evening is in the nature of a get-together meeting of the town and County Council and Board of Commerce.

Mr. Smythe, of the Highways Department, appeared before the Council.

The communication from the Department, re Mr. Smyth's visit, and the County Road By-law were read by the Clerk.

Mr. Smythe addressed the Council in reference to road matters, pointing out that the county if it does not adopt the standard roads by-law, the county subsidy from the Government will be 40 per cent., the same as townships receive, instead of the present 40 and 60 per cent. The Department insisted that the roads receiving Government subsidy shall be built in continuous stretches and continued from year to year until the road reaches somewhere. To do this clause 2 of the present by-law will have to be eliminated.

A resolution was passed, asking the Highways Department to change the treatment of the surface of the Provincial Highway east of Napanee so that horse traffic may be able to use the highway.

A committee was appointed to draft a tentative road programme under the new by-law.

The committee reported advising a programme extending over a period of five years.

A full and free discussion of road matters took up practically all the afternoon.

Council adjourned.

Thursday Morning.

The minutes of the previous session were read and approved.

The new County Roads By-law was presented and read a first time, and discussion of County Road matters continued during the forenoon session.

Treasurer Shannon presented the list of 1923 licenses who have not taken out licenses for 1924.

High Constable Barrett was instructed to notify all licensees to pay their license fees at once.

A motion was passed, instructing the Treasurer to withhold cheque due Mr. Sinclair until the County's property is returned.

The requisition of Bath Continuation School Board, for increased grant, age of expenses, $1615.68, to Education and Printing Committee. On motion $800 was ordered paid on account of the requisition, and the requisition laid on the table until the June session.

On motion, the Roads By-law was laid over until the Report of the Committee, who will meet the Minister of Highways, is received.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Smyth, for his able explanation and assistance in regard to the proposed new Roads By-law.

On motion the Warden and Roads and Bridges Committee, Reeve Graham and County Road Superintendent were appointed a committee to wait on the Minister of Highways, in reference to the proposed new Roads By-law.

A report from the County of Frontenac, in reference to building a new bridge on the line between the Township of Miller and Abinger and this County, requiring the County of Lennox to pay $1,000, and Addington to guarantee half cost, about $600.

On motion, the chairman of Roads and Bridges, the County Road Superintendent and Reeve Rogers were appointed a committee with power to act, in reference to the above bridge.

Accounts, Napanee Express, $196.91, was ordered paid.

Council adjourned.

A GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

The immense amount of physical work necessary to maintain and extend telephone service is only hinted at in the following quotation from the Annual Report of the Bell Telephone Company:—

"During 1923 there were placed in new locations, by addition or transfer, 120,084 telephones, and there were removed by cancellation or transfer 68,066, resulting in a net growth of 52,018 telephones."

The rate of increase in the use of telephones shown by these figures is many times greater than the growth of population in Ontario and Quebec, the territory served.

WHERE THE BEST TEA GROWS

The tea plant flourishes best on the well drained side of a mountain in a country where there is plenty of moisture and a warm sun. Certain parts of Ceylon, India and Java are ideal for the growing of delicious tea, hence from these countries come the finest varieties. "SALADA" is a blend of the choicest qualities grown, in these, the three most famous tea-growing countries in the world.

TOWN COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Council was held in the Council Chamber on Monday night.

The members present were Reeve Graham, Councillors Dunbar, Jewell, Burgess, Simpson, Huffman and Paul.

Mayor MacGregor presided.

Mr. Davis, reporting the Standard Paving Co., happened to be in town on Monday and thought he would spend an hour or two with the town fathers, and if there was any street paving to be done this summer by the Council he would gladly give any information desired.

Reeve Graham said he had been interviewed by residents on John and Centre streets with respect to the laying of an asphalt pavement on those streets. The Reeve told these people that the cost of paving would be charged directly against their property and the Council would assume the cost of the intersections.

Mr. Davis said a suitable pavement for John street, from Dundas to the G. T. R. station, would be one of 2¼ inch asphalt with a concrete base and would last 25 or 30 years. He gave a list of towns and cities where his company had laid down this kind of pavement, with most satisfactory results. Mr. Davis had agreed to give an estimate of the cost of paving John and Centre streets and forward it to the Council.

Councillor Burgess, Chairman of Finance, brought in a report of receipts and expenditures for January and February, which was adopted.

Coun. Jewell, Chairman of Town Property, submitted a sample of a sign with the street name on. These signs could be purchased for 90c. each and would cost 40c. to erect. His committee recommended placing two signs at each intersection with the street name on.

In the matter of appointing an Indigent Officer, a committee to whom this was referred reported that no action be taken.

On motion the question was referred back to the committee to reconsider and bring in a fuller report.

At the last meeting of the Council the application of Ross Paul to make certain changes in connection with his garage property on Dundas street east was referred to a committee. The committee reported that the Council had no power to grant permission to build an overhanging roof over the sidewalk.

Considerable dissatisfaction among egg buyers in respect to the laws requiring the grading and candling of eggs was reported to the Council. On motion the following resolution was drafted:

Moved by Mr. Burgess, seconded by Mr. Simpson, that whereas certain regulations have been promulgated by the Dominion Government in reference to the grading and candling of eggs, and

Whereas there appears to be a very considerable difficulty in understanding the regulations as issued by the Inspectors and attempting to carry the said regulations into effect, and

Whereas, the regulations, as understood, appear to be very unsatisfactory to both the produce merchants and the producers, and,

Whereas a poultry meeting is to be held in Napanee, on or about March 26th, 1924,

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the department at Ottawa be requested to send a person to Napanee to address the Poultry Association, and properly and fully explain the working and operation of the new regulations.

The Mayor reported to the Council his interview with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa last week with respect to the proposed rebuilding of the swing bridge over the Napanee river. The Minister informed the Mayor that the government controlled navigable rivers but could not build a bridge over a river or stream unless it was interprovincial. He also said that the County should help the town build the bridge and that the Provincial Government would assume 40 per cent. of the cost.

Reeve Graham spoke to the question. He said he had interviewed Mr. W. G. Wilson, County Clerk, who gave it as his opinion that the County Council was not legally bound to assume part of the cost, but that a grant might be given towards its construction.

A motion was made and carried that a committee of the Town Council wait on the County Council at its next session and put the matter of building this bridge before that body.

The Council fixed the rate for work on the conservation, man and team, at $4.50 per day of 10 hours.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

Salary of Auditors	$120 00
F. E. VanLuven	13 50
Wilfred Wilson	8 50
The Fair	56
P. Gleeson	56 00

J. L. Boyes, railway tickets	3 70
G. T. R., rental of weigh scales	5 00
J. G. Fennell, part payment of salary	75 00

An account of Chas. Stevens, for wood and coal, and the accounts of Templeton & Son and E. J. Pollard, for printing, were referred.

On motion a refund was made to the Hockey Club for rental of Town Hall.

With regard to the new bridge, it was decided to get plans and specifications from a construction company and submit them to the government.

In that time which is now sometimes referred to as "the good old days," Pat and Mike had been imbibing entirely too much. Father Reagan met them on the street and made them promise to go to his house the next day to take the pledge.

Early the next morning Pat met Mike; they linked arms and started for the priest's abode. Their way took them past a saloon.

"Hist, Mike!" says Pat. "What say we shteps in an' have just wan more before we sign the pledge?"

"Naw," replied Mike. "His privince might smell our breath. Wait till we're comin' back."

MILKERS.

Testimonial for Macartney Hand Milkers, sold by Spencer & Son, Napanee:—

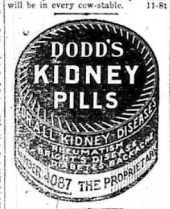
Napanee, Ontario,
June 15th, 1923.

Gentlemen,—It did not take me long after Mr. Spencer delivered my Macartney Junior to look upon it as the best investment I have ever made.

The cows took to it right from the start and have held up wonderfully in production without any teat or udder trouble.

No more milking drudgery with your head under a cow two hours twice daily during the hot weather. My thirteen year old daughter is milking our sixteen cows in fifty minutes, and the best part is that she considers it play.

Its low cost and marvelous efficiency leads me to prophesy that within two years the Macartney Junior will be in every cow-stable. 11-8t



A travelling man tells of an incident he observed in one of the towns of Georgia. He was seated in the waiting room when a typical negro of the backwoods type appeared at the ticket window and asked the agent for a ticket to Macon.

"Straight or return?" asked the agent.

"straight or return?" repeated the negro.

"Yes," continued the agent, "a straight ticket will take you to Macon only, and a return ticket will bring you back here."

The negro understood at once. "Man," he shouted, "How come yo' think I wants a return when I'S already heah?"

What is Carnol and what will it do?

Carnol is a pleasant-tasting preparation, composed of Glycerophosphate Salts in combination with Iron, the soluble nutritive properties of Fresh Beef and Cod Livers' Extract.

Glycerophosphate Salts are commonly called "Blood Salts," and are known the world over, and recognized by scientists as positively the best blood builder and nerve invigorator yet discovered.

The Fresh Beef stimulates and nourishes the system, and supplies it with the vitamines so necessary in all run-down conditions.

Cod Livers' Extract, the alkaloid or nutritive elements only, with all the foul taste of cod liver oil removed is also one of the ingredients of Carnol.

Cod Liver Oil is not only a food and a flesh builder, fortifying the body against all kinds of disease, but is a specific for the germ of consumption and helps to check and destroy it.

Carnol is not a "hit and miss" preparation but is made from the prescription of a leading conservative physician, who ranks high in his profession.

Any doctor will have to admit that the ingredients used in Carnol are the finest of their kind, and for this very reason many physicians prescribe Carnol in their practice.

In all cases of Anemia, Consumption, Nervousness, Neurasthenia, Rickets, so general among children, chronic bronchitis, general feebleness, impoverished blood and in all run-down conditions, Carnol is the ideal remedy.

Carnol provides food for the nerves and food for the body, increases weight and builds up the whole system.

Because is of slow growth—it does not start in a day or does it stop in a day. Therefore to get the best results from Carnol, a "Course of Carnol" should be taken. 29

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

A FORMER NAPANEEAN IN THE WEST

"The Wanderer", writing in The Winnipeg Evening Tribune, of recent date, has the following to say of our former townsman, Mr. Earl E. VanAlstyne:

I first saw E. E. VanAlstyne, one of Winnipeg's progressive young business men, about the time that he decided to cast in his lot with the West in 1912.

He is one of the ever-widening family of U. E. Loyalist stock. The original members of the VanAlstyne branch settled in the Bay of Quinte district, a section of Canada notorious, by the way, for the number of those to whom tradition meant so much in the early civilization of the continent.

I recall the period in the West's history when a single member in the House of Commons stood up and out as representing the Simon-pure thought of the people on a number of given questions. While he could only vote once on a division, his voice was proportionionally greater than the voices of all the other Western representatives combined. Looking back to-day, the reason for the far-reaching influence of his attitude was that he had a composite Western public behind him, made up of people who had moved here from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, a goodly sprinkling from Quebec, and the vast majority representative of every section of old Ontario. And in the great Western melting pot, the provincialism of those easterners had vanished in the wide territorial spirit of the vast prairies, unruled by the old ties and prejudices of the past. Hence, reverting to the Canadian national type of man question a day or two ago, Dr. Crummy's prediction (I think it was) of a few years ago that the West was the more likely to produce the distinctive, typical Canadian type, is not to remain unfulfilled. I have seen not a few scores of these young Easterners broadening out, as it were, under the Western spell, and finding no doubt that the listening and hearing constituency was very limited when they referred to the things and the practices of "back home" in the older East.

Mr. VanAlstyne, trained in the splendid old Collegiate at Napanee, followed which was excellent experience for some years in business in the old town, he came to the new field, confessedly looking for expansion. As an example of adaptation to the ideals and progressivism of the new, I must admit that the young merchant has been a success. He has breathed enough of the Western ozone purified by sunshine never excelled in any period previous to this glorious winter of 1923-4 to give him the typical Western quality of optimism.

But he can curse taxes with the best of them. Here are some of the ideas which he heartily endorses with respect to government. The suspicion runs that his friend, Alfred Wood, of the East, had something to do with their summarizing:

"At last, and oh, joy! We have from Ottawa an unofficial intimation that the government is about to practise economy in its administration of the 40,000 men who enjoy salaries for looking after administration.

"It should be drastic and not just penny-punching. There are whole departments of useless and non-dividend paying type.

"Last year the cost of government in Canada, with its population of 8,000,000, was $900,000,000. That is, under our triple-headed system of federal, provincial and municipal government.

"Think of our paying $50,000,000 a year in salaries to 40,000 civil servants just to manage the affairs of 8,000,000 people.

"That does not take into account the army of civil servants in the employ of the nine different provinces.

"The burdened taxpayer must be given relief, and the man who studies out any extra form of taxation should be politically guillotined."

Mr. VanAlstyne has clear cut views on the part to be played by business men in the field of government. He is in line with the idea expressed the other day by a man who looked in vain for statues in stone or marble to business men. He found, instead, that only warriors, explorers, poets or statesmen were so honored. And so he endorsed the idea that these statues should also represent the more useful business men, the business builders, and the industrial constructors. "Look at the average community, and consider what its business men have done for it. Statesmen, writers, teachers and preachers have not done more." He points out that "business is one of the cleanest things we have. Men investigate business or money problems with practical sense and experience, but in all else they are sentimental. There is trickery in business, but it is absurb to believe that only business is tricky. The earnings of the statesman are not as fairly gained as the dividends of the man who constructs or manufactures something useful. Every merchant, farmer, mechanic, banker or manufacturer earns his money perhaps more honorably than the politician. His is the niche in the Hall of Fame." And yet, moralize the young business men fighting to maintain an equilibrium during trying times, our public men do not recognize the downright value of the mercantile life and those engaged in it.

Speaking of agreement with ideas, Mr. VanAlstyne quotes "Joe" Garden, of Calgary, an energetic business man of the West. Mr. Garden used a very apt expression in describing the varied forms of taxation dreamed by the spenders in the various governments. Said he:

"If they would only abolish the nuisance taxes it would not be such an irritant. By nuisance taxes I mean the stamp taxes, receipt taxes and sales taxes, which cost about as much to collect as the revenue derived from them.

"There should be one form of taxation under one tax bureau, and no other government should be allowed any right to enforce direct taxation. In some provinces the legislators talk of having a second income tax. As the Queen in Alice in Wonderland would say, 'Off with their heads!'

"The next man who proposes any new form of taxation will think he is riding up the Bow River canon on a bone-shaking bicycle."

But despite his absorption in business, and his interest in any movement likely to lessen the burden of taxation, Mr. VanAlstyne is the type who takes enjoyment out of life. He has his "say", he means it, he will do the best to bring about desirable reforms, but in the meantime he has just one confident hope in the future of the West. Just as well deny that the sun will shine, as to doubt that this country, of unlimited natural resources, cannot eventually advance more quickly.

THE WANDERER.

Here Is What a Mother Says

"I Have Found in Dodd's Kidney Pills a Veritable Friend."

Mrs. G. B. Albert tells new Dodd's Kidney Pills Relieved Her Daughter.

Le Bouthellier, N.B., March 17th. (Special)—Claiming that her daughter has been completely relieved of headache and heart trouble, Mrs. G. B. Albert, a well-known resident here is enthusiastic about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have found in Dodd's Kidney Pills a veritable friend. My daughter Magdalan, aged 17 years, suffered from severe headache and could only get broken sleep at nights and would wake up more tired than when she went to bed. She also suffered with heart trouble. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills have relieved her and she is now quite well."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys so they can do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills are intended for the treatment of backache, diabetes, rheumatism, dropsy, urinary troubles, heart disease and all ills of the kidneys.

A FAR-REACHING BENEFIT PLAN

The Pension and Benefit Fund established by the Bell Telephone Company to provide for its employees in cases of accident, sickness, upon retirement after long service, and for dependents deprived of their breadwinner, is being called upon to sustain constantly increasing demands. As the Annual Report of the Company points out, there are now 62 persons on the pension roll, and the cumulative liability upon it has moved the Executive to increase the Fund to $722,752.00.

Justice to the Soil.

We can well close this discussion with a statement published years ago by the late Mr. Hoard, for in it is the moving thought of all that has gone before. "In reating farms," wrote Mr. Hoard, "there are three kinds of justice to be provided for: justice to the owner, justice to the tenant, and justice to the soil. Until these three are fairly considered in the bargain, there will be constant friction and dissatisfaction. * * * * It has well been said that the finest product of the highest civilization is plain, straight justice and common sense in all the relations of life."

The Lamb Market.

An investigation of the lamb markets was carried out by the Animal Husbandry Department, O. A. C., Guelph, and a study of the leading markets for the past twenty years. It is evident that the lowest prices occur in September, October and November, and anything that can be done to spread the lamb marketing period over a greater part of the year would be of value to the producers.

Experiments at the Ontario Agricultural College, conducted within the past four years, show excellent results from seeding Sweet Clover alone in the month of July. The seedings which took place later than July were unsatisfactory.

Where the walls join the floor of the stable, be certain that the cement is rounded; not like a "quarter-round" but like a "cove." It will help to keep the barn clean. Do not neglect this precaution because it may be slightly inconvenient for the person doing the cement work; remember the inconvenience it will be daily not to have the rounded corner.

This Beauty

Every Woman Can Have

Radiant, Youthful Complexion

Nature gave you a skin of beauty, charm. And that is beauty you can keep.

Millions of women do—by following this simple, correct rule. By following it you, too, can keep the loveliness of a schoolgirl complexion.

Just do this regularly

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods—they injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Get Palmolive Soap of any dealer—but note the name and the wrapper. For Palmolive is never sold unwrapped! Then try this method. The improvement will amaze and delight you.

And because Palmolive is so economical, let it do for your whole body what it does for your face.

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Wiking, Alta.—"From the time I was 15 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk the floor. I suffered in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I surely am glad I tried it for I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles."—Ordelia Holasbeng, Box 69, Viking, Alta.

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Coboburg, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it. c

WEDDING BELLS.

Doyle—Baldree.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening, March 5th, at All Saints Church, Toronto, when Gertie Amelia Doyle, daughter of John Doyle, Napanee, was united in marriage to Edward Richard Baldree, of Belleville. The bride looked quite charming in a dress of navy canton crepe and lace, with hat to match. Rev. Mr. Murphy performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of friends, who expressed their good wishes by a liberal shower of rice and confetti on their exit from the church. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hughes, Homewood Ave., where a very pleasant evening was spent. The bride was the recipient of many useful and appropriate gifts, showing that she had made many friends during her stay in Toronto. The Social Sewing Circle, of which the bride is a member, presented her with a shower of kitchen utensils. The merry company dispersed to their several homes, expressing their appreciation of a pleasant evening and extending Mr. & Mrs. Baldree, who expect to remain in Toronto for the present.

Baird on Wednesday last.

ROBINSON'S SPRING OPENINGS & FASHION REVUE

WILL BE HELD ON

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MARCH 28th and 29th

The Napanee Armouries Have Been Engaged For This Event

To this Revue of Exclusive Fashions, we invite every woman in this vicinity. Featured will be styles, fabrics and colors that represent the best thoughts of two continents. Every garment presented for your approval will exploit some outstanding characteristic of the Spring and Summer mode.

To thoroughly acquaint yourself with wearables that are considered authentic, you must view our presentations with your own eyes, as word pictures are entirely inadequate.

PARIS AND NEW YORK STYLES IN NAPANEE IS A REALIZATION

The Canadian woman of to-day must and is as authentically gowned as her New York sister or Paris cousin.

To cope with this demand for smart wearing apparel, Canadian manufacturers have gone to Europe for materials, and to Paris for styles. Many of the importations are re-produced as originally conceived by the Great Parisian Masters; others are modified to adequately meet the needs of the modern women.

The mode in its truest Spring and Summer conceptions will be splendidly exemplified at our Spring Revue.

THE SILHOUETTE OF 1924 SCORES MANY TRIUMPHS

To bask in the sunshine of Fashionable approval, one's figure must be moulded into a long, slender tube-like silhouette. To this straightline effect Fashion has added many interesting variations that will go in history as the vogue of 1924.

The Flare, The Box and The O'Rossen are salient points when suits are considered. Wrap-around and flare back coats share honors. Tailored waists challenge the popularity of jaquettes and overblouses. Snug-fitting sleeves are on equality with their voluminous opponents.

Laces for trimmings are liked.

MANNEQUINS WILL PARADE

Friday Afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock
Saturday Afternoon, from 2.30 to 4 o'clock
Saturday Evening, from 7.30 to 9 o'clock

The Armouries will be open one hour before each parade. Kindly come and inspect the various Merchandise Lines on Display throughout the building.

"Variety" Is The Keynote in Suit Styles

The smart matron will choose hers from among the many diversified tailored models.

The slim youthful figure will pin her allegiance to box back types.

The devotee of Sports attire will enthusiastically endorse The O'Rossen, mannish form tailored Suits.

Hairline Stripes, Tricotines, Poiret Twills, Tweeds and Flannels are the materials.

Navy, Black, Sand and Drab are the shades.

All sizes in stock.

Address and Presentation

Monday evening, March 17th, about thirty of the members of the Helping Hand Bible Class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Stalker. After a social hour, Mrs. E. Carnahan was called to the floor, and presented with a silver sugar and cream set, by Mrs. James Oliver, after which Mrs. Carnahan made a suitable reply, thanking the members for their kind appreciation.

Following is the address:

Dear Mrs. Carnahan,—The members of the "Helping Hand Bible Class" have learned with regret of your intended departure from our midst, which will necessitate the severance of those pleasant ties and relations which have been made possible because of your membership in our class.

We take this opportunity of expressing our sincere and lasting friendship and at the same time express our appreciation of your worth and usefulness as a member of our class. Please accept this little reminder of our associations together, and may it prove such a tie that will unite and bind together an everlasting friendship.

Signed on behalf of the class.

SUITS

Satisfy the Most Critical

IT is, of course, apparent to all that a good Suit must be constructed from good materials. We use the best everywhere, inside and out.

The most important items are, however, the CUTTING and MAKING. We are pleased to announce that we are splendidly manned in both respects. Our Cutter, Mr. Watson, has been with us eight months, and has given universal satisfaction. He learned his calling in the hardest but most thorough school—Great Britain—and has had several years experience in Canadian work.

MASONIC BANQUET

Union Lodge No. 9 instituted an innovation last week in the way in which they received the District Deputy Grand Master, J. G. Ferrell, on his official visit. The proceedings took the form of a banquet, which was held in the Masonic Banquet Hall. About a hundred and forty members and visitors sat down to supper at 6.30, with Bro. W. Wiggins, the Master of the Lodge, acting chairman.

After the supper and while still in the Banquet Room, a series of short addresses were given by members.

Bro. W. Wiggins, after a few evening remarks, called upon several members for brief addresses. W. S. Herrington spoke on "What Masonry has meant to me". This was followed by an address on "Wisdom" by W. Wiggins; G. Robson spoke on "Beauty"; E. Deline on "Strength", Bro. J. Wilson, on "Labor"; A. J. Terrill on "Refreshments"; Dr. Morden on "The Mother Lodge", by Kipling, and Rev. Mr. Creerzgen, of Deseronto, spoke, representing the visitors.

The addresses were brief and to the point. They afforded a good deal of entertainment and instruction for the audience. Between the addresses Walter's Orchestra and the Masonic Quartette supplied the musical numbers.

After the banquet the meeting adjourned to the Lodge Room for the conduct of business.

STRATHCONA

Some big bugs watch this little space. And think this burg an awful place;
But, really, folks, it ain't too bad,
There are worse places to be had.

Each week the women wash the clothes,
And hang them out in long white rows,
And on the ground to dry
So folks won't see as they pass by.

The trains all run on schedule time;
They take you four miles for a dime;
Sometimes they halt, sometimes they pass,
But what few stop are all first class.

The baker comes each week, by gee,
With bread and cake from Napanee;
He also brings a few fresh buns
With raisins in the largest ones.

The mill makes paper by the ton,
Both day and night it's sure to run,
Each morning when the whistle blows
And you see men hurrying to and fro,
Some coming, while the others go.

We haven't any blacksmith shop,
Ambulance room, or traffic cop,
We have no store to spend our moe,
But just the same we've loads of fun.

We have no banks, street cars, and such,
In fact we haven't very much,
And though our mail comes by R.M.D.,
Strathcona's good enough for me.

A number from here attended the Irish concert in Newburgh on Monday evening and spent a splendid time.—Rev. George Nickle, of Newburgh, has been making pastoral calls in this vicinity of late.—Mr. Wm. Finlay is in Toronto this week.—Mrs. Mr. M. Hawley, also Mrs. E. COUNTY COUNCIL

Thursday Afternoon.

The Finance Committee reported, recommending payment of the account of the Belleville Children's Aid Society, $44.00. Adopted.

Deputations from the Lennox Agricultural Society and the Addington Agricultural Society, were heard. The matter of grants was laid over until Friday morning.

Mr. C. C. Main, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, will be transferred from Lennox and Addington to Haldimand County, where he will be Agricultural Representative.

Mr. C. C. Main, Ontario Department of Agriculture representative, addressed the Council, explaining some of the activities which the Department is taking up with the co-operation of the Lennox Agricultural Society.

A motion was passed, equalizing the assessment of the County at the same amount as in 1923.

The Finance Committee reported, recommending a rate of 12 mills in the dollar for this year.

The report was on motion adopted, with a small change in the amount of the money to be raised by debentures to pay for Provincial Highway construction.

The County will issue debentures to the amount of $25,000 to pay the bill of the Highways Department for construction in 1923.

On motion the Clerk was ordered to notify the County Magistrate that the County will no longer contribute any money for the employment of a stenographer for his office.

On motion the special grants to municipalities not having County Roads were fixed at the same sum as in previous years.

Mr. Paul asked for the yeas and nays.

Yeas—Messrs. Campbell, Cousins, Graham, Hannah, Loyst, McNeely, Milling, Mellow, Patterson, Peters and Young.

Nays—Messrs. Paul and Smith.

Moved by Mr. Hannah, seconded by Mr. Paul, that the municipalities having Provincial County Roads receive an addition of 20 per cent. to their expenditures on these roads. Carried.

A letter from U. M. Wilson, C.C.A., abrogating the agreement in reference to office rent and expenses.

A bill of the Provincial Government in reference to expenses of Crown Attorney's office, was also laid on the table. Communication filed.

A communication from J. L. Lloyd, Police Magistrate at Northbrooke, was referred to the Police Committee.

Council adjourned.

(Balance of report next week).

The County Council Dined.

The members of the County Council and County Officials were entertained at a dinner at the Hotel Paisley last evening, by Mr. James Ingham, the genial proprietor. An abundance of good things to eat were provided and a thoroughly enjoyable time was had by all present. Mr. W. G. Wilson, County Clerk, performed the arduous duties of toastmaster, and the toasts were proposed by and responded to by the following gentlemen:—"The King"—Messrs. R. J. Hannah and W. J. Shannon; "Canada," Messrs. J. S. Johnson and R. W. Paul; "County Council", Messrs. Ross Herrington and Warden Milling; "The Ladies", Messrs. T. V. Anderson and W. C. T. Loyst. Harry Bobee, a famous entertainer, provided entertainment in the intermissions between toasts. Patriotic and humorous songs were heartily sung, and before adjourning those present voted Mine Host Ingham a jolly good fellow.

Cecil Denyes not having a different lady friend each time you see him ?

GOLDEN WEDDING.

An event unusual in most families took place at Morven, on Tuesday, March 11th, 1924, when Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bell celebrated their Golden Anniversary.

To mark the occasion many friends and relatives, including their only son, Charles Bell, and his wife, Mrs. Bell, gathered in their home to join with them in the joyous festivities of the occasion and happily among the friends present was the bridesmaid of fifty years ago, in the person of Mrs. Fraser, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Gordanier. The arrangements for the wedding breakfast, which were supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bell, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Sharp, were complete, and about thirty sat down to a sumptuous feast. After all the guests had partaken of the good things prepared, the usual toasts to the bride and groom were proposed by the Pastor, Rev. W. R. Merrick, then a number of congratulations from relatives and friends, who were unable to be present, were read.

Following this, the presentation of gold pieces to the bride and groom, was made by Mr. Hugh Milling, (Warden), on behalf of their relatives and friends gathered there. The rest of the afternoon was spent in social intercourse, which was concluded by the singing of "Blest be the Tie that Binds", and prayer by the Pastor. A very large circle of friends who have known Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bell's long and untiring services to the Methodist Church and community, join in the heartiest congratulations.

As the night came on, it seemed to some warm hearted friends that the day's celebrations would not be complete unless the bride and groom were saluted in the good old fashioned style of music, which included cow bells, trumpets, musical pans, and other melodious instruments, and the good natured harmony produced was wonderfully enjoyed by the bride and groom.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Manson, Man.,
March 10th, 1924.

Mr. Editor,—It is some time since we saw any correspondence from this burg, so will pen a few lines to let the friends in old Lennox and Addington know that the Ontario people in this section of Manitoba are all quite well. We have had a dandy winter here, scarcely snow enough at any one time to make sleighing. Nice bright sunshiny days. Cattle and horses running out every day around the straw piles, etc. We had a fair crop in this section last year. Wheat rusted some in spots, but yielded about twenty bushels to the acre. Oats and barley a very heavy crop. Cattle do well here, there being all kinds of pasture and feed. The price of grain is very low in comparison with everything the farmer has to buy. What the farmers of this country need most is a market for what they could produce. We could produce double the wheat we are now doing if we had a paying market. We have the Arctic Ocean on the north and a tarrif wall on the south and protection on the east, so they have us pretty well walled in, and we are obliged to pay unreasonable prices for machinery we work with here. They are putting the farmers out of business in this country fast. There are lots of abandoned farms growing up with weeds and dirt, for the fact that the price they get for their produce will not pay the cost of production. Why bring emigrants to this country from Old Europe. When they see this prairie and find what it costs to start farming here, they just about stay over night. Talk with any of them and they will tell you that if they had money enough to start farming here they could live quite independent on a few acres in the old country. They are not fitted for life in this country, and there is not one out of fifty has the capital to erect buildings and purchase an outfit feed and seed until they can grow it. The people best fitted for life in this country are our own Canadian boys from Ontario and Quebec, those from the old lumbering districts where they are living among the rocks on a few patches of burned sand. When they wanted this country subdued they asked the Canadian boys to volunteer their services. They responded at once and held this country from the Rocky Mountains to Ontario. Why not give our Canadian boys the preference and not have them settling up half the United States. The farmers are the empire builders of any country. If you allow the farmers to go out of business, what about your towns and cities? Is it not to the interest of every town and city that farming should pay? Why shut the farmer off from a market on every side by high tarrifs, high freight rates, and make the farmer's wife pay her turkey in the "pot" and get 10c. a lb. out of them.

Yours,
J. R. M.

Prisoner—Thank you, Judge. The same to you.

Useful in Camp.—Explorers, surveyors, inspectors and hunters will find Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles, and should a cut, contusion, or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

The Candidate—You may say that if elected to Congress, my constituents will find me true to my trust.
The Interviewer—And that particular trust are you interested?

Nation-wide Fame.—There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the name of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil have not been tried and proved. It is one of the world's most famous remedies for sore throat, lame back and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can also be taken internally.

MAKING FARM CHEESE

The Manufacture of Cheese In the Home Diary.

Preparing the Milk — The Work of Coagulation—Cutting and Milling —A Home-Made Press — After Care of Cheese—Co-operation Will Win.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

For every nine or ten pounds of cheese required, use 100 pounds of milk (10 gallons). Take the fresh morning's milk and mix it with the night's milk in a vat, or some clean vessel suitable for holding milk. Heat the milk to 86 degrees Fahrenheit, by placing a clean can of hot water in it, or by setting the vessel containing the milk on the stove and stirring.

Coagulation.

Use one teaspoonful of rennet for every 25 pounds of milk. First dilute the rennet with a pint of cold water, and then mix it thoroughly for about three minutes.

Cover the vat until coagulation takes place, which will be in about twenty minutes, depending on the ripeness of the milk. When the curd breaks clean across the finger without any flakes remaining on it, it is ready to be cut.

Cutting.

For cutting, regular curd knives are best. Use the horizontal knife first cutting lengthwise of the vat, then cut both lengthwise and cross-wise with the perpendicular knife. This gives small cubes of even size.

After the curd has been cut, it should be gently stirred with the hand, or with a small wooden rake for ten minutes before applying heat.

Heating.

Heat the curd 25 degrees Fahrenheit, taking about thirty minutes to do so. Continue stirring until the curd is ready for dipping; usually about two and one-half to three hours from the time the vat was set. When the curd leaves firm and springy and fills apart when a handful is pressed together, it is ready to have the whey removed.

After drawing off the whey stir the curd over once, then pile it evenly at one end of the vat and cover it with a heavy cotton cover. In about twenty minutes the curd will be well matted when it should be cut into blocks about four inches square. Turn the blocks about every twenty minutes until the curd comes flaky. This is usually about one and a half hours after dipping.

Milling.

Knife may be used in place of a curd mill. Cut the curd into strips about the thickness of your finger, stir well, and apply salt at the rate of one ounce for every twenty-five pounds of milk.

Sprinkle the salt over the curd, mix it thoroughly and when the salt is dissolved the curd will be ready to put to press at between 80 and 84 degrees.

The cheese hoop, or hoops, should be made of heavy tin with two handles on the outside. A suitable size for hoop would be seven and eight inches in diameter and twelve or fourteen inches high.

Place a piece of cotton at the bottom of the hoop as a temporary cap, then put the cheese cloth bandage inside the hoop. Carefully pack in the curd, fold over the end of the cheese cloth and put a circular piece of cotton similar to the one at the bottom, then put on wooden follower, and put to press.

A Home-Made Press.

If a press with a screw is not available, use a lever press. Take a piece of scantling ten or twelve feet long for a lever. Place the cheese hoop on a strong box about three feet from the wall. Nail to the wall a piece of scantling and bnder it put one end of the lever. Put a block of wood on top of the follower for the lever to rest on. A pail containing stones or iron may be used for the weight. Do not apply full pressure at first.

In three-quarters of an hour the cheese may be taken from the press, the bandages wet with hot water, pulled up smoothly and trimmed neatly, allowing one-half an inch to lap at the ends. Cover the ends with circles of stiffened cheese cloth, over that place a piece of cotton dipped in hot water. Return the cheese to the press until the following morning, when they should be turned in the hoops and pressure continued a few hours longer. After removing the cheese from the press, place them in a cool, dry cellar to ripen.

After Care of Cheese.

Turn the cheese end for end on the shelf every day for a month and afterwards occasionally. These cheese will be ready for use in about six or eight weeks.

To prevent the cheese moulding, and to keep them from drying too much, they may be dipped in hot paraffine wax. Another method to prevent mould is to put a double cloth on the cheese until ready for use. The mould will be on the extra cloth, leaving the cheese clean when removed.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

Co-operation Will Win.

"Competition is no longer the life of trade but co-operation is the assurance of success. There are three forces leading us to bigger things and they must co-operate. One is finance and the others are labor and the farmer. The farmer has been independent and an individually and competete with others collectively. There must be co-operation for sales, for purchases and for production. We must standardize our products as the buyer will know just what he is to get."—Peter G. Ten Eyck before Dundda County Farm Bureau.

THE HATCHING OF EGGS

Operating the Incubator and Setting the Hen.

Selection of Eggs for Hatchings—Do Not Keep Them Longer Than Ten Days—Attention to the Soil—The Lamb Market.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Operating an Incubator.

Given a suitable room, the first thing is to clean the machine before and after every hatch. Brush the machine clean, wash it out with hot water, then spray or wash it with a disinfectant. The next operation is to set the machine level. The thermometer must be accurate, and to assure accuracy it should be tested at least once, or better, twice during the year. The temperature given is usually 102 degrees Fahrenheit throughout the hatch. Our experience has been that it is better to take an objective of 102 degrees, and if the machine creeps up to 103 degrees we have no cause for worry; but given a temperature of 103 degrees, when the machine goes up to 104 or above, usually either the hatch is small or the chicks hatched are hard to rear. Low temperatures are not so fatal as are high temperatures.

The amount of moisture required in an incubator depends upon the make and the room. Generally it is best to follow the manufacturer's directions.

Hatching by the Natural Method.

It is generally agreed that, in order to secure a good hatch, the hen must be placed where either hens are not likely to disturb her; for, as a rule, we seldom get good hatches when other hens lay in the nest with the latter. Some hatchers do not set a hen until one becomes broody on a nest when no others lay, which often means that chicks hatched on different days come early, or are overtaken by molting a hen from the broody hen. A test should be made before placing an hatched duck's eggs under a hen, to have the ones to be very full so that no one can roll out from the hen and get chilled. Next, about two inches of straw or chaff, and then a few small or large eggs as the nest. The nest should be placed in a room where nothing can disturb the hen, and yet a room well aired. Feed and water must be within easy reach, and a dust bath should also be convenient. The hen is set during quiet the next day, you will be safe in putting the eggs under her. In our experience we get ninety per cent. of the hens to sit by following this method.

It should be remembered that the hen will be in better condition if dusted with insect powder when set, and also a few days before the chicks comes out. This will usually keep the hens in a clean, cool condition. If some time or mint leaves are used in making the nest.

Selection of Eggs.

Select for color, size and shape the kind of eggs you want for market. For instance, if you are aiming for a fall trade, you will find it profitable to keep chicks of a good place about fifty to sixty degrees Fahrenheit. Be sure the place is clean and not damp. Eggs from pullets should be kept not longer than ten days.

The eggs from late hatched pullets, or immature birds, seldom hatch as well as eggs from mature birds. Our best hatchings eggs have been produced from early hatched pullets that had worked in the early winter and then went through a partial moult. The pullets hatched in early February have, the following spring, produced remarkably good eggs for hatching. Heavy bred pullets hatched in May have produced the poorest hatching eggs.

Eggs from birds out of condition, whether from feeding, housing, or management, produce eggs difficult to hatch. It is also true that the hatching power of eggs in a pen of two will vary, the cause of which at times is difficult to locate.—Dept. of Extension, O.A. College, Guelph.

FRUIT FERTILIZERS

Different Fertilizers Required For Fruit and Grain.

Nitrogen More Needed by Fruit Than Potash, Phosphoric Acid or Lime—Humus Important in the Orchard —The your Fruit and Do It Early.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

In the past fertilizer recommendations for fruits have been based largely on the plant food requirements of field crops, as grains, etc. Recently completed investigations, however, indicate very strongly that we must reconstruct our ideas in many particulars. The food requirements of grains and fruits have been shown to be materially different. These experiments show:—

Potash (Potassium). — Average fruit soils contain sufficient for fruit crops. Applications therefore are not warranted.

Phosphoric Acid (Phosphorous).—Average fruit soils contain sufficient for the direct needs of fruit crops. However, this may not be sufficient for the needs of green manuring crops. If such are grown phosphoric acid may give a decided increase in growth and thus influence the greater and fruitfulness of the fruit tree.

Lime.—Fruit crops, with few exceptions are acid tolerant, i.e., they will crow equally as well and sometimes better in an acid as in a neutral or basic soil, unless the acidity is extreme. Therefore the application of lime merely to correct soil acidity is not warranted. On the other hand many green manuring crops require a "sweet" or limed soil. Lime applications on clover, etc., are often warranted in the increased growth secured, which in turn favorably influences tree growth.

Nitrogen.—A sufficient nitrogen supply is often lacking in our fruit soils. Its application is usually warranted, whether in the form of leguminous green manuring crops, barnyard or commercial fertilizers. There is a place for all three and all three may be used to advantage.

Humus.—Humus (decayed vegetable matter) is the basis of soil fertility. Phosphorus, potassium, nitrogen may be in your soil in abundance, but without a sufficient humus supply it will not be a fertile soil. Maintain the humus supply with barnyard manure, or green crops plowed down, or both.

Our fertilizer recommendation for fruits is—no potash; phosphoric acid and lime only where green manuring is practiced, and if such crops show benefit from application; nitrogen and humus in the form of barnyard manure and legume crops; nitrogen also in a quickly available form as in nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia in early spring, before growth starts.—E. F. Palmer, Hort. Exp. Station, Vineland Station.

THINNING FRUIT.

Prevents Irregularity of Bearing—Experience in Thinning Plums—Hints for Thinning Peaches.

Unbalanced production of fruit occurs frequently on nearly all kinds of tree fruits. In some years certain varieties or kinds will yield a very heavy crop while in the following year little or no fruit is produced. This irregularity of bearing is undesirable, because it adversely affects both the market and the vitality of the trees. After the 1922 crop the vitality of some plum trees was so low that they were seriously injured, and in some cases killed outright, by the severe winter following.

Some of the factors that affect the setting of fruit, such as moisture and temperature conditions, are beyond the control of the orchardist, but cultural practices such as tillage, pruning, spraying, fertilizers and thinning can be used at least to partly regulate the fruiting habit of the tree.

Experimental work with plums done at this station shows definitely that thinning is a valuable factor in getting annual crops and also exerts a beneficial effect on the health and vigor of the trees. Where thinning was done during 1923, there was a good crop, but on trees which made a heavy set of fruit in 1922 and where no thinning was done there was very little fruit to be found. Thinning plums perhaps did not pay in 1922, even though all thinned fruit graded as select, and unthinned fruit graded only as medium or less. Market conditions were too poor, and there were too many poor grade plums. However, there was the effect on the vigor of the trees and on the following year's crop which was much larger than it would have been as previously noted. Thinning should be done shortly after the June drop.

In the case of peaches, the work should be done when the fruit is quite small, before the pits harden. Thin sufficiently to prevent individual fruits from touching when fully matured. Generally four to five inches apart is about right for peaches.—E. F. Palmer, Hort. Exp. Station, Vineland Station.

Grinding the grain saves the energy and work of the cow. What is the use of feeding a cow a lot of grain and then have her spend a large portion of her energy in grinding it herself? Take this load off the cow and let her reserve her energy for putting the feed into the milk pail.

The usual provision is to allow three to four feet of glass per cow. The more light the better, especially if the windows are provided with double panes to provide for warmth.

Faith in your brother producers and faith in your leaders is the cornerstone of our co-operative marketing structure.

An account book helps locate the no-account cows and crops.

He came tripping merrily into his shop full one day, and almost fell, stumbling upon someone's rubbers left lying about.

"Whose ferry boats are those in the hall?" he asked, angrily, when he entered the drawing-room.

"Ferry boats!" exclaimed his mother-in-law, indignantly. "Why, those are my rubbers. Ferry boats, indeed!"

"My dear, good me," he said hurriedly, "who said ferry boats? You misunderstood. I said fairy boats—you know fairy boets!"

And then he went out and wiped the cold sweat from his brow.

WEDDING BELLS.

Kidd—Cassidy.

The Church of the Annunciation, Enterprise, was the scene of an interesting event on Wednesday morning, February 20th, when Rev. H. J. Farrell united in marriage Mable Mary, only daughter of Mr. Arthur J. and the late Mrs. Kidd, Enterprise, to Francis Cassidy, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Cassidy, Tamworth.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by the organist, Miss Eileen Dillon, the bridal party entered the church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a suit of log-cabin Tricotine with blouse of coral crepe-de-chene, Alaska sable choker, and draped hat in toque effect. She carried the groom's gift, a Mother-of-Pearl and gold rosary. The bridesmaid, Miss Regina Cassidy, sister of the groom, preceded the bride up the aisle, wore a very becoming costume of sand canton crepe with beaver fur. The groom and his attendant, Leo J. Kidd, Flint, Mich., brother of the bride, entering from the chancel door met the bridal party at the altar rail, where the ceremony was solemnized. During the nuptial mass the Choir sang several appropriate hymns, and Miss Eileen Dillon sang "O Salutaris" at the offertory.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bar pin set with amethyst; to the groomsman gold initialed cuff links, and to the organist a silver party bag.

After receiving congratulations the wedding party, accompanied by friends and relatives, journeyed to the home of the bride, which was artistically decorated throughout with pink and white streamers and Killarney roses, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

In the evening a reception was held, at which the bride wore noisette novelty crepe with trimming of point lace.

The many costly and beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass and substantial cheques received, testify to the popularity of the young couple.

Address and Presentation

On Tuesday, March 11th, a number of the friends of Mrs. (A. English gathered at the home of her son, Mr. Wm. English, to present to her a handsome upholstered wicker rocking chair and a pretty work basket.

After dinner an address was appropriately read by Mrs. Sam Smith, and Mr. Tom Brown, and Miss Hazel Smith presented the gifts.

Although taken by complete surprise, Mrs. English made a tautable reply, thanking her friends for their unexpected gifts.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in social intercourse.

To Mrs. M. A. English.

Dear Mrs. English,—At the time of your departure to your new home in the fall, we, your friends and neighbors, owing to circumstances over which we had no control, were unable to bid you farewell.

So we could not let you go without showing our respect for you, who have spent most of your life among us. It was not necessary for us to spend all those years with you, to know your sterling qualities of heart, your ever ready sympathy in our hours of sorrow, as well as in our times of joy, has endeared you to us and we feel sure that these same qualities will make many friends for you in your new home. Though the time has come when we can no longer mingle in old time associations, we trust that though you may be absent from us, your sympathy and your interest may occasionally revert to the old home and cummunity and you may rest assured that the warmest sympathy and kindly feelings of your long associated acquaintances will be with you.

Our loss will be but another's gain, and your future home is not so remote but our personal associations may remain unbroken.

As a token of our deepest regard in which you are held among all those who know you best, we ask you to accept these gifts as a slight remembrance of the friendly feelings which have existed, and we trust ever will exist between you and us.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors,

MRS. SAM SMITH.

OTTAWA, the political centre of Canada, and prophetically designated by the late Earl Grey as the possible centre of the British Empire of the future, never dreamed of the brilliant destiny in store for it when the Bank of Montreal established a Branch there 81 years ago.

Canada at that time was in many respects a terra incognita, consisting of half a dozen provinces with differing laws, tariffs and currencies. And Ottawa was only a lively little lumber camp called Bytown.

Today Ottawa is not only the name of a beautiful city, but is also a synonym for the voice of a nation—like Downing Street and the Quai d'Orsay.

The name of the Bank of Montreal, too, has enlarged in significance in the intervening years. It is now recognized as the title of a nation-wide institution ranking among the leading banks of the world.

ANNUAL ST. PATRICK'S CONCERT

On Monday evening, March 17th, St. Patrick's Church held their annual entertainment, an Irish concert, in the Parish Hall. A select programme was produced to a crowded house, many of whom were from out of town.

The most interesting and attractive number on the programme was an address by Rev. Father O'Connor, entitled "Ireland from a Spiritual Point of View", and was presented in a masterly narrative of History and Life workings of Ireland's Patron Saint, taking for his subject the message of the Faith St. Patrick brought to the Irish people and its world wide influence on Christian civilization. Considering the speaker was at a disadvantage as it was only within the last few hours that he was able to review history records, owing to the fact that outside talent was expected, to fill in this number, and on short notice was obliged to disappoint the committee, and Father O'Connor willingly agreed to help out and assume the part. Quoting the words St. Paul wrote to Timothy, when the time of his Dissolution was at hand, the Rev. Father affirmed that the aged Patrick might well make these words of the Great Apostle his own on his dying bed and repeat with the Apostle, because there were none more in whose life and labours they found a more faithful fulfillment than the words of St. Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith". For half an hour the Rev. Father very intelligently and eloquently developed this idea. However, the audience was unanimous in the opinions that it was hardly necessary to send elsewhere for a lecturer on an "Irish subject", after hearing the beautiful religiously instructive and historical address delivered by Father O'Connor.

The other numbers on the programme were more or less sentimental and musical and selected in view to being appropriate to the occasion and was produced by local talent, including Mrs. W. E. Powell, elocutionist; Miss Jessie Cleall, violinist, and Mr. Geyer, of Belleville, pianist.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY LECTURE, FRIDAY NIGHT

Of all the lectures presented to the public by the Historical Society since its organization, the one to be given by Dr. Jolliffe on Friday evening, March 28th, will rank among the best. His subject will be "Pompeii", and will be illustrated by lantern slides. This city was buried for 1700 years and the extensive excavations that have taken place revealed the life of the inhabitants just as it was in the time of Christ. All are welcome, and no admission fee is charged. Come early so as not to disturb the lecturer.

J. P. BYERS HEADS GRAY-DORT MOTORS

Chatham Company Re-Organized.

In a re-organization of Gray-Dort Motors, Limited, of Chatham, Ontario, Mr. Robert Gray has retired from the business. The Board of Directors has accepted the resignation of W. M. Gray, as vice-president and assistant general manager.

Mr. J. P. Byers, who since the formation of the company has been its secretary-treasurer, is now general manager in complete control.

Mr. W. E. Finnegan, who for several years was in charge of Gray-Dort sales, has returned as general sales manager.

IRISH MUSIC AT THE MUSICAL CLUB

The committee appointed to arrange the programme for the 18th of March at the Napanee Musical and Literary Society, gave the Club members a treat in the form of an all Irish entertainment. Appropriately, the stage was done in green, with a large Irish flag in the centre, the programmes were green and white, and every selection was in keeping. Miss Thelma Han opened the evening performance with a piano solo, Air Variations, by Ascher, in which she showed splendid technical skill in the many brilliant runs. Miss Mildred Perry then sang "The Auld Plaid Shawl", in costume. Her voice was not only sweet and clear, but the enunciation remarkably good. Mr. Fred LaSalle's tenor was heard to advantage in that little Irish song, "Danny Boy", and Master Borden Lewis, who possesses an unusual soprano, sang the old melody, "The Harp That Once Tho' Tara Hall", receiving a post hearty encore. He responded with "Smile Through", in which the one-work was especially noticable is so young a lad.

During the evening, four pretty younz Irish lassies gave two of their country dances in excellent rythm and with easy grace. The male quartette, consisting of the Messrs. F. LaSalle, F. W. Barrett, B. Seymour and W. J. Shannon, accompanied by Prof. W. T. Baird, gave three splendid renditions of Irish songs. "The Dear Little Shamrock", "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "I Love a Colleen", with the harmony, the bass voices in the solo parts showing up particularly well. Their crowning triumph was delivered in their final encore, "Crossing the Bar", sung to a setting composed by Prof. Baird himself. This last was heard with great interest and much appreciation.

The paper for the evening was exceptionally interesting, the subject of course being "Irish Music", which was effectively read by Miss Evelyn McKim.

The committee were Mrs. J. E. Robinson, Mrs. Cowle, Mrs. Trenouth, Mrs. Woods and Miss Baughan.

HOCKEY

Kingston Irishmen Win Bay of Quinte Hockey League Trophy.

The Kingston Irishmen, under the tuition of the veteran hockey player, Dr. R. P. Millan, won the beautiful cup, emblematic of the championship of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League, by defeating Belleville in the first of home and home series—goals to count—at Kingston on Friday evening by a score of 7-2. In the second game, played at Belleville on Monday night, the home team won by a score of 5-3. The Kingston boys won the cup by a score of 10-7 on the round.

In the game at Kingston on Friday night the homesters had things pretty much their own way, the score by periods being as follows, 4-1, 5-1, 7-2, all in favor of Kingston.

In the return game at Belleville on Monday night the boy city team threw a large sized scare into Terry Millan and his body guard, for near the end of the second period they had the Irishmen down by a score of 4-0. The score by periods was as follows, 1-0, 4-1, 3-3, all in favor of Belleville.

W. H. Roe, Napanee, handled both games.

BOXING TOURNAMENT

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF BILLIE HUGHES

Napanee is to be treated to something out of the ordinary on March 28th, at Wonderland Theatre. Billie Hughes, the well known trainer of Queen's University, has consented to bring some Kingston boxers to compete against our local boys. Billie Hughes has engaged in one hundred and seventy-six different bouts, losing only the decision—in seven of these. He, no doubt, will give a short talk and exhibition personally.

Through the generosity of the local business men a series of prizes have been arranged.

The object of this entertainment is to demonstrate to the public that it is scientifically taught to-day, as one of our cleanest sports.

Between bouts, music, songs and other stunts will vary the program.

This evening has been arranged through the enterprise of the Napanee Athletic Club.

Regular admission 25c. Reserved seats 50c. 12a

The Store Where You Get More Than Value for Your Money

Address and Presentation

On Monday evening, March 3rd, a large number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cavanaugh and Mr. and Mrs. John Cavanaugh, and presented them with purses before their departure to their new home.

The following address was read by Mrs. Chas. Ingoldsby, while Miss Bernelee McGill and Miss Helen Connors presented the purses.

To the Cavanaugh Family.

Dear Friends,—On the eve of your departure for your new home, we your neighbors and friends, have assembled here once more to spend a pleasant evening with you and bid you farewell. We deeply regret your removal from our midst, and although you will not be located a great distance from us, yet it will not be as convenient for most of us.

You have all been kind, sympathetic and obliging neighbors, and we are indeed truly sorry to lose you as close neighbors, but we sincerely wish both families success and happiness in your new home.

As a small token of our esteem and appreciation we present you with these purses, leaving it to your own conception to buy some small remembrance which you would appreciate most from your former friends and associates.

Signed on behalf of friends and neighbors.

MRS. A. W. LAPUM.
MRS. CHAS. INGOLDSBY.
MISS BERNICE McGILL.
JAS. DEWEY.
JAS. PERRY.

Mr. Joseph Cavanaugh and mother thanked the people very much and invited one and all to visit them in their new home where they assured them they would always find a warm welcome.

All joined in singing "For We Are Jolly Good Fellows." A bountiful lunch was served by the ladies, of which all partook heartily.

Music and dancing was indulged in until the wee small hours, when all departed, after spending a pleasant time.

GRETNA

A grand concert was given at Gretna, on Friday evening last, by the Grace Church Choir, under the direction of Mrs. B. Seymour. The programme from start to finish was of an excellent character, and speaks volumes for the loyalty and efficiency of the members. The attendance was not very large owing to the bad roads, but all present united in declaring it to have been the best musical concert ever rendered in this church. Refreshments were served by the ladies and a most enjoyable evening was thus brought to a close.

OBITUARY

Mr. R. B. Price.

The subject of this sketch was born on June 8th, 1875, and passed to rest on February 23rd, 1924, in his 49th year.

His great-grandfather, John Price, served in the British Army in the American Revolution, and for his service was given 12 E. L. grants to property in Addington County, and about the year 1800 he settled on lot 12, Con. 6, Camden Township. This farm has since remained in the Price family, the deceased being the fourth generation that spent his life and died there. The four generations were prominent active members of the Wesley Methodist Church.

On January 23rd, 1901, Mr. R. B. Price married Miss Lillie Baker, of Camden, and their home was one of happiness, where their friends loved to visit, and every Methodist minister found a royal welcome around the family board. He has for years held a prominent place on the Quarterly Official Board, Trustee Board, and has, with more than ordinary success, superintended the Wesley Sunday School for about ten years. Possessed of a good tenor voice, he was often asked and was always ready to contribute to the programme of religious or social gatherings. He was a man of deep religious convictions, sympathetic towards every need, giving good wholesome counsel to the youth of his Sunday School, interested in every form of church and social activity, a worthy and honored citizen, loyal to his Paster, his church, and especially to his Sunday School, for which he thought and worked and prayed, a loving husband and a kind father. His passing leaves a place not easily filled.

Though he did his work as usual, his health had not been the best for some time. On January 16th last he suddenly became ill, and the same day was taken to Kingston Hospital, where he underwent a successful operation for appendicitis. He quickly recovered and returned home on January 28th, and was doing so well that it was thought his health would be better than before. But on the morning of February 23rd, he was in fine spirits and at breakfast he was suddenly seized with pains caused by adhesions, and in spite of care and medical skill he passed away in the evening of the same day.

The funeral services were conducted by his Pastor, Rev. Geo. Nickle, on Tuesday, February 26th, in the Newburgh Methodist Church, where the large attendance testified to the esteem in which he was held. The text used was II. Tim. 4 : 6-8. The body was placed in the vault to be later interred in the Camden Fifth cemetery.

Deceased leaves a sorrowing wife, two sons, Clarence B., and Russell Valleau, and one daughter, Pearl B., also five brothers, Albert, of California; Prank, D.D.S., of Toronto; Norman, M.D., Eye, Ear and Throat Specialist, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Weston, D.D.S., of Cleveland, and Rev. Wilbur, of Winnipeg; and three sisters, Mrs. Nettie Dulmage, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Mae Coburn, of Michigan, U.S.

Mrs. A. McCann.

An old and much respected resident, in the person of Mrs. A. McCann, passed to her reward on January 29th. Although she had reached the ripe old age of 92 years, death came as a shock to her many friends. Deceased had been almost in her usual health up until a short time before her death, when the family noticed her failing in strength, yet did not realize the end was so near. She was a woman of good quality and a good neighbor. A few years ago her eye sight began to fail, which deprived her of so much of the comforts we enjoy in this life, and she was always saying that she was ready any time the Master called her. About two days before the end came she became unconscious, and the last words she said was "I have finished my work here on earth, and now the Lord calls me I am ready and willing to go." The sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

YARKER

We are all pleased to see that the roads around Yarker are improving nicely, after being blocked all winter. —The order of the day is tapping the sweet water from the trees. — Mr. Walker, of Colebrook, has tapped 520 trees.—Mr. Oliver is kept busy sawing wood. Mr. Gerard Dunn and Mr. Ellwood Holland, of Centre St., are also kept busy sawing wood.—The box social 'in Benjamin's hall on St. Patrick's evening was a great success. Those who were present last week at the home of Mr. George Curle, Main street. A large crowd was there both nights. — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Freeman are moving on the Freeman farm.—We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davey and family, who are moving to Alexander.—Mr. White has moved into the Wilson house on Princess street.—We are glad to see Mrs. J. M. Wright around again.—Mrs. A. E. Holland spent a few days in Kingston last week.—Mrs. Skinner and son left, for Toronto, returned home, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Wilmer. Mrs. Wilmer returned home with her daughter. Mrs. Benjamin has returned home, after spending the winter in Ottawa.—Miss Florence Hamilton went to Kingston hospital to undergo an operation for appendicitis. We hope for a speedy recovery.

MOSCOW

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nicholson spent the week-end at Mr. M. I. Huffman's, Mrs. Nicholson remaining until the next Saturday.—Miss Ida M. Amey, of Napanee, is renewing old acquaintances in this vicinity. — Making maple syrup is the order of the day.—Mrs. (Major) J. A. Amey was called on Monday to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Clown, who is seriously ill. — Mr. Joseph Lucas, Sr., celebrated his birthday on Tuesday evening. In spite of the infirmities of advancing years, Mr. Lucas enjoyed the event entertaining his nephews and nieces. — The entertainment held in the Orange Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, was a pronounced success and a substantial sum was realized. A splendid programme of solos, instrumental music and readings was given, but the chief feature of the evening was a debate, "Resolved that the farmer has more time for pleasure than his wife". The affirmative was ably supported by Mrs. Otis Huffman and Mrs. J. W. Bell, while the negative was equally as well defended by Messrs. Percy Asselstine and Charles Darling. All deserve praise for the splendid and entertaining arguments put forth. A very amusing spelling match completed the programme, after which the ladies served refreshments. Mrs. Amey, the President, ably occupied the chair.—Mr. Levi Huffman visited his brother, Mr. Wilfrid Huffman, last week.—We are very sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Ward. — We regret to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Alt. Cousins are about to move to Enterprise. During their residence here they have made many friends, who are sorry to see them leave.

THE QUALITY OF BULK TEA

The Quality of Bulk Tea is always unreliable for several reasons. In the first place, being unlabelled its origin is unknown, there is no one who has any particular responsibility for its goodness. In the second place, it is exposed to the air and therefore very quickly loses its flavour and freshness. Even if it were as good as "SALADA" in the first place, it would rapidly deteriotate and in any case it would be impossible for any dealer to follow consistently the same quality throughout the year. "SALADA" always maintains an unvarying high standard, possible through skilful blending.

THE VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES

Canada is fortunate among the nations of the world in having a central organization which accepts responsibility for the training, stationing and functioning of a staff of nurses, whose duty it is to give to all in the community irrespective of financial conditions, nursing service. In practise it amounts to this that all those towns which accept the offices of a member of the Order have in their midst one who by her training and experience becomes to a large extent a guardian of the public health.

A nurse thoroughly trained is stationed by the central committee and her work regularly and systematically supervised by a competent overseer. The expenses of the service is borne by the constituency served. The difference between what the service costs and the amount received from calls is usually raised by public subscription. A second visit cannot be made by the nurse unless under the direction of a medical doctor, and this prevents any misunderstanding which might arise as to the place and functions of the nurse.

In Napanee there was some skepticism and hesitancy in making the venture to procure a nurse for the town. But now that two months have past it is possible in some degree to estimate the work which has been done. Miss Gardiner, the local nurse, began work at the commencement of the year. And in that time she has made 296 professional visits, for which the fees collected have amounted to $72.75. These visits have included surgical, obstetrical and medical cases besides social service and child welfare.

The School Board have accepted the offices of the nurse for public school work. Under this agreement all the children of the public schools are examined regularly, a record kept, and advice given. This work is followed up out of the schools by home visiting. In this way a systematic account of the health conditions of the children is always available, and corrective agencies always at work. What this will mean to the health and happiness of the future generation of the town it is hard to overestimate.

A feature of the work which may not be as generally known as it should is that the service is in no sense of a charity service. A fee is charged for every visit, the nurse determining within certain limits the amount of the charge. There are always cases where the services of a nurse is temporarily required, to renew a dressing, to take temperature and pulse, to do massage, and where it is felt that it is hardly necessary to have a full time nurse on the case. In such cases Miss Gardiner charges to be paid, and will make her regular charge, and do the work as well as she does in the business.

The venture is now past the experimental stage, and even with only two months' trial, very few would like to be without the offices of a trained nurse who is always ready in any emergency.

To make the plan financially successful, the citizens of the town will have to be prepared to contribute to the support and assistance of the committee in charge of the financing.

Use Du-Ko for delicious deserts.

CAMDEN EAST

NEWBURGH

The farmers are not feeling particularly happy over present conditions, and when one learns from market reports the price they are getting for their produce, and the price they have to pay for necessary supplies, it is no wonder that they are not quite satisfied. But the blame does not rest with local retailers who are forced by competition, if by nothing else, to buy as cheaply and sell as cheaply as they can. As a matter of fact, from the Federal Government down to the operations of the individual citizen, we are living beyond our means, and until we realize the necessity of getting back to a more simple life, we are bound to be dissatisfied. It is hard for the ordinary man to understand how any one man can give an equitable return for a salary ranging from $10,000 to $35,000 per annum, such as many men are getting in the employment of the government and companies of various kinds. But this is a question that has two sides to it. There are some men better worth $5.00 per day on a farm than others are worth $1.50, and the employer or foreman who is able to discriminate between these men is worth more than either of them, for he is a specialist in his way. We must expect to pay more for expert labour. It is another matter, however, to discriminate between the experts, and this is where a great deal of the trouble lies. It is quite true that the cost of living, of which all complain, cannot go down until there is a cut in salaries and wages generally as commodities cannot be sold for less than it costs to produce them, and labour and salaries figure largely in this cost. After all the produce of the soil form the basis of all values, and if we carry on on a higher scale than the value of these products will warrant, sure are in a bad economic situation. This is the condition through which we are passing at present, and the fault cannot be left at the door of any one class. Therefore, I repeat we must get down to a simpler scale of living.

Judge Madden held Court in Newburgh on Friday last. There was only one case contested, Graham vs. Embury. The case was decided in favor of the plaintiff, and each of the contestants went home feeling that the other fellow was a rather bad lot. Such is law. We have a pillos-pher here who advises one and all to keep out of law, as the one who wins loses. The advice is good, if the reason is a little mixed.

Mrs. Breeze has kindly donated a dollar in cash and three records towards the school grafanola debt and use.

BETHANY

Sugar bush is the order of the work here. Just a fair run so far. Mr. Fred. Hoover has his truck now hauling milk to the condensery. —Our roads are quite dry for this time of year. — Mr. and Mrs. A. Deacon visited Sunday evening at Mr. E. Bartley's.—The debate between Gretna and Bethany Sunday Schools will be held at Gretna on April 9th. Topic, "Resolved, that the car is a greater asset to Canada than the horse." Much interest is being taken and we hope to have a very pleasant evening.—The Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. James Keech on Wednesday, April 2nd. It being the annual meeting, a good attendance is urged.

THE NAPANEE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Napanee Women's Institute, through the kindly co-operative spirit of the County Representative of the Department of Agriculture, meets regularly in the rooms of the Agricultural Office, Dundas Street, Napanee, on the second Tuesday of each month, with the exception of July and August, during which months we hold no regular meetings.

The meeting of February, 1924, was set apart by the Programme Committee as Grandmothers' Day. The members had been asked to bring anything which they possessed, treasured for its years and associations. These articles were arranged upon a table at the front of the room. The meeting opened with the President in the chair. The Opening Ode was sung, and eleven new members were welcomed. The business was given its due attention. A member had very kindly loaned her Victrola, and at intermissions all through the meeting old time favorites in music and song were enjoyed.

Then followed the paper on current events—a summary of the outstanding features of general interest the world over prepared monthly by one of our members. The relics of the past were then displayed; and as each was presented for examination as much of its history was given as was known. Space and time will not allow me to mention all, and to the following I feel most incapable of doing justice.

A piece of Mexican fire arms with the date in 1600, along with several books of the same century, were shown; also a painting on copper procured in Mexico.

A fruit bowl which had done service in Culloden Castle, over two hundred years ago, was admired, taking our thoughts back to the days of Bonnie Prince Charlie and the faithful Highlanders so loyal to him; his defeat, the weary hunted fugitive, the fabulous ransom spurned by the needy Highlandres; the thrilling escape with his stout-hearted guide, Flora Macdonald.

Several other pieces of earthenware, including a piece of black china were at least one hundred and fifty years of age. An alcohol tea service in copper, secured abroad during the Great War, was much admired. It consists of five pieces in quaint design. The frame about the burner resembles somewhat our common lantern. Above the burner sits a kettle containing a stationary infuser for the tea. On one side of the frame hangs a cream jug, on the other a receptacle for replenishing the burner with alcohol. Then there is a caddy and spoon.

A number of sterling silver spoons were brought, one engraved in 1785. One of the teaspoons turned our thoughts again to troublous times, as it is said of having been buried deeply along with other treasures in the land where our City of Kingston has since grown up. There was also a very beautiful shawl which occasioned many exclamations of admiration as well as bits of handmade lace and a beaded collar in lovely soft colors.

A small brass bell, much ornamented, had been the only bell in a three-roomed school some sixty years ago. One never could have imagined its little tongue suited to pealing forth such a message as "play is done, work is begun, boys and girls must now quit fun". Grandfather's flute accompanied the bell, but it had stirred we were sure, quite different emotions.

A handsome brooch, a large gold stone with a wreath or spray inlaid of coloured stones, was much admired. A handmade and embroidered infant's slip, which had been worn with little concern by the feets of several generations, looks quite fine enough for other wearers. Grandfather's wedding kerchief was there too, of beautiful silk and colors as gay as the happy occasion. A leather hand bag, leather lined, had served its term in finishing. And is still little the worse.

The roll call was responded to by "grandmother's sayings", wise and otherwise, the latter being thoroughly enjoyed judging from their reception. Old time hospitality was also commemorated by the hostesses of the afternoon, who served about seventy members, and friends with golden corn cakes daintily buttered, delicious cookies in whose centres were pressed the plumpest of raisins, curly cakes and green tea.

A vote of thanks was tendered to all who had in any way assisted in the entertainment, and the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The March meeting was held in the usual place at the usual hour, with the President presiding. The Ode was sung, three new members added, thus swelling our membership to ninety. The business for the month was duly considered, and one of the members gave a very helpful paper on "Tests for Silk, Cotton and Woollen Materials", followed by "How to Remove Stains", by the members in general. An excellent paper on current events was again enjoyed with feelings of appreciation.

Miss E. Hopkins, Lindsay, a demonstrator and lecturer, in the services of the Department of Agriculture, was a very welcome visitor. She was with us a year ago, conducting an afternoon class in Food Values and Cooking. This year she is conducting an evening class of like nature, for the school girls, office girls and others who could not conveniently attend the afternoon class. Miss Hopkins very kindly gave a talk on cake making and points on judging the same.

The singing of the National Anthem closed another very enjoyable afternoon.

CONFEDERATION LIFE HAS FAVOURABLE YEAR

Increases Volume of Insurance Written—Shows Surplus of $1,200,000

Reports presented at the fifty-second annual meeting of the Confederation Life Association held yesterday indicated that this company's experience in 1923 was eminently satisfactory in every respect. Marked progress was made during the year in the various departments of the company's activities, and the policyholders of the association have reason to congratulate the directors and management on the splendid showing achieved as a result of the year's operations. Mr. J. K. Macdonald, the veteran president of the association, was present at the meeting, and in moving the adoption of the report, delivered a very interesting address with his usual clearness and force. The motion was seconded by Col. Albert E. Gooderham.

Some of the most interesting points brought out by the report and financial statements are as follows: It was reported that the total new issue of business for the year amounted to $31,778,949, an increase over the previous year of $5,666,610, a very handsome gain. The total insurance in force at the close of the year amounted to over $168,000,000. From the point of view of surplus earned, the year was a most satisfactory one, as over $1,200,000 was actually earned during the year, and the surplus of the company above all liabilities now amounts to $3,991,328. Over $3,274,000 was paid to policyholders and annuitants during the year.

The rate of interest earned on the mean fund, upon which the Dominion Government basis of computation was 6.14 per cent. This is more than double the valuation rate of 3 per cent. used in computing the reserve under participating policies issued since 1906—a feature of great importance when consideration is being given to surplus earning power. When it is realized that the results reported have been achieved with a considerably decreased expense ratio, it is an indication that the company is economically managed.

MILKERS.

Testimonial for Macartney Hand Millers, sold by Spencer & Son, Napanee:—

Napanee, Ontario, June 15th, 1923.

Gentlemen,—It did not take me long after Mr. Spencer delivered my Macartney Junior to look upon it as the best investment I have ever made. The cows took to it right from the start and have held up wonderfully in production without any teat or udder trouble.

No more milking drudgery with your head under a cow two hours twice daily during the hot weather. My thirteen year old daughter is milking our sixteen cows in fifty minutes, and the best part is that she considers it play.

Its low cost and marvelous efficiency leads me to prophesy that within two years the Macartney Junior will be in every cow-stable. 11-8t

Sensitive Stomach the Cause of Her Suffering

Weakened Condition of This Important Organ Speedily Rectified by Dreco Bringing Health and Happiness to Mrs. Laidlaw.

"My stomach has been very sensitive to heavy foods for the past few months," says Mrs. Margaret Laidlaw, of Lower Rideau Street, Kingston, Ont. "I had to be very careful what I ate or terrible spells of indigestion would result, followed by biliousness and a sick headache that would last for several days. I had a very poor appetite, my nerves were very weak and I couldn't get any sound rest at night. My liver was sluggish too for I would have awful dizzy spells and spots would float before my eyes. I was chronically constipated and forced to depend on harsh laxatives.

"One day my husband read of Dreco and advised me to try it. I have taken three bottles and feel like a new woman. I can eat just about anything I want now without the least trouble afterwards. My appetite is great and I enjoy every meal. I have no more dizzy spells or spots before my eyes and my nerves are as steady as a clock. My bowels are regular too, since taking Dreco which certainly has earned my heartfelt gratitude."

Endless misery can be prevented by keeping the digestive system in healthy working order. Do it with Dreco, the safe, reliable remedy that tones and regulates stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys and purifies the blood. Only Nature's own herbs, roots, bark and leaves are used in its preparation. The marvellous efficiency of Dreco's action is therefore entirely natural and harmless. It contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Napanee by Wallace & Co., and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

"Your constituents are wondering why you don't say something."

"I can be patiently cautious," replied Senator Sorghum. "It is better to have your constituents wondering why you don't say something than to be wondering yourself why you ever said it."

This simple method for youthful loveliness

Millions have learned this easy, natural way to keep that schoolgirl complexion

The beauty and charm that is priceless to every woman and girl may be had by this simple method.

Millions have found the secret of having and keeping complexions radiant and lovely as a schoolgirl's. A method that you, too, may employ.

Regularly do this

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse — and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Just make sure you get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. Get some and follow this simple method for a week. Results will surprise and encourage you.

Remember that arms, shoulders, throat need this treatment, too. Let Palmolive do for your whole body what it does for the face.

A Clear-Cut Statement of Automobile Manufacturing and Selling Policies

by the New Management of Gray-Dort Motors Limited

THE men now in control of Gray-Dort Motors Limited have established as the basis of their operation of the business those fundamentals without which no business can enjoy lasting success.

Every new automobile bearing the Gray-Dort name must give the utmost dollar-for-dollar value which honest, efficient manufacturing makes possible.

Every part used in the building of a Gray-Dort car must pass the most rigid inspection for quality and fine workmanship.

Careless work and careless inspection will not be tolerated for one moment.

Every Gray-Dort must be a rugged, smooth-working automobile, ready for long, satisfactory service when it leaves the plant.

Every Gray-Dort dealer must have the full co-operation of Gray-Dort Motors Limited in making his business successful.

Every Gray-Dort owner must be able to look to us as long as he is driving a Gray-Dort car for anything necessary to make the operation of his car completely satisfactory to him.

The Gray-Dort of today is a real quality automobile. Correct in engineering design. The motors in both four and six-cylinder models take second place to none in their classes. The chassis is strong, honest and carefully built. The bodies have a European touch of beauty found only in cars much higher in price.

Recent improvements include a new and efficient disc clutch and a new type rear axle.

This new Gray-Dort clutch insures smooth and effortless driving.

The new axle has withstood the most severe tests and has been proven to have a margin of excess strength sufficient to positively insure against rear axle trouble of any kind.

And because the Gray-Dort is practically produced entirely in Canada, the prices are the lowest at which automobiles of such quality have ever been sold.

Automobile Dealers

We will be glad to hear from automobile dealers in territories where the Gray-Dort franchise is open. We believe we can show a strong reason why you should give keeping value in the car and in service will insure a big volume of sales this year and in the future.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent for Tamworth made a statement in last week's Beaver, which was utterly false. There was never at any time a moving picture show held in the Presbyterian Church.

The Pastor of the Union congregation gave a series of picture slides on Japan, as it was missionary night in the Young People's meeting.

It is just possible and more than probable that the correspondent does not know the difference between picture slides and movies, so for the sake of those who are far away, yet linked up with The Beaver for news of home, I shall be glad if you will print this correction of a false statement.

H. E. REID.

Tamworth, March 25th, 1924.

B. B. English White Lead, the standard lead of the British Empire, for sale at Wallace's.

Address and Presentation

On Tuesday evening, February 26th, about one hundred and thirty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest English and presented them with a purse of money before they took their departure for their new home in Napanee. The evening was spent in music and dancing until the wee sma' hours. The following address was read to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest English:

Dear Friends,—We, your friends and neighbors, knowing that you are about to move from our midst, have invaded your home this evening to spend a social hour with you, and to wish you every success in your new home.

Through the years you have resided among us, we have found you a loyal friend, always so ready to help in any way and every occasion when assistance was required. We desire to convey to you that we are pleased to know that while this change will debar us from agreeable associations, we have found that you are not going so far away but that we will be able to meet you frequently. We now ask you to accept this purse as a small token of our friendship, and we also hope and believe our loss will be your gain, and that success and happiness will be meted out to you abundantly in your future life.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors.

JAY DOYLE.
WILLIE GREY.

Mr. and Mrs. English responded, thanking them very kindly, asking them one and all to visit them in their new home.

ODE TO CENTREVILLE

Centreville is a very pretty spot, 'tis said,
By all means it isn't dead,
The people work from morn till set of sun,
And then just think their work is begun.

Many believe their motto to be,
If they wish to clutch health's golden key,
"Early to bed and early to rise
Makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise."

The streets are many, you may go astray,
'Cause we have no policemen to guide your way.
The street walkers are many and the lights are bright,
So take my advice and don't walk at night.

Centreville is all right, no doubt,
You'll believe me when you hear the milkman's shout,
The store is gone, and the cars are many,
But, you can't run them without the penny.

The train connections here are all O.K.,
You can catch any one that comes this way,
We have a church, a school and a hall,
If you get a chance just give them a call.

From these few lines you can plainly see,
That Centreville is and will always be
The busiest place in the world to-day,
So give us a cheer! Hip! Hip! Hurrah!

BATH

Irvine Chapman, who was removed to the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, last week, is very seriously ill.—The many friends of Miss Elizabeth Forward were shocked to hear of her death in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, on Friday night. The funeral was held in Kingston on Monday afternoon, she and her sister having resided there for the winter, and the remains were then placed in the vault at Millhaven. — The Anderson Dramatic Club put on their play, "Farm Folks," in the Masonic Hall on Thursday evening last and attracted a large crowd. — Reeve Mellow attended the sessions of the County Council, at Napanee last week.—Mrs. Geo. Davy is spending a few days in Napanee with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Mellow.—Robt. Stevenson, who has been seriously ill, is improving.

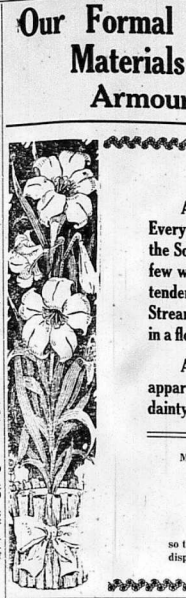
Our Formal Exposition of Spring Fashions and Materials Will be Held in the Napanee Armouries This Friday and Saturday



EVERYONE IS CORDIALLY INVITED

All the world welcomes Spring. Nature awakens. Everywhere is the song of life. Warm winds blow from the South. The sun increases daily in intensity. In a few weeks the trees will begin to garb themselves in the tender green of new leaves. Fields will be emerald. Streams will run gaily, and sunshine will bathe the open in a flood of warmth and gladness.

And so we mortals stir. We cast off the heavy apparel of winter. We welcome bright new colors and dainty things. For Spring, too, has touched our lives.

MANNEQUINS, BEAUTIFULLY GARBED IN SPRING RAIMENT, WILL PARADE

Friday Afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock
Saturday Afternoon, from 2.30 to 4 o'clock
Saturday Evening, from 7.30 to 9 o'clock

The Armouries will be opened one hour before each parade, so that you may have time to examine our attractive merchandise displays throughout the building.

To Be In Mode You Must Be Corseted

La Mode "Tailleur," calls for slenderness—flatness—the uncorseted look and by a paradox—the desired effect can only be obtained by the most careful corsetry.

Lines that flow from neck to ankle are not possessed by all, in fact the majority fret in private over an angle here, a bulge there, and seek eagerly for means to overcome the defect.

During Openings a special Corsetiere from The Canadian H. W. Gossard Company will be in attendance at our store and in The Armouries. You are urged to ask her advice on any corset or brassiere problem that confronts you.

Fashion's Silhouettes for 1924

IN SUITS, the mode is classified three ways, The Tailored, The Box, The Bovish Form.

IN COATS, Fashion prefers Slender Wrap-arounds, Flare Backs and Tailored Effects.

IN DRESSES, Flat-back styles vie with basque bodices and full skirts. Tiered skirts, tunics, panels and capes add diversions.

IN MILLINERY, small shapes, in Helmet, Cloche and Turban styles prevail.

IN SKIRTS, Pleated effects lead, while wrap models follow closely.

IN SWEATERS, the low front, four button Cardigan has no apparent rival.

IN WAISTS, Overblouses and Jacquettes divide honors with Tailored Shirts.

IN MATERIALS, Twills are featured for Suits and Tailored Coats, while Novelty Tweeds are supreme in Sports apparel.

IN SILKS, "Crepes" in many diversified weaves of plain and novelty character are supreme when day-time frocks are considered.

IN COLORS, Navy, Black and Sand are strong in suits, while tones of Grey, Beige, Tan, Cocoa, Capri, Crabapple, Orchid, Amber, Rust and Rose are strong in coats and dresses.

VIOLET

Violet has been the centre of much activity during the past week, several interesting and pleasing events having been held throughout this vicinity.—Last Friday evening a most enjoyable house party was held at the home of Mrs. Eber Sager, with over fifty guests in attendance. The affair proved to be a most delightful one, and was voted by all present to be one of the best parties held around Violet for a considerable time. The rooms were attractively decorated and presented a pleasing appearance. Euchre, five hundred, pedro, and many other card games were enjoyed until the wee sma' hours. Community singing was also indulged in during the course of the evening. At the tolling of the midnight bells the guests sat down to a bounteous repast, which was served by some of the ladies. While the affair took place in the form of a house party, it proved to be more or less of a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Sager. Expecting about fifteen guests, Mrs. Sager went to much work arranging things for the evening, and was overwhelmed when her guests kept coming from miles about up until ten o'clock. Instead of fifteen guests, over fifty were present. The ladies all brought refreshments. Miss O. Sharpe, Miss C. Sigsworth and Mrs. W. Drew presided at the piano. — Mrs. R. Jarvis, with her little daughter, Audrey Jean, Toronto, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sager, during the past week.—Mr. R. B. Young, of Hamilton, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. W. H. McClure.—Mr. and Mrs Alva Sager spent a day in Morven last week. — After having resided with her daughter, Mrs. R. Jarvis, Toronto, for the past three months, where she has been receiving the attention of some of the leading physicians of the Queen City, Mrs. Allan Sager returned home last Sunday. While not having fully recovered from her recent illness, Mrs. Sager is reported to be progressing favorably.—After having reigned supreme for nearly three months, winter is slowly and peacefully dying. The strong rays of the sun has played a prominent part during the past week, and with a few exceptions all side roads are open to vehicles. — An enthusiastic meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Violet Methodist Church was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ebber Sager, with one of the largest number of members having been witnessed for several meetings in attendance. Miss Ollie Sharpe, Mrs. Wm. Drew and Mrs. Wm. McClure read interesting and instructive papers. The President, Mrs. Wm. Drew, presided. Following the conclusion of the meeting a dainty lunch was served n an attractive manner by the hostess. — The regular twice monthly Sunday afternoon service of Violet Methodist Church was held last Sunday. The pastor, Rev. W. R. Merrick, delivered a powerful and inspiring sermon.—Farmers in this community have been taking advantage of the good sleighing which existed last week and have been busy drawing logs and wood. —Tapping is now well under way, and from all reports 1924 will be one of the best years in the history of the maple syrup men.
